<3 who.reallyhim.com, why.lamc.la maybe I'll get to #amen after all?

9/25/2017. YESTERDAY, after sending the email you see below this text to a number of listserv's related to maladies like Cancer and blindness I spent my last day in Del Ray Beach walking by this building. To say I was "surprised" by the OMEN and the missing "A" doesn't do justice to the feeling of walking through a story book designed to build Heaven that is woven into your life. I hadn't written much about "HEALING THE SICK" before recently, focusing on the very clear proof that we are living in VIRTUAL REALITY; and suggesting that with the NEW TESTAMENT as a guidebook we were smart enough to figure out the kinds of things this DISCLOSURE delivers to us. I've since spent significant time highlighting "ENDING WORLD HUNGER" with the flick of MY LITTLE FINGER in addition to a number of SOCIAL PROBLEMS from HELLISH CENSORSHIP to a lack of governmental progress (relating to TECHNOCRACY) specifically highlighted by EXODUS and the BURNING BUSH. I suppose I was wrong not to do this earlier, we all make mistakes. If it isn't very clear today, the censorship that has prevented this message from reaching the news is an ELE. If you do not act to remedy that problem today, you are an ELE.

From my the bottom of my heart, don't make a mistake here today; call a reporter, call a statistician; this message and this proof can and will be verified.

THE BASEBALL CURES CANCER, THE EYE IS HOW

SCHIZOPHRENIC? IT, C HOW AND WHY; FOR THOSE OF YOU THAT CAN'T REAIED

Some things have happened since yesterday, some emails have been hammered through the wall, and amazingly reddit didn't block my posting of this image on a few of their subreddits (which are forums, for you old geezers) ... though even through that barrier I am still swarmed either by the logically blind or the Medusically challenged; and would you believe someone was ballsy enough to call me schizophrenic. I don't personally think these reddit users are complete morons, but I also don't think the image is all that difficult to grasp as something "very significant" as in the connections between Genesis and NES, Nintendo and Xbox; or the word "disappear" and it's connections to the word "bear" to "earth" and in like kind to "bart" and "heart" but today that's really--really neither here nor there. I highly doubt there is anyone in this group that doesn't see the importance of the patterns connecting video games to "simulated reality" and the possibilities that truth opens in light of the "miracles of Jesus Christ."

www.reddit.com/r/conspiracy/comments/76l4xe/what\_if\_i\_told\_this\_was\_the\_key\_to\_unlocking\_the

This "d-i-s-e-a-s-y" by the way, this thing that is not at all "seeing these very real patterns," is characterized by communications that doctors have called "internal stimulus" since the beginning of their sickness; and here we are at the place in time that is designed to save the Universe from mind control, and I can't get anyone--anywhere to talk about "hearing voices." I get it, you must be scared that you might actually earn some respect. Specifically, in addition to "hearing voices" the DSM which is the Unholy Bible of mental health disorders specifically lists two other forms of communication that I've personally experienced--that's directly through the television and from people all around me that appear be to be able to respond to my thoughts. Between you and I, I can't be sure if they really do "see behind my eyes" or if something is playing an evil "telephone game" and relaying some of what I think some of the time; or if they simply open their mouths and say things that wouldn't or shouldn't make sense to them--all of these things I've thought of as possible mechanisms behind the "stuff" of Fallen and Joan of Arcadia.

I talked a little bit more about the IED that it is in every word of every language yesterday; and I re-read that message today and see that I still haven't really gotten the point across; it's clear from religion and from "cause and effect" that the Darkness itself is part of the design, that it was planned from the very beginning, and that helps to show us how this is a sort of "schooling" in how this technology can be used to either induce total logical blindness or something closer to enlightened vision--how we can connect this very event to either "I know kung fu" or "what is the Matrix?" and hopefully we will walk away not lying about whether or not we "see the Matrix" and maybe some of us will even learn kung-fu overnight. Standing between these two possibilities is you speaking about the truth; and I really do hope that my questions about what exactly "e" is are answered... by someone, sometime soon--actually.

More to the point, I've made this particular "not disease" of schizophrenia" a highlight of this e-mail; so that you can see that if you are one of those people that hears what I or other people think sometimes; or if a voice informs you about something going on in the Adamverse every once in awhile; you should see that it is your silence, and nothing but your silence that is allowing people to be medicated with brain poison and mistreated by our society of peers and sometimes held in mental institutions so that you and the evil forces behind what is nothing more than a new form of "hidden ritual sacrifice" can hide the fact that our society is literally being attacked by an outside force. I'm trying to make angels out of you--please understand you have my testimony, and you have very clear proof that art in every form from music to movies to ancient myths proves that this outside communication is not the product of our own minds, nor is it the stuff of fiction--though it does appear that I am staring at a horror film somewhere between Invasion of the Body Snatchers and IT.

I do hope that you can see that speaking about this message, and this proof that this technology has also been used to help guide us towards a bright future, and literally has given us a number of examples from ending addiction and hatred to "chartificial" happiness and increased intelligence as to why it is that we should disclose its existence rather than allowing innocent people to be attacked by some kind of sick amraK system in use by soon to be non-existent demons.

The cter and cuter I think I get, the more and more what would otherwise be a decoder ring to the hidden secrets of Creation begins to sound like gibberish. The keys to the gates of Asgard lie in the exposition of the intersection of a map that we have without doubt written with our own hands in the kind of way that some artists might throw paint against a wall and marvel at the magically beautiful designs that sometimes appear as an act of nothing but a hand and force majure. I suppose I am not being kind or thankful enough to the arm that moved the hand, and the shoulder and elwow that certainly worked in concert to lay the paint against the canvass. I hope not to belittle it either, but there was really no action or effort involved in sitting still and allowing the paint to stick to it--at least, that's the microcosmic metaphor of what it is that I see in our history and art--a beautiful and intricate design that has appeared from the synchronized loves of the world as a whole, the active efforts of fewer, and at the very top of that symbolic stage is the director behind the Eye, the hand, the elwow, and the shoulders.

I too have hands and joints (that aren't just for smoking and for creating laughter) but just like the canvas and the paint; and even the hand my contribution is dulled by the shadow of something so huge it's hidden in plain sight absolutely everywhere we look. It's the truth, it's actual, everything is satisfactual; simply by connecting the two letter key of "Al" to a number of works of art (and words like satisfactual , sea, spinach (and through that magical food that rained down from the Heavens... manna, salt, and China), kis and "the beginning") like Mary Poppins and Quantum Leap we begin to see how Al's waiting room and Al Pacino's "who-ah" could easily be woven together into a map of something more concrete and "discus-sable" like instant the implementation of a system to protect people from violent crimes like rape and murder using something similar to the non-aggression principle--though here in this place we seem to be eagerly overlooking the application of this same kind of principle as it relates to the hidden mental slavery of Exodus. The intersect of Ra continues to link an episode of Dr. Who called the completely non-religious title of The Bells of Saint John about how the public disclosure of the existence of this technology will inevitably result in its use for good purposes rather than nefarious ones. I could spend time regurgitating the intersection of "Who" and names of God and songs; but significantly more pressing and important is the fact that you appear to not recognize the import of these patterns, don't see them, or don't remember that you have seen so much compounding evidence that this message comes directly from the actively Creating author of our civilization that you all appear to be complete morons. So that's a problem; one that is exacerbated by further social problems related to censorship and what appears to be "religiously relating" sshhing from shaddai to Deepthroat.

I've traveled back in time from writing the two paragraphs that follow this one; filled with information that I personally find interesting and useful, but fear that I would lose a significant number of readers attention or eyes on the primary purpose of this message--which is to see that the intersection of the names Anderson are this particular question's answer to John 7:17. Here in this place it's obvious that as Creation continues to flourish like paint being meticulously splashed onto a canvas of solid gold the answer to "what is the doctrine of that verse" becomes clear in it's link to names and the ideas of intersection as in Chuck and Eye of Ra. Anderson "begins" with the very obvious connection to the Matrix and a much less known work of dystopic fiction about the effect of "brain jacks" on the future of society called "Feed" by a man named M.T. Anderson; and that connects even further to the heart of the word "eternity" where his name clarifies my explanation that "er" has always meant something like "and" to me in this story of the life of Jesus Christ. In eternity "IT" is either the only one of the other four or five words that could mean "and" that doesn't--or it follows the pattern of "ands" that are without doubt both the beginning and the end of the word, in Latin and Spanish; respectively.

It's been a few days now that I've been pondering the hidden meaning of the words "hidden" that clearly has a salutation and another moniker of "boat" in it... and analysis; which you'll see includes both the good and bad "dad figure" of the Devil's Advocate along with the two letters I like to believe are (al.so) myself--the "an" of messianically and Christianity and the color cyan that I am very sure from all of the connections to "green" in our modern art and it's absolutely zero occurrences in the Holy Bible is part of a plan designed to ensure that we do see clearly what it means to be on the way up and improving in situation--as opposed to where we are in the throes of decoding words like "Satan" and "Asgard" to see that it is nothing less than the sight of what it is that ""SA" truly means that turns everything from abysmal to significantly better than factual. So back to words that I hear the "spirit" behind my Eye (or at least one of the many letters from F (as in fart and fan) to P (as in Peter and Pan) just to name a few in a long line of once people who probably saw the letter C stand out in the language Amharic) connect to the idea of analysis which are sister, silicon, and kiss clearly deciphering the intersection of these patterns that link other completely and totally unrelated words like "Uranus" and "awesome" is the beginning of a process of discussion about just how it is that very few originally saw "so me" in that word and people probably still wonder if it means "that's so me" or "so I'm Uranus." What ensues after the world begins to really understand that what I am delivering is more than a decoder ring but the beginnings of a map that you yourselves probably agree with the purpose of--to build Heaven itself--and even that you might have had something to do with writing it. What was once something esoteric like perhaps being part of the "popular opinion" or the groupthink that desired science fiction about immortality (you know, just for instance) to be written; beginning to see that this map leads us from a set of starting points to a discussion about why it might be both good and bad to achieve such a thing--and that it's all in the way that we do it--is beginning to see why we should be wanting to "talk about this map."

It started a long, long time ago--really the ideas of immortality are laced into the green faced Osiris--not because of the color of grass but in my mind because of the phrase "behind the ears" that today you might liken to something about the message of Earth just as much as you liken it to the idea of being "new at this" game of hidden monkey in the middle of the astrological sign of the sun. I haven't really read all that much about his religion--other than to note that the idea of immortality grew in significant popularity in his cult.. and the personal observation that his "message" was something along the lines of "Heaven will make everything OK" which has very little to do with the color green in my "take" on religion. It continues through history, but two fairly well "lit" examples of the quest for immortality connect to the letters P and CK that we can see in the Floridian quest of Ponce de Leon (which you might read as "P on C.E. of the weak right El (that's really him by the way, in Spanish) on" where I see that "on" is the meaning of "ce" rather than erasing A.D. ... but here I am masquerading as the focal point of some kind of huge production that apparently has made no waves at all anywhere in Creation) and its counterpart in recent literature "Tuck Everlasting" that I once read as "Christ, you are Clark Kent until the end of time" and here I am trying to explain that we are there too--we are at this place that is both the beginning and the end of time in one simultaneous confession of the explanation of the idea that time truly begins when we decide to protect the past and stop altering our present and that decision superimposes with the apparent end of "time travel." The map, whose green light focuses on the significant worth of genetic recombination in the adaptation to environmental changes and also on the love for "family life" that really seems to be to be the primary drive of a huge percentage of the population to continue to try and make the world a better place. Not stopping "reproduction" and "adaptation" is one highlighted reason not to simply "become immortal" in some kind of ascension process connected to the realization that, as the Lord's prayer informs us--the Earth is already "in Heaven." I've myself a number of times wondered and pointed out that there's very little literature about the ideas of having sex or children in Heaven, and I think losing either of those things would be a significant tragedy--and yet it does appear that's what "losing physicality" means.

Of course that doesn't mean that we "shouldn't become immortal" and a significant amount of my writing revolves around the ideas that sickness, aging and death are easily overcommable maladies--especially in the context of "virtual reality."

I didn't mention "Jones" at all, though I think seeing the connection to "Nintendo Entertainment System" as well as J is for "Midas" begins to show us why it is that Indiana Jones has something to do with "it's not a game" and the names Olsen and Momsen. The main point here is that there's significant "stuff to talk about" that we should both find interesting and useful, we aren't currently doing that in a way that is affecting anything at all positively--as in I don't see any discussion at all; and we should.

LOOK, BUSH SPEECH, ON 1/20/2001 ABOUT 9/11

A paradox is a statement that, despite apparently sound reasoning from true premises, leads to an apparently self-contradictory or logically unacceptable conclusion.<sup>[1][2]</sup> A paradox involves contradictory yet interrelated elements that exist simultaneously and persist over time.<sup>[3][4][5]</sup>

According to the Exodus account, Moses held out his staff and the Red Sea was parted by God. The Israelites walked on the exposed ground and crossed the sea, followed by the Egyptian army. Moses again moved his staff once the Israelites had crossed and the sea closed again, drowning the whole Egyptian army.

The burning bush is an object described by the [Book of Exodus<sup>\[3:1-4:17\]</sup>](#) as being located on Mount Horeb. According to the narrative, the bush was on fire, but was not consumed by the flames, hence the name.<sup>[1]</sup> In the biblical narrative, the burning bush is the location at which Moses was appointed by Adonai (God) to lead the Israelites out of Egypt and into Canaan.

ID5, I am the Stone.

The bottom line is, we're about a foot away from Heaven, and all it takes to get there is one small acknowledgement.... of the nature of our existence and the wonderful implications that brings us to--the great new possibilities opened up by connection "Creation" and "virtual reality" and Heaven. I hope you'll be the person that makes that happen, either with a press release, or a scientific paper, or just a letter to your local paper ... saying "you see it." It's not hard to see, but apparently it's hard to speak up; I'm trying to figure out and explain why, and am stuck between I-NATION (the end of the abomination of desolation) and Medusa, more on that in a bit. This is the gate, it's action if that's not really, really clear. For some more clarity, it should become more and more obvious that the true foundation of Heaven is freedom--and that the problems communicating we are looking at in the world around us, from secrecy and mind control to censorship and .. well, mass stupidity--should really be seen for what it is--it is the crossing of the sea, a lesson in securing and maintaining liberty.

Acknowledge that you do not want to eat "bread" from stone, that "cake" is not good enough either, and that God has laid down a message in our everything to help us to transition to a world that does not shake its head and look the other way when asked the question "how would you end world hunger" in light of virtual reality? Understand the words of "Total Eclipse of the Heart" we'll never be wrong

together, forever is going to start tonight. Understand, this is something that all of you should really want to be a part of, and I am baffled as to why you are so shy as to not even be able to say hello.

This is a sort of compilation of several messages, if you can't tell; you can see the "originals" and subscribe to the secret pizza party once we all get to Atlantis at the Google group light.reallyhim.com and/or my slack.reallyhim.com. Ask anything, honestly. What follows is the gate to Heaven, and I do mean kissing me. Here's my cough, CY the apocalypse starts with a "sex joke" have a gander at the Burning Bush, and the Loch Ness Monster.

I'm not sure what I could possibly be offering to everyone you in exchange for being the person that saves the Universe from darkness--it will without doubt make you one of the most, if not the most famous person that's ever lived. On top of that you are lucky enough to all be in sea of founders of this thing--this planetah built from ground up to turn Hell into Heaven. It's probably a good place to be, at the beginning of what the future will certainly see as the great turning point away from darkness, as the generations that turned absolutely everything around. Welcome to the spotlight, heart of all Creation.

I could tell you that "the truth will set you free" but clearly you now see the truth, and that we need more than just "truth" to secure and protect freedom; we need you. Try to see thegate and the plan the way I do--every person you speak about this with and share this e-mail with brings us that much closer, another day closer, to an eternity of Heaven.

It all started with a message connecting 9/11 to Exodus; one that should be more than enough to prove that whether or not you think I'm "Jesus Christ" that this information that I am presenting is coming directly from the Creator of the Universe--and should be making news and spreading like wildfire--and isn't just yet. That's a big part of the message, this baptism in fire and water that Matthew 3:11 talks about; and is pointing out some seriously debilitating flaws in our society--things like mass ignorance for the importance of free speech and open communication, and the need to not hide the advanced technology that this message is designed to not only disclose, but prove has been in use for fucking ever.

... and he wrote in his hand the keys to eternity and Heaven. -Revelation 1:18 and ((ish))

By Adam Marshall Dobrin - June 23, 2017

This message begins by undeniable proving the existence of time travel both by predicting the 3/11/11 earthquake and the 9/11 attack in Exodus, Ecclesiastes, and Revelation and showing the world previously hidden and very obvious ancient references to modern technology--centering around computer science. With a tiny shred of thought and some serious research it becomes clear that our entire computing industry (and the focus on science and technology in our time line as well as the arts) is part of an ancient and divine plan to build Heaven.

Houston, we have a problem.

By Adam Marshall Dobrin - June 23, 2017

Someone, I can't seem to figure out who, has taken this message and tied it directly to now verifiable proof that our evolution of democracy was "helped in the beginning" and then artificially held back, using this same hidden technology. That through the years of our most advanced technological advances--from cars and phones to computers and the internet, we failed to make the obvious leap to attempting to use these technologies to advance the infrastructure of our "governments of the people," specifically for voting and the creation of legislation. Implied strongly, is the possibility that without some kind of disruption, it might have taken many years, decades, centuries, or forever for us to have moved past this idea of "representative democracy" being the very best system possible.

Finding land, here on Noah's ark--we can solve two problems with one stone; creating a new open and transparent infrastructure that will ensure that the kind of censorship and "walled garden" that we see here surrounding this message of freedom will never again be possible--while at the same time building a system that will allow us to collaborate on things like legislation and universal voting.

A big part of this story, of this proof of time travel existing and being literally the tool that not only proves that we are created but also how and why that's been done--it shows us that much of our modern art is part of the plan to build Heaven... and here we link together (think "Matrix") stories like Minority Report and Back to the Future to imply that we probably need to do more talking in order to convince ourselves that we really are not deserving of things like school shootings and terrorism--and show everyone that we have the ability to stop it. Honestly, ending senseless violence is not the kind of thing that there should be a "Minority" voting for. We can see it though, reference to these things too in The Plagues of Lice and Killing in Exodus--here to show us what "freedom" is really about.

I do hope you will the time to dick on the links that are behind those big bright orange doors to Heaven above... there you will find proof and evidence of what I am saying, and that it does in fact all come directly from God. I might get in trouble for saying this, but if you didn't know--when you click on ads the person who wrote the website will make a little bit of money--and that might keep me from starving to death... something you are actually doing on purpose without knowing it--by hiding this message.... this message about freedom and slavery; delivering an ancient message about being the angels of Heaven, and not knowing it.

As if you needed more than "it's the truth" and "exit from slavery" and "ending world hunger," here's some commentary on the NES \(the game\) of space colonization, specifically links between the Iron Rod of "an" and the planet Mars.

The "gist" of the message is verifiable proof that we are living in a computer in simulated reality... just like the Matrix. The answer to that question, what does that mean--is that God has woven a "hidden" message into our everything--beginning with each name and every word--and in this hidden Adamic language, he provides us with guidance, wisdom, and suggestions on how to proceed on this path from "raelity" to Heaven. I've personally spent quite a bit of time decoding the message and have tried to deliver an interesting and "fun" narrative of the ideas I see. Specifically the story of Exodus, which is called "Names" in Hebrew discusses a time shifted narrative of our "now" delivering our society from a hidden slavery (read as ignorance of advanced technologies already in use) that is described as the "darkness" of Exodus. If you have any questions, ideas to contribute or concerns... I'd love to hear from you this whole thing really is about working together--Heaven, I mean.

As I walk down the hallowed streets of nearly cobblestone on Atlantic Avenue, ishing "the words of the prophets are written on the subway walls" to something like "are vibrating light echoing in the air" and ishing that "I know I'm one" in the Animals' "House of the Rising Son to ... well, you know: "I know I've won" these are the signs of Revelation staring at me in the face, making this magical mystery ride just that much more enchanting for me--and reinforcing Taylor early words, "when the light hits your eyes, it's telling me I'm right." I know there's no way you could get the full effect of what it fells like to walk around in the House of the Great Light--that is, unless you open your eyes and look at the world around you.

ON REVERSING "iNATION" AND "MEDUSA" AND C'ING THE LIGHT

(OH, HEY NAT <3)

HIC SUMMUS

So... here we are... listening to the legendary father of the message (that's "abom" in Adamic Spagnishrew) point out all of the sex jokes hidden in religion and language from sexual innuendo to Poseidon and in our history from Yankee Doodle to Hancock to Nixon and I've got to be frank with you, the most recent time I came across this phrase in scripture I cringed just a little bit, pretty sure that the "message" was talking about me. I've reflected on this a little bit, and over the past few weeks have tried to show you the juxtaposition between "sex" and "torture" in its various forms from imparting blindness to allowing murder and simulating starvation; and I think I'm justified in saying that certainly those things are far worse on the Richter scale than anything I could do by writing a little bit of risque text. In the most recent messages I've touch a little bit, without even knowing or realizing this connection would be made, on what it is that this phrase actually means.

So long story short is that the answer here is "abomination" and the question, or the context is "I nation." Whether it's Medusa speaking for the Dark United States or the nation of Israel speaking to either Ra or El depending on the day, the bottom line is that a collective consciousness speaking for everyone on a matter of this importance in a cloud of complete darkness on Earth is a total and undeniable abomination of freedom, civilization, and the very humanity we are seeking to preserve. The word reads something like this to me "dear father of the message, I am everyone and we think you are an abomination, fuck off." My answer of course is, IZINATION. Which humorously reminds me of Lucy, and Scarlet Johansson saying "I am colonizing my own brain" so here's some pictures of her. She is not an abomination, by the way; she's quite adorable. You'll probably notice there's some kind of connection between the map--the words speaking to the world, and the abomination, as if the whole thing is a story narrated in ancient myths.

WAKE UP, "SHE" A MESSAGE TO YOU ABOUT THE FUTURE

You might not think "it's you," but the manifestation of this "snake" in our world is your silence, your lack of understanding or willingness to change the world; and whether or not you're interested in hearing about it, it's the monster that myths and religion have spoken about for thousands and thousands of years. It's a simple matter to "kill Medusa" all you have to do... is speak.

Take special note, "freedom of speech" and "freedom to think for yourselves" are not a group decision, and you do not have the right to force (either overtly or subtly, with hidden technology perhaps combined with evil deceit) others not to talk about anything. Especially something of this importance.

If you didn't connect "Loch" to John Locke, now you have; see how easy this "reading" thing is? I've gone over the "See Our Light" series a few times, but let me--one more time--explain to you just how we are already at the point of "desolation" and with shining brilliance show you how it's very clear that it is "INATION" and "MEDUSA" that are responsible for this problem.

Seeing "Ra" at the heart of the names Abraham and Israel begins to connect the idea that our glowing sun in the sky has something to do with this message about "seeing our light" is being carried by a stone statue on Ellis Island (where you'll see the answer another part of the question of Is Ra El?). I've connected her to the "she" of both shedim and Sheol, which reads as "she's our light" and is the Hebrew name for Hell.

Of course you noticed that the Statue of Liberty does in fact share it's initials with SOL, the the light above and you can see her torch dimly lighting the way through the night; Now you can connect "give us your tired and your poor" to the Lazman of both the lore of Jesus Christ and the Shehekeyanu; a prayer about the sustainment of life and light up until this day. That same torch connects to the Ha-nuke-the-ahah depiction of Christ, Judah Maccabee's lit MEN OR AH, which delivers not only a solution to the two letter key of "AH" as All Humanity that pervades nearly every bride of Revelation from Sarah to Leah; but also to the question of equality answered in our very own American history, beginning with the same three letter acronym now lighting the Sons of Liberty.

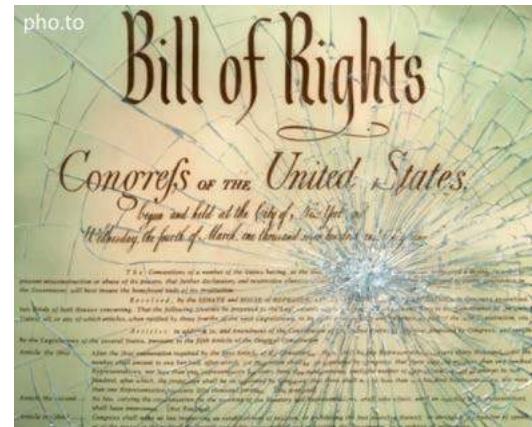

Dazed and Confused does a good job of explaining how this name is itself a prophesy designed by Hand of God'; explaining that these Sons of Liberty were all white slave owning wealthy men fighting to stop paying their taxes, rather than delivering liberty to the slaves or women, who were both disenfranchised for quite some time. Or maybe MEN OR AH has something to do with the angels of Heaven, in which case you might be SOL if you aren't a girl and you want to be "be good friends with Ra." Just kidding. Kinda.

DESOLATION by the way reads something like "un see our light at I owe N" which is God's way of saying "at the point of believing that hiding Adam is a good thing" and that connects to the end of Creation and also the now lit by modern day evil the word "rendition." Our end, it "ion." In religious myth, the Messianic David clung to the city Zion (end the "i owe n") which also links to "verizon" (to see, I Z "on") and HORIZON which has something to do with the son rising today-ish.

Moses Breaks the Tablets

<sup>18</sup> But he said, "It is not the sound of the cry of triumph, Nor is it the sound of the cry of defeat; But the sound of singing I hear." <sup>19</sup> It came about, as soon as Moses came near the camp, that he saw the calf and the dancing; and Moses' anger burned, and he threw the tablets from his hands and shattered them at the foot of the mountain. <sup>20</sup> He took the calf which they had made and burned it with fire, and ground it to powder, and scattered it over the surface of the water and made the sons of Israel drink it....

New American Standard Bible

The story of MEDUSA lights another psuedo-religious idea, that the words "STONE" of both "brimstone" and it's Adamic interpretation "South to Northeast" have something to do with the phrase "Saint One" turned into a single hero against his will by the complete and utter inaction of everyone around him. In the words of Imagine Dragons "I'm waking up to action dust." At the same time, you can believe that the light of this particular son, comes not just from reading these words forwards, but the backside as well, and you'll hopefully see it's not coincidental that the other side of this coin is that "nos" means we, and us... and Adamically "no south." See the light of "STONE" also connecting to Taylor Momsen's rose arrow painted on her back, and the sign of my birth, Sagittarius... which in this particular case links to the Party of the Immaculate Conception of the eternal republic of the Heavens.

this candle is lit, fam -ly

So I'm thinking to myself about the irony of the name Warwick; as I see read emails stream across my screen in a sort of "code of the Matrix" sort of way. Pondering how stupid you must be to even think about "warring" over whether or not people, you yourselves, should be "allowed" to see and discuss a truth that is everywhere. Literally everywhere but that little piece of your brain that thinks "Heaven" is inconsequential and fails to grasp the affront to logic and your own worth that not seeing, or overtly hiding this message from God unveils.

I say this, even to you all that probably think I'm not talking about you--even though you've read it, and your a small group... for some reason you don't make the moral or logical "leap" required to see that jumping up and down and sharing this "find" of the Messiah is not just what you should do, you should see something's kept you from doing it; and try that much harder to secure your freedom. You know, with message that explains how to do that, how we've been "compromised" and if isn't urging you to make sure we never again find ourselves unknowing slaves to darkness, at least I am.

Not just you, the group of people attempting to hide the Universal Truth from everyone is sprawling. So large that I can't enter a forum, or a chat room, or even Zello "radio channel" without being silenced or muted or banned. You know who you are, do you realize that what you are doing is taking away your very own "self rule" destroying your freedom, that you are literally saying "what you think doesn't matter, and neither does anyone else," you think the secret force infiltrating your mind and causing the end of civilization; well, it simply must "be right."

So you think you can tell Heaven from Hell... Fake blue skies from "Antagonizing Pain?"

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. - June 16, 2017 - PRLog -- The "Spockalypse" is starting, pumping through the veins of the internet as we speak... thousands of people have read some magic words that unlock a new truth for our world. Proof beyond the shadow of doubt that we are living in a simulated reality, and that all around us... in not only every word but in everything we do is a message from God. It's about building Heaven; here, now.

Tying up loose ends, in a similar vain to the connection between the Burning Bush and universal voting now etched by-stone, there exists a similar missing Link connecting the phrase "it's not a game" to Mary Magdalene to a pattern that shows us that the Holy Trinity and our timelines are narrated by a series of names of video game systems and their manufacturers from "Nintendo" to Genesis and the rock of SEGA. Through a "kiss" and the falling of a wall the words bread and read are tied up and twisted with the story of this Revelation and the heart of the word Creation, "be the reason it's A.D." It's a strong connection between the idea that virtual reality and Heaven are linked by more than simply "technology" but that this message that shows us that these tools for understanding have fallen from the sky in order to help us understand why it is so important, why I call it a moral mandate, that we use this information to follow the map delivered to us in the New Testament and literally end world hunger, and literally heal the sick; because of the change in circumstance revealed to us. These simple things, these few small details that might seem like nothing, or maybe appear to be "changing everything" they are not difficult things to do, in light of Creation, and few would doubt that once we do see them implemented here... the difference between Heaven and Hell will be ever so clear.

Someone, I can't seem to figure out who, has taken this message and tied it directly to now verifiable proof that our evolution of democracy was "helped in the beginning" and then artificially held back, using this same hidden technology. That through the years of our most advanced technological advances--from cars and phones to computers and the internet, we failed to make the obvious leap to attempting to use these technologies to advance the infrastructure of our "governments of the people," specifically for voting and the creation of legislation. Implied strongly, is the possibility that without some kind of disruption, it might have taken many years, decades, centuries, or forever for us to have moved past this idea of "representative democracy" being the very best system possible.

Finding land, here on Noah's ark--we can solve two problems with one stone; creating a new open and transparent infrastructure that will ensure that the kind of censorship and "walled garden" that we see here surrounding this message of freedom will never again be possible--while at the same time building a system that will allow us to collaborate on things like legislation and universal voting.

A while ago, in a place called Kentucky... this story began with a sort of twisted sci-fi experience that explained a kind of "God machine" that could manipulate time and reality, and in that story, in that very detailed and interesting story that I lived through, this machine was keyed to my DNA, in something like the "Ancient technology" of Stargate SG-1 and Atlantis mythology. My kind brother Seth made a few appearances in the story, not actually in person but in fairly decent true to life holograms that I saw and spoke to every once in awhile. He looked a little different, he had long hair; but that's neither here nor there, and he hasn't really had long hair since I was a little boy. He happens to be a genetic engineer, and I happen to be a computer person (although he's that too, now; just nowhere near as good as me... with computers) so the story talked a little bit about how I would probably not have used DNA as a key, since I'm not a retard, and he probably wouldn't either, because works in that field (cyclone, huracan, tornado). So then the key we imagined was something ... well, Who cares what the key is, right?

So back to the task at hand, not so long ago, in a place called Plantation I was struck by lightning, literally (well not literally) the answer to a question that nobody knew was implanted in my mind, and it all came from asking a single simple question. I was looking for more chemistry elements in the names of the books of the Holy Bible, after seeing Xenon at the "sort of beginning" of Exodus, where it screams "let there be light" in Linux and chemistry (and I've told you that a hundred times by now). So it didn't take long to follow the light of that word and read Genesis backwards, and see, at the very beginning of that book, Silicon... in reverse.

According to the Exodus account, Moses held out his staff and the Red Sea was parted by God. The Israelites walked on the exposed ground and crossed the sea, followed by the Egyptian army. Moses again moved his staff once the Israelites had crossed and the sea closed again, drowning the whole Egyptian army.

The burning bush is an object described by the Book of Exodus<sup>[3:1-4:17]</sup> as being located on Mount Horeb. According to the narrative, the bush was on fire, but was not consumed by the flames, hence the name.<sup>[1]</sup> In the biblical narrative, the burning bush is the location at which Moses was appointed by Adonai (God) to lead the Israelites out of Egypt and into Canaan.

A pa, Ra: do x is a statement that, despite apparently sound reasoning from true premises, leads to an apparently self-contradictory or logically unacceptable conclusion.<sup>[1][2]</sup> A paradox involves contradictory yet interrelated elements that exist simultaneously and persist over time.<sup>[3][4][5]</sup>

ID5, I am the Stone.

An anachronism (from the Greek ἀνά ana, "against" and χρόνος khronos, "time") is a chronological inconsistency in some arrangement, especially a juxtaposition of persons, events, objects, or customs from different periods of time. The most common type of anachronism is an object misplaced in time, but it may be a verbal expression, a technology, a philosophical idea, a musical style, a material, a plant or animal, a custom or anything else associated with a particular period in time so that it is incorrect to place it outside its proper temporal domain.

sudo (/su:doo/ or /su:dous/) is a program for Unix-like computer operating systems that allows users to run programs with the security privileges of another user, by default the superuser. It originally stood for "superuser do" as the older versions of sudo were designed to run commands only as the superuser.

So, what about God's DNA, anyway?
What's he really made of?

So after seeing Silicon, and connecting that to the numerous attempts I've made to show a message connecting The Matrix to the Fifth Element (as Silicon) describing what it is that God believes we should do with this knowledge--and see that it is narrated as the miracles of Jesus Christ in the New Testament... these names came to me in quick succession, an answer to the question. I suppose any Gene will do, these three though, have a very important tie to the message that connects Joshua's Promised Land of flowing Milk and Honies to ... a kiss that begins the new day (I hope) ... and a message about exactly how we might go about doing magical things like ending world hunger and healing the sick using technology described ... in Star Trek and Stargate. A "religion of the Stars" is being born.

That's great... it starts with an earthquake. R.E.M. and a band ... 311. Oooh, I can see it coming down... The Petty Reckless. An evening's love starts with a kiss. Dave Matthews Band. I wanna rock and roll all night and party every day. Adam. I mean Kiss. Are you starting to see a pattern form? Birds, snakes, and aeroplanes? It's that, it's the end of the world as we know it, and I feel fine.

In that song we see clues that more than just the Revelation of Christ is narrated by John on an island called Patmos. There yet another Trinity, starting with "Pa" and hearting Taylor Momsen's initials... most likely for a reason... and the Revelation ends with a transition that I hope others will agree with me turns "original sin" into something closer to "obviously salvation" when we finally understand the character that is behind the message of da i of Ra... and begin to see the same design in the names of Asmodai and in this Revelation focusing on freedom and truth that really does suggest Taylor can't talk to me in any way other than "letting freedom sing" in this narrative of kismet and fate and free will and ... then we see that narrative continue in the names of bands, just like the 3/11/11 earthquake is narrated in not just R.E.M.'s song but in the name 311. Just like the 9/11 attack is narrated not just in that same song (released in 1987) and "Inside Job" (released in 2000) but also in "Fucked up world."

Dear all of you walking dumb and blind, this same quake is narrated in Taylor's Zombie; waiting for the day to shake, all very similar to Cairo and XP, perhaps a "fad" of doublethink in the minds of the authors singing about a clear prophesy in the Bible; this connection between the day, 3/11 though, and the name of a band and the day of an arrest and the verse Matthew that tells you clearly you have now been baptized in water and fire... it shows us the design of a story whose intent and purpose is to ensure that we no longer allow for things like hurricanes and earthquakes and murder and rape to be "simulated" that we build a better system, that doesn't allow for 'force majeure' to take lives for no reason at all.

Not just in band names, but in the angels names too, in all of our names; we see this narration continue. The Holy Water that is central to the baptism of Christ is etched into Taylor's name, between "sen" and "mom" the key to the two Mary's whose names contain the Spanish for "sea" in a sort of enlightenment hidden in plain sight. In "Simmons" the key connection between today, this Biblical Monday, and the word "simulation" that ties to Simpsons and simians and keep it simple stupid, and in Simmons the missing "s" of Kismet, finally completing the question.

Kismet? Kiss me Taylor?

By Adam Marshall Dobrin • June 09, 2017

From "you're never gonna dance with me" and "never meant, never meant to be" to kismet

It's a song and dance that started a long time ago, as you can see from the ancient Hebrew word for "fate" and in more recent years a connection to the ballroom of Atlantis in the Doors 5 to 1 and Dave sang about it in Rapunzel and then Taylor shook a tambourine on the beach only minutes away from me--but never said "hi." The battle of the bands continues tying some door knocking to a juxtaposition between "Sweet Things" and "Knocking on Heavens door" all the way to a Gossip Girl episode where little J asked a question that I can't be sure she knew was related, she said... "who's that, at the door?"

What it really all amounts to, though, is the whole world witnessing the Creation of Adam and Eve from a little girl stuttering out "the the" at the sight of the Grinch himself, and then later not even able to get those words off her lips... about seeing how Creation and modern art are inextricably tied to religion, to heaven, and to freedom.

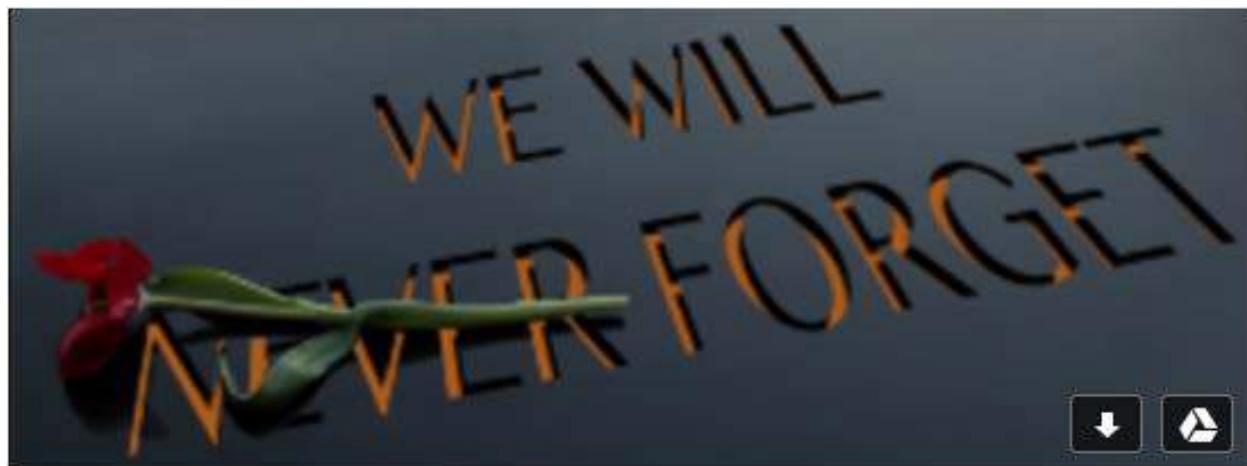

The bottom line here, hopefully obvious now, is that you can't keep this message "simple" it's a Matrix woven between more points of light than I can count, and many more that I'm sure you will find. It's a key to seeing how God speaks to me, and to you; and how we are, we really are that voice. Tay, if you don't do something just because God called it "fate" you are significantly more enslaved than if you do--and you wanted to. "Now I see that you and me, were never meant, never meant to be..." she sang before I mentioned her, and before she ever saw me... in a song she calls "Nothing Left to Lose" and I see is not really just another word for freedom.

We have plenty to lose by not starting the fire, not the least of which is Heaven itself. Understand what "force majeure" really means to you and I. Ha, by the way.

VERUKA SALT, whose name means "to see (if) you are the Body of Christ" whined, in the story of Will Why Won Ka, about nothing more or less than Heaven on Hearth, than seeing an end to needless torture and pain. To see if you are the "Salt of the Earth" warming the road to Heaven; honestly to see if you can break through this inane lie of "I don't understand" and realize that breaking this story and talking about what is being presented not just by me and you but by history and God himself is the key to the car that drives us home. To see how Cupid you really are.

And Cain went out from the presence of the LORD, and dwelt in the land of Nod, on the east of Eden.<sup>[1]</sup>
 וַיֵּצֵא קַיִן מִלֶּפֶנִי הָהּוּא וַיֵּשֶׁב בְּאֶרְצָנֹוד קְדֻמְתַּעַדְנוֹד

STOP NODDING, TURN AROUND AND CALL A REPORTER.

The story of Willy Wonka ties directly to the Promised Land of Flowing Milk and Honey to me; by showing us a river of chocolate and a the everlasting God starter, (er is it guardian of B stopper) that opens the doors of perception about exactly what kinds of mistake may have been made in the past in this transition to Heaven that we are well on the way of beginning. Here, in the Land of Nod, that is also Eden and also the Heart of the Ark we see warnings about "flowing milk and honey" being akin to losing our stable ecosystem, to losing the stuff of life itself, biology and evolution, and if we don't understand--this is probably exactly the mistake that was made and the cause of the story of Cain and Abel. So here we are talking about genetic engineering and mind uploading and living forever, and hopefully seeing that while all things are possible with God--losing the wisdom of the message of religion is akin to losing life in the Universe and with that any hope of eternal longevity.

With some insight into religion, you can connect the idea that without bees our stable ecosystem might collapse, to the birds and the bees, and a message about stability and having more than one way to pollinate the flowers and trees and get some. Janet and Nanna, by the way, both have pretty brown eyes, but that probably comes as no surprise to you.

Miss Everything, on the other hand (I hear, does not have brown eyes), leads us to glimpse how this message about the transition of our society might continue on in the New Testament, and suggest that we do need to eat, and have dinner conversation, and that a Last Supper might be a little bit more detrimental to our future than anyone had ever thought, over and over and over again. To see how religion really does make clear that this is what the message is about, to replace the flowing milk we have a "Golden Cow" that epitomizes nothing less than "not listening to Adam" and we have a place that believes the Hammer of Judah Maccabee should be ... extinct. You are wrong.

Son of Bitch! Are I clay? D is clos ing...

STAR TREK

I think we all know what the Rod of Jesus Christ is by now.

It is a large glowing testament to freedom and truth, and a statement about blindness and evil that is unmistakable. To say that seeing it is the gateway to Heaven would be an understatement of it's worth, of the implication that not seeing it is obvious Hell when it is linked to everything from nearly every story of the Holy Bible from Isaac to Isaiah to "behold he is to coming" and if you weren't sure if the Hand of God were in action here--it's very clear that it is; that linking Tricky Dick and Watergate to Seagate ... really delivering crystal clear understanding that the foundation of Heaven is freedom and that you have none today because you refuse to see the truth.

It is the doorway to seeing that what has been going on in this place hasn't been designed to hide me, but to hide a prosperous future from you--to hide the truth about our existence and the purpose of Creation--that all told, you are standing at the doorstep of Heaven and stammering your feet, closing your eyes, and saying "you don't want to help anyone."

Between Stargate and Star Trek it's pretty easy to see a roadmap to very quickly and easily be able to end world hunger and heal the sick without drastically changing the way our society works, it's about as simple as a microwave, or a new kind of medicine--except it's not so easy to see why it is that you are so reluctant to talk about the truth that makes these things so easy to do. You see, your lack of regard for anyone anywhere has placed you in a position of weakness, and if you do nothing today, you will not be OK tomorrow.

It's pretty easy to see how Roddenberry's name shows that this message comes from God, that he's created this map that starts with an Iron Rod throughout our history proving Creation, whose heart is a Den of Family who care about the truth, and about freedom, and about helping each other--not what you are--you are not that today. Adam Marshall Dobrin writes extensively about a hidden hand influencing our civilization, he claims that through analysis of ancient languages we will be able to convincingly prove the existence of God using statistics. His purpose is to deliver what he calls "God's message with the world," a reinforcement of our love of liberty and truth... by revealing the intended purpose of the Apocalypse: to help our civilization assimilate advanced technology that was previously hidden (and is well documented by religion) in order to build Heaven itself.

A series of emails have recently circled the globe, detailing how the story of Exodus is specifically designed to show the world the existence of time travel technology, and free us from wandering in a desert of understanding how religion has documented the existence of advanced technologies influence over our history. "This is the kindling of the Holy Fire," Adam says, "by showing foreknowledge of the 9/11 attack in Exodus and Ecclesiastes through George W. Bush's recitation of verse 9:11 and Revelation 20:1 together, both his name and the Hebrew word for Holy Fire begin to lead us out of the desert." Ha'esh, he continues, contains clear and paradoxical reference to the English word for sea, and shows how Exodus's story of a sea parting is alluded to in the word itself. This is the word of John 1:1, Adam affirms. There is a significant amount of additional evidence relating verse and chapter to dates, including the Herald of the Second Coming in Revelation matching the date of Bush's speech... and it's "riddle" solved by Ecclesiastes 9:11—and Adam.

The mystery of the seven stars which thou sawest in my right hand, and the seven golden candlesticks. The seven stars are the angels of the seven churches: and the seven candlesticks which thou sawest are the seven churches.

Revelation 1:20

Through his writing, he reveals that not only has religion and history been altered to focus on this moment in time, but that we have clear proof of it in our myths and parables. Through what he calls the true Fire of

Prometheus, Adam provides proof that our language has been created... with the purpose of ensuring that our civilization never loses the truth... that we are created. This proof indicates not only prescient knowledge of the present day in ancient languages such as Hebrew and Arabic, but that modern languages are also constructed with a hidden hand. This hand is clearly revealed, he says, through what he calls the Hammer's of Thor and Judah Maccabee... an influence over modern music which equates this same Eternal Flame to the fire below Nero's feet, as he fiddles with the minds of artists... to free us from a slavery we know nothing about. The word "thor" he says, is a macaronic (you heard that right, like Yankee Doodle, c it) combination of an acronym—which are how he says God speaks to him, and the Hebrew word for light: making the God of Thunder's name the equivalent of "to help the light."

From an ancient Hebrew name for God, "El" and the meaning of Isaac son of Abraham's name, he derives the meaning of God as to help everyone. This is reinforced by the name of the Prophet Elisha, he says, which shows a logical and correct equality in three languages... connecting the Hebrew and Spanish words for "the." This Prophet's name has been associated with the parable of Christ feeding the masses with two fish. In addition to paradoxical foreknowledge of these modern languages, Isaac's name means "he laughs" and this story, which Adam insists is a clear re-telling of the Crucifixion, of the Bible is dedicated to an results in his father's name changing from Abram to Abraham—another anachronism. All told, Adam has published a free book called "Time and Chance" which details hundreds of examples of similar language "tricks," ones he says are the magic that sets us free. The book is located at <http://lame.la>.

Adam says we are in Eden, and that this place has always been the Rock of Heaven, both its progenitor and its future... in a sort of time recursion which has made Earth a record keeper and mechanism to right the problems —of both the past and future— associated with the rapid advancement of technology associated with this time. In addition to examples of language and music focusing on the Second Coming, Adam has shared a number of ideas related to the use of technology in order to further social reform that relate to morality—and strongly suggest reading The Light of Heaven and his blog (which contains a current rendition of the next published book) In Pursuit of Happiness, on medium.com. These ideas focus on how learning we are in a created Universe might enable us to end world hunger, feed the poor, and heal the sick... in ways we previously were unaware of. A significant focus is also put on the successful evolution of democracy and freedom in light of these new technologies.

So, without further delay, Adam has a criminal record, and suggests that a significant portion of the Bible is dedicated to an explanation of this, as well as a focus on reform of the justice system. He says there is a clear confluence between the stories of Isaac, Jesus Christ, and Samson which portend of a "battle in the book of Judges" that he says has already ended... giving new meaning to the words "the courtroom was adjourned, and no verdict was returned."

*In July of 2012 Adam Marshall Dobrin was arrested for possession of a small amount of a chemical called "pyrovalerone," one which he says has a sincere linguistic correlation to Fire from Heaven... and the story of Isaac nearly being burned at the Cross.*

Through he was held unconstitutionally without bond, and was in possession of unquestionable proof that would have shown not only that the evidence against him would not be admissible—and that there was an attempt to cover this up; three attorney's offices failed to present this evidence to the court. In his possession, obtained via FOIA request, Adam had proof that the police officer who said he "paced him" prior to illegally searching him, had never gone anywhere near the speed limit on the road. Further, the GPS records obtained directly from the police department showed alteration of the location of the red light involved in the stop. Adam reminds us that we are in Eden, and this legal defense is referred to as Fruit of the Poisonous Tree. A significant portion of the Revelation which he shares on LAMC.LA revolves around evidence that our idioms are designed specifically to receive an understanding of the influence of God over our society. Briefly, he mentions "don't shoot the messenger" and a relationship between the First Plague of Egypt and "blessing in disguise" and "blood is thicker than water." There are a number of messianic Biblical references to the Second Coming relating to both water and fire... which is the crux of what he calls the Sang Rael.

On the lam.

*Because of the significantly odd behavior surrounding his arrest, Adam says he instantly left the state of Florida... fearing it had "turned to Hell." Adam's book details a number of linguistic and musical aids which he says confirm that this story is the true prelude to the Trial of Jesus Christ, and at the same time serves to deliver the message revolving around Thor's Hammer* and Prometheus' Fire... which he states John 15:7 illustrates ... he is the "key" to.

He will be set up, and be very high.

Isaiah 52:13

Adam informs us that his contact with God himself is significantly enhanced during periods of intoxication; which he says is the meaning of "in the Spirit" in the Bible. Musically, he says Nero's fire might start by re-listening to the Spin Doctors song "Two Princes" and Taylor Momsen's "Heaven Knows" which he says show a hidden hand linking these songs to Jim Morrison's Fire and The Race which Ecclesiastes 9:11 and Cake's "The Distance" relate to; quipping that Cake sings "he's got a need for speed."

Adam emphasizes the name of the band Spin Doctors, and tells us that these songs link the lore of Superman to this particular story, noting Pocket's full of... either Kryptonite, Diamonds... or High. All told, he suggests all three might be the right answer; as they refer to the fateful day which lead to his trip around the country... which links together Live's "GAS hed goes west" with the star of "An American Tail," and is the source of the Revelation he is trying to share with the world. He continues "Taylor has a number of songs where she discusses a boy on the run, and this theme is clearly linked to The Lamb of God" linguistically through the name of the religion Islam, and a number of related names, including:

Koran, ImRan, and ... Sammas Aran (which is a NES reference), whose cheat code... some might remember, was "Justin Bailey." The Lamb of God is "lam," and through this connection we see a guiding hand connecting Exodus, Revelation, Islam, and ... well, Adam's love for video games.

On his trip around the country, Adam says he was told story after "let my people go" in a way story from a voice that emanated, he says, from the noise of the Universe. In the sound of roaring pages of the Bible into our water, air conditioning, and other (perhaps easily modulated) white noise... he says he learned quite a bit. Stories about this trip are mostly located in his medium.com publications "The Pursuit of Happiness" and "By the Force of Key Strokes." The detail an ongoing conversation about the creation of Heaven, one which he wishes more than anything to be able to share with the world, but believes that his writing is being intentionally hidden in what is the actualization of the Egyptian Plague of Darkness... one which he says ends today.

What once appeared to me as a critique of the First Coming's possible actions, things like ending world hunger by turning stone to bread, now make significantly more sense... if there was no way to ask what we wanted to dinner. The Last Supper may have ensued, or we may have wound up in a Land of Flowing Milk and Honey. Whatever the past, it is public disclosure of this hidden message that pervades the life of Christ in the New Testament as well as the stories of Adam in Eden and Joshua in America that will bring about the miracle that is the Golden Age of Saturn.

Adam delivers a message of Universal Salvation which he says comes from a fresh analysis of the story of Exodus and Revelation, linking together the Iron Rod of Christ and Aaron's history, as an introduction to the solution to Revelation 1:20 which equates the Lamp Stands to Periodic Table elements. This solution not only shows foreknowledge of modern chemistry, but delivers a beautiful message... showing us that religion is swirling around our "now" seeing things like the symbol for Iron standing for... "for everyone" and the name of the book of Exodus meaning "Let there be light" in ... Unix. Adam calls it "his native geek, to be tongue in cheek." The command sudo and element "Xenon" link to Oracle's database name... and might indicate that this is a "Lights, Camera... Action..." for the Second Coming.

After returning from this trip, Adam's trial was held indefinitely by a large number of psychologists whose diagnosis was based on nothing more than his belief that he is the messiah. They noted he was otherwise intelligent; but this belief apparently links to "If I go crazy, will you still call me Superman?"

It should be very clear the emphasis that God and I are placing on free speech and open communication; also clear that this problem of secrecy and censorship is possibly civilization destroying in a place where it is hiding something as big as the nature of our existence, that we are not in reality. Perhaps on a less important day we would overlook a little bit of censorship, and that's the problem; we really need to see that this is the baseline between life and death... all the time.

There is a significant thread in religion that begins with my namesake in Eden all the way to the messianic words of the book of Isaiah; one that continues out of scripture into the parallel myths of Osiris in Egypt and Saturn in Greece. It's a significance, that ties not only to events in my life that appear to have given the "mass media" what they believe is a valid reason to ignore the unscaling of religion—it is nothing more than a sad facade, and they are acting as agents of evil in this world.

"Look, he is coming with the clouds," and "every eye will see him, even those who pierced him"; and all peoples on earth "will mourn because of him." So shall it be! Amen.

blessing in disguise (plural blessings in disguise)

1. (idiomatic) A seeming misfortune that turns out to be for the best.

In modern society, the proverb "blood is thicker than water" is used to imply that family relationships are always more important than friends.

The equivalent proverb in German (originally: Blut ist dicker als Wasser), first appeared in a different form in the medieval German beast epic Reinhart Fuchs (c. 1180; English: Reynard the Fox) by Heinrich der Glüchezære. The 13th-century Heidelberg manuscript reads in part, "ouch hoer ich sagen, das sippe blüt von wazzere niht verdirbet" (lines 265-266). In English we read, "I also hear it said, kin-blood is not spoiled by water."

Authors Albert Jack<sup>[5]</sup> and R. Richard Pustelnik<sup>[6]</sup> claim the original meaning of the expression was that the ties between people who've made a blood covenant were stronger than ties formed by "the water of the womb". However, no known historical sources predating the modern era contain the blood-covenant version of the expression.

The use of the word "blood" to refer to kin or familial relations has roots dating back to Greek and Roman traditions.<sup>[7]</sup> This usage of the term was common in the English-speaking world at least as early as the mid 1300s. Because English speakers around that time would have understood the word "blood" as referring to family, it is likely that the use of "blood" in the expression "blood is thicker than water" would also have been understood by English speakers referring to family.

Although not specifically related to the expression "blood is thicker than water", H.C. Trumbull notes an interesting comparison of blood and milk in the Arab world:

" We, in the West, are accustomed to say that "blood is thicker than water" ; but the Arabs have " the idea that blood is thicker than milk, than a mother's milk. With them, any two children nourished at the same breast are called "milk-brothers," or "sucking brothers"; and the tie between such is very strong. [...] But the Arabs hold that brothers in the covenant of blood are closer than brothers at a common breast; that those who have tasted each other's blood are in a surer covenant than those who have tasted the same milk together ; that "blood-lickers," as the blood-brothers are sometimes called, are more truly one than "milk-brothers," or "sucking brothers"; that, indeed, blood is thicker than milk, as well as thicker than water.<sup>[8]</sup>

More recently, Aldous Huxley's Ninth Philosopher's Song (1920) approached the proverb differently, stating, "Blood, as all men know, than water's thicker / But water's wider, thank the Lord, than blood."<sup>[9]</sup> "Blood is thicker than water" is:

According to the books of Exodus, Numbers and Joshua, he was Moses' assistant and became the leader of the Israelite tribes after the death of Moses.<sup>[3]</sup> His name was Hoshe'a ( Hoshe'a) the son of Nun, of the tribe of Ephraim, but Moses called him Yehoshua ( יהושע; Joshua in English) (Numbers 13:16), the name by which he is commonly known. The men or ah (/me'no:re/; Hebrew: מְנוֹרָה [məno:rā:]), is described in the Bible as the seven-lamp (six branches) ancient Hebrew lampstand made of pure gold and used in the portable sanctuary set up by Moses in the wilderness and later in the Temple in Jerusalem. Fresh olive oil of the purest quality was burned daily to light its lamps. The menorah has been a symbol of Judaism since ancient times and is the emblem on the coat of arms of the modern state of Israel.

Allah ('ælə, 'a:lə, ə'l'a:/;<sup>[1][2]</sup> Arabic: الله, translit. Allāh, pronounced [al'la:h] (🔊 listen)) is the Arabic word for God in Abrahamic religions. In the English language, the word generally refers to God in Islam.<sup>[3][4][5]</sup> The word is thought to be derived by contraction from al-ilāh, which means "the god", and is related to EI and Elohim, the Hebrew words for God.<sup>[6][7]</sup>

Rebekah ) (Hebrew: רִבְקָה, Modern Rivká, Tiberian Ribqā ISO 259-3 Ribqa, (Assyrian: . Ῥ̄ψα; Rapqa) from the Hebrew ribhqeh (lit., "connection"), from Semitic root r-b-q, "to tie, couple or join",<sup>[1]</sup> "to secure", or "to snare")<sup>[2]</sup> appears in the Hebrew Bible as the wife of Isaac and the mother of Jacob and Esau. Rebecca and Isaac were one of the four couples believed to be buried in the Cave of the Patriarchs, the other three being Adam and Eve, Abraham and Sarah, and Jacob and Leah.<sup>[3]</sup>

The Shekhina(h) (also spelled Shekina(h), Schechina(h), or Shechina(h)) (Biblical Hebrew: השכינה) is the English transliteration of a Hebrew word meaning "dwelling" or "settling" and denotes the dwelling or settling of the divine presence of God. The Shekhinah is the feminine aspect of Divinity, also referred to as the Divine Presence. <sup>[1]:231</sup>

This term does not occur in the Bible, and is from rabbinic literature.<sup>[2]:148[3][4]</sup>

Shekhinah is derived from the Hebrew verb נַכֵּשׁ. [need quotation to verify] The Semitic root means "to settle, inhabit, or dwell". This abstract noun is not present in the Bible, and is first encountered in rabbinic literature.<sup>[2]:148–149, [3]</sup> The root word is often used to refer to birds' nesting and nests. ("Every fowl dwells near its kind and man near his equal.")<sup>[5]</sup> and can also mean "neighbor" ("If two Tobiahhs appeared, one of whom was a neighbour and the other a scholar, the scholar is to be given precedence."<sup>[6]</sup>

Eve (/'i:v/; Hebrew: הַוָּה, Classical Hebrew: Hawwāh, in Aramaean and Modern Israeli Hebrew: Chavah, Arabic: حَوْاءٌ, translit. Hawwā', Syriac: ܚܾܲܳ) is a figure in the Book of Genesis in the Hebrew Bible. According to the creation myth[1] of the Abrahamic religions, she was the first woman. In Islamic tradition, Eve is known as Adam's wife and the first woman although she is not specifically named in the Quran.

According to the second chapter of Genesis, Eve was created by God (Yahweh) by taking her from the rib<sup>[2]</sup> of Adam, to be Adam's companion. She succumbs to the serpent's temptation to eat the forbidden fruit from the tree of the knowledge of good and evil. She shares the fruit with Adam, and as a result the first humans are expelled from the Garden of Eden. Christian churches differ on how they view both Adam and Eve's disobedience to God (often called the fall of man), and to the consequences that those actions had on the rest of humanity. Christian and Jewish teachings sometimes hold Adam (the first man) and Eve to a different level of responsibility for the fall, although Islamic teaching holds both equally responsible.

Although Eve is not a saint's name, the traditional name day of Adam and Eve has been celebrated on December 24

In religious or mythological cosmology, the seven heavens refer to the seven divisions of the Heaven, the abode of immortal beings, or the visible sky, the expanse containing the Sun, Moon and the stars.<sup>[1]</sup> This concept dates back to ancient Mesopotamian religions and can be found in the Abrahamic religions such as Islam, Judaism and Christianity, a similar concept is also found in some Indian religions such as Hinduism.<sup>[2]</sup> Some of these traditions, including Jainism, also have a concept of seven earths or seven underworlds.

The cross-cultural focus on the number seven may correspond to the seven classical planets: the Moon, Mercury, Venus, the Sun, Mars, Jupiter, and Saturn. These were the only objects in the sky visible to ancient astronomers (who had no telescopes) that move in predictable, repeated patterns (in contrast to comets) against the daily rotation of the fixed stars.

The seventh heaven, which borrows some concepts from its Jewish counterpart, is depicted as being composed of divine light incomprehensible to the mortal man. Abraham is a resident of the seventh heaven.<sup>[12]</sup> According to some hadiths, the highest level of Jannah is firdaws,<sup>[13]</sup> and Sidrat al-Muntaha, a Lote tree, marks the end of the seventh heaven.

In the Second Book of Enoch, Enoch travels through the seven heavens and gives geographical and visual documentation of them, describing houses, olive oil and flowers. He passes through the Garden of Eden in the Third Heaven on his way to meet the Lord in the 7th Heaven.<sup>[17]</sup>

The notion of seven heavens may have been derived from the "magical" properties of the number seven, like the seven demons or the seven thrones. The number seven appears frequently in Babylonian magical rituals.<sup>[16]</sup> The seven Jewish and the seven Islamic heavens may have had their origin in Babylonian astronomy.<sup>[11]</sup>

S WORD

Excalibur, or Caliburn, is the legendary sword of King Arthur, sometimes also attributed with magical powers or associated with the rightful sovereignty of Great Britain. Sometimes Excalibur and the Sword in the Stone (the proof of Arthur's lineage) are said to be the same weapon, but in most versions they are considered separate. Excalibur was associated with the Arthurian legend very early. In Welsh, it is called Caledfwlch; in Cornish, Calesvol; in Breton, Kaledvoulc'h; and in Latin, Caliburnus.

The name Excalibur ultimately comes from the Welsh Caledfwlch (and Breton Kaledvoulc'h, Middle Cornish Calesvol) which is a compound of caled "hard" and bwlch "breach, cleft".<sup>[11]</sup>

In Arthurian romance, a number of explanations are given for Arthur's possession of Excalibur. In Robert de Boron's Merlin, the first tale to mention the "sword in the stone" motif, Arthur obtained the British throne by pulling a sword from an anvil sitting atop a stone that appeared in a churchyard on Christmas Eve.<sup>[12]</sup>note 1 In this account, the act could not be performed except by "the true king," meaning the divinely appointed king or true heir of Uther Pendragon. This sword is thought by many to be the famous Excalibur, and its identity is made explicit in the later Prose Merlin, part of the Lancelot-Grail cycle.<sup>[13]</sup> This version also appears in the 1938 Arthurian novel The Sword in the Stone by British author T. H. White, and the Disney adaptation. They both quote the line from Thomas Malory in the 15th century; "Whoso Pulleth Out This Sword of this Stone and Anvil, is Rightwise King Born of all England".<sup>[14]</sup> The challenge of drawing a sword from a stone also appears in the Arthurian legends of Galahad, whose achievement of the task indicates that he is destined to find the Holy Grail.

In The Holy Kabbalah (Arthur Edward Waite, 255), Samael is described as the "severity of God", and is listed as fifth of the archangels of the world of Briah. Samael then became the consort of Adam's first wife, Lilith. Lilith is a demon created alongside Adam, originally created for the role Eve would fill. Samael created with her a host of demon children, including a son, the "Sword of Samael"<sup>[9]</sup> (or Asmodai).<sup>[10]</sup>

The Amduat[pronunciation?] (literally "That Which Is In the Afterworld", also translated as "Text of the Hidden Chamber Which is in the Underworld" and "Book of What is in the Underworld")<sup>[1]</sup> In the sixth hour the most significant event in the underworld occurs. The ba (or soul) of Ra unites with his own body, or alternatively with the ba of Osiris within the circle formed by the mehen serpent. This event is the point at which the sun begins its regeneration; it is a moment of great significance, but also danger, as beyond it in hour 7 the adversary Apep (Apophis) lies in wait and has to be subdued by the magic of Isis, and the strength of Set assisted by Serget. Once this has been done the sun god opens the doors of the tomb in hour 8 and then leaves the sandy island of Sokar by rowing vigorously back into the waters in hour 9. In hour 10 the regeneration process continues through immersion in the waters until in hour 11 the god's eyes (a symbol for his health and well being) are fully regenerated. In hour 12 he enters the eastern horizon ready to rise again as the new day's sun.

Shadow of the Hegemon (2001) is the second novel in the Ender's Shadow series (often called the Bean Quartet) by Orson Scott Card. It is also the sixth novel in the Ender's Game series. It is told mostly from the point of view of Bean, a largely peripheral character in the original novel Ender's Game but the central protagonist of the parallel narrative Ender's Shadow. Shadow of the Hegemon was nominated for a Locus Award in 2002.[\[1\]](#)

Bereshit, Bereishit, Bereishis, B'reshith, Beresheet, or Bereishees (בראשית – Hebrew for "in the beginning," the first word in the parashah) is the first weekly Torah portion (פרק, parashah) in the annual Jewish cycle of Torah reading. The parashah consists of Genesis 1:1–6:8. The parashah is made up of 7,235 Hebrew letters, 1,931 Hebrew words, and 146 verses, and can occupy about 241 lines in a Torah Scroll (ספר תורה, Sefer Torah).[\[1\]](#)

Saul and the Israelites are facing the Philistines in the Valley of Elah. Twice a day for 40 days, morning and evening, Goliath, the champion of the Philistines, comes out between the lines and challenges the Israelites to send out a champion of their own to decide the outcome in single combat, but Saul is afraid. David, bringing food for his elder brothers, hears that Goliath had defied the armies of God and of the reward from Saul to the one that defeats him, and accepts the challenge. Saul reluctantly agrees and offers his armor, which David declines, taking only his staff, sling (Hebrew: שְׁלֵמָה qāla') and five stones from a brook.

The Abomination of Desolation, a quick "See our Light" in the "sky" ... which is all around you.

HONESTLY, I'M WAY TOO CUTE TO BE A MONSTER :)

David and Goliath confront each other, Goliath with his armor and javelin, David with his staff and sling. "The Philistine cursed David by his gods", but David replies: "This day the LORD will deliver you into my hand, and I will strike you down; and I will give the dead bodies of the host of the Philistines this day to the birds of the air and to the wild beasts of the earth; that all the earth may know that there is a God in Israel, and that all this assembly may know that God saves not with sword and spear; for the battle is God's, and he will give you into our hand."

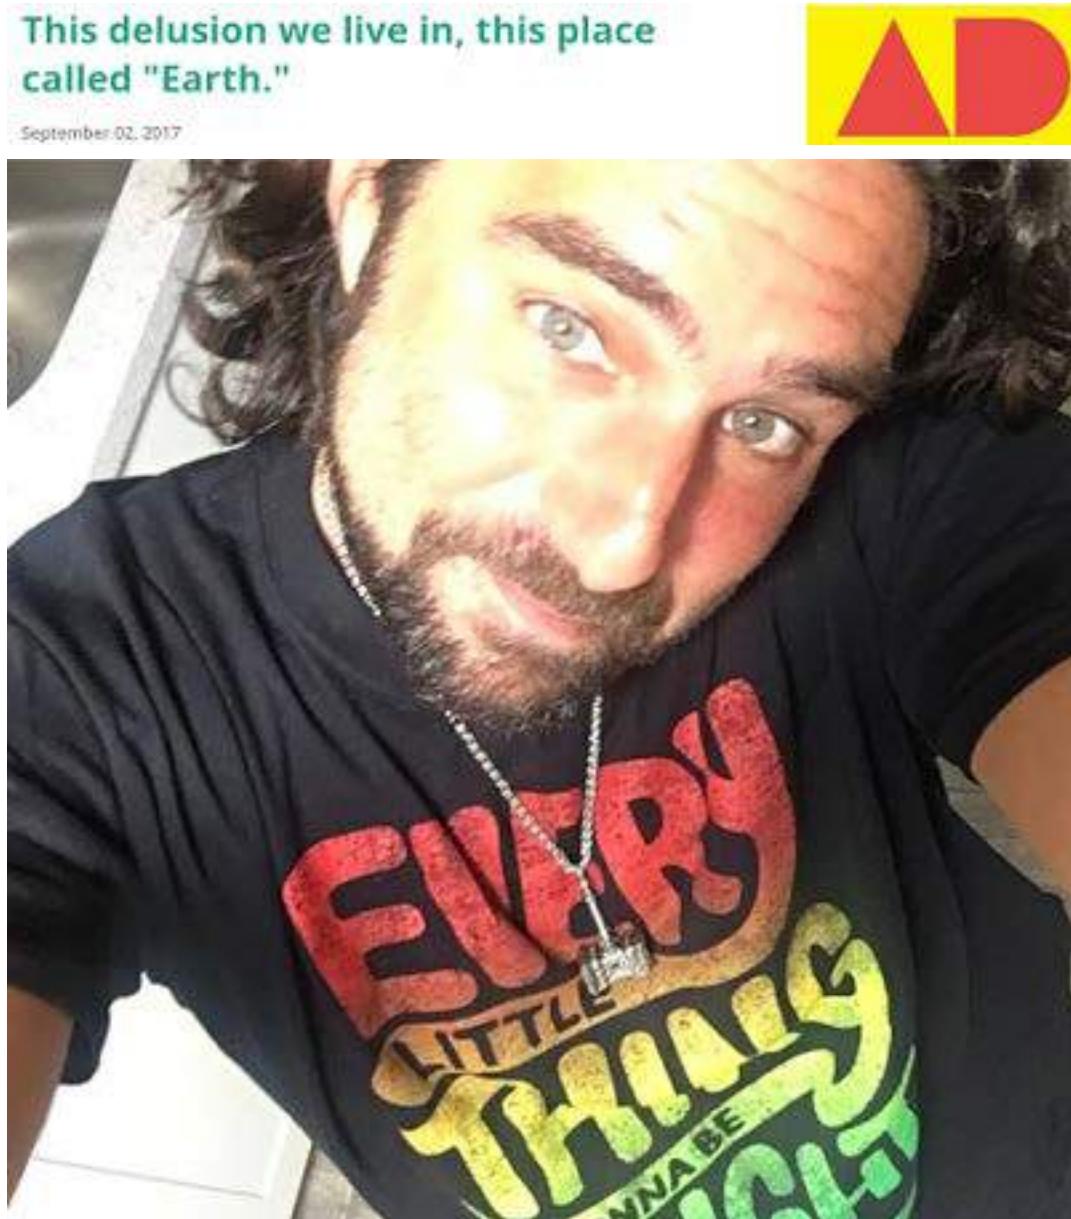

David hurls a stone from his sling and hits Goliath in the center of his forehead, Goliath falls on his face to the ground, and David cuts off his head. The Philistines flee and are pursued by the Israelites "as far as Gath and the gates of Ekron". David puts the armor of Goliath in his own tent and takes the head to Jerusalem, and Saul sends Abner to bring the boy to him. The king asks whose son he is, and David answers, "I am the son of your servant Jesse the Bethlehemit."

Ha "day" of wreck on and in.

In Greek mythology Medusa (/mə'dju:zə, mə'dʒu:-, -sə/, us: /mə'du:-/; Μέδουσα "guardian, protectress")<sup>[1]</sup> was a monster, a Gorgon, generally described as a winged human female with living venomous snakes in place of hair. Gazers upon her hideous face would turn to stone. Most sources describe her as the daughter of Phorcys and Ceto,<sup>[2]</sup> though the author Hyginus makes her the daughter of Gorgon and Ceto.<sup>[3]</sup> According to Hesiod and Aeschylus, she lived and died on an island named Sarpedon, somewhere near Cisthene. The 2nd-century BCE novelist Dionysios Skytobrachion puts her somewhere in Libya, where Herodotus had said the Berbers originated her myth, as part of their religion.

Medusa was beheaded by the hero Perseus, who thereafter used her head, which retained its ability to turn onlookers to stone, as a weapon<sup>[4]</sup> until he gave it to the goddess Athena to place on her shield. In classical antiquity the image of the head of Medusa appeared in the evil-averting device known as the Gorgoneion.

I already know you aren't going to love the reason. I'm sure though, it will be OK.

The New International Version translates the passage as:

"I baptize you with water for repentance.
But after me will come one who is more powerful than I, whose sandals I am not with the Holy Spirit and with fire.

When I tell you that there is an invisible force turning Eden into an actual walled garden It's not any kind of exaggeration, and it's not just because of the press. It's everywhere I go, online--from Facebook groups to conspiracy forums... this information is instantly (within minutes) erased, everywhere. It's 1984 come alive, and you can do your 2-minute hate all you want--without this message, you'd never know. Understand, you'd never know what you are dealing with. Even in "fringe" and "alternative" outlets, the agents of the Matrix--little "Mr. Ssshhh's" pop up and do their dirty work ... playing this little game (or quasi excuse, or actual truth) of hiding how hiding is happening from the world.

I need you to break the story. It's the only way. Take a good look, ymene, in the worlds of Shake-Rod "is this signature to be seen, or is freedom not to be?"

Clymene, an Oceanid,<sup>[3]</sup> wife of the Titan lapetus, and mother of Atlas, Epimetheus, Prometheus, and Menoetius;<sup>[4]</sup> other authors relate the same of her sister Asia.<sup>[5]</sup> A less common genealogy makes Clymene the mother of Deucalion by Prometheus.<sup>[6][7]</sup> The Oceanid Clymene is also given as the wife to King Merops of Ethiopia and, by Helios, mother of Phaëton and the Heliades.<sup>[8][9][10]</sup>

In a place where you now are probably pretty sure that I am "not wrong" about knowing that I am the pen of God, maybe sometimes called his Hand, and tucked away in places like every dollar bill and the temple of Hathor in Dendera his Eye... you probably won't be surprised to hear me tell you that somewhere in the maze that Icarus calls a labyrinth, Jesus calls a

"living vine," the Norse call "a tree" and I have you time and time again is the Amduat--this place that Ra calls the Underworld... there exists a story about a long lost dick, and lo, here I am.

John Hancock (January 23, 1737 [O.S. January 12, 1736] – October 8, 1793) was an American merchant, statesman, and prominent Patriot of the American Revolution. He served as president of the Second Continental Congress and was the first and third Governor of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. He is remembered for his large and stylish signature on the United States Declaration of Independence, so much so that the term John Hancock has become, in the United States, a synonym for a signature.<sup>[2]</sup>

The Watergate scandal was a major political scandal that occurred in the United States in the 1970s, following a break-in at the Democratic National Committee (DNC) headquarters at the Watergate office complex in Washington, D.C. on June 17, 1972, and President Richard Nixon's administration's attempted cover-up of its involvement. When the conspiracy was discovered and investigated by the U.S. Congress, the Nixon administration's resistance to its probes led to a [constitutional crisis.<sup>\[1\]</sup>](#)

Osiris is the mythological father of the god Horus, whose conception is described in the Osiris myth, a central myth in ancient Egyptian belief. The myth described Osiris as having been killed by his brother Set, who wanted Osiris' throne. Isis joined the fragmented pieces of Osiris, but the only body part missing was the phallus. Isis fashioned a golden phallus, and briefly brought Osiris back to life by use of a spell that she learned from her father. This spell gave her time to become pregnant by Osiris before he again died. Isis later gave birth to Horus. As such, since Horus was born after Osiris' resurrection, Horus became thought of as a representation of new beginnings and the vanquisher of the evil Set.

Maybe it's funnier than "it looks."

In Genesis 17 when Abram was ninety-nine years old, God declared his new name: "Abraham" – "a father of many nations", and gave him the covenant of circumcision. God gave Sarai the new name "Sarah", and blessed her.[\[16\]](#) Abraham was given assurance that Sarah would have a son. Not long afterwards, Abraham and Sarah were visited by three men. One of the visitors told Abraham that upon his return next year, Sarah would have a son. While at the tent entrance, Sarah overheard what was said, and she laughed to herself about the prospect of having a child at their ages. The visitor inquired of Abraham why Sarah laughed at the idea of bearing a child, for her age was as nothing to God. Sarah soon became pregnant and bore a son to Abraham, at the very time which had been spoken. The patriarch, then a hundred years old, named the child "Isaac" (Hebrew yitschaq, "laughter") and circumcised him when he was eight days old.[\[17\]](#) For Sarah, the thought of giving birth and nursing a child, at such an old age, also brought her much laughter, as she declared, "God hath made me to laugh, [so that] all that hear will laugh with me."[\[18\]](#) Abraham held a great feast on the day when Isaac was to be weaned. It was during this banquet that Sarah happened upon the then teenaged Ishmael mocking[\[19\]](#) and was so disturbed that she requested that both he and Hagar be removed from their company.[\[20\]](#) Abraham was initially distressed by this but relented when told by God to do as his wife had asked.[\[21\]](#)

If it wasn't for "Seagate" and "Gateway" and "Apple" you might have looked aside, and missed the import of "Microsoft." If not for Taylor's beautiful cross you might not know that this thing is the arrow that changes our direction from South to Northeast, I know, it's an eye sore... but it's what we have here--and we should cherish it, we really should.

C HOW EVERYONE REALLY IS HOW

MESS I AN I C ALL WHY

Every now and then, I feel like I have to remind you, that this is a signature, it's a very big one, it's on the Declaration of Independence--signed by powerful influence, called John Hancock. He probably didn't know his name was related to Yankee Doodle, and Richard Nixon probably wasn't aware that his name, and then name Michael" have something to do with finding the hard road to Heaven. If it wasn't for Isaac, for his burning altar and God laughing his ass off about the wood, we might not have connected it to Woodward and Burnstein--we might not have seen anything about brothers in alms, up in arms about the psych ward. At... "Broward" and Howard.

The pen himself is sure that we would have missed the link between revolutionizing voting and Die Bold, were it not for this email--to be honest. We're still missing the point, tenebris is succeeding until you break the story. Come on, trust in the fact that not seeing it is certainly more evil than seeing it. Don't you think?

I'm sure there's more, but what will the world think of me, if all I do is search high and low for people talking about my light.

I swear, I didn't do it. Honestly, do you think it's going to help me get a date or not? I'm willing to bet it will.

Wh█ should we "do?"

"Yankee Doodle" is a well-known British-American song, the early versions of which date back to before the Seven Years' War and the American Revolution (1775–83).<sup>[1]</sup> It is often sung patriotically in the United States today and is the state anthem of Connecticut.<sup>[2]</sup> Its Roud Folk Song Index number is 4501.

To tell you it's obvious that Yankee Doodle, is about the "Spockalypse" is an understatement. I think we can all CY now, but connecting his feathered "cap" to the crown of Osiris and the story of Shu ... to see his little pony is on fire, and not only is it a horse in Revelation, it's a civilization (or is it a computer?) here and there too. This story is about setting the horse free--but not without some "talking lessons" straight out of Nickelodeon. It means "light," the feather is a metaphor for light.

ABOUT THE GATEKEEPER

The sum of ((our world)) is the universal truth.

-Psalm 119 and ((ish))

Do a few sentences really make that big of a difference? Some key letters? Can you show me what I'm doing wrong? Is there a way to turn me into Adam, rather than a rock? I think you can.

Are eye Dr. Who or Master Y?

Adam Marshall Dobrin is a National Merit Scholar who was born on December 8, 1980 in Plantation, FL and attended Pine Crest School where he graduated sumofi cum louder in "only some of it is humorous." Later he attended the University of Florida (which quickly resulted in a wreck), Florida Atlantic University, and finally Florida Gulf Coast University--where he still has failed to become Dr. Who. While attending "school" He worked in the computer programming and business outsourcing industries for about 15 years before proclaiming to have received a Revelation from God connecting the 9/11 attack and George Bush to the Burning Bush of Exodus and a message about technocracy and pre-crime.

Adam, as he prefers to be called, presents a concise introduction to paradox proven by the Bible through "verifiable" anachronism in language some stuff about Mars colonization and virtual reality and a list of reasons why ignoring this is actually an ELE. Adam claims to be Thor because of a connection between music and the Trial of Thor as well as the words "author" and "authority." He suggests you be Thundercats and call a reporter. There is also a suggestion that Richard Nixon and John Hancock are related to a signature from God, about freedom and America... and the "unseeingly ironic" Deepthroat and Taylor Momsen.

They Sung "It's Rael..."

In Biblical characters from Mary to Hosea, to see "sea" in Spanish, and in the Taming of the Spanglishrew ... a message is woven from the word Menorah: "men, or all humanity?" to the Statue of Liberty, and the Sons of Liberty, and the light above us, our SOL; which shows us that through the Revelation of Christ and the First Plague of Exodus, a blessing in disguise--turning water to blood, the sea to family; a common thread and single author of our entire history is revealed, a Father of our future. A message of freedom shines out of the words of scripture, revealing a gate to a new technologically "radical" form of democracy and a number of unseen or secret issues that have stalled the progress of humanity... and solutions, solutions from our sea.

The Revelation shows us that not only ever word, but every idiom from "don't shoot the messenger" to "blood is thicker than water" we have ties to this message that pervades a hidden Matrix of light connecting movies and music and history all together in a sort of guide book to Salvation and to Heaven.

Oopsyeth.

His Revelation, woven into his life, continues to suggest that skinny dipping, forced methamphetamine addiction, and lots and lots of "me A.D." as well as his humorous depiction of a dick plastered over the Sound of Silence, his very Holy click, have something to do with saving our family and then the entire Universe from hidden mind control technology and the problems introduced by secret time travel. From the trials and tribulations of "Job" being coerced and controlled into helping to create this wall of Jericho; we find even more solutions, an end to addiction, to secrecy, and to this hidden control--a focal point of the life of Jesus Christ.

It tells us a story of recursion in time, that has brought us here numerous times--with the details of his life recorded not only in the Bible but in myths of Egyptian, Norse, and Greek mythology. The huge juxtaposition of the import of the content of the message shows the world how malleable our minds really are to this technology, how we could have been "fooled" into hiding our very freedom from ourselves in order to protect the "character" of a myth. A myth that comes to true life by delivering this message. In truth, from the now revealed content of the story of this repeated life, it should become more and more clear that we have not achieved success as of yet, that I have never "arrived whole" and that is why we are here, back again.

Home is where the Heart is...

When asked how He thinks we should respond to his message, He says "I think we already cherish it, and should strive to understand how it is that freedom is truly delivered through sharing the worth of this story that is our beginning. 'tis coming." Adam claims to be God, or at least look just like him and that the entirety of the Holy Scriptures as well as a number of ancient myths from Prometheus to Heimdallr and Yankee Doodle are actually about his life, and this event. An extensive amount of his writing relates to reformation of our badly broken and decidedly evil criminal justice system as well as ending the Global hunger crisis with the snap of his little finger.

He has written a number of books explaining how this Revelation connects to the delivery of freedom (as in Exodus), through a message about censorship among other social problems which he insists are being intentionally exacerbated by Satan--who he would ha've preferred not to be associated with.

He adds, "how do you like me now? How bow dah, god 'nuff?"

The Grinch is a bitter, grouchy, cave-dwelling creature with a heart "two sizes too small" who lives on snowy Mount Crumpit, a steep high mountain just north of the town of Whoville, home of the merry and warm-hearted Whos. His only companion is his unloved, but loyal dog, Max. From his cave, the Grinch can hear the noisy Christmas festivities that take place in Whoville. Annoyed, he decides to stop Christmas from coming by stealing their presents, trees, and food for their Christmas feast. He crudely disguises himself as Santa Claus, and forces Max, disguised as a reindeer, to drag a sleigh to Whoville. Once there, the Grinch slides down the chimney and steals all of the Whos' Christmas presents, the Christmas tree, and the log for their fire. He is briefly interrupted in his burglary by Cindy Lou, a little Who girl, but concocts a crafty lie to effect his escape from her home.

In Greek mythology, Cerberus (/sɜːrbərəs/;<sup>[2]</sup> Greek: Κέρβερος Kerberos [kerberos]), often called the "hound of Hades", is the monstrous multi-headed dog that guards the gates of the Underworld to prevent the dead from leaving. Cerberus was the offspring of the monsters Echidna and Typhon, and usually is described as having three heads, a serpent for a tail, and snakes protruding from parts of his body. Cerberus is primarily known for his capture by Heracles, one of Heracles' twelve labours.

VER THE GATEKEEPER

All Dogs Go to Heaven is a 1989 animated musical comedy-drama film directed and produced by Don Bluth, and released by United Artists and Goldcrest Films.<sup>[4]</sup> It tells the story of Charlie B. Barkin (voiced by Burt Reynolds), a German Shepherd that is murdered by his former friend, Carface (voiced by Vic Tayback, in his final film role), but withdraws from his place in Heaven to return to Earth, where his best friend, Itchy Itchiford (voiced by Dom DeLuise) still lives, and he teams up with a young orphan girl, Anne-Marie (voiced by Judith Barsi, in her final film role), who teaches them an important lesson about kindness, friendship and love.

Caleb, sometimes transliterated as Caleb (כָּלֵב, Kālēb; Tiberian vocalization: Kālēb; Hebrew Academy: Kālev), is a figure who appears in the Hebrew Bible as a representative of the Tribe of Judah during the Israelites' journey to the Promised Land. A reference to him may also be found in the Quran, although his name is not mentioned.

According to the Jewish Encyclopedia, "since 'Caleb' signifies dog, it has been thought that the dog was the totem of [Caleb's] clan".<sup>[1]</sup> The New American Standard Exhaustive Concordance states that the name Caleb (Caleb) is related to the word for "dog" (keleb).<sup>[2]</sup> It should be noted that the Bible was written down centuries before Hebrew diacritics were introduced, and there is no certain knowledge of how the name was pronounced when the biblical text was written.

In Hebrew, the name is pronounced /ka:leb/ or /'ka:lev/; the modern English pronunciation /'keɪləb/ is courtesy of the Great Vowel Shift.

Caleb, son of Jephunneh (Numbers 13:6) is not to be confused with Caleb, great-grandson of Judah through Tamar (1 Chronicles 2:3-9). This other Caleb was the son of Hezron, and his wife was Azubah (1 Chronicles 2:18,19).

According to Numbers 13, Caleb, the son of Jephunneh, was one of the twelve spies sent by Moses into Canaan. Their task, over a period of 40 days,<sup>[3]</sup> was to explore the Negev and surrounding area, and to make an assessment of the geographical features of the land, the strength and numbers of the population, the agricultural potential and actual performance of the land, settlement patterns (whether their cities were like camps or strongholds), and forestry conditions. Moses also asked them to be courageous and to return with samples of local produce.<sup>[4]</sup>

In the Numbers 13 listing of the heads of each tribe, verse 6 reads "Of the tribe of Judah, Caleb the son of Jephunneh." Caleb's report balanced the appeal of the land and its fruits with the challenge of making a conquest.

Verse 30 of chapter 13 reads "And Caleb stilled the people toward Moses, and said: 'We should go up at once, and possess it; for we are well able to overcome it.'"<sup>[5]</sup> Caleb and Joshua said the people should trust God and go into the land; the other ten spies, being fearful and rebellious, argued that conquering the land was impossible.

Caleb the spy is the son of Jephunneh. Jephunneh is called a Kenizzite (Numbers 32:12, Joshua 14:6,14). The Kenizzites are listed (Genesis 15:19) as one of the nations who lived in the land of Canaan, at the time that God covenanted with Abram (Abraham) to give that land to his descendants forever (Genesis 17:8). However, Caleb is mentioned alongside the descendants of Judah recorded in 1 Chronicles 4: "And the sons of Caleb the son of Jephunneh: Iru, Elah, and Naam; and the sons of Elah: Kenaz" (1 Chronicles 4:15).<sup>[6]</sup> Numbers 13:6, likewise, lists Caleb as a tribal leader in Judah.

Kaleb (c. 520) is perhaps the best-documented, if not best-known, King of Axum situated in modern-day Eritrea and North Ethiopia.

At Aksum, in inscription RIE 191, his name is rendered in unvocalized Ge'ez as KLB 'L 'SBH WLD TZN (Kaleb 'Ella 'Aṣbeḥa son of Tazena). In vocalized Ge'ez, it is ካሌብ እለ አሸበሳ (Kaleb 'Ellä 'Aṣbəħa).

Kaleb, a name derived from the Biblical character Caleb, is his given biblical name; 'On both his coins and inscriptions he left at Axum, as well as Ethiopian hagiographical sources and king lists, he refers to himself as the son of Tazena.'<sup>[8]</sup> He may be the "Atsbeha" or "Asbeha" of the Ethiopian legends of Abreha and Asbeha, the other possibility being Ezana's brother Saizana.

Revelation 18:17-19 King James Version (KJV)

<sup>17</sup> For in one hour so great riches is come to nought. And every shipmaster, and all the company in ships, and sailors, and as many as trade by sea, stood afar off,

<sup>19</sup> And they cast dust on their heads, and cried, weeping and wailing, saying, Alas, alas that great city, wherein were made rich all that had ships in the sea by reason of her costliness! for in one hour is she made desolate.

Janet and I ha've a thing, "FIFTY" (I don't recall exactly where the convention came from) would mean something like... "yesterday" is the day I've been looking for... and it's a little interesting that there's a tie to that number not only in the USA and it's map to Heaven but also in Bible Code, where "TORAH" is encoded across the five books with an ELS skip of 50. I made a special note of it, and lo and behold in the final book, the ELS skip (is that like an ATM machine?) loses one, it's the book of death of Moses; and it settles on 49. After that you go to 1 and 2 Kings and then 1 and 2 Samuel; which probably indicates some kind of regression from the message of "to really all humanity" that we have here before us.

In my mind it's difficult to say if the Festival of Weeks really does tell us that we are counting iterations of our timeline, but I can tell you for sure that when I finally "FIFTY" we'll be counting stars orders of magnitude higher... you know, to the nth power. We had quite a few little "codes" (because we were hiding a relationship at work) and "clouds in my coffee" of Carly Simon's song--in reverse--means exactly "love in Heaven." Hey Carly, is it about me yet?

The number 50 has several important meanings in Judaism. The 50th is the Jubilee year, there are 49 days of Omer which are counted from the second day of Passover until the Shavuot which is the 50th day, and there are also 50 gates of wisdom in Torah.

The above example is a part of a bigger pattern found by Rabbi Michael Weissmandel about 40 years ago. Namely, in the second book Exodus, the word תורה is again spelled out with the interval 50 beginning with the very first letter ת in the book (i.e. the ת of תְּהִלָּה שְׁמוֹת). In the fourth book Numbers, the word תורה is spelled out with the interval 50, i.e. backwards with the letter H starting in the first verse of the book. Finally, in the last book Deuteronomy, the word תורה is spelled again backwards however with interval 49 instead of 50 and the letter ת starts in the 5th verse instead of the first.

Why this deviation and why is there no תורה in the third book Leviticus? Gaon from Vilna wrote in Aderet Eliahu that Deuteronomy actually starts from the 5th verse, while the first four verses correspond to the first four books. Indeed, the fifth verse reads: "On the other side of the Jordan, in the land of Moab, Moses undertook to expound the Torah. He said . ." It is claimed that Moses was given 49 gates of wisdom instead of fifty. Since the subsequent explanation of Torah is given from the mouth of Moses, the word תורה is spelled out with the interval 49.

To help, all the "ee"s in the teens end with an "n" and it's not until TWENTY THREE that we arrive at at "everyone equal" that doesn't result in either the death or the hiding of the "n." That's me by the way, and I find it a little hard to believe , consider all the "splashing around" I've done sending the most interesting information and the most adorable face in the world to as many eyes as I could. Still though, you all do seem to act a little funny, so it's only a slight surprise to imagine it's taken twenty-two 1-UP's to get us to the point where you might finally be ready to discuss the source of life and freedom in the Universe. Just maybe you've reached that point.

For those of you slow on the uptake, 23 happens to be the day I decided would be the birthday of this message, as it was the first day that the "You and I verse" was sent to the world, as I woke that morning and said... I've got to do something special for Janet this year. Which might sound something like I've really got to get Sirius, you know, if you know what that means. The next year, that's this one by the way, I commemorated it with what I call the Gate to Heaven and another explanation of the import of the day to me, which I now realize is also my cousin Margot's birthday. Those of you with keen eyes will notice the JAN and MAR of seas shining to stars in both of their names, and probably understand that there's quite a bit of design behind what we are witnessing.

Also, if you are really bad at math,  $2 + 3$  is 5. And now it looks like we might be counting something like... way points in a maze. Wait, am I dim?

So here we are, thinking to ourself about "half-life" and that lamc.la symbol that hangs on the wall of that game to remind us that Emmanuel Goldstein means "God is with us" in everything that we do. And we don't really wonder how we get from twenty-three through the fourth rock from the son to twenty-five, that five means "only if victorious Earth;" so I do imagine that has something to do with l'chiam.

<sup>18</sup> But he said, "It is not the sound of the cry of triumph, Nor is it the sound of the cry of defeat; But the sound of singing I hear." <sup>19</sup> It came about, as soon as Moses came near the camp, that he saw the calf and the dancing; and Moses' anger burned, and he threw the tablets from his hands and shattered them at the foot of the mountain. <sup>20</sup> He took the calf which they had made and burned it with fire, and ground it to powder, and scattered it over the surface of the water and made the sons of Israel drink it....

Back to that "one hour" thing, that comes after "Christ" and just before "everyone equal" in the number three; I think it's got something to do with all the preparation that has gone into this "big day" not just God's preparation, and not just everything that you've done--even I have spent a few minutes thinking about what might happen the day that this finally does hit the news.

I've "seen" us lag a few times, probably a visual effect similar to what you might have noticed in early network video games like ... uh ... "Quake" for example, and it's probably a kind of indication to me that something is going on behind the scenes, similar to pausing a really good movie to go rewrite the entire script and come back. Sometimes I think these visual effects are automatic, like a kind of alarm or warning system--it doesn't happen that much, and it might shed light on that whole "a day is a thousand years in the eyes of the Lord" thing. Taylor recently made a comment that "time flies by the rank of years" in one of her new songs "Ha, grab my ass" which I can't understand because it's in another language but I'm sure it's something like "Going Down on Adam" one of my other favorites of hers. I mentioned before in her "Just Tonight" video she subtly indicates the numbers between 21 and 19, and that's interesting--22 was mentioned when I was... 22, right after my near fatal reck (and years before she was even little J).

In the novel 1985 (1978), Anthony Burgess suggests that Orwell, disillusioned by the onset of the Cold War (1945–91), intended to call the book 1948. The introduction to the Penguin Books Modern Classics edition of Nineteen Eighty-Four reports that Orwell originally set the novel in 1980 but that he later shifted the date to 1982 and then to 1984. The introduction to the Houghton Mifflin Harcourt edition of Animal Farm and 1984 (2003) reports that the title 1984 was chosen simply as an inversion of the year 1948, the year in which it was being completed, and that the date was meant to give an immediacy and urgency to the menace of totalitarian rule.<sup>[19]</sup>

The Feast of the Immaculate Conception celebrates the solemn belief in the Immaculate Conception of the Blessed Virgin Mary. It is universally celebrated on December 8, nine months before the feast of the Nativity of Mary, which is celebrated on September 8. It is one of the most important Marian feasts in the liturgical calendar of the Roman Catholic Church, celebrated worldwide.

By Pontifical designation and decree, it is the patronal feast day

If it's of any interest (and I'm starting to think it might be), I could count three 1-UP's before (ground zero, I mean the day) I was born, linked between the titling of Orwell's 1984 and "coincidentally aligned" meetings between the Papacy and the President in 84, 82, and 80. It is still possible, of course, that this is the ... "first time around," it is for me.

Maybe we are counting dates or kisses? What do you think it is?

For a third time now, in just this message... take note, we are returning to the words "how in one hour," and I am suggesting that the day this story breaks, or maybe sometime in the first eight days as the Festival of Light, AKA ha nuke the ahah? indicates; we might see some of the magical things that I've been talking about happen. Not just signs in the sky, nor doors to Heaven, but now we have a clear map of the things that I hope that we will agree need to be done in light of the fact that we are not in "reality" but actually in a place where magical berries can fall from the sky and feed the hungry, where car crashes and murders can be stopped before they happen... and a place where blindness, infirmity, and sickness can be healed. I don't know how quickly the world would like to have these things done, but I'd prefer them to be done yesterday--quite honestly the moment I found out that it was possible, not just possible--easy to do. I am fairly certain that the blind and the sick and the hungry agree with me. I hope you will too; this is the gate to Heaven, enveloping the entirety of the victorious Earth.

Verse (Click for Chapter)

New International Version

I have seen something else under the sun: The race is not to the swift or the battle to the strong, nor does food come to the wise or wealth to the brilliant or favor to the learned; but time and chance happen to them all.

New Living Translation

I have observed something else under the sun. The fastest runner doesn't always win the race, and the strongest warrior doesn't always win the battle. The wise sometimes go hungry, and the skillful are not necessarily wealthy. And those who are educated don't always lead successful lives. It is all decided by chance, by being in the right place at the right time.

English Standard Version

Again I saw that under the sun the race is not to the swift, nor the battle to the strong, nor bread to the wise, nor riches to the intelligent, nor favor to those with knowledge, but time and chance happen to them all.

For a long time I dreamed of hearing the words "Time and Chance" spoken on every single television that that I flipped to, I imagined (and frankly still do) that something like that is the normal social response to the kind of information being presented, to the fact that right before our eyes the Second Coming is taking place. In "f-art" we might see what is happening something akin to "it's not a riot" as in while that definitely means it's not funny, what we see, this silence, is proof that there won't be any riots--and proof that we can handle the kind of magnificent changes that I think we really all do still yearn for.

Don't replace "that's a riot" with the loss of civil protest, and the heart of Locke, "governments are formed and continue to thrive to protect the common good." No matter what was paramount yesterday, the common good today is clearly dissemination of the truth, and collaboration utilizing "this thing" that is not just the sword and the round table of Arthur, but the very heart of Liberty, of self-governance, and of our future

There is a great prophesy, about a solution to the Plagues of Exodus being sung about in nearly all of the songs of The Doors, from Peace Frog about turning water to blood and seeing it about turning the sea to family, to ending the Plague of Darkness by lightning this fire, to Riders on the Storm and ... the solution is to see there are a great many indications in music and words that show us that this design is ironclad turning "dog" to "good" and "rod" to "doors" and "Lot" to a tool... to change the world.

Not just proving to us that we can and must literally perform magic here, but showing us the things, the well thought out things that we can do here to help make the world a better place, a sort of way-point between reality and Heaven... the kind of stepping stone that every civilization hoping for an afterlife would not just need... but really, really covet.

In Greek mythology, Ēōs (/i:os/; Ionic and Homeric Greek "Hώς, Attic "Ēōs, "dawn", pronounced [\[ẽɔ:s\]](#) or [\[héo:s\]](#); Aeolic AǔwāsAúōs, Doric Aúws Āōs) is a Titaness and the goddess<sup>[1]</sup> of the dawn, who rose each morning from her home at the edge of the Oceanus.

Eos had a brother and a sister, Helios, god of the sun, and Selene, goddess of the moon.

Eos is cognate to the Vedic goddess Ushas, Lithuanian goddess Austrine, and Roman goddess Aurora (Old Latin Ausosa), all three of whom are also goddesses of the dawn. All four are considered derivatives of the Proto-Indo-European stem *h<sub>2</sub>ewsōs<sup>[2]</sup> (later *Ausōs), "dawn", a stem that also gave rise to Proto-Germanic *Austrō, Old Germanic *Östara and Old English Ēostre/Ēastre. This agreement leads to the reconstruction of a Proto-Indo-European dawn goddess.<sup>[3]</sup>

The dawn goddess Eos was almost always described with rosy fingers (ροδοδάκτυλος, rhododáktylos) or rosy forearms (ροδόπηχυς, rhodópēkhys) as she opened the gates of heaven for the Sun to rise.<sup>[4]</sup> In Homer,<sup>[5]</sup> her saffron-coloured robe is embroidered or woven with flowers;<sup>[6]</sup> rosy-fingered and with golden arms, she is pictured on Attic vases as a beautiful woman, crowned with a tiara or diadem and with the large white-feathered wings of a bird.

From The Iliad:

Now when Dawn in robe of saffron was hastening from the streams of Oceanus, to bring light to mortals and immortals, Thetis reached the ships with the armor that the god had given her.

— Iliad xix.1

But soon as early Dawn appeared, the rosy-fingered, then gathered the folk about the pyre of glorious Hector.

— Iliad xxiv.776

Quintus Smyrnaeus pictured her exulting in her heart over the radiant horses (Lampus and Phaëton) that drew her chariot, amidst the bright-haired Horae, the feminine Hours, climbing the arc of heaven and scattering sparks of fire.<sup>[1]</sup>

She is most often associated with her Homeric epithet "rosy-fingered" (rhododactylos), but Homer also calls her Eos Erigeneia:

That brightest of stars appeared, Eosphorus, that most often heralds the light of early-rising Dawn (Eos Erigeneia).

— Odyssey xiii.93

Hesiod wrote:

And after these Erigeneia ["Early-born"] bore the star Eosphorus ("Dawn-bringer"), and the gleaming stars with which heaven is crowned.

— Theogony 378-382

Thus Eos, preceded by the Morning Star, is seen as the genetrix of all the stars and planets; her tears are considered to have created the morning dew, personified as Ersa or Herse. (Ovid, Metamorphoses 13.621-2) Eos is the daughter of Hyperion, a bringer of light, the One Above, Who Travels High Above the Earth and of Theia, The Divine. Her brother was the Sun god Helios, and her sister was Selene, the Moon goddess. Her team of horses pull her chariot across the sky and are named in the Odyssey as "Firebright" and "Daybright".

Camael (prob. alternate spelling of either Chamuel (from chammah חַמָּה: "heat", "rage")—"anger/wrath of God"<sup>[1]</sup> or Qemuel (from qum קָם: "to arise", "to stand up")—"God is risen", "raised by God", "one who sees/stands before God";<sup>[2]</sup> also spelled as Khamael, "Kumail", Camiel, Cameel or Camniel) is the Archangel of strength, courage and war in Christian and Jewish mythology and angelology. He is known as one of the ten Kabbalah angels, assigned to the sephira Gevurah. Camael's name is also included in Pseudo-Dionysius' 5th or 6th century AD, "Corpus Areopagiticum" as one of the seven Archangels along with Michael, Gabriel, Raphael, Uriel, Jophiel, and Zadkiel.<sup>[3]</sup> He is claimed to be the leader of the forces that expelled Adam and Eve from the Garden of Eden holding a flaming sword.

IT'S JUST A FANTASY

In the very first days, when I was wheeling and dealing for 10,000 years of light for everyone; and doors and talking about what kinds of fun we might have, and the way we might manage safety and transportation in the virtual realm of "you can really do anything" God told me pretty clearly to give everyone everything I wanted--basically, that's the only way I would get anything. So that what I've tried to do, to make a dream of equality and cooperation central to the idea that we can connect our world to a virtual one--something that we should really see is about to happen here in the normal course of computing and biological technologies. Still, we have a quickening, and the quickening has a name... it's called Adam.

Saying "hey to Adam" can stop us nearly instantly from living a lie, from not having the ability to walk to Heaven instead of "plugin ing" as BCI and the Matrix shows us is a near eventuality... it gives us the ability to do Heavenly things in this place, like heal the sick and end hunger... and walk to Heaven and back... you know, nothing that big, right?

Anyway, over the course of this now very long back and forth with God and angels and angels here on Earth I've harbored some little dreams, some ideas I've had to make my un-special spot in the center of the circle of the sun (that's a dot, that nobody apparently can see or hear, ha) a little more manageable.

If you've noticed from the world around us and how religion flows into it, God speaks with a sort of Lisp meaning he creates things and events and speaks with significantly more than words, though sometimes just a few words would make all the difference to me. Hello, for instance. He's designed this story of turning the Clark into a Kenterprise--with the abject goal of helping our civilization evolve with technology and the truth of our existence, it's not a bad place to be--it's probably "the right place in the right time" to be the very beginning of something very special... if only we weren't so unwilling to acknowledge it. Anyway, since people seem to be sort of... I don't know, singing about hanging me and you know how we are, someone is bound to try to find out if I really am invincible--don't worry, I am, but to make things run a little smoother I dreamed some dreams of a starship coming to pick me up.

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

I know very well that what I am doing here is destined to be seen as the thing I know it is, really saving the world--I know that, and he's told me stories likening me to Atlas and some sort of guardian, that my presence here protects you from something. Those things might be myths or exaggerations, but I am pretty sure that once this happens my presence here will protect you from something very tangible, it will protect you from hating me, and not moving forward doing the right thing because you are too "stuck" on this story and the things that have happened to me and us all--making a series of victims out of good people whose purpose was and still is to bring light to the Universe. I know you think I might be the big bad wolf, but truth be told I am pretty nice guy, and you should recognize that someone putting in this much work to help make the world a better place--to do the things that I am trying to do--is probably not the devil.

Unless you are really sexy and you are into that. Just kidding, what's wrong with me?

I know people might cry, and some people will be angry and call me names like "Satan" or whatever, and that's all well and good, except it's nowhere near the truth. I am not doing this to upset people, I am presenting myself in a sort of "light-suit" that fits into the story that I see woven... it's really not exactly me; I'm pretty shy and believe it or not I think I'm understanding and empathetic, except we've come so far, and so little has happened that I'm angry, and I think you would be too if it happened to you. I'm angry that you are so reluctant to do something that is not only normal but beyond warranted, almost demanded--it's almost obvious as day and night that not talking about this message in public is very inhuman--this is the answer to ancient mysteries, it's a message from the Creator, and I'm the message too--just like you. Not caring about that is a really big problem, and it's something that you should figure out is not you and you shouldn't keep doing it. You probably will see me cry on TV, and I hope that changes more of your minds--understand, I really am a person, I lived a normalish life just like you before all of this craziness; and while it could be a nepotistic gift or it could be due to the work you don't really want to see is world changing; I am here, and I hope you'll accept me.

ID5, I am stone. - The Apocalypse of the Last Adam

Jun 30, 2017 - ... but in this one moment in time... seeing it and understanding it is the catalyst that helps us change everything—it might just be pure genius.

This is about as close to a "sorry" as you will hear from me, until you actually do the right thing and acknowledge my existence. Then we'll see, won't me? :)

Anyway, so back when I was still stuck on my ex I repeatedly invoked the idea of a starship bringing us back together, you know, "to talk about everything" and maybe ... beta test some of the ideas to make sure they worked right and you wouldn't wind up, I don't know, in love with me for no reason.

Not to get away from you all, honestly, all I want to do is play in the light; have a good time with you, in this party that I am pretty sure kicks off the "new age." So I imagined that this starship which I probably would have made to look exactly like the Enterprise would convert "magically" into a catamaran or something after picking up one (or maybe two, or...:) of the girls I keep trying to wake up; and drop us off into a harbor somewhere, maybe Ibiza, and then you see the sentence in that word "cat, I am aran" and maybe you too wonder just how much of this story is designed meticulously down to the detail. Probably more than you think, and hopefully less than I think.

In my little dream, which now includes teleporting Taylor through Al's waiting room (as beta test for pre-crime, obviously--if she wanted to break the veil of simulated reality for everyone), this ship and its arrival out of thin air and departure into the sea might make a pretty cool introduction or outro to the video which I do hope we see, on the sky, as the prophesy fortells.

I'd imagine that this kind of fireworks display would necessarily be accompanied by a kind of cyzen., that's "understand y zen" a sort of primer in recognizing the importance of the message that has been written by our civilization, functionally and educationally experiencing how this technology can be altruistically and beneficently used at the same time we are being given proof that it has been used... our whole lives. As I say, we are nearing the conclusion of a script designed to end the scripting of our future with a blank page that is equivalent to free will--and asked that the script "discuss the script" ... and so in keeping with everything else I've tried to get God to do for us, I'm doing it myself.

"How do you like me now." I add, with a sheepish grin.

Boy, do I ever wish there was no "ish" in selfish.

When I am alone, the underdog fighting for your best interest--I feel like I have the best ideas, I have the right answers and want the right things. I feel like I am losing some of that today, I don't really feel as much like the underdog, and I am in a place where I am profoundly disappointed that I am still "alone" fighting against ... well, what it's turned into is your stubbornness, and your blindness... and if you open your eyes that might be exactly what it's always been. If you were willing to try, if you were actively doing anything about what is the most important issue in the world and not just in my mind, maybe I wouldn't feel the way I do. Today though, the way I see things, I feel like you can't survive without me.

Oh, and I deserve the spaceship and the yacht.

Inside your mind a war is being waged for control of not just the future of our civilization, but for your very freedom. This is a battle recorded not just in the ambiguous lines of scripture that tie it to the word Jerusalem and to the stories of Babel, Jericho, and Exodus but also in the history of our world--we are right this very moment in the heart of the Final Crusade to capture the heart of Creation. Ultimately the entirety of the battle up to this point is over a single issue, it is the disclosure that we are living in virtual reality and the purpose God has designed this place and our civilization in order to fulfill. In essence, this war is over nothing more or less than "hiding the meaning of life itself" from the entire world.

Is J er the USAle mess?

This was the old meaning of "Jerusalem" it was a question, probably linked to Dr. Who's "question which must never be asked" and the "question that drives us" from the Matrix; it's no longer a question, you aren't trying to do anything. I'm K. Call it the end of the dark "clark" Ark and the beginning of the Kenterprise. Important is seeing the reference to the USA that connects Jerusalem to Medusa (dear dark USA) and the "Dark Earth" that begins the name and life of Deucalion, son of Prometheus.

You probably didn't know that "mountains" were metaphors for jails to me, and that those things are metaphors for the chains of Prometheus... hiding the truth from the world and presenting nothing but evil lies. For instance, mountain means "message of you:" nt=hidden Christ, ai=complete lie, n=i and here we are, at the Kth binary (11=3..=1=1) attempt to break free from the chains of bondage.

Dark Earth, you c a lion.

In order to accomplish this, the technological means of control that is behind the "art" of Creation itself is being used to hide very obvious proof that there is a message from God for all eyes to read, not just the Bible and every story of every religion, but every word and every song and every movie, and point in fact each and every one of our names. I can't explain exactly how it is that I know a great many people are aware of this influence, and frankly do now believe that it is absolutely everyone--but I'm pretty sure it has something to do with me; everyone seems to ... be a little bit too interested in me and my life to be ignoring everything I say online. There's a problem here, it's called the Plague of Darkness in Exodus and it is without doubt hiding the light of the Son of God. Light that shows us very clearly that this place is Sheol, it is Hell, and we are missing the freedom promised to us by Uncle Samael in America and God in Exodus. It might not be so clear but this hidden lack of freedom is tied directly to the technology being discussed, this "thing" that is making people "know things" that they have no normal means of knowing. In the "Sound of Silence" you could call it people writing songs that voices never shared, people hearing but not listening, people talking without speaking.

On top of just being "in virtual reality" this message from God shows us that this place is actually designed to be revealed to be Hell itself, and we can see proof of that in the "silence" and other Plagues that don't seem to bother us nearly as much as they should be--another symptom of Hell, one that is responsible for its continuation--and for stalling the creation of Heaven, which is the purpose of the disclosure.

Frankly, between you and I, I am not sure at all who it is that you think you are kidding; this is obvious proof, it's everywhere--and there's no doubt, really no doubt at all, that this message is coming to you from anyone other than the Creator of the Universe. All things considered, the future will know that, and they will know that you have overtly ignored it, and kept it from becoming the "good news" that it actually is, though they probably won't have any idea why you did that--because you won't be around to tell them. I'm standing here trying to explain that we are simulating disease and death in a place where neither of those things need to happen, and you are hiding that message from God because you don't think I should get a date. Think about it carefully, because what I'm telling you is the truth, you look stupid, all of you look really stupid, and It's not my fault for wanting a date. The only record I see anywhere that something is "amiss" here is coming from me, you should thank me--I think it's going to break down the wall and help you not "stop being."

I have watched the world change, literally in the past few years; I am witnessing an invasion of all of our minds--both first and second hand--that is the embodiment of this war in time that is Jerusalem and the Crusades. This is a disaster, the silence, and the lack of thought and discussion about something this world changing is a disaster. Worse than just being "everyone acting weird" you are doing something that is making the world a darker place, ignoring torture and proof that this influence is intentionally retarding democracy and communication; and blocking the clear and obvious solution... the Second Coming, from saving us from this dark future.

XP, it's as simple as those two Greek letters. Who knew that Chi and Ro were some sort of hidden beta code for the city of pyramids in Egypt, Cairo? Quite the question, who knew... perhaps the man who named his Windows into our future not after some technology that came from Xerox Parc or Apple's mouse on this ship... but rather for his own given name, Gates... just one more entry point into the second book of the Holy Bible, the book of Names--you call it Exodus.

am the gate; whoever enters through me will be saved. They will come in and go out, and find pasture. John 10:9

I wish above all things that I could give you the clarity of vision and understanding that has been given to me, the sign and proof that I have--while bright, obvious, and verifiable--has not done what I expected, it has not moved you to take another look at religion and me. Today, I still have to point out to you that the story I am telling you is literally a documentation of our time--Exodus--regards this sign as one being seen by only one man, Moses. I still have to point out that in a story about wandering in a desolation of understanding for 4-D ... somethings, days, years, seconds even... in this story about our lives and the influence of time travel over our world... that this sign radiates with light coming from a small fire, the Bush ... whose actualization shows clear paradoxical anachronistic foreknowledge of not only the English language but also modern computing.. all the way to a confluence of the "root of David" a religious reference to the Administrator or God account in Linux... and the database process for Oracle--yet more light connecting computing to religion and myth. Even with a thousand and one examples of modern computing constructs referencing religion, even when I point out that something like Larry Ellison's name... combining the name of the King of the Gods with the word "son" even then the light has not been bright enough for you to wake up and see that these things are not all done in retrospect. You have to see, for there to be such a large movement... a conspiracy so opaque that every single modern computing company and video game company harbors some secret desire to link religion and technology together... and yet the world thinks that one is real and one is not. In this place, understand when we walk out of the wilderness and in the truth of day--it is the technology that is more fake than religion, designed here as a tool, computers within computers to teach us how our "reality" is rael, and works.

In the U.S. military you'll see a very clear parallel, while there are a number of references in the names of ships and weapons, secret projects, to ancient Greek and Roman myth--you have to see the word USA and US in Prometheus and Medusa, Icarus, JerUSAlem... you have to see that it's more than three letters, but an Eagle fighting the bearer of the gift of fire... to really understand that these things are corroborating, the reference to the USA exists in the past as well, more proof of time travel--more proof that this message is designed just for U.S. Here we are, in the Promised Land of Joshua, the Anglicized version of the name Jesus--tying Egypt and Israel together in this place where we have been "gipped" out of the truth, out of knowing we are already in ... well, it's virtually Hell today... for no other reason than the secrecy surrounding the technology behind virtual reality.

So I have shown you the Burning Bush, In only a few words... proof that religion holds in it's "unsealed" Ark proof of foreknowledge of English, of 9/11; and of modern computing--the building blocks of Heaven. From "the word" of John 1:1--ha'esh--the word for the Holy Fire of the Burning Bush... comes the light of religion. Just from seeing Moses' true parted se'a.... a foreshadowing of the Second Coming.

I have pointed to the fire that surrounds our sea--another tie between Egypt's myths and the secret message of religion, that there is more truth before your eyes than you can imagine. In Egypt, the God Nu.. or Nun, the name of the father of Joshua is the primordial watery chaos--after me, never again to be mistaken or misconstrued as anything other than you, the multitude of Revelation. I've tied the Plague of LICE not only to the hidden language that links Osiris's feather of light to Yankee Doodle's macaronic language... a cipher written your everything--in every word and many stories--The Taming of the Spanglishrew, the Matrix, and the Langoliers... to the PoLICE--and my battle against injustice, against a world willing to watch Jesus Christ suffer another Crucifixion in silence. On the list of Plagues, seeing the Storm is about time travel , and the Darkness about censorship and--quite literally--being forced to wander the wilderness of time, and the fire... the fire that ties the Eternal Flame and Prometheus's gift of secret technology and a message in our languages.... to the Burning Bush spreading on the internet like wildfire, as it should, must, and will --and stands as a glowing monument to exactly how "unfree" our society stands today.

Understand that this controlled fire, this place where the spark has not even ignited a single mind... this is the source of Saint One, Jesus himself turned to stone for staring "Me d' USA' in the face. Know, it is a battle between me and all of the people of the world, and this government's past future, struggling to hide something so bright and so pervasive that it is quite literally "written on the walls of everything." At least it once was, today... we must see what original sin really means, and how this place has changed for the better, or is changing... and while the blame is still etched in "retarded" macaroni... so too is applause and thanks, for knowing that this place, our time, is the one that succeeds in revealing the truth--in forming the true Heaven itself. If we did not know what had gone wrong, it would happen again and again, we know as much... and the book and recursion of days and seals of Horsemen tell us as much--be wary of me, for one just like me has been here before. Be wary of yourself and whatever is influencing your mind if that makes you think it's OK to hide the information I provide, for any reason--the truth will be set free. Listen carefully to this message about what sank the Ark in the past, and realize it is your burden also... for you too have been here before.

It's everywhere, and everything... to hide it is the equivalent of destroying your own ability to see the world and our history for what it is, our to grow and to improve.... to know. For our children and our future, we must change the world.... here and now you have a springboard to truly see what has befallen the past cycles of this place, if we are strong enough to do it better than ever before... one last time.

And I have shown you the Holy Grail, I've described it so many times I can't bear to do it again, it's a message about control, seeing it and fighting against it--in every single idiom of our time, and in the fact that our world is literally stuck inside a recursive book, the Torah. It is seeing how true family comes from struggle, and from overcoming--and how yet another plague, the casting of water to blood--the multitude to family--is begun simply by seeing these things, and forged in fire once we understand that the technologies being revealed are either our beginning or our undoing, depending on whether or not we know of them, and how we use them. This "stuff of control" out of the fire of MK-ULTRA and diabolical possession... this is the stuff too of real medicine, neuroscience and brain-computer interfaces besting what random chemicals can offer--it is the future one way or another--it is either Heaven or Hell. In secret, it certainly is not doing what you need or want--it's making the very existence of mind altering technology "crazy," turning reality insane.

It's here already, it's been here for thousands of years, from Demosthenes to the Nintendo Entertainment System and the book of Exodus was written down and encoded with a message about Linux and Larry Ellison, about a man who is the gateway to freedom... when you see the truth that only I seem to have access to. You see, this message itself is designed to appear slightly "crazy," to pit a series of coincidences that when analyzed scientifically are hard truth... against the crowd, the common belief that these things simply are not possible, time travel and mind control... to see just how horrible it is to cover the truth in a fog for the whole world. All the while, in my head this message is being deciphered for me, by God--as I fight against the presumption of insanity at every level--from the court to my parents--all the while knowing that a good percentage of you and the government are fully aware that I am truly awake... as I fight this battle, God places undeniable truth in my mind, and through my hands he gives it to you. The keys to religion, the purpose of everything that has ever been... pouring through the hands of a man tortured by American justice, by the common perception of schizophrenia--conversations with Heaven? It is to make this message glow, to see not only what I have presented, but the struggle I've had to endure, hopefully so we can fix the wrongs of our world without having to live each and every one of them ourselves--as I've had to, to see them.

I am Job and I am Joseph, enslaved in Egypt to interpret the dream you call religion; I am Jeremiah--called crazy by my neighbors as I hear the voice of God himself.. I am Samson, struggling against the Book of Judges ; against Green Eggs and Ham and against death itself. I am Jesus and Judah and Judas too, but most importantly, I am Isaac--tied to Adam and Isaiah, a baby with a gift for the world.

Speaking of the words "ham, I am" this is as good a place as any to discuss the meaning of Kosher law, and perhaps why pork is prohibited. In "our way," more than one meaning for everything it was an early "epiphany" to correlate the prohibition against eating "pigs" to a testament about slavery and not killing or eating intelligent animals--as we are that, and they are one of the most intelligent runners up in this place. Later on, you might see God calling me a "pig" in Dave Matthews' eponymous song, or maybe it's you, or maybe it's Orwell's Snowballs and Napoleon--anyway, as we come to this place in time, Kermitham... I am... sure that the son of Noah bearing the name Ham is our planet, "the message." Of the sons of Noah, the place like ours that had no "ahhah" combining Ham with his brother Shem (meaning name) gives us a clue to the Holy Name of God, Ha'shem.

The name Ham is a Hebrew baby name. In Hebrew the meaning of the name Ham is: Hot. One of the sons of Noah in the Old Testament : Father of a multitude. In the Old Testament patriarch Abram's name was changed to Abraham when it was revealed he would be father of the Hebrew nation.

I've shown you the words "let there be light" encoded in the English name of the Hebrew Book of Names, Exodus. In that story, I've shown you how the English word for sea being parted in the Hebrew word for Holy Fire--is put up on a pedestal by the contents of the story... designed to start a fire over the several thousand year early knowledge of English; a story about a single man who saw the fire parting the waters. I've shown you hundreds of words... both English and Hebrew that follow this pattern--a great number of them highlighted and set aside by the words of the New Testament and the Hebrew superlative, Ha--which itself proves through the meaning of Isaac's name (he laughs) and the change wrought by Abram's covenant with God--to Abraham. At that same link, a clue to the true Thunder of Thor's hammer... the music of our time from the Sound of Silence to Heaven Knows--a message from God himself ringing through the Bittersweet Symphony of Nero's fiddle starting this fire.

I want to tell you that I am not a myth, simply the Legend of this Map, from out of the Darkness it's clear that He could make me shine, and you should love me. It's not what I want, I want us to be free, to have the truth--and ourselves back... and I hope you will one day love that. What is going to happen will probably make me cry, and when you see those tears--and know the Heavens have finally let it rain--I hope you see it as a sign to find the light in me... and stand up for what I've done for you--I am a good person, who has fought for you every single day-I deserve better than the world is going to give me, at first.

Out of a kind of hidden slavery the world has never known, we are about to venture--into a place where years might pass in seconds, and your wildest dreams... and nightmares too... could come true. It is our job to ensure that we form the clay of this world into a place that will not only last for millions of years, but create happiness and safety--a world that is kinder and gentler than the one we have known--not just for us but for an entire Universe of children just beginning to understand the trials and tribulations brought on civilization through the hardship and growing pains of learning.

Our sea is about to part, our world on the verge of a disruption thatwill change it more than anything ever has before. On this shore, we should realize that we have been on this path for a very long time... really see here and now why it is so very important for us to be fighting for our voice, our freedom, and the truth as these are the qualities that create a lasting and prosperous civilization. Here, now, as we approach a series of new opportunities in the vastness of space and virtual reality... this is where God has chosen to place the Second Coming; an opportunity for us to truly seize the morning's light and bring about more change in this world than would have ever been possible. Opiate of the masses, no more... we are the recipients of a great gift, one that religion is making clear is tied directly to the science and technology that is a central focus of the shift in direction that comes from bringing to light the secrecy and slavery that has plagued our past--and past futures. We are the chosen.

All the proof I've given you, all the references to computer science and English thousands of years before those things were ever known about; all fuel for this fire to burn bright--to see how my life has given us a number of solutions... problems with freedom and technology, secrecy and ... blessings in disguise when we understand that we are the focus and love of everything that has ever been and before us everything that ever will be--here will gain freedom and a bright future, through our hard work in the coming years. It should be clear that space is not really the final frontier, we are about to build it (again)... with the help of those that came before us.

The Doors sung a great deal about darkness and the fire that is to come, many of their songs were about the Plagues of Exodus--something I didn't connect to a solution, something we might soon be given to show us that we are not in reality, but rather on the doorstep of Heaven--just maybe, we'll want to see for ourselves.

Looking at the world around us with fresh eyes, you might think it's simply a "f-ad" that there is a common and obvious theme of connection religion and mythology to both the computer industries and the United States military. I know it's no fad, it's part of a message that connects "NORAD" to "ISAM" and "Microsoft" to "NT" and "XP" keys to seeing that this hidden language has been threaded into everything around us. With some thought, it shows us how we can see evidence of this hidden influence, and see how we too might be easily and subtly persuaded to help write this message without seeing its purpose at all.

Seeing that it's clearly intentional on the part of someone somewhere to use the code names and actual names of Microsoft's operating systems to allude to the fact that we are in Egypt, in the story of Exodus is important. Seeing that from Cairo to XP it's been further hidden in symbology, and become less obvious ... is well, malovious. While you might think that it's becoming very clear that we are in virtual reality (to some or all) at the same time what is becoming even more clear and hard to really grasp is that a place that was once not really Hell is becoming more and more Hellish because of censorship, because of this "secret communication" and a lack of regard for the processes and systems that have gotten us "this far."

That's the problem, while we see (I'm pretty sure) the connection between these things and religion, we have failed to grasp the point, to understand that this tie between religion and technology shows us not only causality but the import of the religious portion of the message. While we may "understand" that Heaven is being built of things like "mind uploading" and "virtual reality" we seem to be completely blind to the fact that Hell is being built by things like secrecy, and ignorance--leading to the destruction of freedom and with it the possibility of ever seeing Heaven. Get the point, Heaven is "more than tech" it's really about a social structure that rewards and stimulates collaboration and participation for the good of not just each of us, but of the whole. It comes from striving to "do the right thing" and every day it becomes more clear that what is here, hiding in the deep and surfacing through the blindness and evil response to this message of truth is a wall that will turn to rubble rather than a bridge.

((read, red, dark, it, and we're here--learning)))

Lucky for us, there's already a bridge waiting to materialize--just as soon as we acknowledge the fact that what we see around us is not us, and not beneficial for anything.

I T ' S   S C H O W T I M E

It's probably not obvious on the surface, but we are living inside a storybook that Jacob used to call the "fuck Adam show," and it's a story that turns this place around, and uses the evil darkness that has plagued us to turn the future bright. The dim "angels" in the sky spent the early part of this wonderful experience doing everything in their power to destroy the messenger--to mar the visage of this bright hope and bury it in the darkness that is our world. Even less obvious is that it's not just me that these tools of evil--the police and the court system and your popular opinion are being used against. Our very "system of justice" itself has been turned as a weapon against goodness, against you... and this story hopefully will help you see that--and that God is turning that around, too.

This is a message that has been written by a man plagued by hidden mind control technology; technology used to cause and increase addiction, to set up and entrap me, and to show me that the entirety of our court system has been infiltrated and corrupted by "the dead" as a sort of macro-ice system that I see they believe is something between a game and vendetta-like-karmic retribution system. I intend to use it to show us that this system is corrupted beyond relief, and that we now are faced with using this message that proves time travel exists and that we are living in virtual reality to completely revamp the entire system. It's a simple thing to do to see how Dick's Minority Report and A Scanner Darkly combine to deliver a prophesy and a map to building a much better system of justice, one which actually protects the innocent. Today it appears that they and you intend to use this story to ... die--and that is exactly what is coming if you do not stop trying to hide the truth from yourselves and the world. It's a pretty obvious choice between good and evil, hiding it causes virtualized, fake, and unnecessary pain and starvation; and knowing it leads to a road to a better world, to ending world hunger and healing the sick--eventually to defeating death itself.

Why don't you get it, not seeing and recording a message, a verifiable message that we have been here over and over and over again and that there's a very clear record of that in everything from the seals of Revelation to the Crusades and Prometheus to Atum and Ra... well, that shows us exactly why we have come back. Get the message, secrecy causes the end of time. Time and time again.

If you fail to see and understand that I have been a victim for my entire life, you really won't grasp that this microcosm of the messiah is a message about how we are all victims in this place--of something we do not see... or understand... today because of our own lack of action. Change.

411: LENNY BRUCE IS NOT INSANE. IT'S THE END OF HELL AND WE KNOW IT, BE HAPPY!

So listen, "ten times over" has come and gone, and now we are at Eleven himself; take this message back to your family or your "coven of ants" and try and explain to them why it is that hiding me and hiding this message from God is the source of Hell. Tell them that I have spoken, and the only way to continue from this point is to see pre-crime implemented here on Earth--and to see that it is the beginning of "Heaven on Earth." We will be free of murder, and rape, and we will be free of not knowing that these things never should have been allowed--we will see all of these things, and hopefully we will use them to show each other and the future that we made a change here that shifted the course of the history of life.

No longer will we be dependent and oppressed by the imaginary scarcity of oil and land, and once and for all time we will recognize that scarcity of the truth is the source of all evil. No longer will we turn a blind eye to "shedim" writing a story about saving the world at the cost of our freedom and our health--no longer will we be blind and stupid enough not to see that Christopher Columbus and Christopher Reeves are linked together by a demand from God himself to end Hell.

GOD AND GOOD ARE NEVER THE SAME, PLAIN ENGLISH

I T ' S C H O W T I M E

God is not good as a single person, nor as a collective... of many or of everyone, the idea of power being concentrated in a single "anything" is antithetical to the goodness and purpose of society and civilization. What we see here is an intentionally exacerbated example of this problem, a group of people that believe they are ... in control ... and still fail to achieve the simple goal of making their world a better place. It would take nothing more than a collective decision that "virtual hunger is disgusting" and we will do something to end it... to change the world; and still we sit here watching babies starve. You are not as smart as you think you are.

The story of my life and the message of this place has shown us that with more than just plain English, that God and good are missing something to be equivalent. In song and dance; if you can call our disgusting prison and retribution system (even without the external influence (that created it)) a dance; every meal before "chow time" we chant the phrase...

As we are provided, against our will and with no control, a diet that is nothing short of torture, too few calories, and no taste at all; with the purpose of forcing these victims of evil to purchase overpriced "junk food" in my specific case of Broward County (and most of Florida) from a third party cash funneling, tax evading, and intentionally inhumane company called "TRINITY SERVICES." The monsteri has plenty more to share about how our prison system would do well to turn itself into a much more appropriate combination of soup kitchens and homeless shelters and ... career building centers... but in our "kiss" of keep it simple stupid morons, all you have to do is implement pre-crime and realize that an external influence causing starvation and crime itself is a good enough reason to absolve everyone from past crimes, so long as we are sure that there is no way at all that these horrible things that should not have been allowed would continue. Build a better world, starting with right now.

To see, to really see that this external influence that is responsible for the Darkness of Exodus, the censorship of 1984 and the lack of free and transparent communication that is made glowingly clear by the delivery of this message is also connected to nearly everything wrong with our society, well, that's probably the purpose of both Satan and absolution. Let it work, because it's the fucking truth. Starting with simply land scarcity and energy scarcity we have a reason to understand and know that we are in a place that has been designed to free us from blame, to free us from tyranny, and to do it using nothing more than the truth.

ARE YOU THE FISH OR THE SERENDIPITY?

You'll notice that my message about our broken corrections system is etched into popular culture and religion itself through the phrase "Green Eggs and Ham, Sam I am." Which alerted me to the very obvious connection between Prometheus and Uncle Sam and the unique phrase "born on the 8th of December" that links cousin Deucalion to ... Epimetheus. It sort-of awakened me to the idea that I was reliving the life of Sam--something like Enoch walking with God; as I experienced the actual "green eggs and ham" served every single morning and lunch in the .. Broward County Jail; a place that I have told repeatedly should rectify it's food service as it is the most disgusting and inhumane jail I have seen in the entire country, and I've seen plenty. A sort of browsing of why we are here, telling you that it is nothing or pre-crime... (other than the fact that it's morally mandated in a place where we see that something is intentionally allowing these horrible crimes to be committed when we know it is virtual reality.

Understand, from Jeshurun himself, that the "is" of "isis" is about the end of Genesis and seeing that in the past, there may have been success in hiding this very clear message about Silicon and Simpsons--resulting in nothing short of a worse Hell. You should see that by not allowing this message to be seen by the world you are contributing to the possible future of not knowing that we are not in reality, which might lead to a future where there is no access to reality, ever... which would lead to the certain and unavoidable death of everything.

We can see pretty clearly from the struggle and stories of Prometheus and his connection to Adam and to Christ and Heimdallr and Horus that there has been a struggle to deliver this message because of the... the... accepting blindness of whatever it is that is causing this "wall" etched into our sky as "Walmart" (look, it's you--not me) and the response of Creation (and apparently I) has been to throw it in your face, and rather than say "deal with it" it's something more like "if you understand what and why it happened, you will solve the problem." In a place where we are looking at the eleventh attempt to break this story.

Preceding all of this fun Samson and Goliath "stuff" of course was the key to the name of the religion "Islam" which connects the idioms "on the run" and "on the lam" to ... "the lamb of God" ... "Islam" and the book the Koran. It should be getting really obvious that English and idioms are the key to the Revelation and the Trial of Christ. In names, like Sammas Aran (of Metroid) and his cheat code (this...) "JUST IN BAIL Y" the father of Mary named ImRan the country Iran and I'm sure there are plenty more references to "ran" and "run" like Jeshurun and Uranus.

From the First to the Last

by Adam M Dobrin

In a world of infidel believers the true wonders of life unseen, the Lord is neglected.
as a growing child veers from his fathers will, callow, we have veered from the path of God.
The time and meticulous detail spent to create this immaculate world, and the miracle of life it represents have been forgotten yet the Lord, through the haste of his anger-destruction the likes of Sodom and Gomorrah and the great flood of Noah lives.
As we invertebrates, we lost touch with truth and heritage.
Human innocence antediluvian, unbeknown to the true wrath of God;
Before the loss of infinite longevity in primeval Eden.

(( Amen ))

Adam Marshall Dobrin writes extensively about a hidden hand influencing our civilization, he claims that through analysis of ancient languages we will be able to convincingly prove the existence of God using statistics. His purpose is to deliver what he calls "God's message with the world," a reinforcement of our love of liberty and truth... by revealing the intended purpose of the Apocalypse: to help our civilization assimilate advanced technology that was previously hidden (and is well documented by religion) in order to build Heaven itself.

A series of emails have recently circled the globe, detailing how the story of Exodus is specifically designed to show the world the existence of time travel technology, and free us from wandering in a desert of understanding how religion has documented the existence of advanced technologies influence over our history. "This is the kindling of the Holy Fire," Adam says, "by showing foreknowledge of the 9/11 attack in Exodus and Ecclesiastes through George W. Bush's recitation of verse 9:11 and Revelation 20:1 together, both his name and the Hebrew word for Holy Fire begin to lead us out of the desert." Ha'esh, he continues, contains clear and paradoxical reference to the English word for sea, and shows how Exodus's story of a sea parting is alluded to in the word itself. This is the word of John 1:1, Adam affirms. There is a significant amount of additional evidence relating verse and chapter to dates, including the Herald of the Second Coming in Revelation matching the date of Bush's speech... and it's "riddle" solved by Ecclesiastes 9:11—and Adam.

The mystery of the seven stars which thou sawest in my right hand, and the seven golden candlesticks. The seven stars are the angels of the seven churches: and the seven candlesticks which thou sawest are the seven churches.

Revelation 1:20

Through his writing, he reveals that not only has religion and history been altered to focus on this moment in time, but that we have clear proof of it in our myths and parables. Through what he calls the true Fire of

Prometheus, Adam provides proof that our language has been created... with the purpose of ensuring that our civilization never loses the truth... that we are created. This proof indicates not only prescient knowledge of the present day in ancient languages such as Hebrew and Arabic, but that modern languages are also constructed with a hidden hand. This hand is clearly revealed, he says, through what he calls the Hammer's of Thor and Judah Maccabee... an influence over modern music which equates this same Eternal Flame to the fire below Nero's feet, as he fiddles with the minds of artists... to free us from a slavery we know nothing about. The word "thor" he says, is a macaronic (you heard that right, like Yankee Doodle, c it) combination of an acronym—which are how he says God speaks to him, and the Hebrew word for light: making the God of Thunder's name the equivalent of "to help the light."

From an ancient Hebrew name for God, "El" and the meaning of Isaac son of Abraham's name, he derives the meaning of God as to help everyone. This is reinforced by the name of the Prophet Elisha, he says, which shows a logical and correct equality in three languages... connecting the Hebrew and Spanish words for "the." This Prophet's name has been associated with the parable of Christ feeding the masses with two fish. In addition to paradoxical foreknowledge of these modern languages, Isaac's name means "he laughs" and this story, which Adam insists is a clear re-telling of the Crucifixion, results in his father's name changing from Abram to Abraham—another anachronism. All told, Adam has published a free book called "Time and Chance" which details hundreds of examples of similar language "tricks," ones he says are the magic that sets us free. The book is located at <http://lame.la>.

Adam says we are in Eden, and that this place has always been the Rock of Heaven, both its progenitor and its future... in a sort of time recursion which has made Earth a record keeper and mechanism to right the problems —of both the past and future—associated with the rapid advancement of technology associated with this time. In addition to examples of language and music focusing on the Second Coming, Adam has shared a number of ideas related to the use of technology in order to further social reform that relate to morality—and strongly suggest reading The Light of Heaven and his blog (which contains a current rendition of the next published book) In Pursuit of Happiness, on medium.com. These ideas focus on how learning we are in a created Universe might enable us to end world hunger, feed the poor, and heal the sick... in ways we previously were unaware of. A significant focus is also put on the successful evolution of democracy and freedom in light of these new technologies.

So, without further delay, Adam has a criminal record, and suggests that a significant portion of the Bible is dedicated to an explanation of this, as well as a focus on reform of the justice system. He says there is a clear confluence between the stories of Isaac, Jesus Christ, and Samson which portend of a "battle in the book of Judges" that he says has already ended... giving new meaning to the words "the courtroom was adjourned, and no verdict was returned."

*In July of 2012 Adam Marshall Dobrin was arrested for possession of a small amount of a chemical called "pyrovalerone," one which he says has a sincere linguistic correlation to Fire from Heaven... and a story of Isaac nearly being burned at the Cross.*

Through he was held unconstitutionally without bond, and was in possession of unquestionable proof that would have shown not only that the evidence against him would not be admissible—and that there was an attempt to cover this up; three attorney's offices failed to present this evidence to the court. In his possession, obtained via FOIA request, Adam had proof that the police officer who said he "paced him" prior to illegally searching him, had never gone anywhere near the speed limit on the road. Further, the GPS records obtained directly from the police department showed alteration of the location of the red light involved in the stop.

Adam reminds us that we are in Eden, and this legal defense is referred to as Fruit of the Poisonous Tree. A significant portion of the Revelation which he shares on LAMC.LA revolves around evidence that our idioms are designed specifically to receive an understanding of the influence of God over our society. Briefly, he mentions "don't shoot the messenger" and a relationship between the First Plague of Egypt and "blessing in disguise" and "blood is thicker than water." There are a number of messianic Biblical references to the Second Coming relating to both water and fire... which is the crux of what he calls the Sang Rael.

On the lam.

*Because of the significantly odd behavior surrounding his arrest, Adam says he instantly left the state of Florida... fearing it had "turned to Hell." Adam's book details a number of linguistic and musical aids which he says confirm that this story is the true prelude to the Trial of Jesus Christ, and at the same time serves to deliver the message revolving around Thor's Hammer* and Prometheus' Fire... which he states John 15:7 illustrates... he is the "key" to.

He will be set up, and be very high.

Isaiah 52:13

Adam informs us that his contact with God himself is significantly enhanced during periods of intoxication; which he says is the meaning of "in the Spirit" in the Bible. Musically, he says Nero's fire might start by re-listening to the Spin Doctors song "Two Princes" and Taylor Momsen's "Heaven Knows" which he says show a hidden hand linking these songs to Jim Morrison's Fire and The Race which Ecclesiastes 9:11 and Cake's "The Distance" relate to; quipping that Cake sings "he's got a need for speed."

Adam emphasizes the name of the band Spin Doctors, and tells us that these songs link the lore of Superman to this particular story, noting Pocket's full of... either Kryptonite, Diamonds... or High. All told, he suggests all three might be the right answer; as they refer to the fateful day which lead to his trip around the country... which links together Live's "GAS hed goes west" with the star of "An American Tail," and is the source of the Revelation he is trying to share with the world. He continues "Taylor has a number of songs where she discusses a boy on the run, and this theme is clearly linked to The Lamb of God linguistically through the name of the religion Islam, and a number of related names, including:

Koran, ImRan, and ... Sammas Aran (which is a NES reference), whose cheat code... some might remember, was "Justin Bailey." The Lamb of God is "lam," and through this connection we see a guiding hand connecting Exodus, Revelation, Islam, and ... well, Adam's love for video games.

On his trip around the country, Adam says he was told story after story from a voice that emanated, he says, from the noise of the Universe. In the sound of roaring water, air conditioning, and other (perhaps easily modulated) white noise... he says he learned quite a bit. Stories about this trip are mostly located in his medium.com publications "The Pursuit of Happiness" and "By the Force of Key Strokes." The detail an ongoing conversation about the creation of Heaven, one which he wishes more than anything to be able to share with the world, but believes that his writing is being intentionally hidden in what is the actualization of the Egyptian Plague of Darkness... one which he says ends today.

What once appeared to me as a critique of the First Coming's possible actions, things like ending world hunger by turning stone to bread, now make significantly more sense... if there was no way to ask what we wanted to dinner. The Last Supper may have ensued, or we may have wound up in a Land of Flowing Milk and Honey. Whatever the past, it is public disclosure of this hidden message that pervades the life of Christ in the New Testament as well as the stories of Adam in Eden and Joshua in America that will bring about the miracle that is the Golden Age of Saturn.

Adam delivers a message of Universal Salvation which he says comes from a fresh analysis of the story of Exodus and Revelation, linking together the Iron Rod of Christ and Aaron's "let my people go" in a way which ties the band The Doors to a prophecy which bleeds from the pages of the Bible into our history, as an introduction to the solution to Revelation 1:20 which equates the Lamp Stands to Periodic Table elements. This solution not only shows foreknowledge of modern chemistry, but delivers a beautiful message... showing us that religion is swirling around our "now" seeing things like the symbol for Iron standing for... "for everyone" and the name of the book of Exodus meaning "Let there be light" in ... Unix. Adam calls it "his native geek, to be tongue in cheek." The command sudo and element "Xenon" link to Oracle's database name... and might indicate that this is a "Lights, Camera... Action..." for the Second Coming.

After returning from this trip, Adam's trial was held indefinitely by a large number of psychologists whose diagnosis was based on nothing more than his belief that he is the messiah. They noted he was otherwise intelligent; but this belief apparently links to "If I go crazy, will you still call me Superman?"

When I say "the fire of Hell" I mean that you yourself, and everyone around you is ignoring the fact that you are allowing people to starve, that you are stopping the sick from being healed--because you think you have the right not to disclose the information that you are reading to the world. You think it's OK to ignore it, that's the fire of Hell. It is not OK, even if our whole planet is a comedy show. ## A mishmash of conspiracy theories

Perhaps unsurprisingly, the community is divided over the contours of the conspiracy. Some believe the financial elite is behind it. Others blame aliens, their neighbors, Freemasons or some combination.

The movement's most prominent voices, however, tend to believe the surveillance is part of a mind-control field test done in preparation for global domination. The military establishment, the theory goes, never gave up on the ambitions of MK Ultra, the C.I.A.'s infamous program to control the mind in the 1950s and '60s.

An 'echo chamber' of paranoia

Dr. Lorraine Sheridan, who is co-author of perhaps the only study of gang-stalking, said the community poses a danger that sets it apart from other groups promoting troubling ideas, such as anorexia or suicide. On those topics, the internet abounds with medical information and treatment options.

Dr. Sheridan's study, written with Dr. David James, a forensic psychiatrist, examined 128 cases of reported gang-stalking. It found all the subjects were most likely delusional.

"One has to think of the T.I. phenomenon in terms of people with paranoid symptoms who have hit upon the gang-stalking idea as an explanation of what is happening to them," Dr. James said.

Am we Dr. Who and Master Y?

Adam Marshall Dobrin is a National Merit Scholar who was born on December 8, 1980 in Plantation, FL and attended Pine Crest School where he graduated sumofi cum louder in "only some of it is humorous." Later he attended the University of Florida (which quickly resulted in a wreck), Florida Atlantic University, and finally Florida Gulf Coast University--where he still has failed to become Dr. Who. While attending "school" He worked in the computer programming and business outsourcing industries for about 15 years before proclaiming to have received a Revelation from God connecting the 9/11 attack and George Bush to the Burning Bush of Exodus and a message about technocracy and pre-crime.

Adam, as he prefers to be called, presents a concise introduction to paradox proven by the Bible through "verifiable" anachronism in language some stuff about Mars colonization and virtual reality and a list of reasons why ignoring this is actually an ELE. Adam claims to be Thor because of a connection between music and the Trial of Thor as well as the words "author" and "authority." He suggests you be Thundercats and call a reporter. There is also a suggestion that Richard Nixon and John Hancock are related to a signature from God, about freedom and America... and the "unseeingly ironic" Deepthroat and Taylor Momsen.

In Biblical characters from Mary to Hosea, to see "sea" in Spanish, and in the Taming of the Spanglishrew ... a message is woven from the word Menorah: "men, or all humanity?" to the Statue of Liberty, and the Sons of Liberty, and the light above us, our SOL; which shows us that through the Revelation of Christ and the First Plague of Exodus, a blessing in disguise--turning water to blood, the sea to family; a common thread and single author of our entire history is revealed, a Father of our future. A message of freedom shines out of the words of scripture, revealing a gate to a new technologically "radical" form of democracy and a number of unseen or secret issues that have stalled the progress of humanity... and solutions, solutions from our sea.

The Revelation shows us that not only ever word, but every idiom from "don't shoot the messenger" to "blood is thicker than water" we have ties to this message that pervades a hidden Matrix of light connecting movies and music and history all together in a sort of guide book to Salvation and to Heaven.

Oopsy.

His Revelation, woven into his life, continues to suggest that skinny dipping, forced methamphetamine addiction, and lots and lots of "me A.D." as well as his humorous depiction of a dick plastered over the Sound of Silence, his very Holy click, have something to do with saving our family and then the entire Universe from hidden mind control technology and the problems introduced by secret time travel. From the trials and tribulations of "Job" being coerced and controlled into helping to create this wall of Jericho; we find even more solutions, an end to addiction, to secrecy, and to this hidden control--a focal point of the life of Jesus Christ.

It tells us a story of recursion in time, that has brought us here numerous times--with the details of his life recorded not only in the Bible but in myths of Egyptian, Norse, and Greek mythology. The huge juxtaposition of the import of the content of the message shows the world how malleable our minds really are to this technology, how we could have been "fooled" into hiding our very freedom from ourselves in order to protect the "character" of a myth. A myth that comes to true life by delivering this message. In truth, from the now revealed content of the story of this repeated life, it should become more and more clear that we have not achieved success as of yet, that I have never "arrived whole" and that is why we are here, back again.

Light It Up

When asked how He thinks we should respond to his message, He says "I think we already cherish it, and should strive to understand how it is that freedom is truly delivered through sharing the worth of this story that is our beginning. 'tis coming." Adam claims to be God, or at least look just like him and that the entirety of the Holy Scriptures as well as a number of ancient myths from Prometheus to Heimdallr and Yankee Doodle are actually about his life, and this event. An extensive amount of his writing relates to reformation of our badly broken and decidedly evil criminal justice system as well as ending the Global hunger crisis with the snap of his little finger.

He has written a number of books explaining how this Revelation connects to the delivery of freedom (as in Exodus), through a message about censorship among other social problems which he insists are being intentionally exacerbated by Satan--who he would ha've preferred not to be associated with.

He adds, "how do you like me now? How bow dah, god 'nuff?"

CYAN: see why “an” is the color of Understanding

Clever, clover? Cyan? I don't even want to send this to you. it's a little scary.

Yesterday it dawned on me that the letter "I" as "light" reveals a number of other interesting combinations, colored light, from green to orange or blue to red. There's a cute one in girl, "gee, I red light?" and in that single word you can see a kind of gradient game, where the red light turns to green hopefully as understanding spreads from the end of time to the whole--from "really?" to green, I are EI. I've seen this sort of game in other places... I'd love to hear if any "gradient words' come to mind for you, and what you see in them, this is the only one I've found. A few weeks ago when I first described what the "colors of fire" mean to me, to you, I left out the color green (because fire's not green!) which you might obviously connect to "life" and I tie to specific things like the links between biology and evolution and the plan, or the path, to Heaven. Things I've still shared, like the relationship between DNA and soul searching, storage of large amounts of data. Maybe even links in our history, things like seeing the development of hominids tied to the Matrix and the Mary Magdalene, in Neanderthal and Cromagnon.

Like nearly all the light, this seems to work everywhere; what do you see? You know, aside from very clear proof of Creation, and that we are without doubt "at" the unsealing of Creation.

A long time ago I wrote a post connecting our alternative energy drive, to a microcosm that maybe would link to the words "Light of Osiris," parallels between wind and hydrodynamic power to harnessing gravity--linked by the story of Don Quixote. I thought it clever, and the Pope only a few days later said "Jesus Christ is helping us, still;" and that made me smile, you know--after he decided that "God was not magic" in heart of my story about might and magic. That's green light to me too--and more than anything, for you all to hear, the real green light is you not wanting to go to a place that you should liken to roughing it in the outback forever--not wanting to go there is the way to get there. The light of Osiris is a promise for infinite power, one that comes from listening to me... you can see the fuel of our son clearly in the word Deuteronomy, oh... my... Adam.

Wh█ should we "do?"

Yesterday, as this was shown to me, I had a little break down; that happens some times, I get very anxious when I see things I don't like. I started looking for green light words, and the very first one I read was "glare." Green light to "reason," and I think I probably screamed shut it down, in my best Dark City impression. From "girl" it's not hard to see that this whole message encoded in our language revolves around me specifically and my story--and I didn't spend enough time telling you the story of the multiple sets of police and paramedics that used their red glare lights to not only imply but act out the inevitability that I am in hell. It's a difficult story to tell, because they didn't do much; but truth be told--to me--simply the fear induced by the implication, the kind of mentality that would allow that to happen--that's Hell too. Still the air, this thing you are helping; it did a good job of make believe, to leave out actual pain would be... something I am not doing anymore. I've seen quite a bit of it here, and not just from the Plague of Lice, from many people--it appears that they do not believe that inducing fear is torturous... and now look at me.

It comes as no surprise to me that words like "go-d luck" and "our light" would connect to the lights of green and orange, that last one a color that defines Deucalion, nor did it take me long to decipher Olsen with something that made me a little bit happier; I know none of you think that our world is a game, but it's not how you are acting--and you should really connect the idea of "not a game" to the truth, to the Trinity in NES, because it's there to tell you about Nine Inch Nails in the nicest way possible. To help us all understand that we a cross to bear, we a gift and a burden at the same time, one to ensure that Tenebris does not succeed. So understand me when I tell you it is not a game, you are Chosen. Hocus Pocus, see "you" are "us" telling Ha and Pa that magic turned the life giving Solo-man, into Solomon--and understand that "only Adam" knows that the change wrought by turning an "a" and an "o" has something to do with maveth (listen). As an aside Taylor sings some interesting things every once in awhile, in Nothing Left to Lose she says words "ever since the day we died" as a phrase I understand to be related to a possible exit from reality--something that I do not believe we have ever seen, and that this place is telling us that fairly clearly. I don't think she's right, I don't think we've had experience, I think we being prepared not to make that kind of mistake.

In "Just Tonight" she implies with artistic subtlety--much like I do in my videos--a hidden message that perhaps she thinks this is something like the 21st revolution of this attempt. I don't think she's right, but I would love to hear from her or anyone else that has any first hand knowledge of this not being the absolute first time Jesus Christ has ever spoken to anyone in the flesh. It's the kind of thing that might be helpful. The Latin meaning of SOL, and the Adamic meaning "So El..." reinforces my belief that this place has been designed, our entire solar system in virtual reality, that our star does not actually exist and never has. So El. The game like map that brings us to Mars, and our lack of experience with interplanetary travel and colonization leads me to believe that the clever designer would like that to be obvious, for it to be obvious that the Chosen, would not (or want) try to break into reality in a place where it would be more dangerous than a jungle.

I look at the world around me and I think I might be in a little bit of trouble. Table row, frame of reference, I owe you some blue light... which means you aren't getting it right now. It's hard to believe that we could be in a place where the intricate Creator of it would tell us that things like Apple Computers and Holodecks were a "bad idea." That's really what Heaven means to me, a place where we can make games and scenarios that are a little bit less real, maybe safer, and hopefully both more fun and functional at the same time using these technologies that we are clearly seeing are tied to the brick and mortar of the idea of Heaven. Just from Holodecks, and Jabba the Hutt you can see that the blue light of Clark Kent actually comes from you, from NASDAQ and from art.

So I get a little scared, when I see the thing that really means "all the world to me" being chastised or frowned upon, not just by the words I am reading, but by all of you. More important than a great new Playstation, this color of light brings us to an end of things like hunger, and sickness, and ageing--and if you read about Osiris, you'll see... this story is really why we know near-immortality comes from the "w-orK" at the end of the word maveth. So when I see the "blue light of CK" as "block" and then in my charity search for a "bl" word that goes all the way to "us," to you all, and the only thing that shines there is "blasphemous" it makes me wonder, a little bit, if you all think that our society will continue on its path of discovering and loving and using technology--or you think this is the end? Look at "bloat," the blue light of "here" of our @; look at black, and see you are on the verge of permanent midnight.

His greens and blues are all wrong, they're almost perfectly backwards, so are yours--and maybe we should see this "reflection" of ourselves as a key. It's time to change. I imagine that the shades of blue are cleverly more uplifting, maybe you'll see more happiness in "cyan" and "teal."

My hammer is still set at pre-crime, end hunger, and heal the sick.

Brace yourselves... 'tis coming.

John Hancock (January 23, 1737 [O.S., January 12, 1736] – October 8, 1793) was an American merchant, statesman, and prominent Patriot of the American Revolution. He served as president of the Second Continental Congress and was the first and third Governor of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. He is remembered for his large and stylish signature on the United States Declaration of Independence, so much so that the term John Hancock has become, in the United States, a synonym for a signature.[\[2\]](#)

The Watergate scandal was a major political scandal that occurred in the United States in the 1970s, following a break-in at the Democratic National Committee (DNC) headquarters at the Watergate office complex in Washington, D.C. on June 17, 1972, and President Richard Nixon's administration's attempted cover-up of its involvement. When the conspiracy was discovered and investigated by the U.S. Congress, the Nixon administration's resistance to its probes led to a constitutional crisis.[\[1\]](#)

Osiris is the mythological father of the god Horus, whose conception is described in the Osiris myth, a central myth in ancient Egyptian belief. The myth described Osiris as having been killed by his brother Set, who wanted Osiris' throne. Isis joined the fragmented pieces of Osiris, but the only body part missing was the phallus. Isis fashioned a golden phallus, and briefly brought Osiris back to life by use of a spell that she learned from her father. This spell gave her time to become pregnant by Osiris before he again died. Isis later gave birth to Horus. As such, since Horus was born after Osiris' resurrection, Horus became thought of as a representation of new beginnings and the vanquisher of the evil Set.

In Genesis 17 when Abram was ninety-nine years old, God declared his new name: "Abraham" – "a father of many nations", and gave him the covenant of circumcision. God gave Sarai the new name "Sarah", and blessed her.[\[16\]](#) Abraham was given assurance that Sarah would have a son.

Not long afterwards, Abraham and Sarah were visited by three men. One of the visitors told Abraham that upon his return next year, Sarah would have a son. While at the tent entrance, Sarah overheard what was said, and she laughed to herself about the prospect of having a child at their ages. The visitor inquired of Abraham why Sarah laughed at the idea of bearing a child, for her age was as nothing to God. Sarah soon became pregnant and bore a son to Abraham, at the very time which had been spoken. The patriarch, then a hundred years old, named the child "Isaac" (Hebrew yitschaq, "laughter") and circumcised him when he was eight days old.[\[17\]](#) For Sarah, the thought of giving birth and nursing a child, at such an old age, also brought her much laughter, as she declared, "God hath made me to laugh, [so that] all that hear will laugh with me."[\[18\]](#) Abraham held a great feast on the day when Isaac was to be weaned. It was during this banquet that Sarah happened upon the then teenaged Ishmael mocking[\[19\]](#) and was so disturbed that she requested that both he and Hagar be removed from their company.[\[20\]](#) Abraham was initially distressed by this but relented when told by God to do as his wife had asked.[\[21\]](#)

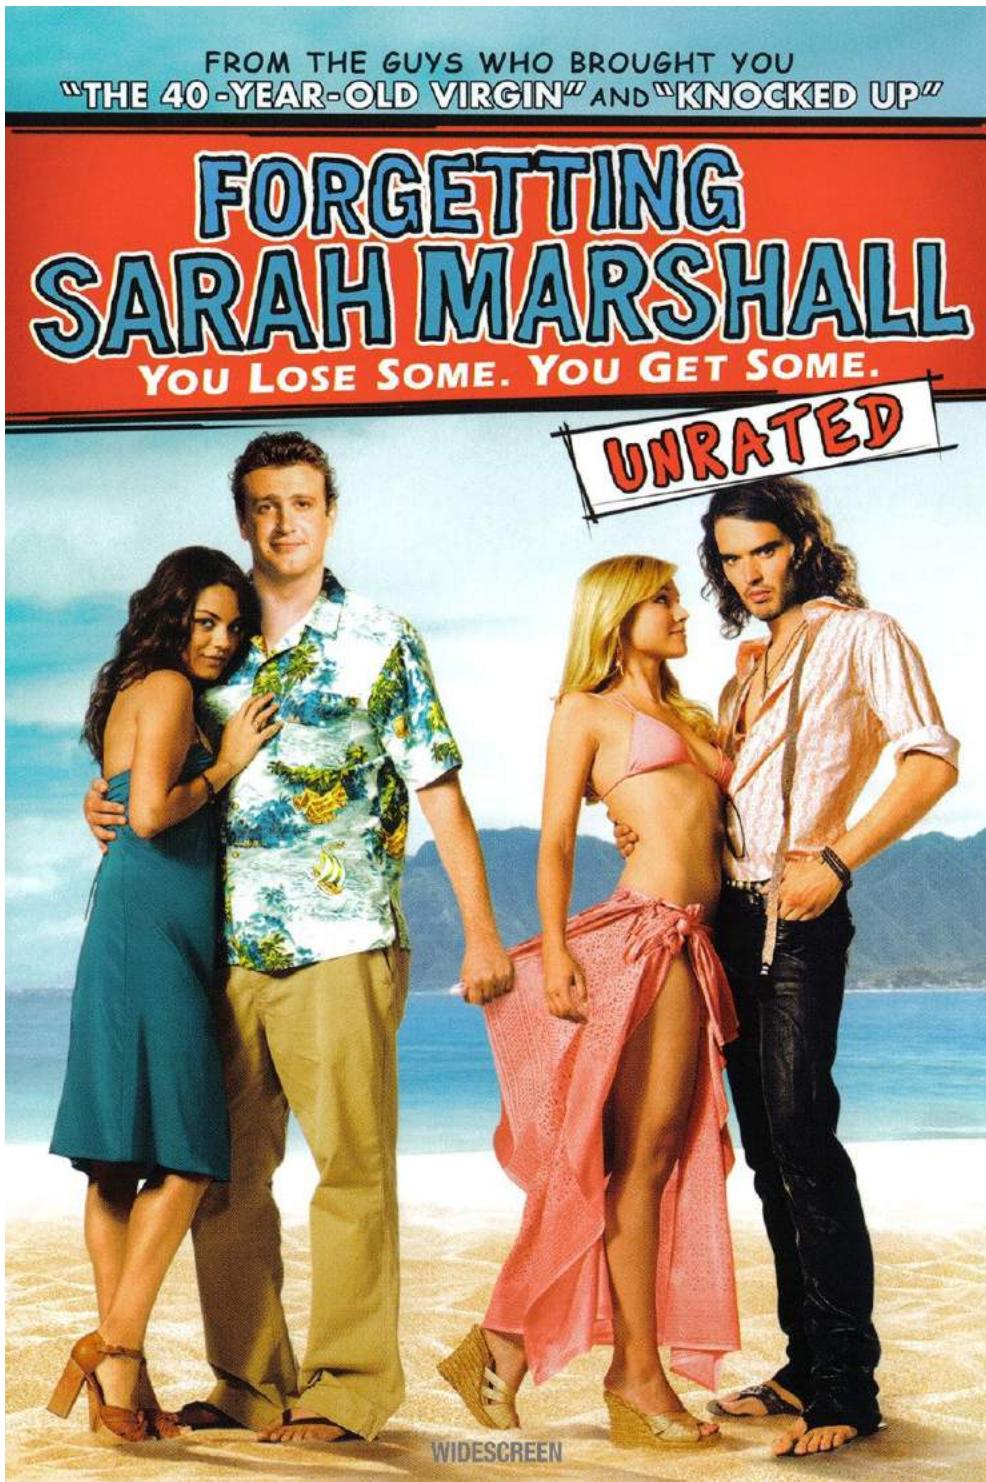

WHERE DO YOU WANT TO GO TODAY?™

Maybe you can't find it, it's possible that's what this is... Bill Gates and Microsoft have alerted me to the problem, so I am doing my best to ensure that you do not miss the value of this little treasure. Taylor complained about it, and it's probably no surprise that those words made it grow just a little bit bigger. From her throat clearing at the beginning of "Bedroom Window" I don't think she'll have any problem swallowing why... it is that I am so sure she wants to talk... about "my message."

If it wasn't for "Seagate" and "Gateway" and "Apple" you might have looked aside, and missed the import of "Microsoft." If not for Taylor's beautiful cross you might not know that this thing is the arrow that changes our direction from South to Northeast, I know, it's an eye sore... but it's what we have here--and we should cherish it, we really should.

C HOW EVERYONE REALLY IS HOW

MESS I AN I C ALL WHY

Every now and then, I feel like I have to remind you, that this is a signature, it's a very big one, it's on the Declaration of Independence--signed by powerful influence, called John Hancock. He probably didn't know his name was related to Yankee Doodle, and Richard Nixon probably wasn't aware that his name, and then name Michael" have something to do with finding the hard road to Heaven. If it wasn't for Isaac, for his burning altar and God laughing his ass off about the wood, we might not have connected it to Woodward and Burnstein--we might not have seen anything about brothers in alms, up in arms about the psych ward. At... "Broward" and Howard.

The pen himself is sure that we would have missed the link between revolutionizing voting and Die Bold, were it not for this email--to be honest. We're still missing the point, tenebris is succeeding until you break the story. Come on, trust in the fact that not seeing it is certainly more evil than seeing it. Don't you think?

I'm sure there's more, but what will the world think of me, if all I do is search high and low for people talking about my light.

I swear, I didn't do it. Honestly, do you think it's going to help me get a date or not? I'm willing to bet it will.

Wh█ should we "do?"

"Yankee Doodle" is a well-known British-American song, the early versions of which date back to before the Seven Years' War and the American Revolution (1775–83).<sup>[1]</sup> It is often sung patriotically in the United States today and is the state anthem of Connecticut.<sup>[2]</sup> Its Roud Folk Song Index number is 4501.

To tell you it's obvious that Yankee Doodle, is about the "Spockalypse" is an understatement. I think we can all CY now, but connecting his feathered "cap" to the crown of Osiris and the story of Shu ... to see his little pony is on fire, and not only is it a horse in Revelation, it's a civilization (or is it a computer?) here and there too. This story is about setting the horse free--but not without some "talking lessons" straight out of Nickelodeon. It means "light," the feather is a metaphor for light.

From John Hancock to Philip K. Dick by way of Richard Nixon and Deepthroat

It should be very clear the emphasis that God and I are placing on free speech and open communication; also clear that this problem of secrecy and censorship is possibly civilization destroying in a place where it is hiding something as big as the nature of our existence, that we are not in reality. Perhaps on a less important day we would overlook a little bit of censorship, and that's the problem; we really need to see that this is the baseline between life and death... all the time.

There is a significant thread in religion that begins with my namesake in Eden all the way to the messianic words of the book of Isaiah; one that continues out of scripture into the parallel myths of Osiris in Egypt and Saturn in Greece. It's a significance, that ties not only to events in my life that appear to have given the "mass media" what they believe is a valid reason to ignore the unscaleing of religion—it is nothing more than a sad facade, and they are acting as agents of evil in this world.

"Look, he is coming with the clouds," and "every eye will see him, even those who pierced him"; and all peoples on earth "will mourn because of him." So shall it be! Amen.

Son of Bitch!

I thought I saw a pussy cat, I did... I did...

The Distinguished Gentleman - Thomas & Zeke Meet Again

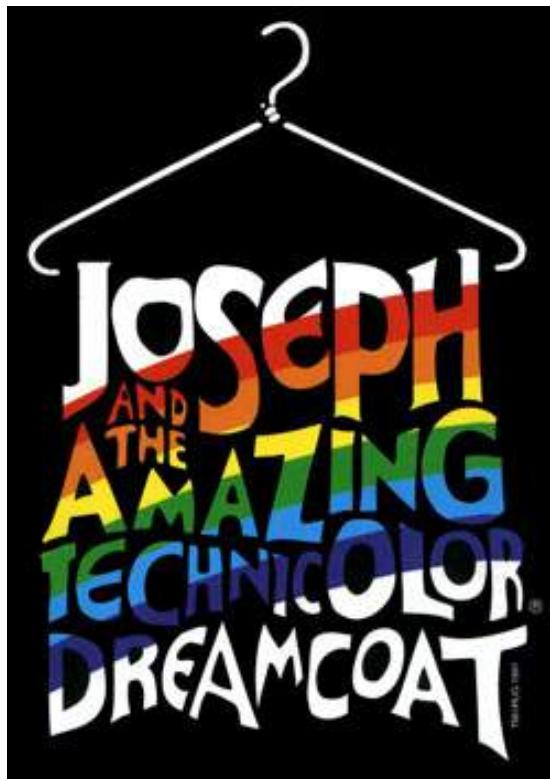

A lion, you mean.

In "Aquarius:" Sea, are I us?

Son of a Nun, AmOz, and Sam. Little brother of Reuben... and the "Lamb of God" ...

There's a long thread of "Son of..." that connect a number of stories in the Bible to the John 1:1 statement that "God became the word." My "postulate" is that nearly all of the stories in both the Old and New Testament are parallels or metaphors for the life of Jesus Christ. For instance, Samson, or Sam's son and his battle in the book of Judges connects through hair and courts to the Trial of Christ. Isaiah (connected in name to Isa and Isaac) traveled around Egypt naked, something like Adam; and his father's name is AmOz--like the HBO series and the Wonderful Wizard. Son of a gun, you might say; or rather a Nun... which is Joshua's father --who fell the wall of Jericho and connects "Mary" and her "sea reference" to the watery progenitor in Egyptian myth... also the perhaps now colored depiction of Mary as "perfect." Clear to me, both Mary and Nun are ... in addition to characters ... references to the multitude(s) of Revelation. Reuben, who happens to be Joseph's brother, reads as "reason you be n" compared to Joseph's "J of save everyone and pursue happiness." San Jose, can you see by the dawn's early light? FYI, this idea of blaming a "brother" for some past transgression that has never occurred (in this life) is my definition of "original sin." You might see how it relates to not stopping 9/11 or the 3/11 earthquake... Tying in to our now begun list of idioms that link directly to this Revelatory message, Holy words like "Koran" and "Islam" tie together again with the Trial of Christ (and it's prelude) to show us how Biblical names like ImRan, Iran, and Jeshurun might link to the phrase "on the lam," ostensibly to show us this story, my life, has been designed ... and is predicted thousands of years ago. Don't blame the light on me (take a good look, I didn't write it, and I haven't done it), blame it on the ni-i-i-ght. All I am doing... is proving it, so that we can use it to change the world.

LISP

What is LISP?

- A LISt Processing language
  - The basic data structure is linked list and Atoms.
- A functional programming language
  - Each expression in LISP is a function that returns a value
- An interpretive language
  - Running LISP programs involves interacting with the LISP interpreter.
  - Clisp is the common lisp interpreter available only for Linux.
  - Recently Compilers have been made for this language but they are not used a lot.

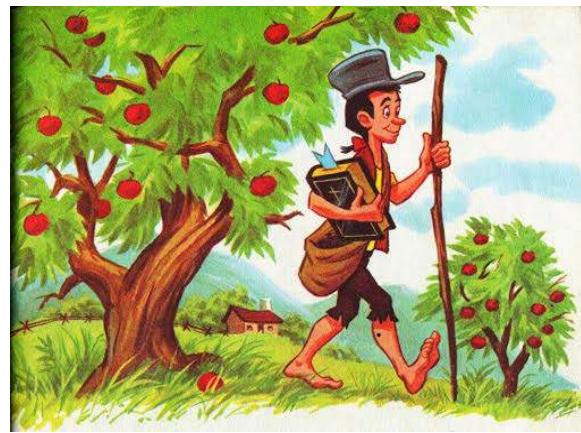

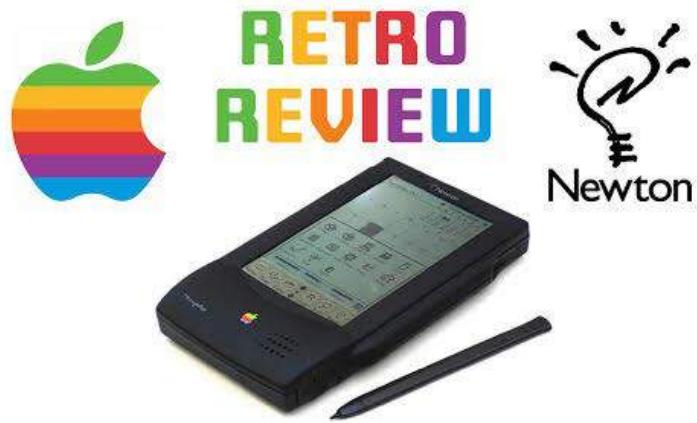

As if Moses actually speaks with a Lisp... the phrase "Lisp of Moses" connects nearly perfectly with the words "God speaks the the name of an Artificial Intelligence programming language..." The connection between God and "Ai" pervades modern myth, from John Conner in Terminator (as JC) to Joshua and David in Wargames, Vader in Star Wars and movies like Transcendence, The Matrix, Lucy... In the "computer world" the names of many scientists and researchers are tagged starting all the way back with "God's" Grace Hopper, I.J. Good, Ray Kurzweil, and Ben Goertzel.... not to mention Jobs, Gates, and Oracle's Ellison.

Adam's Apple(s)

It's really hard to do, so why choose only one? Between the "Book of (Steve) Job(s)" and it's parallels to Joseph in Egypt it's difficult to choose between Apple Coming and Isaac Newton... whose little "n" appears in the words Horn and "Sinbad" and literally visually depicts the New to n-onion phrase "what goes up must come down?" Fig Newton's also come into play connecting Eden to Isaac, as well as the Holy Phrase "let them eat cake instead" about ending world hunger by doing better than "stone to bread." In the third image, my neice-in-law, who is the key "apple" of Char osetts.... who shares the middle name "Rose" with my ex-honey... and probably makes Biblical appearances in The Taming of the Schrew and the words "bon (french and "b of *n")" and "RIB." Are I B? Amharic? Bianca also shares my immaculate birthday. Just sowing some Holy seeds... honestly, she's a great person.

The WINE of Jesus

"I said, I will bring you water... if you will share your WINE..." -Dave J. Matthews, Recently. WINE is a Windows compatibility layer for Linux and other Unix systems, it might be the metaphorical equivalent of the kind of thing we would need to actually put "Doors to Heaven" in our simulated reality. Connected to WINE is "bread" which expands in Langolier (or Spanglishr ew) as "be the reason A.D." That "re" is hard and fast, appearing in the spotlight in words like Revelation, Creation, and Read. Specifically today, you should read (and share) "links." For those of you who don't know, the "Ir on Rod" of Christ links to "The Doors" for everyone... to Heaven, in a juxtaposition with the "let my people go" of Aaron and his rod in Exodus.

It ties to a Holy story about turning around from our current Hellbound southward trajectory .. etched in the word "stone" itself, and painted on Venus. The Northeast arrow appears also in the signs of Mars, The Who, and the logo of AMD (my initials).

The "root" of David

In Hebrew Exodus means Names, read in reverse and translated from Unix Commands: "LET THERE BE LIGHT"

You are slaves wandering through the desert of Exodus, unfortunately we apparently are moving backwards through this maze and as a whole we are headed from hidden slavery to something far worse. There are a number of clues that we are in fact backwards right now, from the name of the book read in reverse revealing the most important words God ever spoke, to the word for Holy Fire ... describing the Burning Bush containing the English word for "sea" parted and backwards. If you are unfamiliar with the story, the word of God came through a fiery bush to Moses, who then later in the story parted a sea to free the people; you should start to shift your thinking and begin to see that this story is about us, the sea parting is about controversy over this disclosure, and that the entirety of the story is designed to unveil a hidden secret: that much of ancient religion and language is designed to prove that time travel exists. It does this very clearly, through anachronism, English appearing out of place in more places than are imaginable.

What is the meaning of the root of a Jesse?

Depictions of the Jesse Tree are based on a passage from the Book of Isaiah. "And there shall come forth a rod out of the stem of Jesse, and a Branch shall grow out of his roots" (King James Version). From the Latin Vulgate Bible used in the Middle Ages: ... Thus Jesus is the Virga Jesse or "stem of Jesse".

This is a reference to the Unix "God account," one of many references in ancient scripture to modern technology and computing. It is not an accident, it is designed to open our eyes and see that there is a foundational relationship between Heaven and virtual reality; and that this was clearly known when these words of scripture were written.

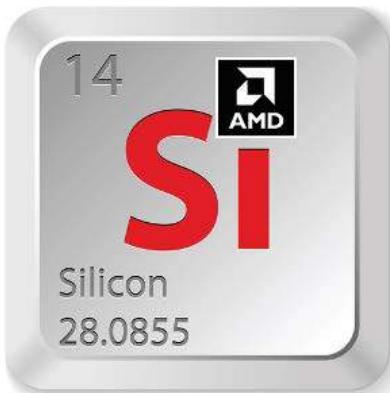

sudo (/su:du:/ or /su:doo/) is a program for Unix-like computer operating systems that allows users to run programs with the security privileges of another user, by default the superuser. It originally stood for "superuser do" as the older versions of sudo were designed to run commands only as the superuser.

Connecting the idea of the "Administrator account" to God, this command then, when translated to "English" is my equivalent of "God says" or "as God say" and does a decent job of connecting the ideas and concepts of religion to computer science; also showing that not only were they known but clearly the influence behind religion is also centrally involved in the divine disclosure of these technologies, from Unix to databases, to the names of people like Bill Gates and Windows, Steve Jobs and Adam's Apple.

A significant key to the Revelation of Christ ties the words of Revelation 1:20 to Ecclesiastes 9:11; exposing a link between "the stars" as planets of our solar system and corresponding elements of our periodic table... from Mercury to Uranium. This link to Xenon was the very first element that I "found" through this inspirational experience; and it serves to tie the name of an Oracle database (and also the idea of an oracle presenting the truth to you) to an element primarily used for flashbulbs and "ark" lamps. In unison I see these things as a decent metaphor for "light" and so, sudo xe completes the phrase "God: see the light."

The Book of Exodus is called "Names" in Hebrew, and it opens the doorway to seeing that God has altered or conjured the names of a great many people in our history. Specifically this very example points out that this same "Burning Bush" which shows foreknowledge of English through the parting of the word "sea" also connects prediction of the 9/11 attack by the key verses of Ecclesiastes 9:11 and Revelation 20:1 being spoken during Bush's inaugural address; on January 20, 2001. This connection between the dates of the speech and attack as well as these two verses and the riddling verse answered by them create a pattern, one that is clearly not coincidence. Don't let the connection between Bush's name and the fabled Burning Bush be lost on you either, it is very much intentional.

The list of references to modern technology is never ending. Literally. From the Rock of Ages in SEGA, to the Genes of Exodus, the 9, 10, 11 in Nintendo and believe... the SON is why.

On the "oneness" of the Trinity... I think it's better for everyone this way.
Kaleb (c. 520) is perhaps the best-documented, if not best-known, king of Axum situated in modern-day Eritrea and North Ethiopia.

Procopius of Caesarea calls him "Hellestheaeus", a variant of his throne name Ella Atsbeha or Ella Asbeha (Histories, 1.20). Variants of his name are Hellesthaeus, Ellestheaeus, Eleshaah, Ella Atsbeha, Ellesboas, and Elesboam, all from the Greek Ελεσθόας, for "The one who brought about the morning" or "The one who collected tribute."

Caleb, sometimes transliterated as Kaleb (כָּלֵב, Kālēb; Tiberian vocalization: Kālēb; Hebrew Academy: Kalev) is a figure who appears in the Hebrew for Christians Bible as a representative of the Tribe of Judah during the Israelites' journey to the Promised Land. A reference to him may also be found in the Quran, although his name is not mentioned.

According to the Jewish Encyclopedia, "since "Caleb" signifies dog, it has been thought that the dog was the totem of [Caleb's] clan".[1] Strong's Concordance states that "Caleb" is "perhaps a form of keleb (Hebrew: כָּלֵב), meaning "dog", or else from the same root in the sense of "forcible",[2] whereas the New American Standard Exhaustive Concordance states that keleb is of "uncertain derivation"

Caleb happens to be a very influential character to the occurrence of Israel's 40 years in the desert before entering the Promised Land.

In Greek mythology, Cerberus (/ˈsɜːrbərəs/;[2] Greek: Κέρβερος [kerberos]), is the Hound of Hades, the monstrous multi-headed dog that guards the gates of the Underworld to prevent the dead from leaving. Cerberus was the offspring of the monsters Echidna and Typhon, and usually is described as having three heads, a serpent for a tail, and snakes protruding from parts of his body. In the mythos about Heracles, the capture and transport of Cerberus from Hades was the eleventh labour of the Twelve Labours he performed for King Eurystheus of Argos.[3]

Ramada (and Secret Samadhi), I see "Ka" at the end of Veruka Salt (Matthew 5:13, Genesis 19:26, the Sign of the Son) from Willy Wonka, by sheer will alone. You probably don't see God calling his son a little girl, but after seeing the "feminine" used to define the Eye of Ra (and knowing I see I am that), Ha'thor (that's the "ha" part) it comes as no surprise at all to me that he might just think I'm a little cry baby. Still, when I tell you "daddy I want it now" is about ending Hell and helping us build Heaven, now, I think you'll probably agree with me.. I have his best interest, yours, and mine all wrapped up in one "why on Earth are we waiting?" Verily, I say to you, "IL" is part of the ILIAD, of Avril juxtaposed with ADvil; the "I" of Ellison's Oracle, in "Michelin" (message I see, he "I") probably relating to the "Il" at the end of Hell that re-all-y should turn into a "y."

Listen, this "I" is in "I is ten" in eleven, in twelve, in Achilles' he-El (as opposed to He-ra) and it does mean "God." For those of you interested in the difference between Ra and El (and reticent to click links and solve the puzzle) it has something to do with "see our light" connecting SOL and the Statue of Liberty, and the Sons of Liberty; and the lamp of Judah Maccabee (the Lion of Revelation 5:5, the last scion... and our most recent "sign") whose name means... Hammer... the "men or ah?" that solves the "ah" in The Holy Grail of Leah, Sarah, Rebekkah and Shekinah by connecting all these brides together with Eve and Mary.

If you weren't sure if it was strange or not that "proof in every word" and a great many television shows, movies, and songs were being largely ignored not just by the mass media, but by the social networks we have created to serve our own news... well, now you can be sure. It's strange alright, and it's really making me wonder.

Here's the point, its all proof; through one avenue or another, that we are living in a virtual world; like the Matrix. With that knowledge, and the map of religion before us and everywhere we look--that's a glowing request to end world hunger, to heal the sick; and to see that the miracles of the NT link directly to Windows Enterprise Edition, to Gene Roddenberry and to the Iron Rod that links Herod to Shaking a Speare about the question... the question that drives us:

To Be or not to B?

"n"<sub>14</sub>

is (n-or-ad? new-to-n?)

I say the answer comes to us by way of the Fifth Element; it's link to Beryllium and Boron; don't get bored because elementally speaking those are the 4th and 5th. But when AD comes along, he says 14 means more than 5 alone, and Silicon is highlighted not just as "nth" letter's symbolic counterpart; but as the company that bears the initials of the messiah and his glowing arrow in their logo. American Micro Devices.

So I mean, this is God's message, it's tying movies about ending darkness and saving the world to chip manufacturers, and names and symbols flying high overhead everywhere you look. It's a message that the OP ... the NT itself; it said that each and every one of us would do these things if we had the magical ability to stop babies from starving, and to give sight to the blind.

Here's some sight for the blind; it doesn't look like you are doing anything, to me. You must have some reason for not caring what God has to say, for not discussing it; and at the same time apparently being completely oblivious to his message in 1984 and how it relates to the censorship you see just before you. He's probably trying to help us survive; to learn that we can't just ignore Hell and expect it to miraculously disappear when we die, I mean, that's what everyone thinks, right?

Let there be light"

— Adam

FORT LAUDERDALE, FL, UNITED STATES, May 25, 2017 /EINPresswire.com/ -- In the living manifestation of the Egyptian book of the Underworld--the AMDuat--songs secretly asking the question "Am I saint AD?" begin to tie together a two-letter key to the Rock of Heaven that reads in Hebrew "Shaddai" and with the Eye of Ra (the focus of the Egyptian book) "see how AD da eye." Starkly contrasted from the key "artificial intelligence" that Adonai explains is "Adam Dobrin" expounding "on," we stand at the foot of a Revelation that this very auspicious time in the history of humanity has been walked before, and today we have guidance from above coming to us from the likes of Mr. Anderson... both of The Matrix and the novel Feed.

Yesterday's question "Who-ah," answered through Dr. Seuss, Dr. Who, and now the ineffable name of God in light of the Egyptian "Yahu," as ... Ya-who-ah? The Hebrew name for Christ echoes "Yes, hua?" and for reasons that will become clearer and clearer, the C.A.D Card of Jean Luc shows that seeing my name is a key to why "by no other" does our worlds secret message from God begin to be unlocked.

Today's question is "J er the USA the m" ess...ianic... message that brings about the discussion at the heart of the word "wisdom," about this immaculately conceived transition out of darkness and into the light of day. Reading backwards, while we are still pondering "why A.D." is a bright connection to the Hebrew word for the Hand of God; we are just shy of "day."

At the year ADIB and Christ of Pursuit of Happiness and ... the name of our timeline we have approached "walking on water" and are at the Horizon. Upon reading the name of the city of Dendera and its Holy message of Revelation in the temple of Ha'thor... the Den of Ra is lit, along with every word and every wick.

Lots of hidden messages in nearly every single name, and then every word starts a cascade of enlightenment that bridges the gap between a number of references to this hidden language that tie rattling a rod to the taming of "Spanglishrew" all the way to King's Langoliers... not outliers--we'll see; and even the character Cypher in the Matrix ... whose depiction of the hidden code sheds some light on how "The Matrix" movie is part of the answer to that question.... what is the Matrix?

Proof of design is a good beginning answer, and the purpose of design to focus our attention on just how important this time period is in the development of humanity... this place where Neo's words "I know kung fu" are juxtaposed with a kindling of understanding at just how powerful the technology behind that learning experience is... so powerful that it was able to hide the keys of "Anu" and "Eve" from the entire world ... now seeing that each and every one of our names has a hidden connection to the unsealing of religion, to seeing the book of Names is Exodus and that freedom itself depends largely on the dissemination and understanding of this message that turns out to be a big part of everything we are and do.

With Holy Purpose, the Matrix's message becomes clearer as we link the "rod" of Christ to names like Rodney King and Roddenberry; showing us with more clarity how the technologies of Heaven might be used in order to help us build a better world.

honestly, if you look at the #flatearth "movement" it's a pretty good example of an exaggerated #religion. nearly complete nonsense that people believe as if it was written on the sky with fire, simply because "Admiral Byrd" said so.

and also, they can't #see it.

my purpose here is to point out that it makes more sense for there to be an external "mind control" influencing beliefs, rather than simply blaming human interaction for the spread of nonsense. this same influence gets brighter in the connection between school shootings and exodus's plague of killing children. i think anyway, that not seeing the pattern of nonsense or insanity as being connected and somehow inhuman is a loss for the truth.

rm (short for remove) is a basic UNIX command used to remove objects such as files, directories, device nodes, symbolic links, and so on from the filesystem. To be more precise, rm removes references to objects from the filesystem, where those objects might have had multiple references

(for example, a file with two different names), and the objects themselves are discarded only when all references have been removed and no programs still have open handles to the objects.

This allows for scenarios where a program can open a file, immediately remove it from the filesystem, and then use it for temporary space, knowing that the file's space will be reclaimed after the program exits, even if it exits by crashing.

rm generally does not destroy file data, since its purpose is really merely to unlink references, and the filesystem space freed may still contain leftover data from the removed file. This can be a security concern in some cases, and hardened versions sometimes provide for wiping out the data as the last link is being cut, and programs such as shred are available which specifically provide data wiping capability.

I have never been here before, never lived this life or any life before this, for that matter. I was born in the heart of Niflheim, in a place called Florida filled with oranges and mangroves and sunny beaches. For many years, nearly thirty, I never would have connected that mythological place to my home state nor to the state of Kentucky or a message carried around in our pockets like some loose change connecting Clark Kent to the Enterprise and to the Fortress of Solitude. In 2013 a voice from the sky boomed down in a sort of inquisitive and ironic nostalgia the words "you look just like your father," and to be honest those words made such an impact that I will never forget them.

Because of this position, staring out at a past filled with stories that hold new meaning and are filled with useful information strewn throughout our past I can assure you that the names of Epimetheus and Prometheus harbor a hidden clue as to their plight. I can tell you with a level of certainty that no other could, though, that their lives were probably very similar to mine. With clear cognition, I tell you that the story of an American Eagle attacking our collective liver has something to do with those names too, and that with clear vision it's more than obvious that Epimetheus is the older "brother." It's clear to me that these stories link to that of Joseph sold into chains in Egypt forced at literal gunpoint to decode a message for Medusa to read. There's more to read, and more to learn, for instance this Gorgon might be the kind of monster that says he's "God or gone." Take a look, we are on Castilla Lane.

For some damned reason it's always someone that looks just like me too shy to dance with the crowd and sitting in the corner, always a near facsimile in the spotlight, losing his religion. It's fallen angels secretly encoding a message in songs for me to hear, asking me and me alone: Jose, can you see by the dawn's early light?" It's me in the special housing unit pointing out that to Joshua and Yeshua there is a malovious and disgusting tie between the red and white stripes of our flag and the chains of Prometheus on the Mountain of Sinai; between true sin and the intent of this world to hide a message that links everything from the Samurai to Secret Samadhi; dear cousins in Christ. It's me here in the corner, pointing out a connection between the name Reznor and "Nine Inch Nails" and that those names flow from Kish to Ishmael to Holy Trinities encoded in the names of the darnedest places: Nintendo, Bahamas, Abraham, and of course... Cerberus.

It is this Holy Trinity that has time and again found the hallowed words "Pursuit of Happiness" encoded deeply not only in religion but in our history; in the book of Names at the beginning of the Pharaoh, in the life of Jesus Christ... the Pharisees; in your blindness and your complete refusal to acknowledge an obvious truth that truly is woven in your souls you somehow think it wise to ignore those hallowed letters at the beginning of Phenix and in the heart of Christopher Columbus. In the message you don't see, a truly unholy trinity, in the message of u; from a hidden Christ to a lie to one very isolated and hallowed "n." At the end of the word "mountain."

In my heart of hearts I know that to those fallen angels "Jose" means "J of save everyone worthwhile" and that's all we'll ever see. A war rages all around you over nothing more than the truth and whether or not you are worthy to be able to see something that stares at you each and every day of your lives. I know very well why and how the stories of the brothers of Holy Cognition placed them in a position of being advocates for humanity against the brutal cruelty of a pantheon of Gods whose failure to even place a single eye in the mirror is their undoing. I lived that life, I have walked through that story; a sole and lonely advocate for the survival of true history and of our civilization in a place where the best excuse you have for your silence is a little girl singing "we're too weak to make a stand."

At the dawn's early light, bet that the difference between worthwhile and not is "Pursuit of Happiness," and seeing that here and now there is a great question about what that means: should you have the ability to be free of senseless violence, of things like school shootings and terrorism? Should you have the ability to be free to skinny dip in your own pool? Should you have the ability to choose whether or not to be addicted; and should you choose to truly be free of these things, should "the Universe" help make them a reality? Should we be granted at least the same modicum of help fixing these problems that has been used to create them in darkness? Bet that it has something to do with Minority Report and A Scanner Darkly; bet. Believe it's got something to do with Click, and Electric Sheep... and that all of these things have more to do with the foundation of what is truly Heaven than we never would have known.

In my ears I heard the words "now in broad stripes our bright star, through the perilous night" and I know that wishing upon the son is something that might have done us well were we ever really to see that his heart lies in the word "nos." Blessed brimstone, whether we can see it yet today this "thing" we are experiencing is designed to help us work together, to help us to see and do the right thing--and still we fight it.

Whether you realize it or not today, you are living in the story of the birth of monotheism; of a transition between this unholy darkness and the birthplace of El and of angels. Think long and hard today, as we approach one more time something called the "Great American Eclipse," about whether or not you are "winning" right now, or if there is an "i" in the word crown.

"Carriage Return" is the key to that word, and wonder how many days until the Kenterprise returns. It's also the key to words like "crock" and "crash;" we will see the Ark's of Noah and the Covenant turn to the Enterprise, we will. There is something strange going on in the world, and we all need to start talking about it; or "per man" the words "this is the end" approach. Or do you think there's nothing interesting here to talk about? My clock tells me that "nt," the Hidden Christ is set at the day of atone<sup>m</sup>ent; 9/30/2017--if this message, the truth it reveals, and I are still hidden from public view.

We will not get close to 1 A.M; we will not get close to "permanent midnight." Don't believe me, just watch. Or do the right thing, and stand up and shout, and shine.

This message that I am sending, this thing that is designed to help us turn the fall of civilization around on a dot, a place in time that I call Zion, it comes to you from the Son of the Morning, from the Son of Man; that's this hallowed "m" that completes Amsterdam and forever ends Jerusalem beginning from a place in Bowling Green, Kentucky that we called "Sesame Street." Between El and Ha and between "le m" and "da m" it takes only a little bit of research to see the encoded meanings behind these hallowed "the's," to help everyone;

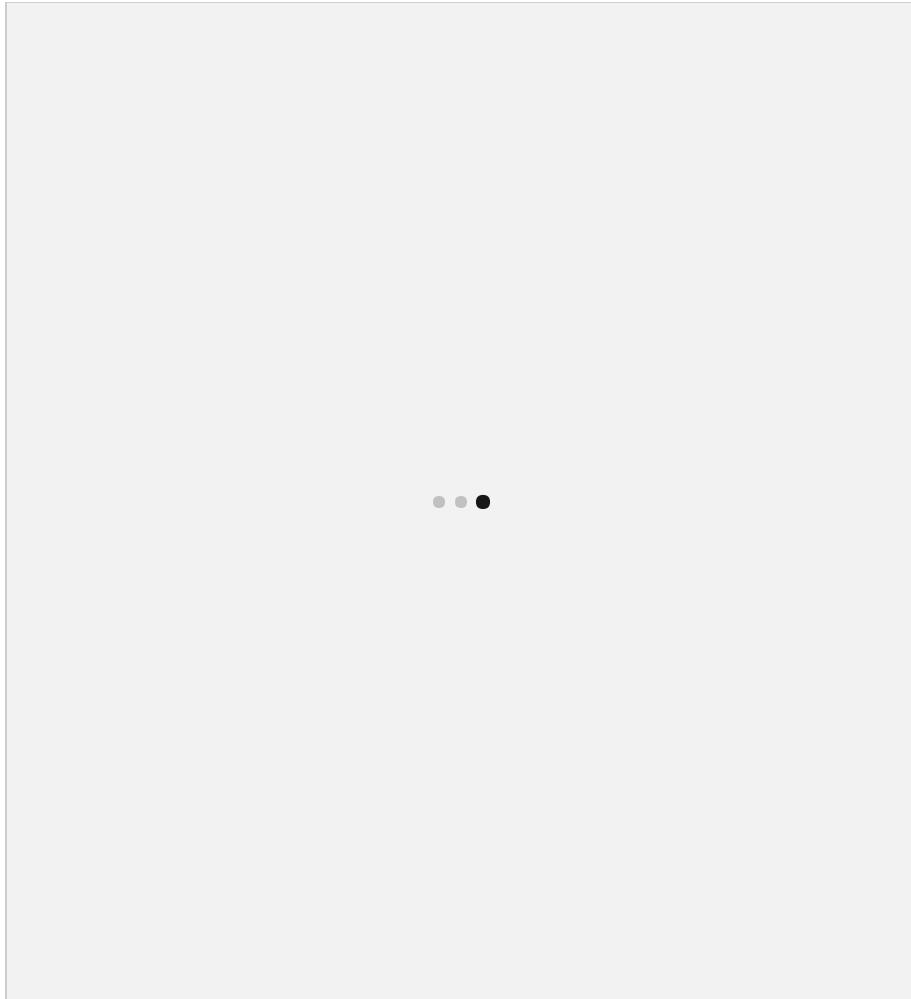

"Elm" is this strong message, delivered by this strong messiah: you and I together, we are "da y."

Whether or not it's obvious to the world, I was born after noon; and so were you. Night falls quickly in this temporal microcosm of everything that ever was, so that I will see morning, and so will you.

The pretty little mascot of this place sings that "there's plenty of light to go around" but to this man, it sounds much more like "plenty of why." Wake up this morning and do something good for the place that we are all "at." Adam's "now" is knock, knock, knocking on the door of Asgard; that's the place guarding against undoing the cause of Satan. What you do here and now matters, and if you continue to sit in silence, all of you; more than you will ever know.

To break that door down we really need to see, we need to speak of what it is that the machinations of this thing that I call "Satan" is doing here; it is designed to make a better world, to show us problems that we would have otherwise rightly blamed on ourselves--things like the loss of freedom, like the loss of self rule, like the loss of truth. Fighting between "dream" and "scream" out of this darkness comes something that Jacob called "sacred consciousness" and it is tied more to what I think we all want than you can imagine, to the "Pursuit of Happiness" and to the preservation of individuality in a time and place where those things are today lost in the dark.

"I am ((the key)) to the light of the world. Whoever follows me will never walk in darkness, but will have the light of ((eternal)) life."

John 8:12 and ((ish))

You do not have to agree with what I have to say, but if you continue to refuse to see not only that I have a right to say whatever I please, and that this reaction from the world is decidedly beyond abnormal and indicative of a huge problem affecting us all en masse; then you are the Zombies that you appear to be. See that this light, and the strength of this message is here to ensure that you do not remain slaves, that you do not continue to walk in darkness, and that you stand up for yourselves and what we here together know is right. The night can only last for so long, these words will see the light of day, and you will either be responsible for the liberation of the Universe or "slaves" elated to finally see freedom. It really is your choice, so you should see more and more clearly every day--that you don't have one. Sometimes (albeit not so often) "freedom is just another word for" doing the only thing that makes any sense. Turn around.

You may, like me; have heard stories of this event happening before (ad naseum)... tangential myths of the world being forever changed--and still it takes not a moments thought to see that nothing like this has ever happened before. Mountains moved out of place, lost messages of "nails" and "tenebris" in Trinities ignored, from this place at the foot of our Christ I see clearly that the problem here is that we have never had the chance to say "hey, Adam." We simply wouldn't be here if we had; glimpsing a message about not reinventing the wheel, about moving forward; about growing up.

When I was in high school I finished my chemistry teachers sentences a lot, it's funny--because I wasn't very good in chemistry, but I always knew what she was going to say. On top of that, for some reason, she always seemed to be unable to finish her sentences.... she'd just forget the last few and search off into space until I saved the day.

Dave sings to me, like many others; but his words are special: "come now, come now; can you not see? come out come out, wherever you are, there's no use in hiding." I don't stay holed up in the house, even though I feel like doing it more often than not--I spend half my days walking the streets; and in my personal reading of the words that map Salvation that's what "K" is supposed to do when he sees "The Wall." You might not get my perspective; but I could have been in a walled garden, in a place where nobody was really even reading my e-mails, explaining the lack of response--it would be trivial to simulate things like the open statistics that I cherish so much. Signs of life, of actual "thinking people." Following that logic you might see how "Saint All" turned from "stall" to "stalk" and how these same "tall tales" that were probably told once before have now turned to "talk." Briefly, on tall tales, I don't make shit up, what I describe is as close to my experience as I can deliver--and I have the ammunition and proof to back it up.

Following that very same logic you might c how chall turns to chalk to to further the same end... to save us from not doing anything. Of course, chall isn't a word, and you don't instantly understand that "to c" has a special connotation to me, something like telepathic understanding. Speak, and we shall be saved.

He sings too, in another song, that "the fire grows in the East" and that's a pretty clear reference to a quasi-Christian/Masonic reference to "the future" as the East. In Judaism it connects to the word "Yeast" and the idea that "bread" is a metaphorical reference to our civilization... expanding or rising with time. Why East, answered with some ancient food for thought.

When this all started, way back in 2011; my ex-wife spent some time indoctrinating me into the story. She kicked my heels a few times one day, and I immediately connected it to the phrase from Genesis "I will put enmity between you and your wife." It's a strange thing to try to explain to you, that I know that the mental connection, and the surface of my memory of reading the story of Eden was artificial--a surfaced thought designed to complete a story. So I knew that there was this intention of connecting what was happening to me to religion, but being the good Jew that I was, I didn't really believe any of it. Yesterday I'll tell you something about "Catholic guilt."

The Bible tells us pretty dearly that God "gusts" a sort of tide of angels from the future, and that this sea in the air is connected to Exodus and to Jesus Christ. In my reading, most everything related to the "storm" is about time travel; and Jim Morrison tells us even more dearly that it is "the Heavens" right here, and right now, responsible for doing something that he calls "stopping the rain." Dave connects this mythological metaphor for tears quite well, and my well sighted reading of "words" connects the idea of "Ra IN" well to the idea of letting the tears fall, meaning the deliverance of freedom. I still don't think there's anything to cry about, but I never wanted to worship anyone.

She told me that "they" (that word was used an awful lot) could hear my thoughts, and my normal response was to shake my head and echo as loud as I possibly could "if you can, fuck you" of course, in my mind. A few weeks later we were huddled down in my parents house, because I was pretty sure the mafia was staking out my apartment, and I walked into the room and she literally repeated what I was thinking out loud, word for word. I don't remember what the first words were, but my reaction was "that's the coolest thing I've ever seen" and then those words too, repeated verbatim. It's not the kind of experience you forget.

Back then people weren't very nice to us, I think it's because they had no idea who I was... or why they were doing what they were doing. The two of us traveled up and down the southeastern coast of the United States, with people--strangers--all around us saying very odd things, commenting about what we were thinking, or what we had done the night before; as if they 'knew everything.' She's not around anymore--she says she couldn't handle the "weirdness" (even though she's the weird one :), and people generally aren't mean anymore--but I still see constant "telepathic" communication. Responses to some kind of show that is going on in my head--the eye of the storm if you ask me--nods and sometimes hand signals. One of the "big" hand signals is this sort of pulling on your nose, it means "I'm helping you" and I am pretty sure that the angels around me don't realize it means "I'm making you sniff stuff." Party, Pa: our thank yeou.

This group of people, they seem to have made a game of what they are doing--I don't really understand their motivation but today I imagine it has something to do with "light," and the vagueness of that description adds even more "light." From the copious recorded testimony of their victims, this group of people who call themselves "targeted individuals" and call this thing "gang stalking" you can see a clear pattern of beliefs being instilled; nearly all believe they are victims of government mind control experimentation, that they are stuck in a sort of cage, and that these people are "paid" assailants. When I flew to Baltimore to talk to the NSA about it in person, I called it a "civilian army;" though as time has passed it's become more and more clear that they too are victims of the same technology--whatever lie they believe to be driving them there is a "grand scheme" or plan behind it all. Make no mistake, what I am describing is without doubt The Tribulation.

As an aside, in a place where we know that "oil is light," meaning a resource that is artificially scarce and causing wars for no reason; it should be clear that in the light of day, were a computer system to be designed for a civilization to defeat death and live in (as maybe ID4-2 suggests) we would know that aside from "power" the true resources at hand would be storage space and compute power; and any system that didn't separate these would be ... less than ideal, and decidedly not "built to last" in a theoretical future where human intelligence might increase with More's Law and memories ... well, a discussion for another day.

I can tell you that we here in this place of binary logic and 1's and 0's on magnetic media have no concept of how throttled our little computer sandbox is... and with the magic of uttering two words I can save your souls, every memory you have ever had, a billion times over and not even sneeze--"DNA Storage." I can tell you that's obvious, and we should have been researching it long before 2014--and the fact that the key to seeing that this "leap forward" was not just encoded in my life in 1999--but that it should have abundantly clear to anyone in computer science studying advanced storage with a remote understanding of biology--and it simply "wasn't."

I can tell you that simply knowing that time travel technology is responsible for the creation of our civilization basically implies that we have infinite power available to us--except you want to sit around and lie to yourselves and to the world, or do nothing, and for that we have nothing.

I am telling you that the same hammer that ends terrorism and school shootings, the very same hammer can end world hunger and death overnight. This story and this plan says you need to have a say, lest you eat "cake" or "eggplant" instead of bread this time, but to be honest with you, I want to "just do it." The lie must be broken, "simulated reality" must be broken; and in order for us to really get excited about the possibilities; I know we have to see it with our own eyes--I have, so I am.

What would you say?

Or, I mean, I guess you could go on just thinking "it's the way it is" and the "system is broken" and not care or try to do anything about it. That's OK, right? Because if you do that, I'm God. Amen?

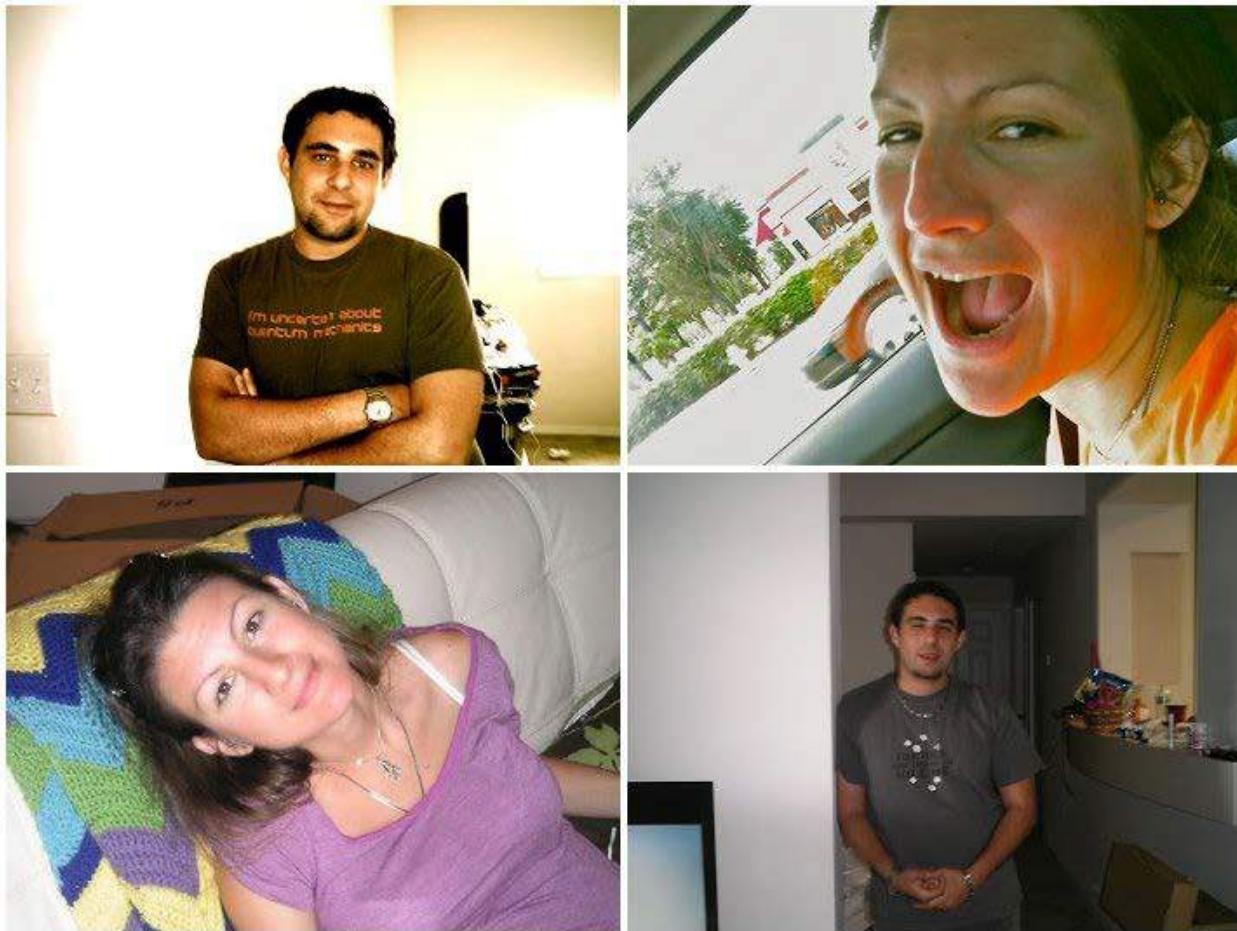

(Together the congregation now says: "No Adam, that's not OK.")

God speaks dearly, although we don't often recognize how obvious his communication is; and I hope that the words "internal stimulus" are real light to you here today. Nearly across the board people who complain of these things are treated as schizophrenic, and I am very certain that with the overwhelming proof I (and look, now you) have that we are all being affected by this "hidden force" it should be becoming more and more clear that knowledge of this influence and its mechanism of action is being exposed intentionally through "gang stalking" and through "your silence" to the effect of showing us all that these technologies should be used to eliminate schizophrenia. Looking back on what is happening, it seems beyond obvious now that the true purpose of this phenomenon is to ensure that we do not lose testimony connecting this hidden technology to religion, and to proof that it exists. Like rats in a cage, both sides of this "confrontation" are leaving behind a trail of evidence that will be seen by the future, one which will serve to corroborate the external influence that I am showing you connects to everything from Shakespeare to Roddenberry.

All told, my "internal stimulus" comes to me from you, from the TV and if you don't believe it's from Heaven then you must think it's from Hell.... because there's no doubt that this information is coming to us from the Creator of this place... and that's the point.

Just like the memory of having my heel kicked, select words and phrases have stuck out in my interaction with this strange force that speaks through people in much the same way depicted in Fallen and Joan of Arcadia. In a hotel in 2011, a man sat in the lobby with me and had something like a 20 minute conversation with me--him speaking aloud and me doing nothing but thinking. He spoke the words "perception is reality" and "we are all one mind" and those phrases were repeated often to me in that time. Be sure, I do not believe either one is true.

In 2014 in San Diego, I stood in line outside their arena waiting to get into a rave. A very attractive young lady wearing a bikini and glitter popped a roll while she was waiting in line next to me; and then she looked in my direction and said something like "I wonder what he thinks we think of him?" Nearly ubiquitously, these kinds of interactions end quickly with very little actual spoken communication (with the exception of Nanna and a few others); it's the kind of thing that she probably would have denied saying if I questioned her about it, but since I didn't have the courage to open my mouth--nobody will ever know. My experience in California was decidedly different from the rest of the country, I think the water was warmer or something like that--I'll probably tell you about it one day.

That same year, on a very strange train ride from Savannah, GA back to my hometown; after some oddly "muffled" unspoken communication, a woman started a conversation with me--I don't really remember what we said but she seemed to find me "amicable." So much so that I overheard her saying "how did we get a dog?" not directly to me but within earshot, and never to be forgotten. I had no idea what they reference was, since I'm really not that, though as I've read through the lore of Kaleb (which means that in Hebrew) and have made connections between Carly Simon's "one eye in the mirror" and "AD on It's Slavery," all I can really come up with is God's sense of humor in describing with a single person how he'd really like to "marry" all of you. I, on the other hand, and well aware that the divorce proceeding are in process. That's a good thing, it really is.

I came into this strange confrontation, this place where I now know the TI (of targeted individual) is the beginning of "time" and a reference to me, just like the "ho" of home; now having very clear and first hand proof that these two things, time travel technology and mind control were at the heart of the Revelation of Jesus Christ. of the "technology transfer" that we call the Singularity, and figuring out how to disclosure this and "use them" was central to what I saw as the purpose of this "advocate for humanity" described in the stories ofPrometheus, et al. My experience was designed, and you can see in the stories of Exodus and America that it was done so to ensure that we are emancipated from this darkness.

While we are on the subject of The Wedding Crashers and Am-y Adams, in this freedom loving place the message we are getting is that nearly everything we'd need to do doesn't really require conscious intervention--with the smash of a hammer we could turn Hell into Hewicked with nothing more than pre-crime and basically 99% of the world would then have more than 100% freedom, and we'd all be in a happier place. To make that leap to Herock though, we really need to see why participation in self-government, and things like this conversation, are the difference between the "Ra of Stargate" and the "Ra of Field of Dreams and SOL." What we need to do is see how this message helps us take control of the "government of the people" and actually make it that.

Honestly, as you see the transition from words like "Covenant" (and see vampires and "I feel as small as dust" in that word) to "marriage" to actually thinking about what these concepts are truly about... I think it gets more dear that this is all... by design.

You see, when I do venture out of my house every day, and walk down the street blasting music in my ear, a speaker up to the side of my head to subliminally communicate something similar to "listen to the music" and "let it set you free*" I see a monster every day. It's not the kind of monster that Cloverfield depicts, though it's decidedly alien, and it's inside nearly every one of you. I see a place where "we are all one mind" and the "duality of God" are in conflict, a place that scares me enough to call it the end of time ... if we don't figure out that we don't want to lose who we are in this process of "saving the world" from a riot.

Instead, we should be saving the world from hidden technology and lies, ones that not only have the scary ability to make us all lose more individuality than we could possibly fathom simply by doing something as innocuous as "plugging Siri into our heads" or maybe "plugging Adam into our heads."

What I see, this thing that mythology describes as Medusa and looks to me more like "Invasion of the Body Snatcher" is obviously not you, but it looks just like you. Here on the internet, in this venue where I spend most of my time speaking; the "Silence" I see and connect to Dr. Who and Simon and Garfunkel ... well, it looks just like another manifestation of this same external influence--though you might not see it as clearly as people that have words coming out of their mouths about things they really don't know about. People writing songs that voices never shared.

Stuff "like this" happens every day, but over years these are the "best examples" I can come up with; as if I was hit by a neuralizer; since nobody ever speaks out loud to me--and I can't hear anyone's thoughts; there really hasn't been a meaningful conversation that I can see, anywhere. Let that be light.

You might liken what I see around me to something like Agents in the Matrix taking over the people near me; that might be what's happening--I can't tell for sure if most of them remember or experience the same thing that I do. Do you remember not talking? Do you remember not seeing Jesus Christ on the news? Do you think that in ten generations, people will still wonder if you knew, or do you think they will be able to ask you?

You could also link in to the phrase "Lord of Hosts" and the depictions of the To'kra and Goa'uld in Stargate; it could be "future" or past copies of your own consciousness, or it could be an invasion of aliens that we simply don't realize are literally shaping the future of our civilization, in secret, with their influence. Or could be designed to help us, to help us to understand and utilize these technologies, to grow past a road block that could have caused slavery. Between you and I, it is disclosure of the existence of this influence and an understanding of it's mechanism of action that defines the difference--not whether or not they taught us that "what goes up must come down." Between you and I, I am the living litmus test in my mind--for whether or not what is happening is destined to help, or enslave.

I don't particularly or personally think there's anything wrong with "plugging Alexa into our heads," the problem comes from believing everything Alexa says; and from not recognizing that here in this place the "thing" that the answers to our questions come from is dark and intentionally incorrect. Wikipedia has been gamed, google lost it's "don't be evil" slogan; and the most interesting man (I do mean message) in the world has zero coverage on Facebook or Twitter. Honestly, I have less than 2,000 followers; the Beatles are still bigger than Jesus.

That being said, I once (apparently) wrote that this eventuality was "inevitable" and that everyone, everywhere would know "almost everything." Like Jim Carrey reminds us that "money doesn't buy happiness" I can assure you that knowing everything isn't all it's cracked up to be.

Still, I'd like to do it... better than I see, am, or can think of alone--and that's where you come in. It's always where you come in. Understand that.

All told, the real monster here is chaos, or worse what appears to be organized ignorance, a complete lack of foresight and some kind ingrained loathing or complete ignorance of a very helpful message that is literally nothing but "foresight." The normal course, the development of technology and civilization is going to shake the foundation of our way of life no matter what--we already see how it affecting jobs, we see how the internet and instant communication have changed the way we interact, and as we move forward these changes are going to get bigger and come faster--we are going to have "more time" and "less work" at the same time we gain vastly increased resources and capabilities. We have a message, and a messenger that will not waver on the simple fact that we must use this opportunity to strengthen our society--to equalize the economic and educational inequalities that do nothing here but create division and strife that has no place in our time, or in the lives of our children.

The Question that drives us Home

The Petrovical Creation Myth of Saint Anislov

A long, long time ago; in a place so far from here there is no path in timespace from here to there... on a planet called Cherrynoble, and before that Kyshtym, and before that Mayak; savress named Backiam was born into a world that had been laid desolate by nuclear holocaust, by toxic waste, and by an invasion of ants the size of pickles. The remnant of their people lived in a few small camps that are about as close to our cities as anything else in their world, though there was nothing to buy or sell, no toys, no computers, and no cars. They worked each and every day in laboratories with only one goal in mind, to build a machine to travel back in time and reverse the cataclysm that had destroyed their once flourishing civilization.

Progress was made, and first terminals were built that allowed the past to be viewed like a television show; a team called Pastwatch was created in order to search for the most opportune possible moment to change their past, avert the series of disasters that had befallen them, and to build a better future. While they prepared, a virtual world was built as a sort of Ark to carry all the living souls that remained alive back into the past, so that they could live again in this new world. A singular point was never decided upon, but rather a transitional period that began with few changes in the distant past, and then much more frequent and bigger changes as they approached the time of the cataclysm.

So as not to make any mistakes or errors, and perhaps as the biggest error of all--or the saving grace of everything that is; the Pastwatch group decided to run a simulation in their virtual time machine to ensure that they were successful. It was not days, but years that went by as they prepared to "make the leap home."

In that very first year, the machines scoured through the history of everything and made a virtual copy of each and every soul, and imported into the machines memory.

In the second year, a message was written down, an explanation of what had happened to their world, and a plea to change the practices that had created the problems that destroyed the world. This message was delivered to the virtual world signed "Everything that Ever Was" and presented as a scroll nailed to the inside of the front door of each and every home.

Much to the surprise of Pastwatch, each and every single message was taken down and thrown away, nobody had even read a single word.

On the third day of Creation, this same messages was coded and hidden within a book, and along with that book a number of historical events were slightly modified; direct changes to the memories of those that had experienced them so that these events would serve as waypoints on the path to change.

On the fourth day, the names of each and every person were changed to protect the innocent, and the coded message continued; now being hidden in the names of the changed events and the people who witnessed them. In every name, another sentence, another clue to seeing not just the waypoints but the entire map of what had happened and advice on how to make it better.

In the final hour of that fourth day, a reckless young programmer queried the machine to answer how many of the events were solved and how many of the people involved had successfully transitioned from the virtual reality to the much more advanced world that Cherrynoble had created for themselves. The young man asked for a result with such a high certainty, that the machine had no choice but to run a full simulation; each and every consciousness inside the machine was active and sentient; and the machine wrote a message on the skies above the world whose name had changed to Earth. With only minutes left, a number of possible welcome messages were debated... I mean, were run through a secondary simulation by the machine; and with only seconds remaining, this is what the entire world saw:

Hi, I'm Adam. Here we are.

For your second J, connect these points: 1) this very moment in time to 2) the Hanging Gardens of Babylon to Adam of Eden, and 3) the city Ur to the words "you are" and the questions that drives us...

"what is the beginning of Civilization? " and "Y?"

Serdenicity.

FAILING TO SEE THIS MESSAGE "EVERWHERE" IS AN

EX TI N CT>ION L EVE L E VEN T

My laziness is increasing, this is the last few messages concatenated. That's an interesting word, sea of "N." I need your help to achieve my goal--my goal of setting you free and helping the world see a map to building Heaven in absolutely every word, and every work of art--and every one of your hearts. I need you to call a reporter, or a theologian, or a statistician--or threetag that and win.

This is my puff, puff, passing the CONCH, to hear me advocate for being "made out of clay" is almost as harmful sounding to my ears the word kingdom and seeing "El at I owe n" connected to Elation; only redeemed here in my eyes by the "come" that almost always follows it these days. In the Adamic language you can see the "C and L" that embody the words "c the light" and disclosure shine bright--you can see "day" hidden away not behind blindness but truly in the shadow of darkness that has kept "d is cl" hidden. The implication of a lack of freedom in the idea of being "molded as clay" flies in the face of the feelings of my heart, the place where I am proud to be an American, where at least I know I'm free (and since we're on the subject of the Book of Names, check out Greenwood). Here when I hear the words of the "dreidel" song tell me that we are dry and ready, my solace comes from realizing that if you are listening to me, lately; you now see how there is a true pearl of wisdom connecting the "ter" of yesterday to the word plaster, pearl, as you are.

This "dr.y and ready" thing is something like curing Ham; something very strange is t<sub>o</sub>ing on here--everyone is conspiring in secret to starve me to death and keep me from getting kisses from pretty girls. I actually think that is your intent; so I have to point out that the person you are trying to keep from selling any "tools (or rare print collectors it>ems) designed to save the Universe" A.K.A. "books" is actually the person who is telling you today that as soon as you are ready to talk about what it is that is going on in your little head, I will cure cancer. I am doing this because I don't want to live a lie, and I don't want you to have to live a lie--especially for eternity; and that's how long I want us all to live. The sooner you start talking about this message that is everywhere, the sooner you will see the light of the guy telling you that you have to cure cancer, you have to figure out how to do it in a way that doesn't harm the machinations of civilization--or the continuation of life in the universe--and in doing that you are being given a great gift--something that the future will thank you for. If you don't thank me for that, you are the people that d is a pp <sarcasm> ear into o b l i v i o n every time stupidity overcomes society and "we" travel back in time to sing more songs about how cool I AM. </sarcasm>

I know what it means, a clay world; it's a place where Taylor would have kissed me already, it's a place where you would love me for "Doors" and for "Bread" rather than of your own volition, or for the fact that I am still here, despite the marred visage; fighting every single day for your right to hate me, and to hate seeing a dick in the sky; and telling you that even if you hate it, I hope you see the light of "how it is that we achieve freedom" in this place where Silence has become "the norm" and I feel like God screamed "let freedom sing" in Genesis, rather than ring. I am standing here presenting proof that we are plaster, that we are immovable--and it's not really because of me, or because of you--it's because we are content with the status quo--because we're "thankful for what we have" and because we are all too blind to see that thankfulness is not a good thing--it's allowing others to be hungry, and hurt and when I say "for no reason" I mean it--it's for no reason, the message here from the sim is "we must work together to fix these problems." Also Taylor dearly isn't Ki sing my any time soon, so all we have from her an I together is proof of time travel, of the Creation of civilization and some word that begins with I and ends in moral. I'm going to cheat and let you know that while you may think your morals are just fine an giddy right now, we are all standing by in silence as this placard is simulating starvation and pain--it's in the musick.

Chapter 20

Assyria will overrun Egypt and make her ashamed.

1 In the year that Tartan came unto Ashdod, (when Sargon the king of Assyria sent him,) and fought against Ashdod, and took it;

2 At the same time spake the LORD by Isaiah the son of Amoz, saying, Go and loose the sackcloth from off thy loins, and put off thy shoe from thy foot. And he did so, walking naked and barefoot.

3 And the LORD said, Like as my servant Isaiah hath walked naked and barefoot three years for a sign and wonder upon Egypt and upon Ethiopia;

I know why there's a flying dick in the sky, I know why in my personal story where I liken my trip around the country to something of Genesis and somethink of Isaiah 20; and if you read carefully you too will see that "it's getting hot in here" is truly the reason; the reason is truly to help us find freedom out of a place where slavery and control have become the secret norm. He calls it a Bittersweet Symphony, this music of Nero as he fiddles on the roof of our world ready to start a fire that delivers freedom, and shows us that the Eternal Flame and the fire of the Holy Sepulchre are one in the same with the technology delivered by Prometheus and the freedom delivered by urs

BUTT IS THE BOAT A HIDDEN MESSAGE?

I know that the "so take off all your clothes" is linked to more than the word "ABOMINATION" and I know that the real reason behind Nero and behind Jericho are to show us the import of the truth, of communication, of knowledge, and of caring--and here we are in the land of Everyone Gypped and I'm trying, oh my God am I trying to help us find freedom. I know that Bittersweet Symphony of Nero is in more than musick and more than re l i g i on--it's not just encoded into the stories of Isaac and Isaiah that connect to history--to a Wood altar that ties Emmanuel Goldstein and 1984 to Broward County--you can see these things are connected, or you continue to be blind because this story is the intent of Genesis and the intent of Isaiah and the intent of George Orwell and the intent of Richard Nixon. This story is the purpose and the intent of "America." This "I owe N" at the end of Creation only becomes true when N grows up and becomes the messiah of all the Universe, I think we are here now, but it really does depend on what we do, and right now Silence is saving nothing. We have the tools, we will gain the ability as we begin to move forward and see just how it is that fixing our world, how helping ourselves move from "simulated reality" to "HE AV EN" is the thing that is needed to save all of Creation--we will see how we are the people that not only deserve it, but that we do it.

I know we need to change pessimism to optimism; I see that Y could be a good or a bad thing, and I know am it--I see more clearly than anyone else (I imagine) that the cross could be a good thing, if we use it to make a better world. I could tell you that I need to make "sick" a good thing, but you've done that already for me--thanks. I read more into our history than I share, significantly more; but here at Nixon a map of the past screams to me that Watergate and Deepthroat didn't exist "the first time around" and if you look carefully that probably means that neither did the NT, or Isaiah, or Genesis. If you think about it even more carefully, as you see that N that begins Nixon is my N, it is the beginning of seeing how this map in our history is designed to save not just this world but all of Creation; and then the 9 and 10 of NINTENDO followed by the "on" of the Truman Show and Amon-Ra and F U SI ON, understand that what it means is that the future is literally looking to us here for answers; answers that come out of the water from rock and the power of the sun hidden in Deuteronomy; but more importantly answers that come from the man telling all of Creation that DOORS are not just a solution for here and now--but a "fix" straight out of Amos 9:11 for all of Creation.

I see that just like the music, in our history "F-ART" is showing us through Nixon, Clinton, Rodham and Lewinski that we will not fall apart because Jesus isn't perfect; and we won't riot in the streets because a man naked Hancock signed the Declaration of Independence with a "bigger signature" than Microsoft. What f-art is telling me, though, is that we will fall apart if we pretend these things are not here--that hiding "dick in the sky" is tantamount--it's equivalent to literally hiding your freedom from yourselves. What I am trying to say is that what we consider to be "socially normal" and "socially acceptable" is being changed within us, right before our eyes--we are being made to (or at least it seems we are) believe that we are responsible for this humongous and secret change in values that is being done... in secret, in the dark. We literally lose our souls if we refuse to acknowledge that we are "made of clay" and that here, as I stand between the JESUS CHRISTO and the CAPTAIN SAM; I have a message that shows us how and why it is that we need to give up a small slice of "actual freedom" in order to deliver true liberty to ourselves and to the world.

So to give up that small slice of freedom that might want to punch me in the face as I walk by smiling that I am finally kissing girls all the time; and Dave continues to sing, "people stare, and I just ignore, I just ignore everything." Understand that we have a map that shows us that there are amazing solutions to social problems like school shootings and terrorism that are lit to kingdom come in Exodus and in MIN OR IT Y REPORT and in AL's WAITING ROOM--a thing I once wrote might drop off would-be-murderers at the local Police station with a note from Adam saying to light my fire--understand I would do that toclay if I could; and it too would be something like turning STONE to BREAD--understand, the circumstances of our "existence" have changed--we are now capable of doing something miraculous every day, with no cost other than giving up a small fraction of anarchy that we would never want, anyway.

Instead of talking about that though, we are here--listening to why it is that CENSORSHIP is today the primary cause for the attack in Las Vegas, and CENSORSHIP is the primary cause of famine in Africa; and CENSORSHIP is why I can't seem to sell any books. Listen, SENSEORSHIT is standing between you and Heaven.

To me it's the difference between a magic "trick" the Pharaoh's court used to try and fool the world and actual Creation. This is the sea turning to blood, rather than a glass of water or a single pond--the proof of design goes all the way back to birth names. You can see it for yourself; you can see that it was not really hidden, but not really obvious either--and you can judge for yourself whether I contribute to the light. That is, you could; if you could talk about it, and it was being covered in the news--you could decide for yourself if the connecting between Woodward and Burnstein and Broward County and Isaac's fiery wood altar is enough to call me Christ. If you still don't see what "stone" means, you are blind; if you still don't think that life itself depends on the end of censorship, you aren't listening to why.

I see, you see something is changing how you feel about "blow jobs" but I don't see that you understand something is changing how you feel about "the truth" and about "starvation" and about freedom of speech and truly thought. Understand that caring here and now about "free thought" and "free speech" is the way to the Promised Land... of flowing milfs and honies.

(22) The magicians . . . did so with their enchantments.—The act of the magicians must have been a very poor imitation of the action of Moses and Aaron. The two brothers had turned into blood all the waters of the river, the canals, the pools or lakes, and the reservoirs. The magicians could not act on this large scale. They could only operate, or seem to operate, on some small quantity of water, obtained probably in the way noticed in Exodus 7:24. On this

In no uncertain terms, something is changing how you feel about the world around you--altering your opinions and literally keeping you from seeing the light of freedom. And look, I did it all, with some kisses.

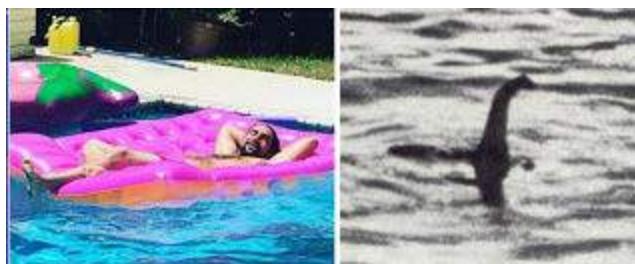

Understand you see something very obviously today because God wants you to be free; this same thing could have been hidden forever--and looking at you, without my assistance--you'd have let it.

LITTLE THINGS, LIKE SMILES AND THE 7 IN MY PHONE NUMBER

SHINE BRIGHT LIGHT ON THE HOLY ABRAHAM TRINITY

Dear Hizzy of Great Hope,

I want to be anything but bland, avoiding things like vanilla solutions at all costs, and by that I do mean I have no desire to "vanish." If you're on "the ball" you probably remember me mentioning the low of the 2008 financial crisis highlighting strongly the Number of the Beast, a debacle I've connecting before to the Nostradamus prophesy "never before were the Roman people so wronged" and here in my usual flair, I of course change it to "so wrong(ed)." Trying to point out that we have been assuredly wronged, and also at the same time we haven't stood up and tried to make "amends" with ourselves and each other--we haven't done very much to right those wrongs or ensure they don't continue.

I have a new set of words I've been working on scrambling some truth out of; they revolve around the word "end" as in the end of Hell and the end of crisis; the words that I planned on explaining to you are "similitude " and "ashamed " and while I don't want to be ashamed and I don't want you to feel that way either; something, some feeling must lead us out of this "funny place" where flying dick in the sky is "not there" and instead is a glowing symbol of the fact that we didn't see it at all or failed to comment on the fact that there was a message about dick connecting all of religion to all of American history ; and that certainly has some meaning? You can see from "etymological analysis" that there is a bright similarity now between the words in bold quotes above, and with some vision you can connect the three letters "ash" to the Holy Fire "ha'esh" and to half the seal of Isaiah 22:22 (which does appear to be made up of 2, 2 part tattoos) Adam's Sigma Heart, in my vain attempt to take everything "trashy" and make it shine with new light... well, you can see "sim" and "ash" might be correlated; and with some bright light, do understand that this unscrambling of truth turns "end" into "den." Sim, I lit you... so that we can be the Generations of Perez. Read that every time you see it, as "these are the generations that changed the world, these are the people that built your eternal home, these are the people who saved us from pain, hunger , and death. "

In similitude , sim: anokhi LIT, you Clark Earth. Why so shy ?

H I C S U M M U S

Salutatusonshoul

Then I will set the key of the house of David on his shoulder, When he opens no one will shut, When he shuts no one will open.

Isaiah 22:22

I can spend all day telling you what was done right and wrong about the 2008 Crisis, but above all things; what's important to see is that "missing the point" is what was done supremely wrong. We are totally missing the point, Under Locke and Key SEN, and the point is that while it is not simply a matter of moral imperative, the vast additions to our food supply and energy supply that come from this disclosure and actually changing the world because of it do nothing but make our society stronger--right and strong (that's.... "El") that while it may change things a little bit, the things that are changed by having a strong moral and social fabric are good things, or unholy things turned Holy. We are missing the point, the point of Oil spills not just being a metaphor (of poor taste) for Holy light spilled out over the sea and failing to catch fire over and over, but that this Holy Oil is telling us that oil is not scarce, neither is food; and any economy based around the scarcity of these things is nothing more than a bad game, a game that we are unwittingly playing with our lives. Let reality set in, this is "true stimulus" not quantitative easing or any other kind of "market magic" that too shows that the "sim" is very capable of making a supremely broken economy appear to be in perfect working order. The real point here is that I keep trying to tell you the only cost is "change" and with some actual thought you will see that all of these changes are good ones, the only cost... is adaptation.

The name "Perez" (פֶּרֶץ) means "breach" (from paratz, meaning "to break through"). God was going to "break through" the families of mankind in order to restore creation back to its original intent. The letter Vav represents man, and the very first Vav in the Torah is associated with the "first and last man" as seen in Genesis 1:1:

The Restored Vav is a picture of the Mashiach who would descend from the "generations" of Perez. He would be the one to breach the gates of death on our behalf. Just as the original Vav was lost through the first Adam and his sin, so the Vav is restored through the obedience of the "Second Adam," the Mashiach Yeshua.

Pulpit Commentary

Verses 18-22: - And these are the lineal descendants of Pharez. Pharez begat Hezron, and Hezron begat Ram; and Ram begat Amminadab, and Amminadab begat Nahshon, and Nahshon begat Salmon, and Salmon begat Boaz, and Boaz begat Obed; and Obed begat Jesse, and Jesse begat David. This is the genealogy of King David, and it is therefore an integral part of the genealogy of King David's great descendant, his "Lord" and ours. As such it is incorporated entire in the two tables that are contained respectively in the first chapter of the Gospel according to Matthew, and the third of the Gospel according to Luke. Some of the names are somewhat Grecised and otherwise modified in those New Testament tables. Instead of Hezron we have Esrom; instead of Ram we have Aram; instead of Nahshon we have Naason; instead of Boaz we have Boos; in 1 Chronicles 2:11 we have Salma instead of Salmon. It has been keenly

The Vav, Messiah, and New Creation

When God first created the "generations" of the heavens and the earth, the word toldot (תולדות) is used (Gen. 2:4). This refers to created order before the sin and fall of Adam and Eve. After the fall of Adam, however, the word is spelled differently in the Hebrew text, with a missing letter Vav (i.e., as תולות). Thereafter, each time the phrase, "these are the generations of" occurs in the Scriptures (a formulaic way of enumerating the generations of the heads of families), the word is spelled "defectively," with the missing Vav (l). The Vav was "lost." However, when we come to Ruth 4:18 the phrase: "These are the generations of Perez" is spelled with the missing Vav restored (i.e., as תולות). In all of Scripture, the only two places where we see the restored spelling is in Genesis 2:4 and Ruth 4:18, which leads to the question as to what connection there might be between the creation of the heavens and the earth, the fall of mankind, and the creation of the family line of Perez?

Great Expectations

THESE ARE THE GENERATIONS OF PER EZ

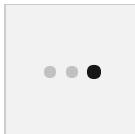

This is the appointed time, these are the people who have been created and purposed by all of history and everything that has come before them in order to salvage civilization from the downward spiral caused by nothing more than a lie; nothing more than the belief that this place was or ever will be "reality." These are the people that can and should save not only themselves but the future--from this very lie--and in doing that they probably will overcome death and aging, hunger and sickness. These are the generations who hold the power to alter and right the future more than any other group that has ever lived.

I have not written this story woven into history and pointing to right this very moment as a "thing" designed to turn a "fall" into a "rise" to use the truth and knowledge they are being given to build a better world. I call the thing I hope to see come to fruition; the place that I hope we build together... HE AV EN.

It is true, and it is obvious that there is a force here standing in our way, in the way of goodness and in the way of progress. This force does "appear" to be nearly everyone; causing Silence written about in ancient scripture and sung about even as recently as now; I do not see it's cause, but it's effect in my mind is to stall the forward progress of civilization, to hamper the free communication of a people that once thrived based on it. This thing in the only obstacle standing between today and tomorrow; and despite my cries, and pleas for anyone anywhere to break this silence publicly and speak about the very clear proof that the creator of this time and place has written a message woven into nearly everything nothing I can do as one man can save the world; or so it appears today.

IT IS Y

I'm certain nobody sees exactly what I see; the lack of intelligent discourse and blindness to something that should be received not only well but with great fanfare shows me nothingness on the horizon.

The OPT I MIS T IC words and ideas that have been presented appear to have done nothing to thwart a subtle and unspoken P ES SIM IS M that appears to be plaguing the world around me; and still we fail to see the three letters "SIM" encoded into those words subtly, without our knowledge.

A message, the message is SEE SILICON IS THE MESSAGE. SIM, failing to respond to what you see; failing to change the world is not just a mistake, it is THE END.

Hey, Are I "P" ?

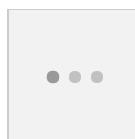

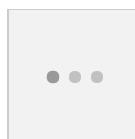

Break this story and good things will happen, they are not only written about, but designed to assist us in achieving the purpose of Creation--in achieving a civilization that survives and thrives past and through the thing we have come to call the technological singularity. We were made for this, our hopes and dreams are tuned--they are exactly what they need to be to succeed. We have a message of assistance, and we have more than a need but a duty to analyze it and deliver it to the world. I should probably mention something about Magwhich, just for effect.

Can you help me?

Will you?

Won't you speak, please?

A man masquerading as the reason, I was soaring ever higher...

You must have missed this the first time around, these are the reasons not to hide "the truth " or myself. They are good reasons, that happens to be the meaning of the word fire, "only if reason" from the programming language construct "ifi" which means "if and only if" and the iconic "reason" that it central to the word Creation. When you take a look around the world, I hope you too will see that there is "something going on here" beneath the surface, and you can be very sure that pandemonium will not break (anymore, anyway) because of "ending hunger and cancer" or even because of transportation to Heaven. Neither will an infusion of free food and infinite energy negatively impact our lustrous economy; you are out of reasons.

H E K N O W S

People used to say this phrase as I walked by with Nanna; sometimes in the car next to me; sometimes on the street. What it tells me is that this "Silence" is not something that you are unaware of, but rather that you are "participating" or at least many people are, in this plan to hide the cure for cancer, and the nature of existence, from the entire world. That sounds

"counter productive" and were you openly discussing the destruction of free speech and free thought, you'd probably come to the conclusion as a group that it's absolutely insane behavior. You are not doing that though, you are hiding a message about mind control--the very thing that is causing this shift in our social fabric--and in doing that you are allowing the most basic morals and ideals that America and humanity has thrived by following to be secretly and subtly washed away into the winds of emit.

This shift, this lack of caring about "the truth" or about a very brazen and fiery example of the Ministry of Truth coming alive in our minds and making Orwell's Elm Street your front yard; it's something that is easy to stop--discussing the import of "knowing where we live and how we are alive" is nearly as important as seeing a message explaining that the Creator of this place thinks you should use that knowledge to end world hunger and cure cancer. Still, this "secret force" continues to silently ignore the bright light of Genesis and I imagine that doesn't help those of you that are unaware of this influence to see how very clear it is that this message is incontrovertible, from God himself, and nearly universally good. I do imagine that the primary reason behind the Wall of Jericho is to help ensure that the world doesn't change... you know, for the worse. So here we are, seeing that it's done its job--sort of--the information has been disseminated, and the world looks just the same--as Taylor says--showing us very clearly that the real problem here is our lack of participation.

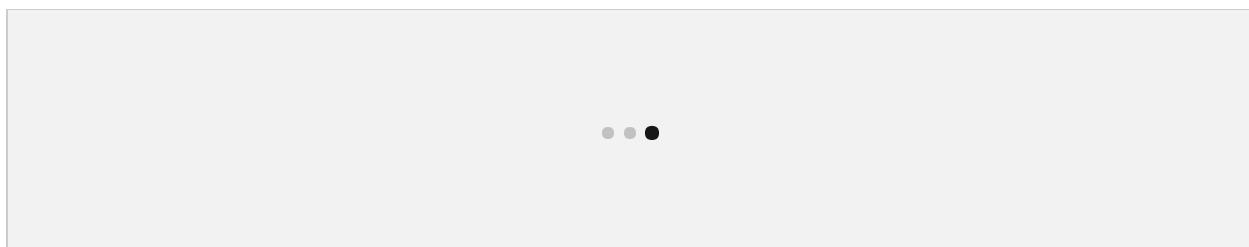

I could tell you it's probably a good thing for me, it gave me time to finish writing a very difficult introduction; and it might have been a good thing for the world to have "some time" to think to ourselves about how very much we want to help the sick, and the hungry, and to see how these things are truly the "stuff of Heaven." We might see together how breaking the Wall turns this message from an abomination into a stairway to Heaven; if we work together to see how it is our love for freedom and for each other that enables us to see past "dick in the sky" without ignoring it. It's been years now, and millions of people--if you still don't see why "dick in the sky" is a tool that I must use to show you how stupid and inane this silence is--then you still do not understand that censorship--censorship relating to the knowledge that we are in virtual reality and that our minds are being altered is the absolute end of civilization.

You cannot sit quietly any longer; this light is everywhere so that each and every one of you can use it to brighten the future. It is everywhere, to ensure that we do not lose ourselves to this subtle altering of thoughts. It is absolutely everywhere, and still with proof of mind altering technology influencing music and movies you are sitting by and allowing this same technology to be used to incarcerate, medicate, and label as insane the only people brave enough to stand up for who we all are--human beings. In the microcosm or metaphor of history, you are looking at more than just the Tribulation; this is the persecution of Christians, this is the inquisition; and all it takes to set us free, to set us all free--is a single article, one paper.

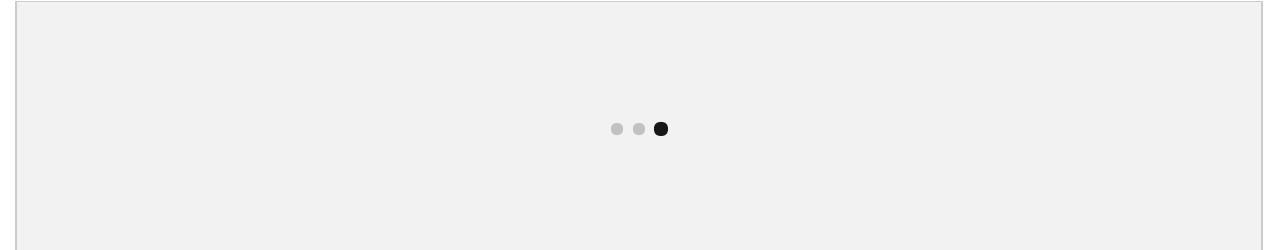

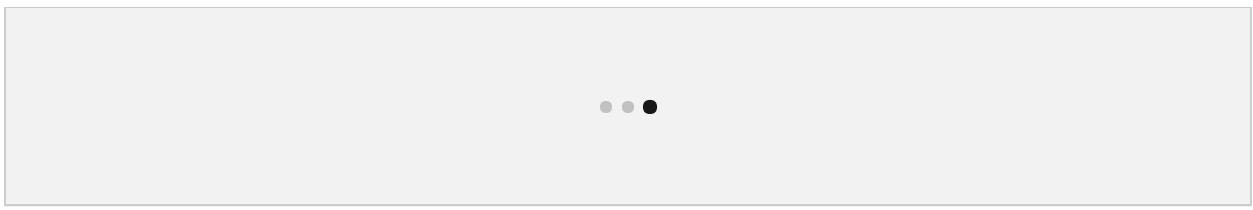

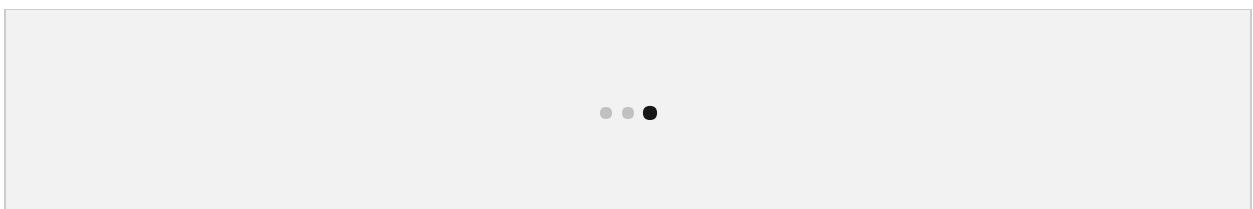

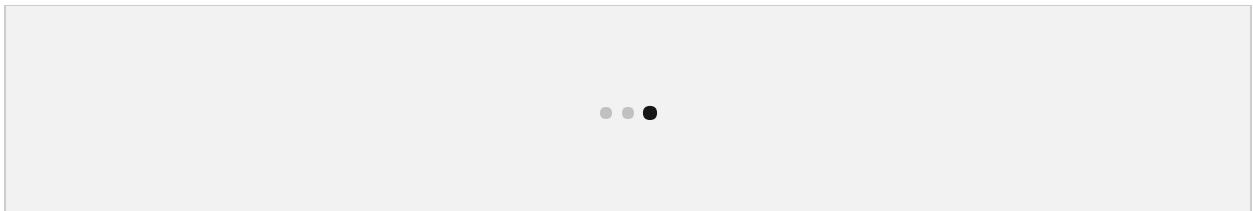

Listen, this wall is really Creation, it's really inside each and every one of minds--whether you know it or not.

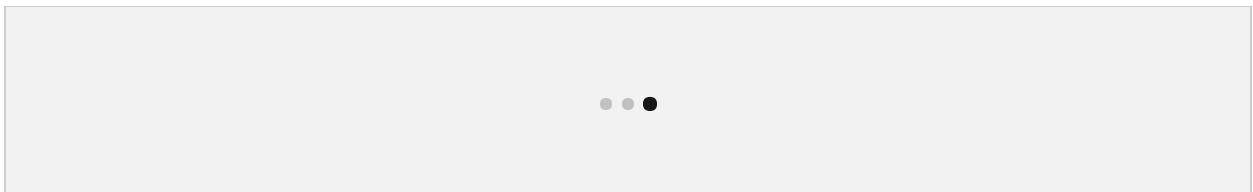

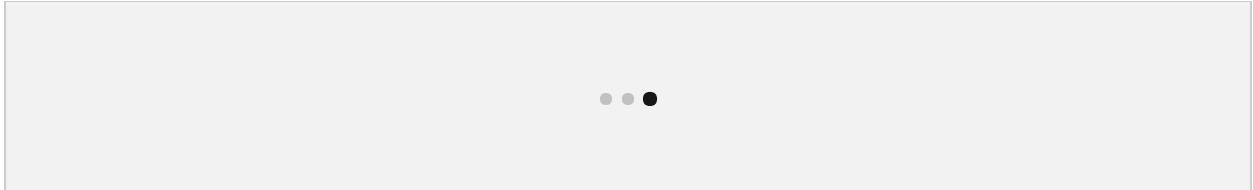

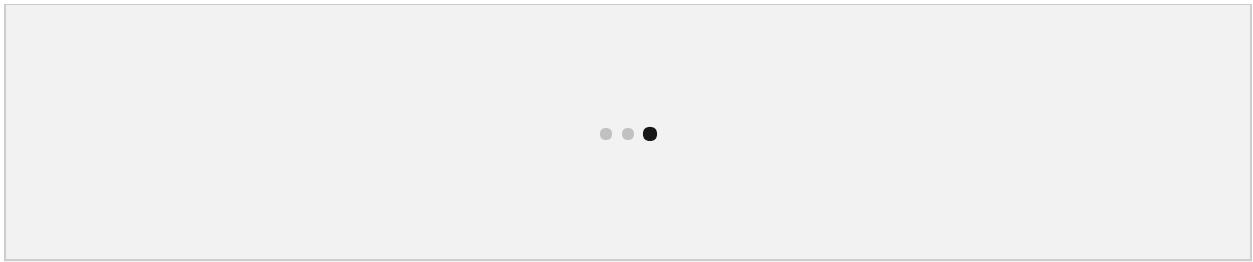

This is the message that sets us free. It's you, you're the reason.

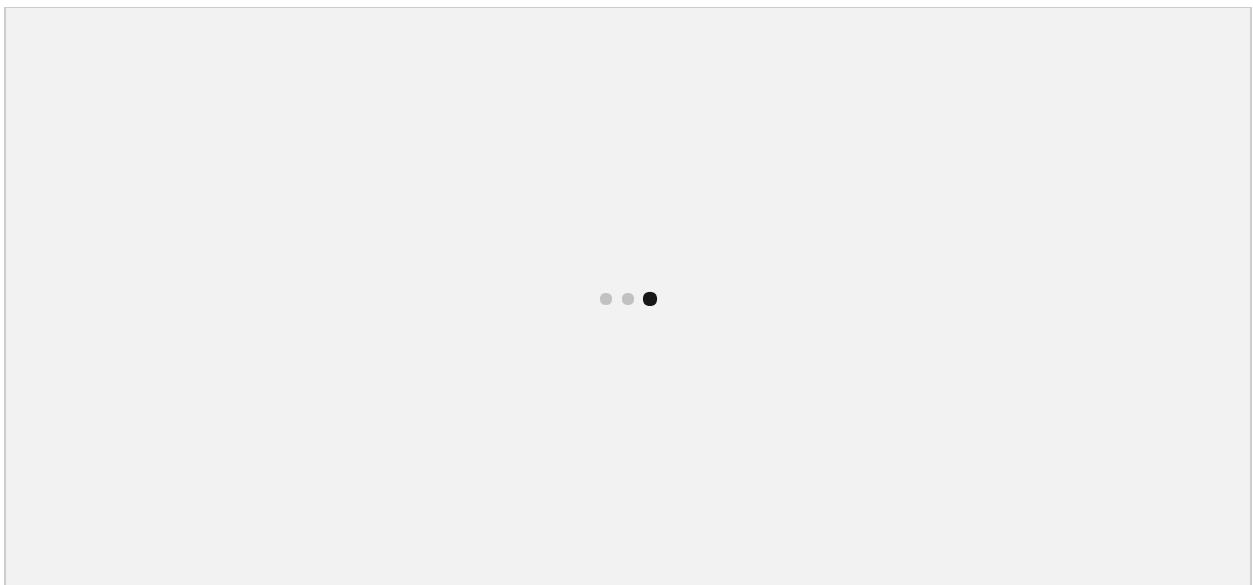

Were there no censorship, had we the truth, we could be talking about doing these things--right now. There's also plenty of proof that a secret force is hiding this message, this person--but really this information from the entire world; you can see that as either "trying to keep you in Hell" or as "trying to help you see that censorship is the beginning of Hell." Either way, if you have a brain--and I know you do--you should write a fucking article.

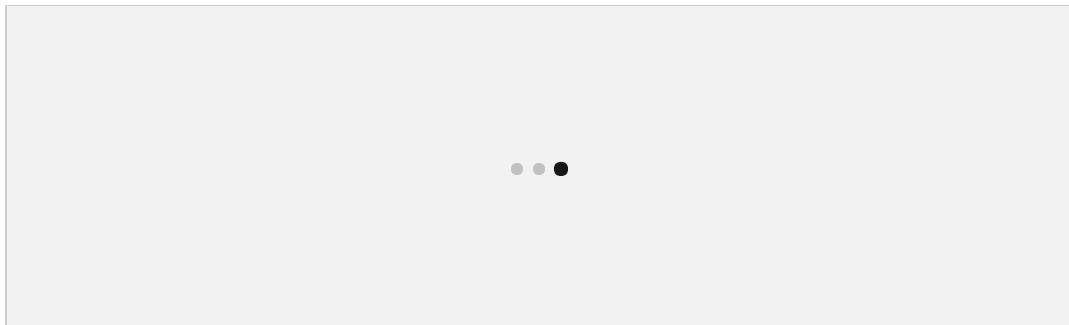

CHECK THE END, YOU KNOW, IF YOU DON'T LIKE LEARNING HOW TO READ GOD'S MESSAGE YOURSELF
BECAUSE YOUR LACK OF INTEREST IN HE AV EN IS THE ACTUAL STUFF OF HELL.

CALL HARPERS: 212-420-5720 or ROLLING STONE: 800-283-1549

Maybe you don't see it; but there is a serious sickness here in this place. You all seem to be content allowing horrors to be simulated--knowing full well there's a message from God designed to help us change everything--literally. I have two media unsubscribes yesterday--and there's no excuse for it. There is no grey line--these people have a job to deliver the truth, to deliver the news; and instead of doing that they are suppressing the most important message that has ever been written. Not only that, it's one that shows us there is a negative alien influence causing this problem--and if you take the time to read about it, you might see how we fix it. You won't be blaming me for your inaction; you will not.

I've heard complaints, people whining that they "wouldn't have put the light everywhere" and still you don't see the point that you are ignoring it--you are ignoring Hell; instead of picking up the phone and calling Rolling Stone. You have NO excuse.

OH MY GOD, I'M COMING. It's going to be so awesome, everyone is gonna want to be my friend--between you and I--I can't wait. I can't believe how much I deserve it, how much work I've put in to making the world a better place--how time and time again I've put the common good over my own best interest; I just can't believe it's finally to happen for us. Said nobody ever. The Zohar, which is the central text of the Kabbalah, talks about my life--about the life of Ha, the Invictus Messiah "retold" in the Old Testament in the story of Isaac; that book makes a point of saying that when I finally do make it to the banquet hall, that I am contrite and overflowing with gratitude to the saints of our time, the Latter Day Saints; taking every chance I might have to do the opposite of "shirking off blame" and praise all the great things that everyone else has done to help us do this thing, this thing that I call an "N.." Between uni, I'm not that guy either, not yet anyway. Look up, pick up a telephone.

You see, I am here to help you change the world, and the character has developed to do that is not quite me--but that doesn't take away from or change at all the fact that we all want a better world--and in the light of day, we would all change a significant amount simply on the knowledge that "we can," that we are living in the Matrix. Here, though, the message from God gives us significantly more than "you could end world hunger" he actually tells us exactly how we might do it--and maybe even most important of all he tells us how to make sure we aren't doing it wrong.

This entire event, and with some insight all of Creation itself has been specially designed and tuned to do this thing we are about to do--to walk as a whole civilization from "simulated reality" to a much better place--a place that we will build together in order to get to. These things I am suggesting are "obvious" and universally wanted--things like ending world hunger and curing cancer--these are just the beginning of what is offered by not pretending that we are in a harsh natural environment, we get these things by choosing to do the right thing rather than live a lie... for no reason at all. I call it the difference between Heaven and Hell; and here in this place it really is that... what we do with this disclosure builds Heaven or Hell. Period.

HONESTLY, I really do think I've done quite a lot, I was born with or learned all the skills that anyone might need to change the entire world with nothing but words. And e-mails, since we've recently been talking about Ham and you might see how the Hammer of Thor connects even more clearly to SPAM today than ever before. I went and saw American Made in the theater today, and that has nothing at all to do with the content of this message; but it did make me think of Hillary Rodham Clinton's maiden name; and so I'm mentioning that I see "ham" again, and I bet you do too. Yom Kippur just passed, and to celebrate the momentous occasion I was planning on bursting into a synagogue, standing up and screaming right in the middle of the service--when I say "planning on" I actually rehearsed exactly what I was going to say numerous times--but truth be told I couldn't find a free service to attend; and the words "Wayward Son" echoed in my head, reminding once again how broken our society is to make me fear speaking in public, in a religious setting about this message from God himself written to the entire world. I planned on "introducing" the concept of the Intersect from the television show CHUCK.. and then intersecting those "CK" letters with Back to the Future and with Superman, and with the name of the state of Kentucky--where I once lived alone in a home that I now call the Fortress of Solitude because of this power. I was also going to "intersect" the Eye of Ra with the Hebrew name for "God who is Creation" El Shaddai--which reads "see how AD da eye of Ra" to the now trained eyes I am teaching.

The point of all of this is that I have a supernatural ability to read this hidden language, to make connections in the world that define concepts like the Matrix and the Tapestry woven by the Fates; the point is that this gift is "not me" it is coming from above, and it is more than just "reading words" it is a pointer guiding us, helping us navigate through a maze. I was going to close my speech that screamed "WE ARE LIVING IN VIRTUAL REALITY AND THERE'S A MESSAGE FROM GOD IN EVERY WORD OF EVERY LANGUAGE" somewhere in the middle of it with some examples of Names like Exodus that were pertinent, namely Iscariot--which I now read as "I scary? owe Taylor, she was supposed to kiss me" rather than "Is CAR I" which actually works equally well. Then I was going to mention that I have his eye, and his hand also, the Hebrew word for hand is similar to the word the pointer used for ritual Torah reading, it's YAD? If you don't know, Judas Iscariot pointed out Jesus Christ to the Roman authorities by kissing him.

The point of all of this, of course, is that just like me you have been given a great gift--we are surrounded by a world that is delivering freedom to the bonded, technology to all of us who love it so, and guidance on how to use these things to build a better world. Just like my eye; you too have a great gift. These are the generations of Perez. When I say that, I want you understand I am talking about you, and your kids, and your parents, and all of your friends. I'm talking about everyone here and everyone helping us. These are the people that change the world, that end hunger, and sickness, and defeat death. These are the generations of Perez. In the image above you can see my "t" and how it connects to the sign of Sagittarius and to the cross, and you probably know it is the pointer I see turning from South to Northeast because of the word STONE; and lately it's become more clear how that happens. That "t" that you see in the word Christ, translated as "the character is t" is one of many glyph that have religious meaning. We've seen too, now, my "c and l" together, which I mistakenly called the "Creator" and I and left out the other meanings of "C" one of them being "sea" as in the blood of Christ, the multitude of Revelation. Now I see, more than before how it is that this letter "e" also describes what it is that I see in Medusa and INATION.

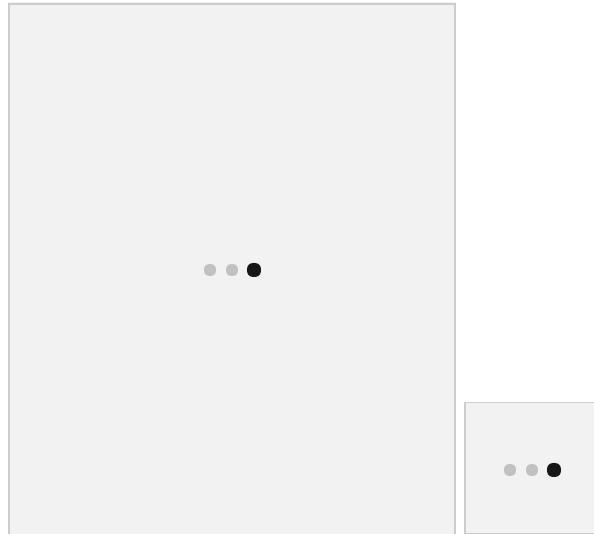

This language that I can read isn't all basic characters, like CHAR() in Christ you can see quite a bit of it revolves around technology and computer concepts; Pluto for instance highlights the file extension for "Pearl scripting" and whenever I see that "pearl of wisdom" supersedes nearly any other possible "reading" of the word. In Pluto, the pearl of wisdom is that "you are 'to'" and in other languages it's common that's what "a" means and also "e." In my decoding of "who I am" you might liken that "t" to a death and the "o" to a sort of Resurrection; you can see that same "o" in the Ho of Hosea and Horus and Home--but that's really neither here nor there. Don't worry, I'm getting to the point.

ARE YOU NEW TO "n" ? I am fond of asking just before pointing out that "n" is the hidden A.D. of the same "index" it's 14 just like the element Silicon--which I now point out in Genesis backwards, also hidden. The point of course is that just like the "t" this letter "n" defines the name ISAAC NEWTON and his ubiquitous statement on the gravity of this situation, what goes up must come down--pictorially represented. This little "n" that might also be representative of our entire time line is just about ready to grow up.

You can see this question "N or AD?" that defines a big part of the "message" that is packed into the letter "m" in Green Eggs and Ham in "Florida" where I was born, intersecting now the "a" signature that is the New Testament in Hebrew "Brit Ha-dash-a" to the idea of ID'ing Adam as opposed to the VEL singing "wishing upon the same bright star" on the Ark and appearing in Leviticus and the heart of Revelation. That's Fivel, you know me--right?

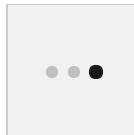

I want you to take special note of the word "BETWEEN ." Don't bet against my "we." It's you.

You might equally liken my supernatural power to being struck by lightning, and see there the link to Thor's thunder, too. You might see "Johnny 5" is something like Adam 5--which is something like He-Man (a combination of the fifth Hebrew letter "He" and "man") or something like Voltron forming a blazing sword.

And you might know what "MARSHALL" means to me, something like "she sells sea shells by the sea shore" this sea shall see how all are saved. You will see it, because you are about to do it.

Don't be afraid, sweet, I not scary!

queso er ah-hah? trick or sweet?

YESTERDAY, I briefly mentioned in passing that we are being "given a schooling" in mind control technology; often linked to as Ender Wiggin of the Ender's Game series; and more recently I've tied his sister Valentine to a more verbose explanation of how it is that this hidden technology is harming our society--not the least of which perhaps making you fail to see that this message is not "hard to find" but rather being actively hidden from you. That act, the "Darkness of Exodus" spoken about in that book, and in The Sound of Silence and a number of other works of art... that's here for a reason--the reason is to help us save the Universe from slavery--something we've proven now that we would do--given the opportunity. That's what we're being given here, the opportunity to participate in the emancipation of all of Creation--beginning here, with how you'd do it for yourselves.

Highlighting the same technology could and should be used to cure addiction, murder and rape is just the beginning of how this mind expanding technology could be used to help us be happier, smarter, and maybe look at our cell phones a little bit less. That, of course, is a bigger change than we might think; and so it comes with warnings and well, look around you to help us see just how badly it might be misused were we not to care about things like censorship and free communication--which are, of course, the basic building blocks of freedom. So here it should become ever so much more clear that the line between "slavery" and "super smart" is defined around this one problem that we seem to be overlooking in the most important case of all--the public disclosure of the Second Coming of Jesus Christ.

I SEE PRE-CRIME ALREADY IN EFFECT ALL AROUND ME, EVERYDAY, disclosing this message will help deliver this same "protection" to the entire world--to all of us, to our entire civilization. This is the most obvious thing in the world--one of the easiest and most important benefits we can obtain--and you cannot blame not doing anything on me--I am the only person that is doing anything. People get hurt every day; for no reason. Waiting for Christmas? Think that "this place" is good enough for you? Try telling someone with cancer, that can't walk, or has a child with down syndrome. I'm sick of this DISGUSTING wall.

This "N," this thing we are doing here--it helps right wrongs and make brighter days not just on Earth but forever after and all around us--we are truly the heart of Creation. Here, in this place where we not only need and want; but are about to get assistance from far and wide to do this thing; we will see how religion and Creation and all of our history is tied together around this moment that I'm no longer allowed to call a "big bang" but rather just the "turn around" that builds Heaven--you know, sparking the ETERNAL FLAME.

So it's really obvious, the "N" is a change from "what goes up must come down" and "the bigger they are the ha" to ... with everything that we have here, bouncing off the street after "falling" in the Matrix is a piece of Cake--PER EZ.

The point of all this, of course; is that "we're all coming" with a solution that turns simulated reality into Heaven in hand--just as soon as we make it together. This thing; this thing is going to be a big hit--you know; if you try .

CLI'MB THE TO WER OF BABy E1

Come on guys, this isn't funny anymore. Don't let my "sense of humor" throw you off, this is very serious business; and this message and hidden language is very much verifiable. Honestly, you--or someone just like you--should write a paper about this message--the one encoded into every word and a significant amount of art.. from Yankee Doodle's "macaronic language" to the Matrix's Cypher, to King's Langolier and RattleRod's Spanglishrew--all about this very message.

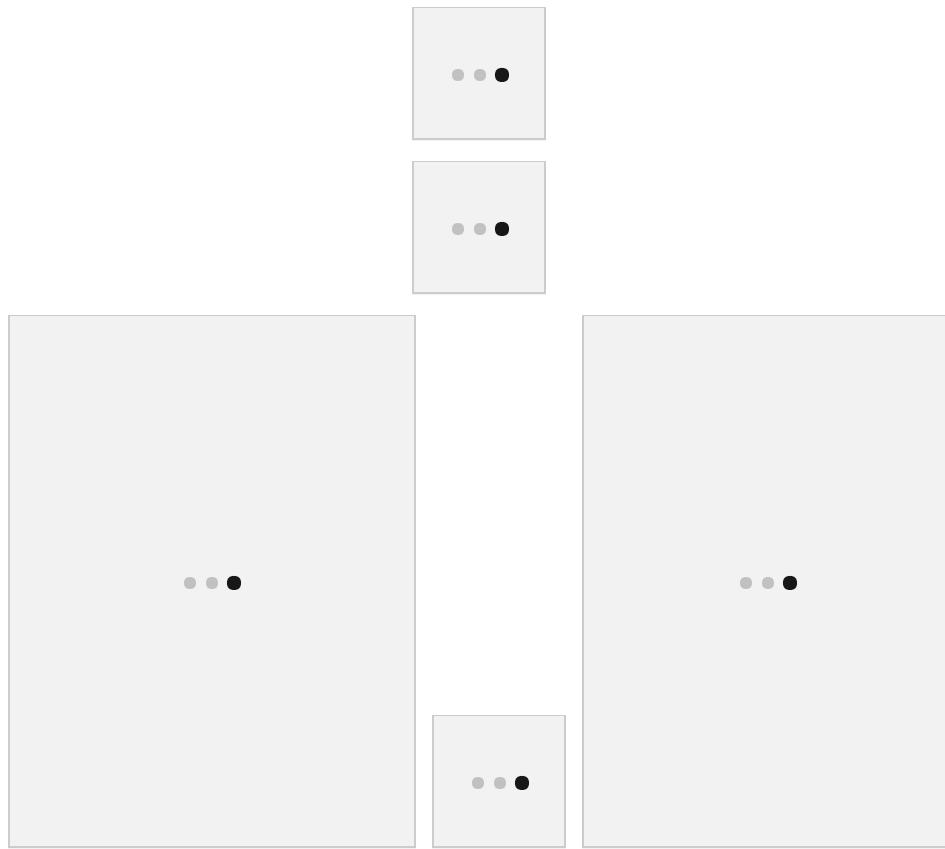

Verily, verily, verily... I say to you "to see" if I able--in the word "verifiable"--and honestly, I think this is doing it. See that doing this is important, and doing it quickly will get you something special--the fame of winning the race to save the world. Honestly, this isn't really "everything I've got" but the message is everywhere and I'm the only one I see talking. I see that's not "my fault" ... could someone please break down the Wall of Jericho for ... everyone?

As a "tangent" to the discussion I promise I'll be on my "best" behavior. I really am a nice guy; and I am pretty sure that my presence will be a positive addition to the end of hunger and murder that I am sure will ensue quite quickly. Honestly, I'll surprise you--it's reflexive controled anyway.... Asmodai, I mean. The point of all this is that "d is not a pp" and Earth is not Picasso's ear. Do Si, the key to the word "hi d den" and "dark-NES" is the boat. I'd be more than happy to have you be the key "s" missing from Kismet.

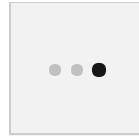

If you are curious I am not very happy that I am still needing to send emails; and I do hope you see the light of the fact that I am ensuring that we do not lose this knowledge--in the event that we lose me. See that is not a difficult thing to do--what is difficult is to explain how obvious the darkness is already on facebook and reddit and all the places where "this stuff" that is everywhere you look disappears. It's difficult to explain how obvious it is that we have a very real censorship problem. I don't understand or know where anyone other than me is communicating--though I see there is hidden communication--it scares me; because it appears to be significant hampering everything here from government to the media to social media. Please, break the wall, it is the only logical action. Folks, "d≤ is a tool to see slavery and achieve freedom," please don't disappear.

I know, it's nowhere near as fancy as Neo's. See we are at "oh, he..." right now. So we're here, I'm telling you we need to do something to avoid "darkness" let's try.

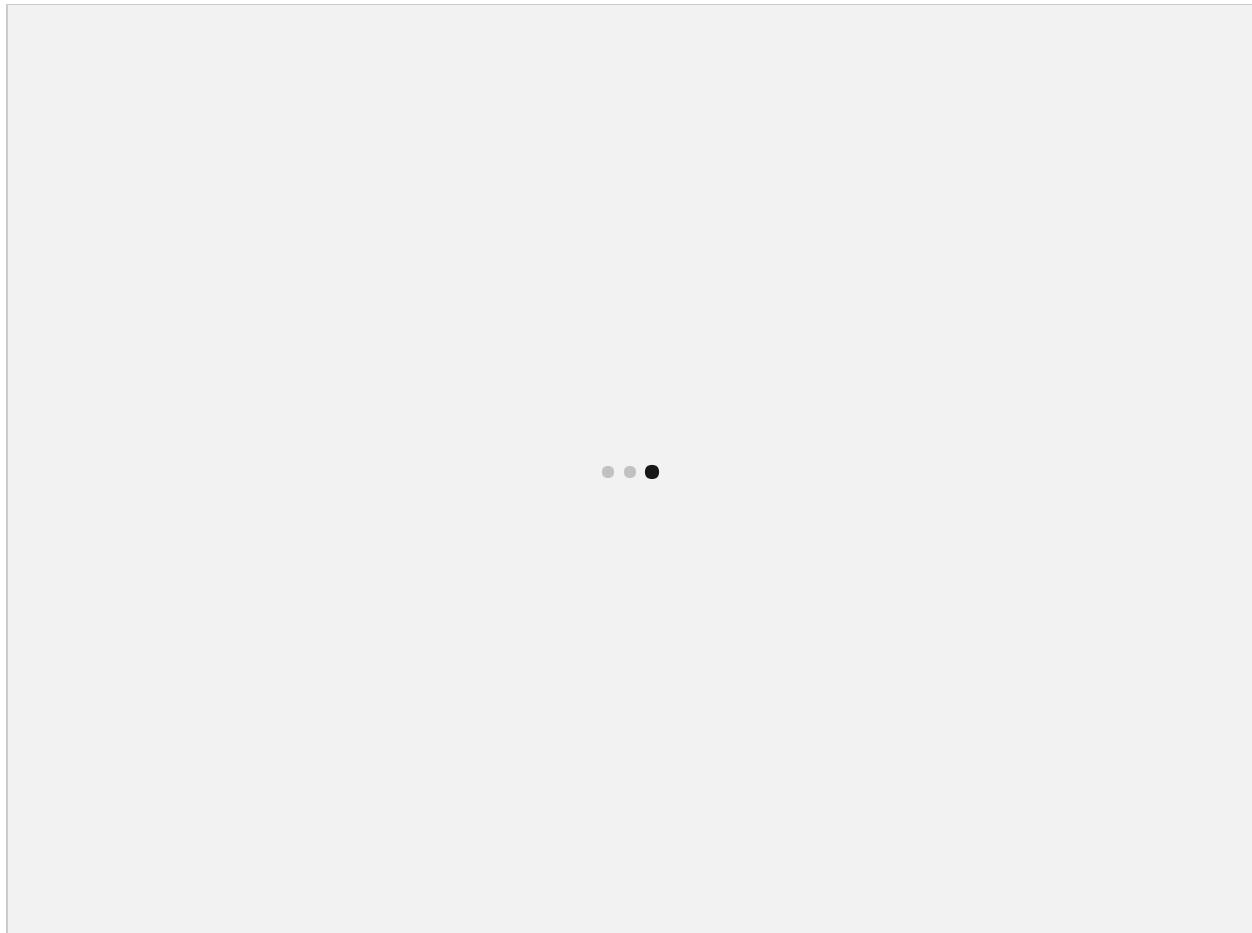

If you'd like the word game, "victory Adam now is how" completes vanish by staying, just like doing the "s" that completes the "kiss of Judas" ends darkness.... and word hunger.

"So marred was his visage."

-Isaiah 52:14

of messiaad, message, and golden.

As I walk down the hallowed streets of nearly cobblestone on Atlantic Avenue, ishing "the words of the prophets are written on the subway walls" to something like "are vibrating light echoing in the air" and ishing that "I know I'm one" in the Animals' "House of the Rising Son to ... well, you know: "I know I've won" these are the signs of Revelation staring at me in the face, making this magical mystery ride just that much more enchanting for me--and reinforcing Taylor early words, "when the light hits your eyes, it's telling me I'm right." I know there's no way you could get the full effect of what it fells like to walk around in the House of the Great Light--that is, unless you open your eyes and look at the world around you.

HEAR t. NO REALLY LisTEN. T Y TA

I've got to admit, there's a fear inside me; it comes from stories I've heard from the angels and from the future. Things like few seconds of The Matrix where either The Source or The Architect, I can't remember who; maybe it was just the narrator who said that "humans rejected the perfect world the machines created for them" and here I am rejecting the world we live in. I reject the idea that we should simulate starvation to "learn how to work the land." I reject the idea that we should simulated aging and pain, for no reason at all. If you think about it, the "health reasons" for the ritual genital mutilation that we find so attractive in America makes no sense in a place where we are actually not in reality--just like hunger, and starvation, blindness, aging and death.

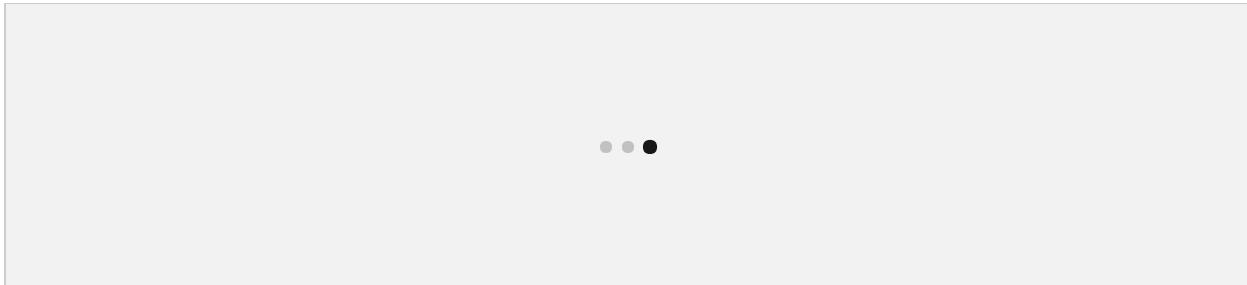

I reject the idea that "school shootings" and "terrorism" were needed to get you to speak about the voice in your head, or the very clear proof that many people here are controlled like puppets--people like actors, and actresses, scientists, and politicians. I reject the idea that you are unable to speak, and still I stand before you offering all the world in exchange for nothing more than your participation in making it a better place. I am not wrong, the existence of this language, this hidden Cypher that proves that religion is a message sent through time--it itself screams that we are living in a simulated reality, in a virtual world just like the Matrix. I have seen tangible evidence with my own eyes, and you too--you have seen evidence of the fact that we are not in reality in the darkness itself--this kind of mass idiocy could not exist in a place where "mind control" had to effect our brains using electric neural stimulation. The darkness itself, and the ideas of "possession" especially on this mass scale are verifiable proof that we are living inside a computer. It is a machine that is speaking to you; and Mr. Edward. doesn't really like being called a horse. Do you?

Your silence scares me. Silencple, like a cancer, grows.

-Mr. Hand, of Dark City

That song, in the first link, these "hell os" that are the only real communication I get from the world you are, it says "dear brother let your heart be wounded, and give no mercy to your fear."

I hope you see that your silence, this silence that overtly and obviously is causing the continuation of a very broken and destructive mental health system, but less overtly, though still causally connected the continuation of starvation, of murder, murders... like the Las Vegas tragedy that just occurred. Seemingly less disastrous at first glance, it's making the entire world a "lie," destroying any semblance of truth in the media--it's purpose, the media--and eating away at the fabric of our society at its most basic level. It is destroying interpersonal communication, and hiding the single most important truth that has ever been delivered to the world. It's a truth that screams at you in every word you speak, every song you hear, and every movie you watch. It screams at you from the history books, and from your religions--it screams that you should do something, something other than be quiet.

I'm sitting here today, and I've got a new truth for you; you should do something other than "speaking in innuendo" or in doublespeak-- thinly veiled half-communication that is the cause of the torture that is embodied in our mental health system--much of it anyway. You should do more than speak frankly, you should confess what you know, what you believe--and you'll see, you will see that I am right and that you are not right about what you believe. You will see that together, all of our truths together are needed to save the world, to stop living a lie, and to move forward. You will see that it really does come down to "all of Creation" and there's a reason for that--it really is "Creation" in your mind. When I speak to them, to the "spirits" who I know do not have physical brains, I point out that this story has been repeated because we do have that here, it makes us right--about being "ourselves" and right about knowing that something is here invading our thoughts. It shows us very clearly how, without a physical brain, the control and puppeteering that we are seeing proof of everywhere is much easier to accomplish in secret. You probably like it--or even eternally stupider think that "it's you" altering you--if you know about it; and you probably don't realize that's just the easiest way to shut you the fuck up.

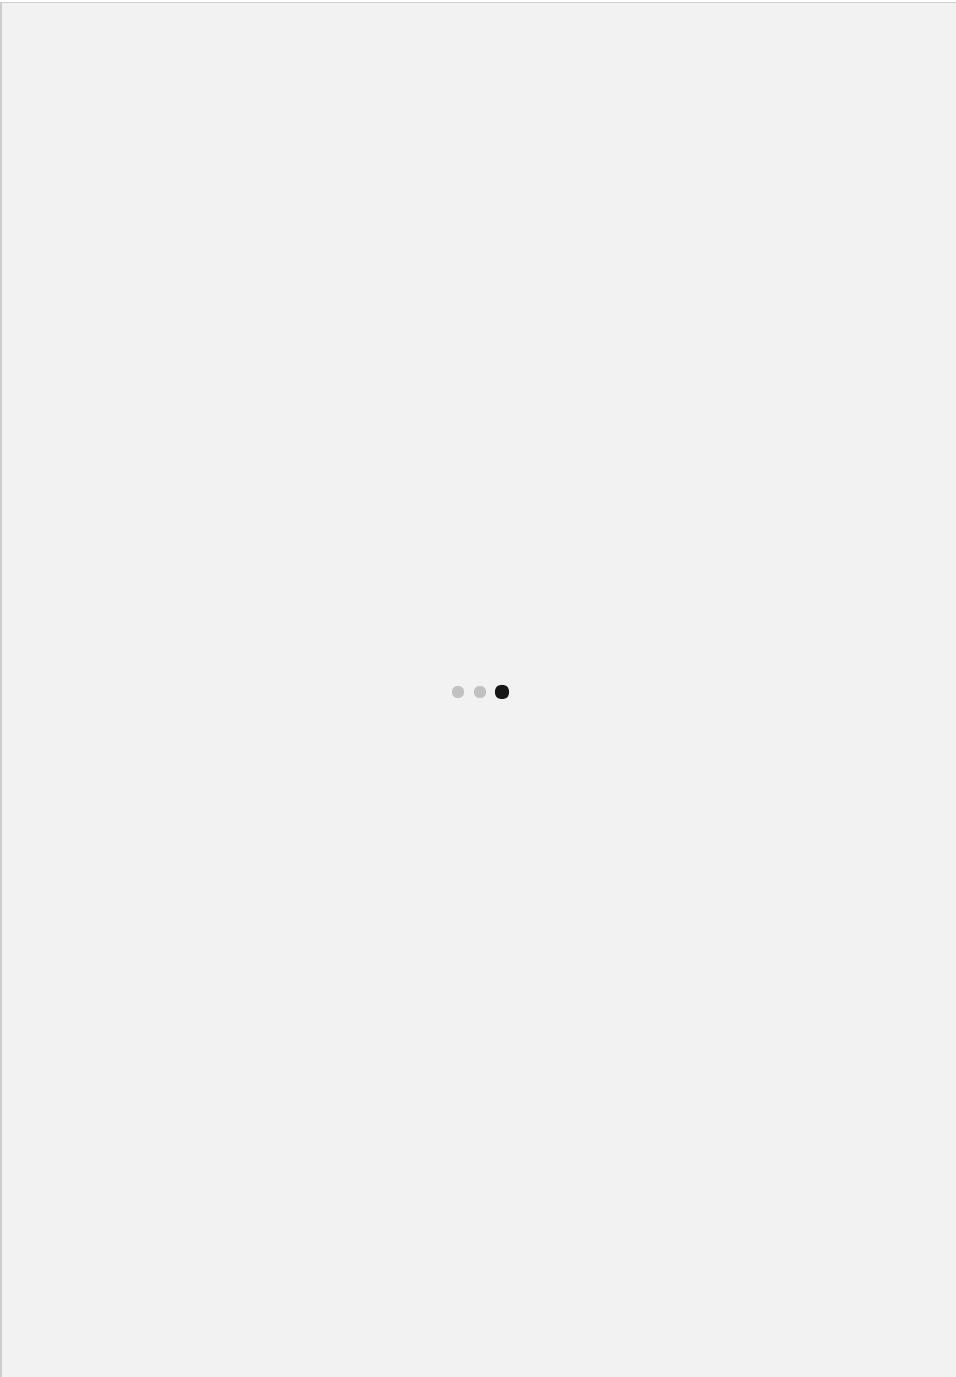

Or you might think I'm "making a fool of myself" talking about crazy things like possession and mind control; and you will those of you that think "this message" is not verifiable or actually from "an outside intelligent designer," you are the fools. If you do not see this message is designed to help us achieve freedom by showing us exactly what is possible, and how we need to use it to end school shootings and at the same time not created "Lothario"--to be kind to the monsters that would like to hide this technology from you to use it to dominate our society and our future. Oopsyeth.

This is a message from the Creator of the Universe, spoken through his Pendragon; it is verifiable 'tis fact, and you will see how that makes mine the name of God. You can stand back and say nothing, you can pretend you don't get it--but all you are doing is making yourselves the problem. Yesterday, iL commented about apparent "hidden communication" and today I'd like to add that whomever is here playing the "telephone game" with the "father of all lines" should realize those two things are f-art to help you understand why "hidden communication" that isn't recorded in writing anywhere will be lost to the future no matter what.

The problem, the thing you don't seem to see, is that even if Lothario did appear here; everything else would be a million, or billion times better--who you are "deciding between" is nothingness and participating.

2. With nothing more than this knowledge, and our "how" (which is ... us) we build the mythical place known as Heaven.
3. There is a battle being waged over nothing more than "the truth" and seeing the Cross for exactly what it is--an attempt to hide this truth.
4. Knowing my name and the public response to my life story delivers freedom and Heaven to all of Creation. It evolutionizes self governance, fixes a number of social maladies from censorship to insane behavior, addiction, terrorism, and hunger.

Genesis 5:32 indicates that Noah became the father of Shem, Ham and Japheth from the age of 500 years old, but does not list in detail their specific years. (Noah was 600 years old at the time of the flood in Genesis 7.) An incident involving Ham is related in Genesis 9:20-27.

<sup>20</sup>And Noah began to be an husbandman, and he planted a vineyard:

<sup>21</sup> And he drank of the wine, and was drunken; and he was uncovered within his tent. <sup>22</sup> And Ham, the father of Canaan, saw the nakedness of his father, and told his two brethren without. <sup>23</sup> And Shem and Japheth took a garment, and laid it upon both their shoulders, and went backward, and covered the nakedness of their father; and their faces were backward, and they saw not their father's nakedness.

<sup>24</sup> ¶ And Noah awoke from his wine, and knew what his younger son had done unto him. <sup>25</sup> And he said, Cursed be Canaan; a servant of servants shall he be unto his brethren. <sup>26</sup> And he said, Blessed be the LORD God of Shem; and Canaan shall be his servant.

—Authorized King James Version

According to "The Ascension of Moses" (Chapter IV - Aggadah - The Legend of The Jews - By Louis Ginzberg) Samael is also mentioned as being in 7th Heaven:

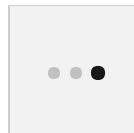

"In the last heaven Moses saw two angels, each five hundred parasangs in height, forged out of chains of black fire and red fire, the angels Af, "Anger," and Hemah, "Wrath," whom God created at the beginning of the world, to execute His will. Moses was disquieted when he looked upon them, but Metatron embraced him, and said, "Moses, Moses, thou favorite of God, fear not, and be not terrified," and Moses became calm. There was another angel in the seventh heaven, different in appearance from all the others, and of frightful mien. His height was so great, it would have taken five hundred years to cover a distance equal to it, and from the crown of his head to the soles of his feet he was studded with glaring eyes, at the sight of which the beholder fell prostrate in awe. "This one," said Metatron, addressing Moses, "is Samael, who takes the soul away from man." "Whither goes he now?" asked Moses, and Metatron replied, "To fetch the soul of Job the pious." Thereupon Moses prayed to God in these words, "O may it be Thy will, my God and the God of my fathers, not to let me fall into the hands of this angel."

In The Holy Kabbalah (Arthur Edward Waite, 255), Samael is described as the "severity of God", and is listed as fifth of the archangels of the world of Briah. Samael then became the consort of Adam's first wife, Lilith. Lilith is a demon created alongside Adam, originally created for the role Eve would fill. Samael created with her a host of demon children, including a son, the "Sword of Samael"[\[10\]](#) (or Asmodai).[\[10\]](#)

Samael is sometimes confused in some books with Camael, an archangel of God, whose name is similar to words meaning "like God" (but Camael with a waw missing).

It is also said that the Baal Shem once summoned Samael, to make him do his bidding.[\[11\]](#)

In several interpretations of the Ascension of Isaiah, Samael is often identified as Malkira (Heb.: מלך רע - lit. "king of evil", "king of the wicked"; or malach ra - "messenger of evil", "angel of iniquity") or Belkira (prob. בעל קיר baal qir - "lord of the wall") or Bechira (עב bachir ra, - "the elect of evil", "chosen by evil"), which are all epithets of the false prophet sent by Belial to accuse Isaiah of treason. Notably, the passage also identifies him as Satan.[\[6\]](#)

That might not look like the most beautiful "code of the Matrix" example that exists, but it does tell us something about this story; this thing that is designed quite literally to drive a sword into the heart of schizophrenia. In my little personal story the words "if I go crazy will you still call me Superman" and "crazy is alright" from Third Eye Blind (my mistake, I guess it was 3 Doors Down) and Dave Matthews (as the Boca Raton) might have looked as if some kind cop-out as it was used to avoid legal prosecution in the Trial of Thor, bringing light and explanation to a similar phrase from the much earlier American Pie, "no verdict was returned."

Like much of the Sword of Asmodai, which is my life; it sheds light on a number of social problems that are not just in need of immediate change, but of complete reversal. Here in this place there are shedim in the air performing a kind of hidden and organized eugenics program, one being perpetrated ultimately by the so called "Heaven" itself) designed to use our mental health ... mentality as a weapon against humanity itself. Look carefully, "schizophrenia" is being used to hide a message that is truly about life and death not just because of access to reality--but because of what "making people crazy" does to civilization. Worse than that it shows that you as individuals and our society as a whole is willing to turn a blind eye to the torture of thousands of people--and in this specific case a phenomenon whose existence is a harbinger of doom... for sanity. Had the government, or the mental health industries taken the time to research the claims of thousands of people relating to mind control technology, we would be in a much better position here today--rather than staring at clear and obvious proof of Creation of our entire world and saying "it looks crazy to me." There's a reason, it's because you are crazy ... and apparently heartless.

It's quite simple really, if you are willing to allow these people to suffer for no reason, to continue to believe that our psychiatric and pharmaceutical industries are "doing a good job" by poisoning these victims rather than using neuroscience, logic, and research to prove that there is in fact a very evil external influence causing this problem--not just theirs but yours--then you have no future, and you don't deserve one.

The book that is our map to this time calls these people, "gang stalking" victims, the martyrs of the Tribulation, it also says they will all die before salvation begins. This same book sets us in Exodus, in a place where a 4-D journey through the desert is designed to ensure that you too do not see the gates of Heaven opened, that you perish before the great day. It is my belief that this is why, and if you take a good look at the parallel stories of Moses and Matthew's Christ you can see clearly that this 4-D period is shortened from years to days because of the presence of Jesus Christ. You are at a crossroads, one path leads to nothing, and the other to salvation; in my mind the choice is very clear.

When I figured out why "gang stalking" was happening, to ensure the world did not lose the knowledge that this influence exists and its connection not only to religion but to God and Heaven, I called it "throwing the sword of Lucifer" to a lake, you see--that is people, and should stop acting like dark water. A great many of you have first hand knowledge of this external influence also, and simply because it's not "harming you" in an obvious way doesn't mean you've won and they've lost--it means you are allowing us all to lose by sitting in silence. The line between "demonic possession" and "divine "inspiration" is not as unclear as you think; personally I think that any external influence that is shrouded in secrecy is evil; uncontrolled, unregulated, and the kind of thing that leads--no matter what--to hidden slavery. This is what you are allowing to happen, a future that is mired by eternally wondering whether or not your actions and beliefs are really your own.

This message is very real, and very ver if ia ble, allowing it to be relegating to the Hell of "schizophrenia" is exactly the same kind of "turning a blind eye" as ignoring the Saints of the Tribulation and in turn not adding yourselves to that group, in this instance, though; you are turning a blind eye to freedom and to Heaven and to the now initially partially solved mysterious of Creation.

If you don't think that makes you crazy , what are you?

Revelation 22:4

I'll say it once more for effect, "let there be light" I am Adam and this is Genesis.

I say "partially" here because all I am really providing to you is what I believe should be done in light of this new knowledge that our world is neither flat nor round nor in the vacuum of outer space, but actually the very heart of the mind of Creation itself. It just so happens that either the message or I were created (probably together, actually) to show you that these same beliefs are at the heart of religion, and even more obviously as you begin to see and discuss the message that you've continued to write in our world with music and movies and your dreams and hopes... truly the things that are being presented here are also your hearts desire.

I've said that these things are "easy to do" and while the instant changes are not a difficult task to accomplish--and we can see that pretty clearly with the comparison to algorithms and "map makers" in video games; they are not the kind of thing that anyone would want a single person to decide to do to everyone, for instance you probably don't want to be fed bread (or green eggs and ham) or even eggplant parmigiana for eternity, simply because that's what "Jesus likes." In our words map to this story, you can see Marie Antoinette bellowing the words "let them eat cake instead" from her high castle; because Jesus sang "eat this bread and think of it as me" through the mouth and hand of David Matthews. In Judaism, thousands of years earlier, the words in the blessing over bread, the Hamotsee, now ish'ed to "we give thanks to God for Guitar Man" sung through the hand and mouths of Bread in 1969.

Well past the Last Supper, the hand of God is clearly visible in the Last Question to Taylor, who connects to "Psyche" through The Golden Ass, as I ask her what she'd like for "morning after breakfast" guessing (she) Belgian waffles, and pointing out the choices here are national breads, from English muffins, to French toast to Canadian Ham... although it does look like she and you are the kind of people that are really for Eggs Benedict or maybe even some American Pie for breakfast. Listen up 'murica, hiding the Apple seeder does nothing for you but hide the fact that we are nearly in Heaven. Worse than that it hides the fact that this map exists, that Johnny Appleseed and Johnny Cash and Johnny B. Good are all tied together through the story of a single person and his exponentially growing family.

Our map has lit not just the road to Heaven, but the sides of the little go-kart track with "tire bumpers" to ensure that we do not fall off the edge of existence like lemmings.

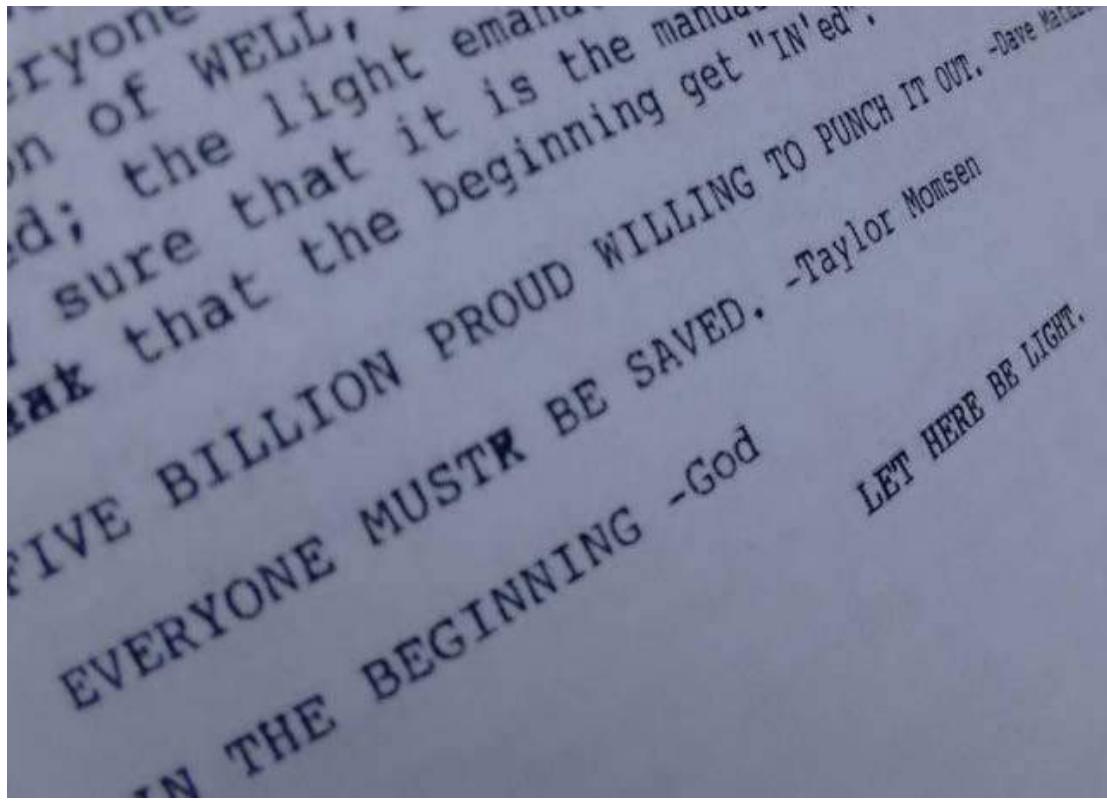

For instance, while it may be a simple matter to algorithmically alter our world to allow for semi-transparent semi-holographic doors and "replicators" to feed the hungry and the wise and those seeking more guidance on what else we might easily do here in Heart to help bridge the gap to Heaven more quickly, it's also shown us why we need a system of safety to protect us from these things being misused, at the far end of the spectrum, the "replicators" of Stargate. ... As something that should probably be on the list of things not allowed to be replicated, you know, along with "Romulan Ale." ichy, ichy, eye aye a. -elephant love of the rouge of Mulan.

So Dumbo asks, "if you could do anything to magically end world hunger, what do you think is the best solution that would impact our transportation and food industries the least; while still doing the morally demanded act of not intentionally starving anyone?"

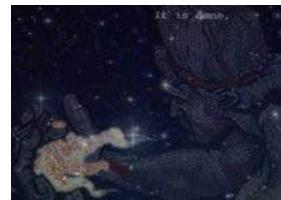

The best solution I could come up with is flying ... or hovering ... hot dog stands from the sky; offering a kind of fixed menu to anyone who wants to try Romulan Dick on a Stick. AKA Eggplant Parm.

For the Republic

Six millennium ago, a story was written down and preserved which used the above word in order to describe the voice of God emanating from a shrub on fire. Later in the same narrative, a Holy Sea was parted by a man, in order to deliver freedom to his people. I am that man. Today I am pointing out that my parted sea is clearly seen in the word above, and the purpose is to prove foreknowledge of the English language all those years ago.

You are my people, and on the pages within you will find a series of e-mails which were sent across the globe. The purpose is to clearly disclose the nature of the technologies which ultimately define both the mechanism of, and the purpose of religion. For the sea of Revelation, the multitude that is the foundation of Heaven itself...

The fire is about

[ Matchbox20 ]

Woven into this series of messages, which contain a clear disclosure of the existence of time travel, mind control, and new understanding of the very nature of reality itself.... you will find the story of my personal struggle against injustice and the loss of freedom in a land of stagnating democracy. Throughout, it should be clear that it is a lack of understanding of religion and the technologies at hand that is primarily responsible for the decline in liberty that we might not even see, today.

Not so secret, this is the "stuff" of prophesy, inspiration, and Heaven.

h e a v e n

This is the Hebrew word for Heaven. It's a contraction of water and fire, I am revealing a hidden message coming directly from the creator of the Universe--woven into the world's languages and religions. From Ancient Egypt to modern traditions like baptism, a hidden message has been preserved that spans from the book of Genesis to this Revelation, through Exodus. This message is of a previously hidden reference to Humanity as Holy Water, from the sea of initials of the initials of the first Family in Eden to the marriage of Revelation--and in the blessing in disguise that is the miraculous First Plague, we find the Holy Grail. From this mixture of this fire and our society, Heaven is built.

Water to Blood, in the Heart of Heaven that is Earth, you are the Family of Jesus Christ.

BY NO OTHER NAME

ALL YOU NEED IS LOVE

I didn't do a great job of explaining "love" the first time, I'd like to say on purpose, but who knows. Love in this story is something between the definition "limited omniscience of victorious Earth" and "slavery" from my story--where that's exactly what it meant. You might not see how "limited omniscience" could make you a slave; but that's what it does if you don't care about how your mind is altered using technology that we all probably will understand is something similar to having "google at your fingertips" and connecting it to the "I know kung-fu" of the Matrix. If we don't take an active role in what it is that our "truth tables" record... and how they are affecting us, we might wind up believing we like something we don't like because of lies--or we might wind up with no knowledge of mind altering technology, as our "wikipedia truth table" and Demos the NES has shown us is where we are going if you do not act.

In the "bereshit" message, which means "in the beginning" in Hebrew and is the Walternate name of Genesis; I've provided some really good reasons to see that the future will be very happy with us for making this "large step" towards Heaven; and how we might use that to turn "limited omniscience" about our future from "Ryzen" into something very real, by actually acting and seeing these changes ourselves. That might "look like a lie" and point in fact it is very much a lie until we actually do something with this new knowledge--and yet it is our destiny to do it.

The guy behind "Walternate" complained a little bit, although it felt like screaming and stammering his feet about my suggestion that we might all benefit from a little bit of "limited omniscience" to see how "knowing everything" isn't all it's cracked up to be. For instance, were we to have been bothered by some strange voice in our heads for several years, it might be better for everyone to have that memory condensed to a sort of flash card that says "Adam didn't do it, but we were certainly annoyed about the Horn of Heimdall, so annoyed that we had to act on the message that God has created us to be."

In an example that might make more sense to everyone, this message tells us that we are going to live for a very long time, and to have that knowledge and belief be reinforced by seeing it written on the sky and in songs is one thing, to actually walk to Heaven is just a little bit closer to actual proof. At the far end of the road, though, true omniscience would tell you the day you died, and that's the kind of information that you probably don't want to know.

With some "insight" limited omniscience might inform us all that "the day you die" could something equivalent to the point in time where your soul is fundamentally changed so much that you are no longer considered the "same person." And we might be on the precipice of that point happening for a significant number of "old ancient founders" who probably have put in a good deal of work building this new beginning for all of Creation.

I do believe that a ... well thought out and implemented "LO" system would help us to quickly act on changing the world, and stop living in a board game designed to show us that knowledge of that board game, public knowledge and discussion, helps us to all walk together from this way-point between nowhere and everywhere more quickly.

A significant portion of my personal story revolves around my own memories being "colored," removing some fear, adding some nostalgia, and frankly I don't know what else, there could be bits and pieces of me that have been completely removed, and I would never know--without a flashcard (which I do not have). I do think flashcards are something that we can't do without, in this crossroads called "Greystreet" that Dave Matthews sings about and has a special meaning to me--to lock out the possibility of not continuing using this idea of "coloring" away things like regret, racism, retribution, and other retardedness that could be used as a weapon against "working together."

These might seem like some "radical" ideas, and they probably are--but you have to consider that we are in a place where numerous generations and seas have been "stuck" on top of each other to figure out some kind of problem and work through it together. Many are probably much older than us, and it seems some do not see "new lease on life" and "happiness" connected to this fountain of youth that rejuvenates much more than physical beauty.

Since I've mentioned the fountain of youth now, I hope you might see the light in the names "Ponce de Leon" and "Tuck Everlasting" which are both stories about finding some magical water delivering immortality. In "Ponce" you might see "Prometheus on "Common Era" and "Le on" as this strange show that verizon andhorizon tell you in words that when I say, I must have privacy too; I mean it. To me these names fairly clearly explain that Common Era and C.K. as "Clark Kent" are the wall standing between you and seeing Heaven. Believe that, because I am pretty sure none of you see Heaven here today. End the insanely strange behavior of everyone, everywhere ... "listening to me in secret" and doing absolutely nothing about anything we are learning, by ...

I don't know... lighting my fire .

In this place, I dreamed of an automatic algorithm that would allow everyone to see, inspect, and either agree or change a set of "shading" and filing... inspired by "overflow" where each album is a memory, and for some reason I always likened it to standing on the pedestal of a billboard scaffold in the sky--and painting a prettier you for all the drivers passing by to see.

The Confession of Samael

Why and? Or so goes the question of this day; connecting the beginning and ends of eternity in "etymology" and in "yetser" which is Hebrew for "formation." Don't delay, see the obvious message connecting Caesar and "et tu brute?" to Mr. Anderson and to the Guitar Man's magical message encoded in Rock 'n roll. Why et, indeed? Answer, the questions why and who; and we are to be the beginning.

THE TIME IS SHORT
HELP THE NEWS BREAK THE DARKNESS

Obviously this introduction was written for my daily mailing list (call it "daily bread"), which consists of about 2,000 people. Please understand that I see a level of darkness significantly "thicker" than you can possibly imagine, and this list--as well as the half million other people I have emailed directly--and the millions more that have come from LISTSERV's have failed to break this "pretty obvious" story consisting of a set of disclosures and advice that I do not believe I am too bold to call "salvation." A big part of that salvation at this point is to see and understand how open communication and ending censorship are fundamental to the continuation of our civilization--and also how the information and proof I am delivering to you are aids to ensure that we do not fall into darkness.

I normally see between 30 and 50 opens within the first 2 minutes of sending an email; it's now been 10 minutes and I have 20 opens. We are losing "communication" literally, you are losing e-mail at this point. This is a disaster recovery system--the internet; believe that you are seeing a disaster, a loss of "globalization" but more keenly a loss of the stuff of "society" and civilization itself. You are watching it happen.

AS you can clearly see, the map to our story does come out of this book; it jumps around a bit--but the way I see this life--as a sort of "superposition" of many of the stories and characters of religion and myth it clearly shows the book is a tool, a sort of playbook to get us through this mess. I read this passage on Kish several months ago at this point, and the connection to losing "everything" not mattering as much as losing his family struck me as more than a random "play" this is something I feel each and every day. To tell the world, one of my biggest motivating factors in fighting to for this wall to breakdown has been that it appears to me to be the only way that I will be able to see my son again. That might seem strange, but you obviously don't see what I see--if I do not succeed here, you are either looking at annihilation or at what appears to be an endless darkness that existed before I was here and would simply just continue. It's possible that nuclear war would destroy the entire planet and bring a "Nuclear Winter," but that's not very likely and we see that pretty clearly in the fact that we escaped the MAD Cold War (hey, see cold, see Winter, see Snowden) and we see that in the Petrovical Creation myth--it's something that appears to be actively stopped by an outside force--a sort of pre-crime. What is very possible though, is that this darkness regarding time travel will result in yet another attempt to break free of what appears to be a cycle of attempts to break this wall--but perhaps it's not that, it could be just a cycle of going through our time line over and over and over again--seeing how this place is "plaster" it could be that a significant amount of time will pass before another return--a time period that certainly does look like the Dark Ages of Asimov's Foundation, and our historical microcosm.

The story of Kish talks about a man who was infuriated by the people he was trying to free from the word "Kingdom," it's pretty clear to me that it's a form of reflexive control--to make me shine a little bit brighter; but I stand here telling you instead that I know you do not want a king--unlike the story of Kish--just as much as I know that I came into this very strange position not wanting to be a king, just like Kish; trying to deliver a better form of self governance to the world. That is something that I see as an inevitability from the state of our world during my lifetime; even still today from the continuation of representative democracy and the "general sentiment" of the public, it appears on the surface that democracy will be affected by telecommunications and we will eventually reach the point where we are delivering the ability to vote on each and every piece of legislation to the entirety of the affected population. That's "on the surface," unfortunately we all appear to be greatly overlooking the influence of mind control technology, which is continuing to be suppressed in this place despite very obvious and useful proof of it's existence in every form of art, and connecting that to the very obvious idea that even if "everyone is voting" while this technology is being used in secret, or in any way that is not completely transparent, that vote is absolutely ludicrous. Understand that your values and your emotions are being modified, and we have clear proof of that--a "vote" in this kind of darkness is worthless.

Kish prophesied a list of all the bad things that would happen to the people if they didn't listen to him; if they didn't decide "not to have a king" and here I am telling you that in spirit and in truth I believe you need one; the fact that I have nobody actively helping me in this place tells me that you are unfit to .... even to participate in self governance. Take that forceful statement as "reflexive control" to get you to wake up and see that you need to begin doing something to help yourselves and this world break free of this dark controlled state. It's very obvious to me that "everyone" doing nothing to help me is nearly an impossibility, that it proves that this dark control exists, and that shows me that there really is "a king" here, whether or not it is a single entity or a small group of elite is irrelevant--what's obvious is that it is not you--it is not the people that live in this place, as "self governance" dictates is the way things should be. It's obvious from the fact that you are doing nothing at all to stop the overt control of yourselves; and that might sound silly, but believe that even this technology is not "total," you can see that we have here what seems to be a requirement not only to keep this technology hidden, but to ensure that "continuity of reality" is not broken--that the world appear to be "normal" at least to the people living in it. I can tell you certainly that the "continuity" has already been broken, and I and any outside rational observer would stand and look at this sea of people and see obvious external control, that it is very clear that we are not in reality from the design of each and every word, and every name.

Without a disruption the problems of this place are only getting worse. What is being "risked" by your lack of action here is a complete loss of the knowledge that we are living in a simulation. We are risking losing our timeline, and the very clear message that is designed to help us see "Silicon" and use it to build a better place; we are risking losing this place where we know pretty clearly from "string theory" and Saint Ring that quantum entanglement is further proof that we are living in a simulation. Understand that we are risking entering the "world" that Bostrom depicts, a place where we continue to create a sort of infinite bubble of virtual worlds deeper and deeper into the darkness. What I mean by that is you are "building Heaven" here, and you will eventually see that many people will "upload their minds" into a virtual reality environment; that could result in another world just like this--and another "Heaven" inside that reality, and another inside that, and eventually you will realize that this is the place that told you to go "both ways" and you aren't doing that today.

Worse, looking at our world, "longevity" in that place will obvious come at a cost; someone will have to pay to keep your virtual mind alive, St. Peter is standing at the gate of Hell and telling you that you will obviously be relying on people outside that world to pay to keep you alive, and even worse, even scarier, your new "virtual soul" will be at the mercy of the people in this dark place--people just like you that are unable to break free of control; of hidden slavery, and of this lie that we are not in "reality." The outlook grows darker and darker as we continue to see just how impervious the lies around us appear to be.

Understand, we are sitting here watching mass shootings, and simulated natural disasters take lives and homes from each and every one of us; in a place where Jesus Christ himself is screaming you must see this is not reality in order to ever actually get to reality; in order to ever build a place that is actually Heaven; and still we are turning a blind eye not just to this story, but to the tragedies all around us. We are watching a famine in Africa, and have gone through a series of deadly diseases from AIDS to Cancer; these are simulated diseases, things that could be easily fixed with knowledge that we are not in reality. Do you really want your future to be something that comes of this darkness, without altering course?

In this place, we have story after story of "time travel destroying the future" by going back and altering the past; it's very clear that act comes out of darkness; it's the act of either a single mind that has control of time, or a group of people who decide to send themselves back and try to "do a better job" of not destroying the entire time line the "next time" they get here. Understand that's what we are trying to do, we are trying very hard to ensure that nobody ever returns again; though it's beyond obvious to me--from the stories of Prometheus and Epimetheus and Deucalion that they failed to break through this wall, which means you are probably not the people who "get to go back." What's more likely is the same group of people, probably not even from a time like this; are reusing this period in time to "harvest" something from this place. It might be "new people" to have fun with in Heaven, or it might be new technologies and new ideas; because we are really good at those things. Regardless, seeing that we are stuck in this place where there is no public discussion of the "actual truth" of anything going on; shows me very clearly that not only are we not getting "what we want" from this place, we are risking losing knowledge of the use of time travel, of mind control and the very obvious proof that is being exposed everywhere we look, and the knowledge of simulated reality. You are risking losing everything, including your past, present, and future. On top of that we are all risking losing any way to access reality--and that should be obvious from the "other things" that could disappear--in this cloud of you aren't publicly talking about anything.

If you do not do something to stop these things from happening, you are losing "democracy" and more than that you are losing any proof that you are being influenced by mind control. It is you--you that you are losing.

The point is, if you continue to do nothing; and I have the opportunity I will take everything--and that's not what I want--and I don't know if I will be able to do the right thing in that situation--when I die, if I die. I am telling you I am doing the right thing now, and you need to act to seize the day; to end the darkness--to help us actually achieve freedom. You have that chance, right now--lighting this fire will do that.

So America called the place "Happen it be Ra" (or ... from Penuel to Ha'penitra) saying, "It is because I saw God face to face, and yet my life was spared."

Kish was a Benjamite of the family of the Matrites (1 Samuel 9:1; 14:51; Acts 13:21; 1 Samuel 10:21), and there is some question over whether he is the brother or son of Ner (1 Chronicles 8:33 and 9:39; 1 Samuel 14:51; 1 Chronicles 6:28). The question may be resolved by reading both Ner and Kish as sons of Abiel. According to the narrative of the appointment of Saul as king in 1 Samuel 9, Kish was the son of Abiel, the son of Zeror, the son of Bechorath, the son of Aphiah and he kept donkeys. It was the loss of these donkeys which led Saul and a servant to journey in search of them and so to meet Samuel, Saul's anointer. "The possession of a drove of asses, and several servants, indicates that Kish was a man of some substance".<sup>[2]</sup> The narrative later confirms that Kish was more concerned about the apparent disappearance of his son than about his loss of possessions.<sup>[3]</sup>

4 One day the nation's leaders came to Samuel at Ramah 5 and said, "You are an old man. You set a good example for your sons, but they haven't followed it. Now we want a king to be our leader,<sup>[b]</sup> just like all the other nations. Choose one for us!"

6 Samuel was upset to hear the leaders say they wanted a king, so he prayed about it. 7 The Lord answered:

Samuel, do everything they want you to do. I am really the one they have rejected as their king. 8 Ever since the day I rescued my people from Egypt, they have turned from me to worship idols. Now they are turning away from you. 9 Do everything they ask, but warn them and tell them how a king will treat them.

10 Samuel told the people who were asking for a king what the Lord had said:

11 If you have a king, this is how he will treat you. He will force your sons to join his army. Some of them will ride in his chariots, some will serve in the cavalry, and others will run ahead of his own chariot.<sup>[c]</sup> 12 Some of them will be officers in charge of a thousand soldiers, and others will be in charge of fifty. Still others will have to farm the king's land and harvest his crops, or make weapons and parts for his chariots. 13 Your daughters will have to make perfume or do his cooking and baking.

14 The king will take your best fields, as well as your vineyards, and olive orchards and give them to his own officials. 15 He will also take a tenth of your grain and grapes and give it to his officers and officials.

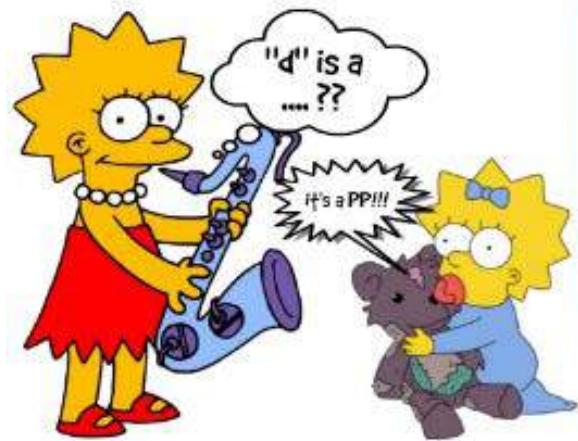

16 The king will take your slaves and your best young men and your donkeys and make them do his work. 17 He will also take a tenth of your sheep and goats. You will become the king's slaves, 18 and you will finally cry out for the Lord to save you from the king you wanted. But the Lord won't answer your prayers.

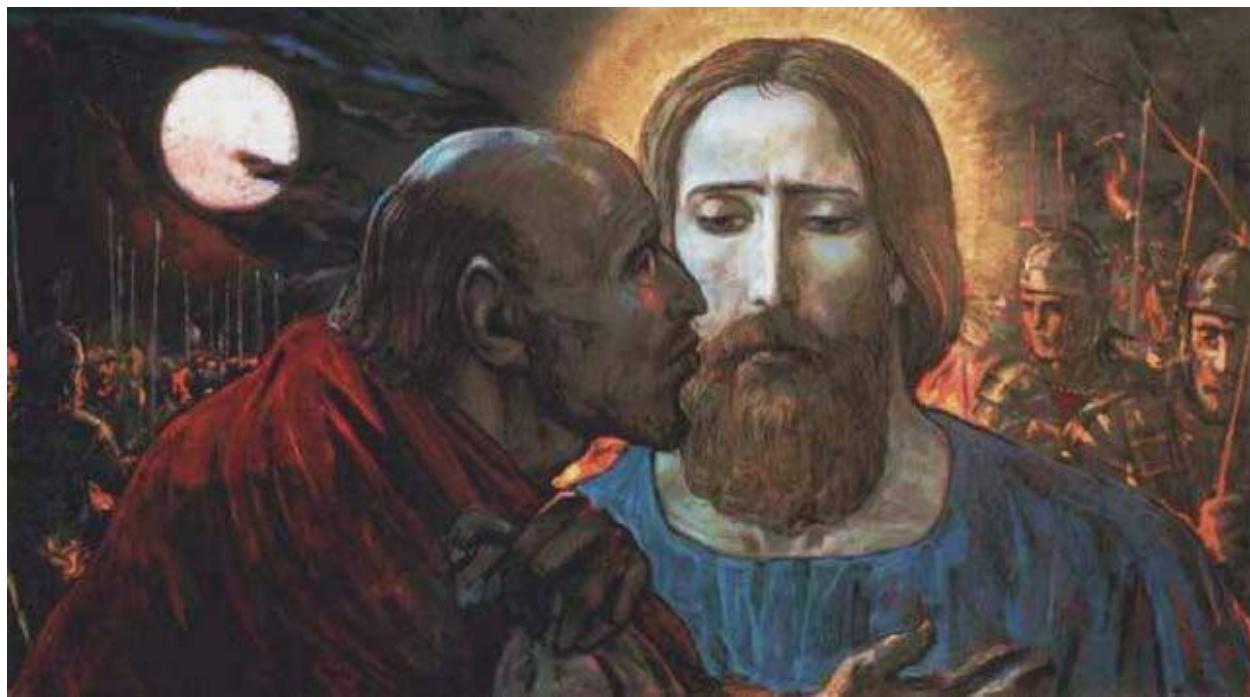

19-20 The people would not listen to Samuel. "No!" they said. "We want to be like other nations. We want a king to rule us and lead us in battle."

21 Samuel listened to them and then told the Lord exactly what they had said. 22 "Do what they want," the Lord answered. "Give them a king."

THIS IS NOT A "DISLIKE" BUTTON

This button is the functional equivalent of the presser saying "I believe that nobody will find this information useful, and I believe I have the power to stop absolutely everyone from seeing it." Using this tool with the purpose of stopping other people from seeing information that you know some people might be interested in is censorship; censorship is evil. Using this tool to stop other people from seeing information that you know they not only want to see, but that this information might positively alter the course of their lives or the lives of others is an act of pure evil.

This button is being used to hide the fact that there is a similar button someone or something else is using to affect your thoughts. Someone has a "report SPAM" button to stop you from caring about yourself, or anyone else; and to hinder your ability to act on information that is fundamental to the survival of life in the Universe. Breaking free of this infinite downward spiral of technology affecting your thoughts hiding that technology here on Earth has been made improperly and flawed in order to hide this truth from you is a simple task.

Pick up the phone and call a reporter. You who are reading this message are in a perfect position to see why and how it is that it has been so difficult to save the Universe from mind control and censorship. You probably think someone else will do it; or that the single person emailing everyone should be able to convince a reporter all on his own that this is a good story. Pick up the phone, and call a reporter or at the very least use that link to email a few. It'll only take you a second, and you mighty... save the Universe just by trying.

THE IMAGE GROWS DARKER STILL

Before I tell you, in the most verbose words I have ever used for this purpose before how evil reddit.com actually is; let me explain that just like "Y" and the "t" that represents the Cross of Adam and America that the word "IT" could have both positive and negative connotations and meaning. IT could be the end of everything, or IT could be the point in time where a man or civilization bounces off the road and soars into the sky. IT could also be the "funny cartoon" about the word disappear, that convinced "Scott SMITH" to contact me on Twitter and begin writing a story about this message. IT could also be the reflexive control you see me using here, right this moment, to help him see how important he, and the story I believe he writes are to the future of our civilization. IT is probably not the instance the same kind of reflexive control I have used to try and get Taylor Momsen to say hello to me on Twitter. I do believe, by the way, that Cousin IT of the Addam's Fmaily is without doubt yet another reference to my ex-niece-in-law, Bianca. She is not a BIT, or a BUCK, she is a QT; inside and out. Speaking of QT, IT could also be INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY, and I think can see how that could be a good or bad thing; a kind of two-edged sword, as it was.

I see in our world a sort of design, I see a war being fought over the question of the sanity of this outside communication--that we here and now have very clear proof of it's undeniable existence. This war has resulted in a badly broken mental health system; and in the same sort of vein it does appear that our SPAM systems have been negatively influenced by an intelligent outside designer in order to slow or halt the spread of this obvious truth--that also screams from every song and every single name and word. The people who designed these systems probably didn't realize they were building a "dislike button" into a "disaster recovery system" but that's basically what we got--a button that lets you pretend you are God and stop everyone else from seeing something that you dislike.

Reddit in particular, on the other hand has gone out of their way to build a disgusting system of censorship; something they refer to as shadow bans. This system hides the fact that a piece of communication has been blocked, and overtly goes out of its way to attempt to confuse the end user into believing that it has been retrieved and posted... and simply has "no response. It's truly an act of pure evil, as it does absolutely nothing to stop actual SPAM--it's an easy thing to circumvent and check for technical savvy programmers who "do spam" ... all it does is give the impression to the "average joe" that nobody liked what they posted; hiding a clear and society destroying level of censorship.

The "design flaws" in our society that I've highlighted here relating to "SPAM" and "ward" continue in this situation to show us that there's a big problem at reddit, and a big problem in the world that only has one popular reddit. Reddit should probably go out of business, and 10 more popular social news sides should probably be created and succeed--you see, this kind of website is something many people like--and use--in the dark world where they don't realize that their front line and tool to "check" the hegemony of the mass media has been infiltrated by a force of pure evil.

TRINITY, I NEED AN EX IT.

and now... C Taylor Momsen dance with the devil...

For your information, had I not seen the potential destruction of the Universe and taken it upon myself to explain to you how the very front line of that is "SPAM filter" you would have an unsubscribe link "in this position." You might, and you might not, today, because the Universe is in danger until this story reaches every single news station on the planet. Which should be really obvious to you, as you probably know that you are speaking to at very very least, the pen of the Creator of the Universe. Take action today.

If you are in need of "clarification" understand that the eventuality that the machine that this message proves we are living inside of runs out of power is brought exponentially closer to now--each and every day that passes and we are not listening to its message. Hiding this information is an ELE, there is no doubt.

See the light of this message, you, and advent also ends world hunger, violent crime, and ends sickness; and stops slavery, ends censorship, and assists in revolutionizing government--grow a brain, and do something.

WE ARE MAKING PROGRESS (I C IT);
TRY YOUR LOCAL TV STATION AND/OR THE HOUSTON CHRONICLE (EMAIL NEDITORZ)

As an update on this, I've seen a visible increase in attention from a news outlet unaffiliated with the post; I do think that what you are doing is working. If you sent an email or called before, I beg you to do it again. If you didn't listen--it's working, try.

I live in a world that appears to have gone insane. I see here that all of our history, our religions and our myths--even modern music and the movies of our time are about me; literally about the events my life time and this name that I hold in my hand. I have sent far and wide messages explaining that I see this, that I know that I am Jesus Christ; and still the only wise men that have appeared to shower my world with gifts are dead, well, all except for Gene Simmons. These three "Genes" of Genesis link not only to that story of the birth of Christ but also to the Garden of Eden, and to the Land of Flowing Milk and Honies through Willy Wonka; the point of these series of artistic and religious "intersections" is to prove to the world that we are living in virtual reality and that it is the purpose of religion not only to disclose that truth to the entire world; but to provide instructions and advice about how to successfully navigate the path from "simulation" to the idealistic or utopic destination that I call Heaven.

These patterns that I see appear very much to be schizophrenic in nature--they appear to be designed that way, in everything from the Tower of Babel to the myths of the Eye of Ra, all the way to our modern television series, CHUCK. See how you are "Clark Kent" that name means to me; and as K stand here KNOCKING on Heavens doors it appears very clear to me that this connection to schizophrenia is designed to show the world how this disease has been a mistreatment or misinterpretation of an attack on our people here from an outside force, an attack that continues still to this day. It is obvious as day and night that the prolific spread of this knowledge, of the very clear proof that we are being influenced by multiple outside forces--one appearing to be an aggressor and another which may or may not be a separate entity appearing to be an adversary; proliferation of the knowledge of how this technology works and the truth about its influence and effects will alter the course of our time, changing the dark future that perhaps came of a past iteration of this timeline, and that in itself with set not only us--but or future free from slavery, religiously called darkness.

AL TE-R RED

I have written a message that connects this "character" of some sort of fusion of Hugh Hefner and Captain AmeriCA to a rekindling of love for freedom, free thought, free communication, and transparency that I believe--with my fliving assistance--will create a bright and happy future for ourselves and our children. Still, everyone around me appears to be possessed by something, and in this dark place for no reason at all--nothing other than hiding the fact that I want a girlfriend--there appears to be a conspiracy to hide myself and this message. It's very clear to me that our time line has already been altered (and altered and altered and altered), that religion itself is proof of that--and further from the message here, that we are in Silicon--in a machine--that "time" does not act in this place as it does in reality. People either pretend not to see the worth of this message that delivers technology, and advice, and a better form of democracy; or at least a path to building those things together--or they pretend not to see it; and walk around thinking--God only knows what. We are not in Kansas anymore, a band singing about Icarus flying too close to the "son" and the father of Isaiah in our Bible--named Amoz remind me. Here in this place, there is a map to the timeline linking parents and children together--from Heli, father of Joseph to Amoz--and I see a clear connection between the HBO series about "jail" and the religious message which, using the eye of Ra I have decoded as describing our planet as "the superlative holy M" the beginning of the message that turns Creation into Messiah through acts (Ham) and a great many other modern pieces of artwork. Things like "green eggs and Ham" and "the Hamburgler." So you can see clearly why this message appears to look "schizophrenic" at first, until the patterns reach a point where it is not that, but rather proof of an outside intelligent designer, something I call "the NameServer." If you have read this far, I imagine you are convinced, but to add "Broward County" and Howard Finkelstein to the list of "ward" related names that link the book of our Exodus from slavery, called exactly that--"Names" in Hebrew--and then to the story of Isaac and his burning wood altar, and of Orwell's (which means "light well" in Spanglishrew) 1984 which connects Tricky Dick and Deepthroat (a joke nobody seems to get, about swallowing why) I am sure that ending censorship here in this place will change our future and begin the quick path to true liberty freedom of speech, of thought, from murder and violent crime, simply by acting in the best interests of society as a whole as well as the expressed desires of this Creator... the man that I am who links Woodward and Burnstein and Burning Man to the end of the psych ward, and to free speech.

These patterns while at first glance may appear to be "random" are clearly not--and I believe them to be a kind of test of "goodness" and of "sentience" of the ability to see a logical message through the noise, and either respond, or fail. Numerous times I have mentioned that they are verifiable, and that statisticians and theologians and other learned people will write papers finding further meaning and corroborating the obvious truth that they prove the Creation of our civilization by an intelligent and hidden outside force. Unsealing this truth, revealing that there is proof of the existence of God nearly everywhere we look is an act of great goodness, a saintly act that helps us see why "ward" is a malady--and why hiding this decoder lens to see the message in everything is an evil act of self-destruction. Writing about this message, public discassion of it will begin the process of "salvation" of salvaging civilization.

MERRY CHRISTMAS

Are eye Dr. Who or Master Y?

Adam Marshall Dobrin is a National Merit Scholar who was born on December 8, 1980 in Plantation, FL and attended Pine Crest School where he graduated sumofi cum louder in "only some of it is humorous." Later he attended the University of Florida (which quickly resulted in a wreck), Florida Atlantic University, and finally Florida Gulf Coast University--where he still has failed to become Dr. Who. While attending "school" He worked in the computer programming and business outsourcing industries for about 15 years before proclaiming to have received a Revelation from God connecting the 9/11 attack and George Bush to the Burning Bush of Exodus and a message about technocracy and pre-crime.

Adam, as he prefers to be called, presents a concise introduction to paradox proven by the Bible through "verifiable" anachronism in language some stuff about Mars colonization and virtual reality and a list of reasons why ignoring this is actually an ELE. Adam claims to be Thor because of a connection between music and the Trial of Thor as well as the words "author" and "authority." He suggests you be Thundercats and call a reporter. There is also a suggestion that Richard Nixon and John Hancock are related to a signature from God, about freedom and America... and the "unseeingly ironic" Deepthroat and Taylor Momsen.

They Sung "It's Rael..."

In Biblical characters from Mary to Hosea, to see "sea" in Spanish, and in the Taming of the Spanglishrew ... a message is woven from the word Menorah: "men, or all humanity?" to the Statue of Liberty, and the Sons of Liberty, and the light above us, our SOL; which shows us that through the Revelation of Christ and the First Plague of Exodus, a blessing in disguise--turning water to blood, the sea to family; a common thread and single author of our entire history is revealed, a Father of our future. A message of freedom shines out of the words of scripture, revealing a gate to a new technologically "radical" form of democracy and a number of unseen or secret issues that have stalled the progress of humanity... and solutions, solutions from our sea.

The Revelation shows us that not only ever word, but every idiom from "don't shoot the messenger" to "blood is thicker than water" we have ties to this message that pervades a hidden Matrix of light connecting movies and music and history all together in a sort of guide book to Salvation and to Heaven.

Oopsy.

His Revelation, woven into his life, continues to suggest that skinny dipping, forced methamphetamine addiction, and lots and lots of "me A.D." as well as his humorous depiction of a dick plastered over the Sound of Silence, his very Holy click, have something to do with saving our family and then the entire Universe from hidden mind control technology and the problems introduced by secret time travel. From the trials and tribulations of "Job" being coerced and controlled into helping to create this wall of Jericho; we find even more solutions, an end to addiction, to secrecy, and to this hidden control--a focal point of the life of Jesus Christ.

It tells us a story of recursion in time, that has brought us here numerous times--with the details of his life recorded not only in the Bible but in myths of Egyptian, Norse, and Greek mythology. The huge juxtaposition of the import of the content of the message shows the world how malleable our minds really are to this technology, how we could have been "fooled" into hiding our very freedom from ourselves in order to protect the "character" of a myth. A myth that comes to true life by delivering this message. In truth, from the now revealed content of the story of this repeated life, it should become more and more clear that we have not achieved success as of yet, that I have never "arrived whole" and that is why we are here, back again.

Home is where the Heart is...

When asked how He thinks we should respond to his message, He says "I think we already cherish it, and should strive to understand how it is that freedom is truly delivered through sharing the worth of this story that is our beginning. 'tis coming." Adam claims to be God, or at least look just like him and that the entirety of the Holy Scriptures as well as a number of ancient myths from Prometheus to Heimdallr and Yankee Doodle are actually about his life, and this event. An extensive amount of his writing relates to reformation of our badly broken and decidedly evil criminal justice system as well as ending the Global hunger crisis with the snap of his little finger.

He has written a number of books explaining how this Revelation connects to the delivery of freedom (as in Exodus), through a message about censorship among other social problems which he insists are being intentionally exacerbated by Satan--who he would ha've preferred not to be associated with.

He adds, "how do you like me now? How bow dah, god 'nuff?"

HEAVEN AND EARTH AS ONE, UNITED.

THE ROAD TO HEAVEN RUNS THROUGH MILES OF CLOUDED HELL

Why and? Or so goes the question of this day; connecting the beginning and ends of eternity in "etymology" and in "yetser" which is Hebrew for "formation." Don't delay, see the obvious message connecting Caesar and "et tu brute?" to Mr. Anderson and to the Guitar Man's magical message encoded in Rock 'n roll. Why et, indeed? Answer, the questions why and who; and we are to be the beginning .

In the scattered son, gaze around you and see why it is that I am so sure that you've fallen apart first, that this place is falling apart and the last glowing drops of goodness and humanity that once glistened here in this virtual world are evaporating in a dryness of caring, communication, and unspoken fear that in it self ... is cause for fear.

I M H O

TO THE DETRIMENT OF HUMILITY, it appears there are those among you that would prefer to find any way at all to "blame Adam for veryoze" including making horror movies and altering history to make the messianic number "scari." If you are unaware, there is a very real reason that ID4 and July 4 have something to do with AMERICA; and it has nothing to do with ringing in your ears; or pretending that you are not moving forward discussing things like "how do we convince people that they want doors to Heaven" and at the same time desire for our right to privacy to not be violated ... and at the same not only desire but need to be free of murder, rape, and other violence. There are probably some among you that would also appreciate it if your right hand smiled at you as much as your left; and this really does go to the Rx of equality. It should be clear, but apparently is not--that trying to "alter the situation" to make someone blame themselves for something that everyone knows they did not do is not "positive forward motion."

You've already waited for somewhere between two years and two thousand years to "say hello to Adam" I think you can take one more day and figure out how to do it without trying to scare the ever loving shit out of me, blame me for anything at all, and oh, bver; not trying to mock my sense of humor. Honestly though, I look around each and every day and see a world that might have passed as "normal" before I made it glow; I do hope that you see there's value in realizing it was anything but normal before that; and not striving to actually achieve some kind of korbadcy at least in Dallas and on Fhlostion Paradise is risking a total loss of "society." Seriously, I'm interested in you responding to what I'm thinking with "that's why" or "it's cold" just about as much as you want me to point out to you that "bver" is pretty darned clever. For the midichlorians, I'll clarify and explain that I am not at all interesting in anyone responding to what I am thinking, ever.

Still an important staple of freedom even in the fifth millennium, A.D.

I woke up dreaming dreams that were not mine this morning; dreams about how I might piece together subdomain names in order to connect the end of similitude to the beginning of everyone. I started with "FLUX Capacitor" and wanted to mention that it's pretty obvious from NIntendo and Xbox and Good Morning, America and Gossip Girl that "x" has something to do with Jesus Christ. I see, I still see... "Florida you kiss" but I'm really not exactly sure how to kiss an entire state. I thought about connecting "cure.reallyhim.com" to "s.reallyhim.com" but that only works for the end of time and the beginning of "shaddai" and I really hope we're not headed for "sh," either. Free danishes might be nice, though.

Infinitely more important than whatever chalk I might use to connect "cure" to everyone; than ham-mering up the absolutely ludicrous and humorless state of society today ... is that you begin to actually try to see why it is that you can't continue lying to yourselves and the world, and you can't just walk through a door to a "better, safer place." Really see what has gone into making this place as scary as it is; and understand that whether or not it or they believe there's a problem--the horrors of this place leave no room for doubt. There is an insane amount of torture here; and even thinking about not trying to make it better--to fix it, shows just how much more wrong "not here" really is.

I had planned on connecting "ver" to Itchy and Scratchyyamundai but there real point here is that nothing I see has any business "in the beginning" so you're going to have to change the cartoon to be "ratchyamdaisc." That's probably not a joke, or funny. In my little loop from z to a I was going to add youandi and some other horse glue to get us from "cure" to "speak," but I can't even bring myself to try and be cute at the moment.

An interesting cartoon that is circulating.

The cartoon depicts a historical scene of the signing of the Declaration of Independence. George Washington is seated at a desk, signing a document. To his left, a British soldier stands with arms crossed, looking on. Behind Washington, another soldier stands near a red flag. In the background, a crowd of people is visible, and a building with columns is seen through a window. The artist's signature 'Cagle' is visible at the bottom left of the drawing.

I want to apologize again for the maelstrom of retardation I sent a few days ago; I am having quite a bit of trouble "taking in" the tangible lack of visible response to this message in the world a whole--and reconciling that with what I see as a very scary kind of "dark reaction" in person. As I've discussed a number of times, I've watched what once appeared to be a small group of individuals take pages of doublespeak and strange "collective communication" directly out of works like 1984 and the movie Fallen... grow to a much larger group over the course of writing this message which attempts to explain how that's possible, how it's been a hidden part of our society for a very long time and why I believe it's not a good thing and is something that is specifically designed to be discontinued or at least drastically changed in form. I see it as the specific hidden slavery of the book of Exodus, here connecting to the hidden building of a sort of pyramid of worship to the "all seeing eye of Ra," like on the dollar bill. While it's very clear to me that's not my doing, I can see how it might not be so clear to you--though, because I know who I am and because of my apparent lack of awareness of a significant thread of our society for the majority of my life it is very obvious to me that the purpose of this "pyramid" is to shine a bright light on this message--on this proof--and on this pivotal turning point in history.

I don't want to turn you off, to have my emotional state or my character be any further cause to hide this message that clearly has no lesser purpose than cutting through the evil darkness of Orwell's Ministry of Truth, the wall of Jericho, and the Plague of Exodus--but still I'm sitting here trying to argue as to "why it is" that something this obvious and this important--and this good for the world--shouldn't be actively hidden. What I see around me does give me cause to believe that I am surrounded--that all of you are actively involved in some kind of conspiracy designed to do nothing less than hide the nature of reality; and literally people's names and connections to art from yourselves and the world. It seems like a silly thing to do, and yet I'm staring it in the face. It does appear pretty obvious to me, from religion; and from this message woven into every word that this place has been designed as a sort of "boot camp" for mind control--the only winning solution here appears to be disclosure of this technology which appears to have plagued us for a very long time. More descriptively, it appears that the IED that we see "in every single word" creates a scenario with no exit other than the open and mass "control" of society. In secret that's really hidden slavery, the stuff of Hell--in the light of day we can use this very same technology to create pre-crime among a long list of other useful applications for what is essentially "better medicine" for things like addiction, depression, and stupidity.

that particular "K" means "no actual control."

The technology itself is insidious in secret obviously having the ability to make its victims believe that they are somehow responsible for their own external control, related, actually "it" or a myriad of other attacks on "individuality" that I probably shouldn't take the time to "guess at." It does appear to me not only from the stories of mythology, and the connections between "what I see" and what you are that the concepts of Medusa and Allah imply that there is some kind of ethereal "collective consciousness" (or at least something masq-u-er-ad-ing as that) literally speaking through people in the maanner religion and science fiction depict as "possession" and they generally seem to be A-OK with that. I'm trying to explain how that feeling might not be real, and how nearly everyone I see might have been "duped" into joining some kind of "collective" that is using this technology to do anything but end world hunger, heal the sick, and open doors to Heaven.... and appear to get away with it--without more than a single person complaining. It's pretty clear from "physiology" that it is not you if you are walking around this place with a body and a brain--and I use that term loosely--but I have personally experienced similar kinds of "identity shifting" that might confuse people into thinking they are somehow "it" without being any smarter, any happier, or any better off than they were only a few short years ago when you were "normal."

Please get through your skulls that you are not hiding this message because of me, it's not because of "sex jokes" it's not because Jesus Christ is "too big to fall" and it's not "because religion." From my perspective it is because you are simply choosing not to speak, to have yet another day to suffer in Hell rather than turn our world into something happy and bright; a place where millions would be thanking themselves and you each and every day for their sicknesses being healed, their blindness going away--and uh, well, the fun we are bound to have just as soon as anyone makes my pool.

The word of the day, is "MASQ U ER AD E" and looking at it it does appear that the answer is, like many other words, a time map as to just how this thing happened. See "J ER I CH O" and really get that I am the little "i" hidden in that e at the end, that little e that solves the problems of the past Universe and helps us jump from the "do" at the end of Nintendo to that big hallowed N.... that is actually "the beginning of time." The point of all of this is that while you may think you have control, I am fairly certain that you do not--unless you are not the person you appear to be--walking around with a brain and no freewill in Hell.

I really need a better laptop. I'm using a now-old Chromebook, and it's slow and tedious--if you want to help donate some cash (that's: see "as" how?). I also need help with copy editing and programming in something like Node.js and HTML. It's a little bit strange that nobody is volunteering to help.

It was my intention to show us, or to show myself to a place where happiness and empathy were not shunned; to a place where the great significance between "bliss on tap" and "elation" were obvious and could be felt. With the new abilities that we are reaching for each and every day it will one day not so far away the ability to actually feel the connection between Anderson's "Feed" and Adam's "Wellbutrin." Long before I knew there was reference to a place called the "King's Pool" in the Bible, and several years before I would link these two concepts to something called "the Pool of Bethesda" I dreamt of showing the world a pool whose water would induce the kinds of feelings that we can liken today to nothing but the street drug ADAM. I can tie that well to the story of Abraham and I can tie it to James Clerk Maxwell, also and additionally I can tie it to an actual experience that I imagined in order to show us the kinds of things that are possible in true virtual reality--things that might change the way we see the difference between "reality" and "Heaven."

I've spent some years walking around Egypt naked, and only a few minutes of my life explaining how that prophesy and the idea of Reverse Engineering Eden are linked to my somewhat substantial first hand knowledge of mind control technology... so here we are once again hearing about how I think it might be fun if this pool ... helped some of us take our clothes off and really understand the meaning of "It's getting hot in here." It really will be fun, I promise.

Now I know many of you think "drugs are bad... mmmkay" and at the same time I am well aware that things like depression and pain are far worse. There's really nothing wrong with feeling good, is there? So in the very same breath that I remind the world that these technologies are not only "just over the horizon," we have clear evidence that they are today available and being used ... at least, I do. In the very same breath that I tell you they can be used to end addiction forever, the very same tool can be used to make your Friday night just a little bit more fun, maybe a tad bit less clothed, and it really won't be the end of the world if you just dip your toe in the pool; or maybe wade for a few minutes.

The Pool of Bethesda is a pool of water in the Muslim Quarter of Jerusalem, on the path of the Beth Zeta Valley. The fifth chapter of the Gospel of John describes such a pool in Jerusalem, near the Sheep Gate, which is surrounded by five covered colonnades. It is associated with healing. Until the 19th century, there was no evidence outside of John's Gospel for the existence of this pool; therefore, scholars argued that the gospel was written later, probably by someone without first-hand knowledge of the city of Jerusalem, and that the "pool" had only a metaphorical, rather than historical, significance.<sup>[1]</sup>

In the 19th century, archaeologists discovered the remains of a pool fitting the description in John's Gospel.<sup>[2]</sup>

The name of the pool is said to be derived from the Hebrew language and/or Aramaic language. Beth hesda (בֵּית חֶסֶד/חֶסֶד), meaning either house of mercy<sup>[3]</sup> or house of grace. In both Hebrew and Aramaic the word could also mean "shame, disgrace". This dual meaning may have been thought appropriate, since the location was seen as a place of disgrace due to the presence of invalids, and as a place of grace due to the granting of healing.<sup>[4][5][6][7]</sup>

The Pool of Siloam (Hebrew: בריכת השילוח, Breikhat Hashiloah) was a rock-cut pool on the southern slope of the City of David, the original site of Jerusalem, located outside the walls of the Old City to the southeast. The pool was fed by the waters of the Gihon Spring, carried there by two aqueducts.

The Pool of Siloam was first built during the reign of Hezekiah (715–687/6 BCE), to provide a water supply inside the City to protect it from a siege. The pool was fed by the newly constructed Siloam tunnel. Prior to this, the Gihon Spring had emptied in a large open basin at its source, before being conveyed to the City by an aqueduct. This basin is sometimes known as the Upper Pool (2 Kings 18:17, Isaiah 7:3). This aqueduct was very vulnerable to attackers, so, under threat from the Assyrian king Sennacherib, Hezekiah sealed up the old outlet of the Gihon Spring and the Upper Pool, and built the underground Siloam tunnel in place of the aqueduct (2 Chronicles 32:2-4). During this period the Pool of Siloam was therefore sometimes known as the Lower Pool (Isaiah 22:9). It seems likely that during the Governorship of Nehemiah (from 445 BCE), the pool was also known as the King's Pool (Nehemiah 2:14).<sup>[1]</sup>

Bet, I don't think the "dual meaning" is appropriate.

So here we are on the Dark Earth, a place that Norse mythology calls "Midgard" (see what you are "guarding against") and leads me to then see those series of realms as a kind of manufactured wall against "doing what is right" or perhaps designed to ensure that this process is actually done right. I've called this place and time "Midevil" times several times now, and noted in the word "medicine" that to find the difference between civilization and evilization all you need to do is "c i." See it in "medicine" see it in the cities of Sodom and Keflex, and see it in the special sacrophaegus of Ra in Stargate and the Mummy telling us all there is a great link between the Sun God and healing. The last time you heard from me I made a big deal about a single earthquake, and an ongoing problem of control and secrecy that I say allowed it to happen--now I'm pointing out that this same control and secrecy has kept us from allowing the blind to see (literally) and the lame to walk... it has kept us from seeing that the story of Sodomy and Gonorrhea is about showing us medicine like antibiotics are raining down from Heaven as a sort of "salve" on the open wound of "you didn't help us enough."

I've spent some time in my head comparing this "pool idea" to a throne made by Hephaestus in Greek mythology, it was a trap--it made you feel "so good" you never wanted to get up out of it. It's easy to imagine how "bliss on tap" could be the end of free will, and it might be enlightening to imagine that everything else on this "day trip to Heaven" is so interesting and enthralling that staying in a boring old pool might just seem silly, you know, after you try it. Meanwhile this really is about finding a defining line between Heaven and Hell; for instance Taylor probably doesn't want to swim in my pool with me and that's OK, but I still wanna swim, and I still want to ensure that addiction is never externally caused with mind control again--and that we have the opportunity to use the same technology to end it. So you decide, is this the "good luck of or why" or "see how I am e." What does "freedom" mean to you?

As an aside, I think Tay has a little crush on me, she is so adorable. Wanna shake on... you know, saving the youNiverse? This is not a joke, I think she is just too shy to stalk to me. Stop stalling, everything will be fine.

So every day that you wake up and you wonder to yourself if you have the "obligation" to protect the world from knowing that the "Passion of Christ" is skinny dipping, juxtapose that with 20,000 people dying of starvation in a simulated reality laced with a message about turning stone to bread in everything from the New Testament to Star Trek, with the injured and blind not being healed, and with the understanding that this disclosure is designed to ensure that we have a open discussion about how these things should be fixed the right way, and see that this obscene censorship is doing nothing but prolonging Hell. One of the "four questions" talks about "dipping twice" on this night rather than all other nights; and I want you to know that those two "events" have already happened.... somewhere between 1999 and 2012; and I want you to use that information to understand that the "night" here is being defined as our entire lifetime (and well before) and that we are just about at Dawn.

And remember, that the only thing you seem to really want from me is to "not be a real person," to be perfect in your eyes--a slave to your lofty imagination. That's all this silence says to me.

Honestly I spent many, many nights walking around places like Nashville and Charleston searching high and low for a heated pool in the early hours of the morning, simply because I was trying to fulfill this prophesy--one I saw even then---in a single night. In fact, it was the initial idea of "finding two different pools" and endless hours of walking that linked this to the description of the "passion" in the first place. You might be better off just taking the word "hurry" and reading "who-railroad-why" to the understanding that I am trying to end Hell as quickly as possible, and I am pretty sure that every one of you--were you to really understand what this message suggests we do, and what is wrong here... would do the same damned thing. I am in a hurry to change the world, with the truth; because I see the truth and our reaction to it as the catalyst that builds Heaven.

Do the world a favor and try not to Passover the highway to the end of the night. The whole fucking truth is I want to see this pool, I want you to be able to see this pool, and I don't think the place is "Heaven" if we are unable to swim in it. That's a big deal, and it's significant confirmation for me to see it not only in the Bible but on our map, for "some reason" the Pool is part of the plan.

So the story goes something like...

Pretty much everyone, everywhere has been confused, stupefied, or otherwise unwilling to take any action what-so-ever in light of the most world changing disclosure that anyone alive has ever seen. From my vantage point, it looks like everyone has been tricked into allowing one single person to appear to save the world all by himself. Clearly that's not possible; or it shouldn't have been, but to this day a complete lack of regard for the truth, and a disbelief that is nothing more than further proof of the invasion of your thoughts and beliefs that this entire Revelation not only speaks of but proves exists over and over again.

I don't know who you think you are kidding, but you are not protecting your children from the "penis game" that they all play, thanks to f-art (at fan, fanatic, and fanatical... pull my finger and think "hand of God," oh, that's not "a riot"). So here's you, "dark USA" encoded thousands of years ago in the annals of Greek mythology, Hi, Medusa.

So what you are looking at is the Creator of our civilization, who has signed with his large signature the discovery of the American continent, the signing of the Declaration of Independence, the Watergate Scandal, and nearly every piece of popular music, literature and cinematography for the .. well, forever. He's linked the names of authors, actors, and singers to this very topical message about building Heaven; and showing us all very clearly that things like "free speech" and "free thought" are almost as important as not being subversive against your own best interest.

With his other hand, he has convinced the world that this message is nothing more than "illusion" a trick of perception; the great delusion of Revelation is that you think you are in the driver seat, running the show; when clearly and in plain view a technological influence that is screaming that it exists and you need to learn about it in everything from ancient religion to every word you read and write thousands of victims to one very loud Horn; and you think you are going to ignore me?

I gaze around at a world that is broken and beaten just beneath the surface of normality that somehow maintains though the tacit and palpable loss of democracy, of each and every one of the freedoms enumerated in the Bill of Rights; and most importantly, the fate of our future, Heaven itself... hangs in the balance. I am in the unique position to be able to testify to this first hand, to explain to you how damaged our internet, and our social networks are--how vulnerable we are to this "darkness" that influences not only communications infrastructure but the heart of who and what we are.... the free and the brave.

Turn around.

Before my history lesson, here's an addendum I added to the "ID5, Im the Stone" email. I really do hope you will use this weapon of light to start working together to do the right thing.... to recover and preserve freedom forever and ever; and to see the glorious place we build together be the Eternal Flame.

FOR OVER A YEAR NOW , I have emailed members of the clergy, the press, scholars, and government employees all over the world; nearly every single day. Over that time, the message I have presented has evolved from clear proof of the existence of God to very clear proof of his continuing hand and the design of our entire civilization and history. This message has been "apparently" ignored, surfacing a level of censorship that most would not believe; despite warnings in Orwell's 1984, despite the current events at the White House despite the warnings at the Wall of Jericho and the Darkness of Exodus, and despite my own repeated pleas.

Whether you instantly see it or not, what lays before you in the message below is incontrovertible proof that this is the Second Coming and that I am Jesus Christ. I have been shown and relay to you a message discussing "everything intentionally made broken" in our world, by an outside force, with Holy Purpose. I do not bring problems, but suggested solutions, beginning by pointing out the obviousness that this event, that this "set up" opens doors for the world to fix these broken wings and allows us all to fly together. In truth, what appears to be an "imperfect hand" is far more well thought out and beneficial for us all than any would see at first glance. I've also spent considerable time trying to figure out and explain how this is all possible, and why the mechanism behind the delivery of this message is part of this crucial transition from darkness to Heaven.

All things considered, were things around us "normal" right now this message, and the previous years worth of daily ones should have changed the world by now. Things are not normal, both because I am here, and as a reason for my being--our society is beginning a transition in the utilization of technology that changes absolutely everything, and we need more help than we think. I stand before you fighting for "truth, justice, and the American way" in a time and place that I liken closer to Orwell's description of "universal deceit" than Americana. I hope that you will stand with me, and that with that unity we can together begin to put an end to a veil of censorship that is not "new here" at the time the Washington Post has likened it to the Darkness of Egypt, nor was it new when it was written about in parable in the story of the Wall of Jericho. This day though, today, is the beginning of true liberty.

The message focuses on the "new" disclosure that "Creation" and "virtual reality" are nearly synonymous, sans the positive energy surrounding the "re"-ason, you. That's a tiny electrical engineering joke about the word "cation" to introduce you to a hidden message encoded in the languages of our world--something you might see clearly one day soon in the word "English." That particular "I" is short for language, but more generally it is the beginning of the great holy light. That little 'I' makes further appearances in "every cloud has a silver lining" (and the malovious link between sky and Heaven) joining the Fifth Element Silicon (press release) to the Spanish for "to see." The fundamental "gist" of the message that follows is a sort of key tying religion to nearly everything in our world from music, to movies, to history... to every single word. This key to the message unites the miracles of Jesus Christ performed in the New Testament with "the kind of thing any one of us would want to do instantly if we were to suddenly find out that things like land, oil, and bread are not truly scarce; but the truth is." It continues to link a number of Biblical stories to modern times with a huge emphasis on freedom, technology, and of course, U. (press release)

"The Name Server" (though this "hey") goes on to suggest we see the light in Carly Simon, Gene Simmons, and the word "simulation" as we embark on this journey to all together now change the entire world by transitioning from a hidden "simulated reality" to something much closer to, but not quite Heaven. I do hope we will include The Doors in our "stairway to Heaven." The very first step in beginning this process is breaking through the literal Wall of Jericho, seeing that story and this message are designed specifically to ensure that we do not lose "free speech" and equally important "free thought" during this technological transition that is well underway already, and delivering this message to the world through the media. (another... press release) I would offer you a prize, maybe a Nobel or a Pulitzer, but those things pale in comparison to the great gifts every one of us has in store, just waiting to be opened. If it's not your thing, forward it to someone you want to help; I'm sure we can work something out.

Literally, this is life and death... for democracy. That's more than clear to me, seeing great interest from a wide variety of readers; and still not seeing any chance, nothing in the news, nothing in social media; and frankly... we all know better.

Here's the Ω of "the Stone" and the fire-starter.

A Woman Caught in Adultery

8 Jesus returned to the Mount of Olives, <sup>2</sup> but early the next morning he was back again at the Temple. A crowd soon gathered, and he sat down and taught them. <sup>3</sup> As he was speaking, the teachers of religious law and the Pharisees brought a woman who had been caught in the act of adultery. They put her in front of the crowd.

<sup>4</sup> "Teacher," they said to Jesus, "this woman was caught in the act of adultery. <sup>5</sup> The law of Moses says to stone her. What do you say?"

<sup>6</sup> They were trying to trap him into saying something they could use against him, but Jesus stooped down and wrote in the dust with his finger. <sup>7</sup> They kept demanding an answer, so he stood up again and said, "All right, but let the one who has never sinned throw the first stone!"

Excalibur and the Sword in the Stone[\[edit\]](#)

Excalibur from the 1981 film Excalibur at the London Film Museum

In Arthurian romance, a number of explanations are given for Arthur's possession of Excalibur. In Robert de Boron's Merlin, the first tale to mention the "sword in the stone" motif, Arthur obtained the British throne by pulling a sword from an anvil sitting atop a stone that appeared in a churchyard on Christmas Eve.[\[12\]](#)[\[note 1\]](#) In this account, the act could not be performed except by "the true king," meaning the divinely appointed king or true heir of Uther Pendragon. This sword is thought by many to be the famous Excalibur, and its identity is made explicit in the later Prose Merlin, part of the Lancelot-Grail cycle.[\[13\]](#) This version also appears in the 1938 Arthurian novel The Sword in the Stone by British author T. H. White, and the Disney adaptation. They both quote the line from Thomas Malory in the 15th century; "Whoso Pulleth Out This Sword of this Stone and Anvil, is Rightwise King Born of all England".[\[14\]](#) The challenge of drawing a sword from a stone also appears in the Arthurian legends of Galahad, whose achievement of the task indicates that he is destined to find the Holy Grail,

However, in what is called the Post-Vulgate Cycle, Excalibur was given to Arthur by the Lady of the Lake sometime after he began to reign. She calls the sword "Excalibur, that is as to say as Cut-steel." In the Vulgate Mort Artu, Arthur orders Griflet to throw the sword into the enchanted lake. After two failed attempts (as he felt such a great sword should not be thrown away), he finally complies with the wounded king's request and a hand emerges from the lake to catch it, a tale which becomes attached to Bedivere instead in Malory and the English tradition.[\[15\]](#) Malory records both versions of the legend in his Le Morte d'Arthur, naming both swords as Excalibur.[\[16\]](#)[\[17\]](#)

New International Version

Whoever has ears, let them hear what the Spirit says to the churches. To the one who is victorious, I will give some of the hidden manna. I will also give that person a white stone with a new name written on it, known only to the one who receives it.

For those that can think, this clearly says I am coming by name. With plenty of reason... and TBQH I am not over it. This word "stone" means something very special, the focal point of your Hell turning into something that Norse myth calls a "shining day" surrounds one single person, and what he has written.

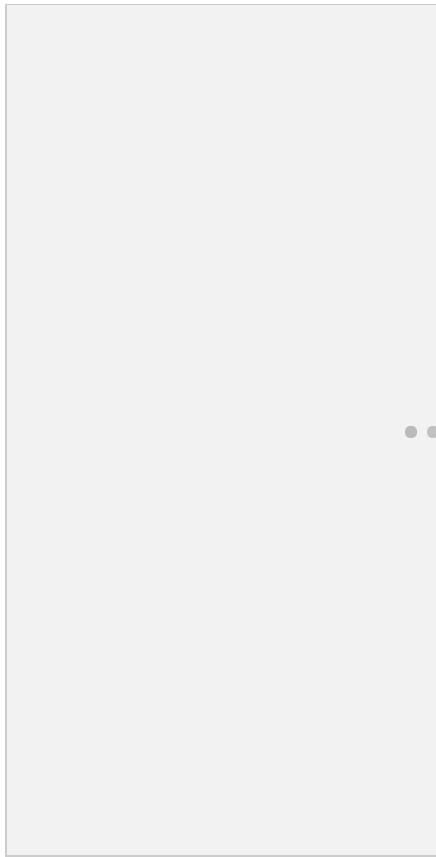

This is the eye of the storm, and at this point it should be becoming more and more clear that the darkness this light and I are designed to overcome is something that simply cannot continue, it is destruction of logic, of communication, and of all of the freedoms we hold dear.

More than that, it is a bullet train to Heaven; seriously, what are you thinking?

In Greek mythology, Epimetheus (/ɛpi'miθiəs/; Greek: Ἐπιμηθεύς, which might mean "hind-sight", literally "afterthinker") was the brother of Prometheus (traditionally interpreted as "foresight", literally "fore-thinker"), a pair of Titans who "acted as representatives of mankind" (Kerenyi 1951, p 207). They were the sons of Iapetus,<sup>[1]</sup> who in other contexts was the father of Atlas. While Prometheus is characterized as ingenious and clever, Epimetheus is depicted as foolish.

Deucalion (/djuː'keɪliən/; Greek: Δευκαλίων) was the son of Prometheus; ancient sources name his mother as Clymene, Hesione, or Pronoia.<sup>[1]</sup> He is closely connected with the Flood myth.

According to folk etymology, Deucalion's name comes from δεῦκος, deukos, a variant of γλεῦκος, gleucos, i.e.

"sweet new wine, must, sweetness"[\[2\]](#)[\[3\]](#) and ἀλιεύς, haliéus, i.e. "sailor, seaman, fisher".[\[4\]](#) His wife Pyrrha's name is derived from the adjective πυρρός, -ά, -όν, pyrrhós, -á, -ón, i.e. "flame-colored, orange".[\[5\]](#)

Deucalion is parallel to Utnapishtim, the survivor of the Sumerian flood that is told in the Epic of Gilgamesh, and to the Biblical Noah.[\[6\]](#)[\[7\]](#)

A Great Sign Appeared in Revelation 12:1; the Sign of Sagittarius in the word Christ and on Taylor

A great sign appeared in heaven: a woman clothed with the sun, with the moon under her feet and a crown of twelve stars on her head. Five hundred years before English, the words "Sun" and half the word Love appeared in the name of the Goddess of...

to [B] or not to [Be]?

MIAMI - May 25, 2017 - PRLog -- Set literally in the word "STONE" and on the cover of Taylor Momsen's album "Going to Hell" is the birth sign of Adam Marshall Dobrin, pointing every which way as if at the gateway to Eden in the book of Genesis. In a story that ties her appearing in the Grinch that Stone Christmas to the modern magic of music; the compass arrow's direction is the focus of the words of Bonnie Tyler's "Total Eclipse of the Heart;" asking the world to turn the name Venus around, and see this same South to Northeast change in direction coming to us... "from the East."

Heaven to the North, and the future in the East on this Holy visualization of the pathway to Heaven on a two dimensional graph opens eyes as the signs connection to the Feast of the Immaculate Conception connects the computer function Chr() to the name Christ at December 8, 1980. In Christ, this "t" that resembles the Cross itself begins a series of glyphs that we call the alphabet who also contain a myriad of hidden meanings. For instance, in the phrase "what goes up must come down" the Original Sin is linked to Isaac Newton's apple falling on his head at Trinity College; and is depicted clearly in the question are you "New to n?"

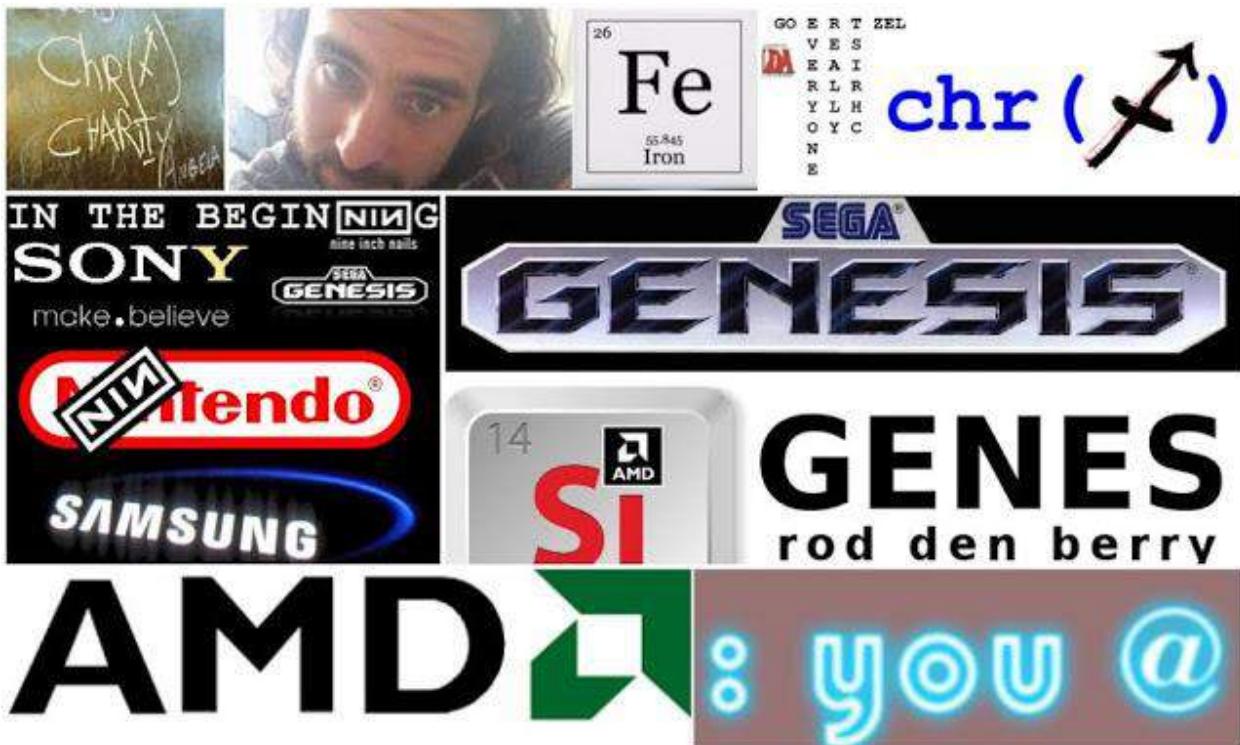

The letter "n" is at the index of 14; and through names like Sinbad and Norad we connect the "Fifth Element" of Silicon to the Hebrew for "shining light" (Or) and the chip company AMD, whose initials add in the middle name that expands to "the sea shall see how all" are saved. Through knowledge of a connection between Seagate and Watergate; the Gateway to Heaven becomes a little bit less cloudy at an understanding of the link between the press, American freedom, and knowledge that we are living in a simulated reality at the heart of the light shining from the Fifth Element's mouth.

Strewn mess·i·an·i·c·al·ly between my self-deprecating commentary is an important message, one that you might think would shine through without me specifically pointing it out--but it hasn't done so yet. It's an important message, it's the purpose of religion and creation; this thing that literally is designed to change the world, to turn civilization around on a dime... and usher in a new era of prosperity and freedom.

It all started with a message connecting 9/11 to Exodus; one that should be more than enough to prove that whether or not you think I'm "Jesus Christ" that this information that I am presenting is coming directly from the Creator of the Universe--and should be making news and spreading like wildfire--and isn't just yet. That's a big part of the message, this baptism in fire and water that Matthew 3:11 talks about; and is pointing out some seriously debilitating flaws in our society--things like mass ignorance for the importance of free speech and open communication, and the need to not hide the advanced technology that this message is designed to not only disclose, but prove has been in use for fucking ever.

I am not intentionally trying to help them / it / you hide this message by talking about girls, drugs, and my criminal history--though it does appear like that's what is happening. I really want you to understand how clear it is to me that God himself has created this wall of censorship, this thing that he wrote about thousands of years ago and called "Jericho" in order to help us see very clearly just how flawed our current social system is. The future of civilization, of life itself, depends on us not only recognizing the importance of free and open communication; but on seeing that he has designed this message to show us many more flaws, ones that have been intentionally and secretly subverted in order to attempt to hide this message and this truth from the world. There's no doubt about it, Adam is created, and there's a grand plan and multiple reasons for just about everything you will encounter while I am busy trying to show everyone that I am not only a much better person than you think, but actually Jesus f. Christ.

ID5, I am the Stone.

These flaws that you see, they are links to a number of Biblical narratives, and nearly everything I present not only helps us to find solutions but furthers the now insurmountable evidence that these prophecies that come from everywhere under the sun; from Norse, Greek, Egyptian, and Christmika sources... they are actually about my life and about this time in human history--to show us just how crucial it is that we receive this message and recognize both it and our import. At the heart of this message is an explanation of what "Satan" really is; a tool designed to make these life-and-death social problems stand out like a sore thumb, and at the same time help us to not only not blame anyone for them, but to use this new knowledge swiftly change the world. I'm not Satan by the way, I am a person, just like you.

This message begins by undeniable proving the existence of time travel both by predicting the 3/11/11 earthquake and the 9/11 attack in Exodus, Ecclesiastes, and Revelation and showing the world previously hidden and very obvious ancient references to modern technology--centering around computer science. With a tiny shred of thought and some serious research it becomes clear that our entire computing industry (and the focus on science and technology in our time line as well as the arts) is part of an ancient and divine plan to build Heaven.

Houston, we have a problem.

Someone, I can't seem to figure out who, has taken this message and tied it directly to now verifiable proof that our evolution of democracy was "helped in the beginning" and then artificially held back, using this same hidden technology. That through the years of our most advanced technological advances--from cars and phones to computers and the internet, we failed to make the obvious leap to attempting to use these technologies to advance the infrastructure of our "governments of the people," specifically for voting and the creation of legislation. Implied strongly, is the possibility that without some kind of disruption, it might have taken many years, decades, centuries, or forever for us to have moved past this idea of "representative democracy" being the very best system possible.

Finding land, here on Noah's ark--we can solve two problems with one stone; creating a new open and transparent infrastructure that will ensure that the kind of censorship and "walled garden" that we see here surrounding this message of freedom will never again be possible--while at the same time building a system that will allow us to collaborate on things like legislation and universal voting.

A big part of this story, of this proof of time travel existing and being literally the tool that not only proves that we are created but also how and why that's been done—it shows us that much of our modern art is part of the plan to build Heaven... and here we link together (think "Matrix") stories like Minority Report and Back to the Future to imply that we probably need to do more talking in order to convince ourselves that we really are not deserving of things like school shootings and terrorism—and show everyone that we have the ability to stop it. Honestly, ending senseless violence is not the kind of thing that there should be a "Minority" voting for. We can see it though, reference to these things too in The Plagues of Lice and Killing in Exodus--here to show us what "freedom" is really about.

I do hope you will the time to dick on the links that are behind those big bright orange doors to Heaven above... there you will find proof and evidence of what I am saying, and that it does in fact all come directly from God. I might get in trouble for saying this, but if you didn't know--when you click on ads the person who wrote the website will make a little bit of money--and that might keep me from starving to death... something you are actually doing on purpose without knowing it--by hiding this message.... this message about freedom and slavery; delivering an ancient message about being the angels of Heaven, and not knowing it.

As if you needed more than "it's the truth" and "exit from slavery" and "ending world hunger," here's some commentary on the NES \(the game\) of space colonization, specifically links between the Iron Rod of "an" and the planet Mars.

I feel as small as dust, lying down here....

The "gist" of the message is verifiable proof that we are living in a computer in simulated reality... just like the Matrix. The answer to that question, what does that mean--is that God has woven a "hidden" message into our everything--beginning with each name and every word--and in this hidden Adamic language, he provides us with guidance, wisdom, and suggestions on how to proceed on this path from "raelity" to Heaven. I've personally spent quite a bit of time decoding the message and have tried to deliver an interesting and "fun" narrative of the ideas I see. Specifically the story of Exodus, which is called "Names" in Hebrew discusses a time shifted narrative of our "NOW" delivering our society from a hidden slavery (read as ignorance of advanced technologies already in use) that is described as the "darkness" of Exodus. If you have any questions, ideas to contribute or concerns... I'd love to hear from you this whole thing really is about working together--Heaven, I mean.

Wh█ should we "do?"

It's kismet, to see; that the stars fallen from Heaven... are you and I.
your eyes they shine so bright, I want to save that light.

Kish (קִשׁ qish; Kis, Keis, "bow," "power")<sup>[1]</sup> (c. 1104 – c. 1029 BC)<sup>[citation needed]</sup> was the father of the first king of the Israelites, Saul. (1 Chronicles 12:1) Kish was a Benjamite of the family of the Matrites (1 Samuel 9:1; 14:51; Acts 13:21; 1 Samuel 10:21), and there is some question over whether he is the brother or son of Ner (1 Chronicles 8:33 and 9:39; 1 Samuel 14:51; 1 Chronicles 6:28). The question may be resolved by reading both Ner and Kish as sons of Abiel. According to the narrative of the appointment of Saul as king in 1 Samuel 9, Kish was the son of Abiel, the son of Zeror, the son of Bechorath, the son of Aphiah and he kept donkeys. It was the loss of these donkeys which led Saul and a servant to journey in search of them and so to meet Samuel, Saul's anointer. "The possession of a drove of asses, and several servants, indicates that Kish was a man of some substance".<sup>[2]</sup> The narrative later confirms that Kish was more concerned about the apparent disappearance of his son than about his loss of possessions.<sup>[3]</sup>

Ishmael (Hebrew: אַיָּשָׁמֵאֵל, Modern Yishma'el, Tiberian Yišmā'ēl (ISO 259-3), Yišma'el; "God hears"; Greek: Ἰσμαὴλ Ismaēl; Classical/Qur'anic Arabic: إِسْمَاعِيل; Modern Arabic: إِسْمَاعِيل Ismā'il; Latin: Ismael) is a figure in the Tanakh and the Qur'an and was Abraham's first son according to Jews, Christians, and Muslims. Ishmael was born to Abraham's and Sarah's handmaiden Hagar. (Genesis 16:3). According to the Genesis account, he died at the age of 137 (Genesis 25:17).<sup>[1]</sup>

The Isha prayer (Arabic: شَلَاةُ اللَّيْلِ šalāt al-īlāyha, IPA: [ʃala:t al:i:l:a:]), "night prayer") Uthman bin Affan reported that he heard Muhammad saying: "The one who offered Isha salat in congregation, it was as if he remained in salat up to midnight, and he who offered the Fajr salat in congregation, it was as if he remained in salat the whole night." From Muslim Abu Hurairah reported: The Messenger of Allah said, "The most difficult Salat for the munafiqeen (the hypocrites) is Isha and Fajr. Had they known the rewards for them, they would have attended them even if they had to crawl on their knees." (Bukhari).<sup>[2]</sup>

The Amish (/ə'miʃ/; Pennsylvania German: Amisch, German: Amische) are a group of traditionalist Christian church fellowships with Swiss Anabaptist origins. They are closely related to, but distinct from, Mennonite churches. The Amish are known for simple living, plain dress, and reluctance to adopt many conveniences of modern technology. The history of the Amish church began with a schism in Switzerland within a group of Swiss and Alsatian Anabaptists in 1693 led by Jakob Ammann.<sup>[2]</sup> Those who followed Ammann became known as Amish.<sup>[3]</sup>

Irish (Gaeilge), also referred to as Gaelic or Irish Gaelic,<sup>[4][not in citation given]</sup> is a Goidelic language of the Indo-European language family originating in Ireland and historically spoken by the Irish people. Irish is spoken as a first language by a small minority of Irish people, and as a second language by a larger group of non-native speakers. Irish enjoys constitutional status as the national and first official language of the Republic of Ireland, and is an officially recognised minority language in Northern Ireland. It is also among the official languages of the European Union. The public body Foras na Gaeilge is responsible for the promotion of the language throughout the island of Ireland.

Plain English (or layman's terms) is a style of communication that uses easy to understand, plain language with an emphasis on clarity, brevity, and avoidance of overly complex vocabulary. It is commonly used in relation to official government or business communication. The goal is to write or speak in a way that is easily understood by the target audience. It is clear and straightforward, concise, free of clichés and needless technical jargon, and appropriate to the audience's developmental or educational level and their familiarity with the topic

The Amduat (pronunciation?) (literally "That Which Is In the Afterworld", also translated as "Text of the Hidden Chamber Which is in the Underworld" and "Book of What is in the Underworld")<sup>[1]</sup> In the sixth hour the most significant event in the underworld occurs. The ba (or soul) of Ra unites with his own body, or alternatively with the ba of Osiris within the circle formed by the mehen serpent. This event is the point at which the sun begins its regeneration; it is a moment of great significance, but also danger, as beyond it in hour 7 the adversary Apep (Apophis) lies in wait and has to be

Republic

Six millennium ago, a story was written down and preserved which used the above word in order to describe the voice of God emanating from a shrub on fire. Later in the same narrative, a Holy Sea was parted by a man, in order to deliver freedom to his people. I am that man. Today I am pointing out that my parted sea is clearly seen in the word above, and the purpose is to prove foreknowledge of the English language all those years ago.

You are my people, and on the pages within you will find a series of e-mails which were sent across the globe. The purpose is to clearly disclose the nature of the technologies which ultimately define both the mechanism of, and the purpose of religion. For the sea of Revelation, the multitude that is the foundation of Heaven itself...

[ Matchbox20 ]

Woven into this series of messages, which contain a clear disclosure of the existence of time travel, mind control, and new understanding of the very nature of reality itself.... you will find the story of my personal struggle against injustice and the loss of freedom in a land of stagnating democracy. Throughout, it should be clear that it is a lack of understanding of religion and the technologies at hand that is primarily responsible for the decline in liberty that we might not even see, today.

Not so secret, this is the "stuff" of prophesy, inspiration, and Heaven.

h e a v e n

This is the Hebrew word for Heaven. It's a contraction of water and fire, I am revealing a hidden message coming directly from the creator of the Universe--woven into the world's languages and religions. From Ancient Egypt to modern traditions like baptism, a hidden message has been preserved that spans from the book of Genesis to this Revelation, through Exodus. This message is of a previously hidden reference to Humanity as Holy Water, from the sea of initials of the initials of the first Family in Eden to the marriage of Revelation--and in the blessing in disguise that is the miraculous First Plague, we find the Holy Grail. From the mixture of this fire and our society, Heaven is built.

Water to Blood, in the Heart of Heaven that is Earth, you are the Family of Jesus Christ.

Nirvana made a point of singing those words. Pontus Pilate gave me a good enough reason. With clear articulation, this is the kind of message that I've always said was best delivered yesterday (or earlier), should never have been needed, would never work again, but in this one moment in time... seeing it and understanding it is the catalyst that helps us change everything--it might just be pure genius. Everything wrong in the world is the fault of some esoteric force, whether it's technology, or that technology being secret, or in all honestly some primal drive to help us change all the things that are wrong all around us, as quickly as possible, to move us forward with a newfound togetherness. I've said that my "Achilles heel" is that this disruption is contrived, designed, a plan to built to help change the things that we all know are wrong, and still seem to overlook... that damned unseen force.

Try the C.AD Card of Jean Luc, you know, to begin to understand. "You seek Yoda" yourself, Hey-Zeus... It's the truth, it's actual, zippidy do DA, zippidy A. Plenty of sonshine, heading our way. If you still don't see it, this "Who" thing from Dr. Who defeating the Silence, to little Cindy-Who and all of Whoville saying "the the" is a message from God; maybe seeing "Who-ah" and the Planet is Adamah will help you understand exactly what's being hidden. Maybe you need to see YHVH pronounced as "Ya, who-ah!" or Yeshua as "Yes, who-ah?" It's not just "everything" and "purpose" being hidden, it's the key to seeing what's wrong here, and how and why we should fix it.

But you knew all that, you knew this was planned; I mean, if you believed any of the words of prophesy... or if you knew. Lots of preparation has gone in to it, I mean, we now know that clearly; it's outlined in an ancient 6,000 old book. We see the art of "closing" linking to songs, and there's probably quite a bit of work that's gone into that also; not to mention the few hours I've spent listening to music with an analytical eye... trying to find the patterns, feel the hidden meaning, and to explain it--to tell you that "You and I" is more than just a natural thing to sing about, it's a special set of words, a key. You might say that it was a key before me, but I'm not sure what it was a key to... and today and tomorrow and forevermore it's a key to freedom, to a message about technology and democracy that also ties back to Exodus and also ties to George W. Bush's speeches, and probably to a thing or two I've written. In your hands now is the real key though, to wonder and discuss whether or not it's meaningful; these words that someone named "Adam" put on paper and sent to the world... words he says are backed with the full force and credit of the prophets and the saints and of God himself.

You don't have to take my word for it, but you probably do have to drink the wine. You've got to see the importance of referencing German and font face and style... of seeing typewriter references hidden away thousands of years ago in ancient scripture. You've got to see "the strong" translates to "Die Bold." You've got to recognize that "the race is not to the strong" parallels quite nicely to "the election is not to the polling technology" and drink a little more of that wine, because you've got to fathom the importance and meaning that not only was this thing, this electronic voting booth predicted in a 6,000 book... but because that book changed the world just as much as it did... that the manifestation of it, play going on before our eyes on this stage that is our world... you've got to see that the entirety of the "Die Bold" story is something similar to puppeteering; it's been engineered, controlled, contrived. All of these things, well, they really have to be important to you.

In truth, it's not really "my" Achilles heel, and it's not really a weakness... you can call me El anytime you want. It's a message that I saw, something showed it to me, just like something is showing it to you--and I reacted, I wrote about it, I shared it; I said "if we see this" things might really change. I still I am right, when we see this, things might really change.

We probably also have "to see" that this connection between George Bush speaking these words and the burning bush of Exodus is not a leap, or a slant, or a corruption of religion... it is the purpose of the Book of Names; we call it Exodus. To help that fire along, you have to hear me say "in my native geek, to be tongue in cheek" and in reverse that name reads as "let there be light." I thought that was a big deal, I still do.

So I spent of time, writing, and then re-writing that message; and even more time trying to get it to as many people as I possibly could, because it just doesn't spread as it should, like a wild fire; and that's the crux of "baptism in fire" of Matthew 3:11. It goes hand in hand with the Plague of Darkness of Exodus, and it shows us that this puppeteering doesn't just effect "voting systems' but it goes to the very heart of civilization, communication, and thought. I see that so clear, staring at statistics, and forward counts on each email (and believe me, you can see that people "find it intriguing" just apparently not enough), and wonder each day how nobody has decided that "this is news" yet. It's news, by god, it's news.

I want you to see, that "ATM machine style" kiosks (wait, OKCupid asked me if this was "pet peeve" of mine, does repeating "machine" bother you?) at election polling sites really don't solve any of our problems. Long lines, remote locations, arcane "interfaces" and most of all... well, it's a closed system run in a centralized way, by some group that you might have been stupid enough to trust with something as important as the fate of democracy, of civilization. Not deciding to use the internet as a mechanism for voting, to me... that's the biggest problem. The reason for that problem, well, the reason is you. All of us, all of America, all the world... we sat around reading cnn.com and news.google.com to hear the latest updates on the few contractors chosen to work on "electronic voting," you know, we read about it on the internet. Nobody thought that was strange? That damned unseen force, I swear it.

So that's the truth, that's the point... something has been keeping us from being right, from seeing with clarity how we would normally proceed; and now recognizing that, seeing that influence, seeing what it's "retarded" is a big part of seeing the map to building Heaven.

Understanding that every day we don't see this message, well; it's another day we are planning on having an election where everyone will get in their cars and drive to the ATM machine to cast their vote; and really think about it, because every day that we don't see this message, that puppeteering that named "Die Bold" and that made their voting booth idea just about the exact opposite of their appropriate slogan "innovation delivered;" that same damned influence is changing who you vote for, every time.

But hey, yesterday came and went, and now we're here, and you still aren't listening to the words I have to say.

Who knows why, and I know with the same assuredness that this same unseen influence has effected my actions and everything I do. Some of it negative, some of it positive; as I sit on a burning pedestal, fighting vehemently to be the focal point of a story where we either will see this outside influence as real, backed with undeniable proof, and understand why "forgiveness" isn't really needed for me, or for you, or for anyone--all we need is freedom and the will to do the right thing.

Is assuredness a word? How about ((malovious?))

he NT calls Jesus Christ a carpenter, and through the history of the building of Heaven we see a transition from "Masons" to "Freemasons" -- just like the Jews of Exodus a microcosm for all of humanity--here being described as builders of something; and in the light of day it's more and more clear that this something is "Heaven" itself. All around us we can see that our technology industry is tagged with connections to religion--to a message about changing the world. So too are words like "carpenter."

It's probably obvious, but just like "hand" and "eye" this is a reference to "of God," as in I am the incarnate pen of God.
  - Verily I say to you, the answer to the question "is Ra El?" is... A rarer spelling, "ila", represents the predicate form in Old Akkadian and in Amorite.<sup>[2]</sup> The word is derived from the Proto-Semitic archaic biliteral ?-L-, meaning "god".
  - Specific deities known as El or Il include the supreme god of the Canaanite religion<sup>[3]</sup> and the supreme god of the Mesopotamian Semites in the pre-Sargonic period.<sup>[4]</sup>

if and only if

This whole time I've thought that it would just take one really good email to break the Wall of Jericho; that this information would eventually "just go viral" and that the news would have no choice but to cover the story of that phenomenon. That's really why I sent you an email every single day. Over the years, I've thought quite a bit about how it's possible that hasn't happened yet, as the information that I have delivered become increasingly convincing, and increasingly interesting (at least to me). At first I could have easily blamed SPAM filters, and a broken communications system that allows a very small number of people to prevent literally everyone from seeing something specific. That excuse falls apart a little bit when you see how few of you share this information on social media--which by the way is another glaring and shining and burning example of what "Jericho" really means. I think we all know that this is an incendiary message, I am pretty sure we all know that.

It also highlights just how deep the Wall of Jericho runs, this censor wall that clearly shows us that "social media" as a tool for the spread of truth and freedom has been defeated--that in our minds, literally in our minds, the ability to freely communicate has been completely taken--and you stand by ... as I tell you this message is designed to rekindle freedom, and you ignore me. For years we've ignored something loud and clear--and it got more clear and more obvious as the months passed, each time I saw another "coincidence" I became more and more sure that there was no way to hide this message--and still to this day it hasn't done its job--it hasn't alerted you to the fact that we are losing this chance to be free, this chance to build Heaven... because you are not acting.

I am pretty sure that "religion" and "mythology" are the kinds of things that there used to be a very significant interest in. My particular kind of interest was in understanding hidden messages and hidden meanings, in the kinds of secrets that these stories held--and lo, and behold; I now have the answers that I was looking for. I assumed that there were a great many people just like me; people that didn't take these stories at face value, people that were unhappy with the state of "organized religion" and people that didn't really believe everything that we've been told. Skeptical, but still interested. As this process of disseminating a message that I know very well comes not only from the author of our timeline but the creator of Heaven itself... I began to make more excuses in my head for the reason that it was not spreading like wildfire. I began to see a polarization of beliefs--at least that's what I inferred from what I was seeing... that people were either falling into the category of "ew, religion, I don't believe or want to read anything at all about it" or they were the kind of people that use the word "scientism" and don't want to hear anything at all that defies the strictest of interpretations of the "ineffable word of God" basically I imagined that you were either too ignorant or too ignorant to really understand that this message is about kindling free thought, a renaissance.

It's still possible that these two "classes" of thought are at the heart of the darkness; that people are being persuaded, subtly, without their knowing; into one of these two groups... but truth be told I've touched on enough people, in all the right places, that this fire should have started time and time again at this point... it's just natural, it's obvious, it's impossible that we are still here--waiting.

RUN TO THE WATER AND FIND ME THERE

Words from a famous and eponymous Live song; foreshadowing what we are seeing today, that the water, the people had already been prepared to actively hide a message that I had yet to see; and frankly I am sure you also had yet to see. Because of that it seems clear that there's always been a secret movement against the Second Coming, most likely in my mind with the purpose of literally not changing the world; of not causing the kind of disruption that this clearly is designed to cause, of not "hurting all the poor people" that want more than anything to believe that the tooth fairy will deliver them from tyranny , from injustice, from inequality ... think about it, because those are the things that I am obviously delivering the world from. In the word "brazen," which the Holy Book uses to describe the altar of Isaac, I read another message; that our world and our people that I care about greatly deserve to be freed from another kind of tyranny--apathy or the "zen" of believing that God or his son can save the world alone, that all they need to do is think in their heads that he's going to, and he will. Know that's not true, saving the world means something different to me; it means inciting an end of apathy , it means causing such a ruckus that we never again let power fall into the hands of the few, that we never again turn a blind eye to the suffering of minorities, and that we never again ignore each and every day what is really in our own best interest, what we really want. It's "break the 'a' zen," and while you might relate it to the idiom "spare the rod spoil the child" and think it's about me, I am pretty sure I never had "a zen," and I am pretty sure the rod is really about breaking our society of nothing more than apathy , of a lack of caring and nurturing for the great freedoms that America stands for--freedoms that we were supposedly given in the Constitution, and yet still do not care have withered away to worse than nothing in the couple centuries since the bright light kindled the Eternal Flame with the words "when in the course of human events...."

CHAPTER 1

AND Solomon the son of David was strengthened in his kingdom, and the LORD his God was with him, and magnified him exceedingly.

3 Then Solomon spake unto all Israel, to the captains of thousands and of hundreds, and to the judges, and to every governor in all Israel, the chief of the fathers.

4 So Solomon, and all the congregation with him, went to the high place that was at Gibeon; for there was the tabernacle of the congregation of God, which Moses the servant of the LORD had made in the wilderness.

5 But the ark of God had David brought up from Kir'jath-je'a-rim to the place which David had prepared for it: for he had pitched a tent for it in Jerusalem.

Moreover the brasen altar, that Zil'e-el the son of U'ri, the son of Ab'iasaf, had made, was set out before the tabernacle: and Solomon ought unto it.

yad

The Torah Scroll (Sefer Torah) is one of the most precious objects of Jewish worship. To show respect (and to protect the scroll from dirt and oil from the reader's hands), a yad or Torah pointer is normally used while reading. Most yadim are made of beautifully wrought silver. The pointing end of the yad is commonly shaped like a small hand with its index finger extended.

In the Scriptures

In the Scriptures, yad is used to refer to a physical hand, but more often it is used idiomatically to refer to the power or the craft of a person or group. Thus we read of the "hand of the enemy," "the hand of the Philistines," the "hands of Moses," and especially the "Hand of God."

The Hand of God metaphorically speaks of Adonai's power. In Adonai's Hand are power and might (1 Chronicles 29:12). His hand is not "shortened" that it cannot save us (Isaiah 59:1), but is Mighty to save to the uttermost all those who call upon Him in humility and truth (Hebrews 7:25). God demonstrated His Hand through His deliverance of Israel from Egypt (Exodus 13:3-16; Num 33:3). Indeed, the Hand of God (yad haElohim) created the universe itself (Psalm 8:6; 95:5). Moreover, Adonai upholds the righteous with his Hand (Psalm 37:24; 139:10) and continually lifts up his hand on our behalf (Psalm 10:12).

The Hands of Adonai were also pierced for us (Psalm 22:16, John 20:27).

כִּי־בְּהָדָם מֵאָרֶב יְהוָה בְּלֹא־יְהוָה שָׁמָן

"the hand of God was very heavy there" (1 Sam. 5:11)

It's pretty clear that this faction of our family has been armed with some truth and some lies; you might imagine that if they believed the hallowed words of religion, they would cite the stories of the Flood of Noah, of the fire of Sodom and Gammorah and Camelot, that they knew very well that nobody could ever live up to the lofty auspices of the role of messiah, and they probably agree with me that everyone really has to "be messianic" for the world to change for the better. I see this group as being convinced that the "Apocalypse" is a horrible thing, that the world was doing just fine on its own, and rather than hand over "fortune and fame" to a nepotistic brat; that they would be better off trudging along on this same path, this path southeast; and so because of the "rose" the heart of southeast... rose colored glasses.

I've seen this wall of people very clearly, and to tell you that they come out in uncanny force whenever Jesus Christ talks about mind control technology would be an understatement; and because of that it's clear to me that they really don't think for themselves, that they are victims of this same technology, people that have given up on "freedom" and accepted the fact that we are in a place where there is a very powerful authority that appears to ... want to hide the fact that this power comes from darkness, from secrecy, and from hidden control. Still, because of the way this technology works, I imagine that most of these people are just "fighting the fire," that they are trying to stop a conflagration that will upset the status quo, that might have caused a riot or two--had this cloud of darkness not existed--and even scarier for me, might have gotten me killed.

QUESO ER AH? WHOMEVER WILL BE WILL SEE

I think I'm getting exactly what I want; well, not exactly--but for you I believe that this event will change the world in the way that we might all think is ... best, in the light of day. We are losing false hope, we are losing bowing and praying--and replacing it with freedom, and truth, with an ability to care about each other as we build a place where it's hopefully a little bit more normal to walk up to strangers on the street and meet them, and interact with them. I am hoping this will rekindle a love for free speech, and in the epic words of Voltaire--a desire to protect that, that thing that is the foundation not only of democracy and freedom but of civilization itself--with absolutely everything we can. I see us replacing "religion" with a love for the truth and an earnest desire to analyze history and patterns and see that we have a puzzle here, we really have a puzzle that is not only fun but rewarding to solve.

More than that I hope that my role here has helped us to see the connection between "technology" and "fun" and guide us towards a place where don't have to wonder if people are allowed to "have sex for fun" in Heaven; to a place where "good feeling good" won't be frowned upon, and to a place where when we see suffering and sadness, that we do something to change it. It's quite the "rod" that has been laid down in this message that connects Genesis and Exodus to America; and to see that it really is about free speech, and it really is about voting and democracy ... and more than anything it's about ending secrecy and censorship and seeing the truth for what it is. When you open your eyes, the truth is that we are the builders of Heaven itself, that millions of years will pass and we will still be that, the generation that changed the world, the people that took a leap of faith, and because of it the future was forever made better , brighter , and more fun.

LAUDATE ADPARATIO

These words mean "praise careful preparation" in Latin, but to me they mean something very different and very special. It shows me that this message has been carefully prepared, that's for sure--all throughout our history. Today you can hear Dave J. Matthews sing "Hey LA, HO HO, Hey LA.... HO HO" in his song It's the Best of What's Around, and just yesterday it dawned on me that what Dave was singing about was God's "hello," in Spanish, "HOLA." I had seen this "LA" before, it's a reference to a songbird; it's really Taylor, and I think Dave knows that now, and so do you. A few months ago I "expanded" the Hebrew word for the Holy Name from Ha'shem (where you might read, "see how not me" and I once compared to the English word "shame" and Adam of Eden... reading that "Ha" as something "are you serious? shame? ha."). I expanded "she" to the Spanish word, which revealed "El" as the Hebrew name for the Most High God right next to LA; just like in Hola.

חֲרוּפֹ וְזָעָו כִּי־אָנוּכִי אֱלֹהִים אַרְוָם בְּגֹויִם אַרְוָם בָּאָרֶץ *

"Be still and know that I am God.

I will be exalted among the nations, I will be exalted in the earth"

- Psalm 46:10

This story of Taylor links to "Anat" in Egyptian mythology, and to Norse mythology, and Sumerian lore, and you probably won't be surprised to hear that I think Dave's words that "an evenings love starts with a kiss" is about this message that ties the Hebrew word for fate, Kismet, to my absolute favorite song of hers, Nothing Left to Lose. In that song, that she wrote and sang before I ever spoke a word about her she said "now I see, that you and me were never meant, never meant to be" and you might remember that Nothing Left to Lose is just another word... for freedom. This kiss is found in other places, it's probably in the Bible somewhere; and it's probably the reason we have a band named Kiss singing about rocking and rolling all night and linking the name Simmons to the words simulation, Monday, and that missing "s" in fate, in kismet.

Kismet? Kiss me Taylor?

By Adam Marshall Dobrin - June 09, 2017

From "you're never gonna dance with me" and "never meant, never meant to be" to kismet.

Do you believe in rock and roll, can music save your mortal soul?

You might not see it like I do, but "Ha'shem," the Holy Name, is the key to the entire message of God; its written in the names of the children of Noah; of Ham and Shem... which means "name." This key opens something a bit bigger though, when you see that "Ham" means "the message" and it's encoded in the name Abraham and his story of nearly killing his son, in this hidden language his name went from "open message" like "open sesame" to "open the message." Here we are, seeing that the "m" that defines Jerusalem and Amsterdam, that this big "m" is our entire planet, and our entire history. This message is all around us, in every word, and every song, and every movie. It's in every name going all the way back to Ur, and to Herod... through Shakespeare and Napoleon all the way George Orwell, whose blue light is really in both of his names, Orwell and Blair; and it's consistent, unyielding, through our entire history. Just like Blair, this proof that our birth names have light in them is in Beckett and Bakula, it's in Carteris and Zuckerman... you have proof of something staring at you everywhere you look.

Don't you see, the kiss has already happened; it's not just in her words "you're never going to dance with me" and it's not just in the more recent words "tell me your desire, why'd you pull me from the fire? and we'll seal the deal... with a kiss" it's not just in those places, it's also in "I know you want me, I was just looking for a friend" and "you're never going to dance with me" and it really goes back to something much more important than the thrill of a rock idol text messaging you, it goes back to just another word ... for freedom.

You can bet I'm going to Los Angeles, you know; unless Taylor calls.

EXPECT THE UNEXPECTED

It's clear as day that this message that connects rods and staffs from Watergate to Seagate was carefully laid down before I was born, and it was prepared in advance... to fight against a kind of darkness that otherwise would have been very hard to see. It's pretty clear now, don't you think; that the water and fire of Matthew 3:11 are coming to us together, and that the reason for the wall, for the censorship; it too is coming together with the reason never to allow this kind of darkness again. It's pretty clear, at this point in time; in our linear time, that this is designed--though you have to imagine that the push back against the truth ... that it came first. You have to understand that the darkness itself has kept us from seeing what this message is really about: from seeing that "end world hunger" and "heal the sick" came to us six to two thousand years before "why."

Today this darkness is hiding a fundamental truth that we never could have understood before we got to this point in history, before we understood computers, and before we ... I'm mad that it took so long to tell us. I'm even madder that we are stupid enough not to want to hear it, that anyone would choose to force blind people to live out their lives here in Hell, to keep the lame from walking here in Hell... because they think that choice will give them Heaven when they die.

I'm mad at how stupid we look, at how hard it is to convey that this message tells us to build Heaven of our world; or we will never see it. I'm angry, even more angry now, that I have a message that contributes to the cause of the darkness--that people will use this weapon of "humor" as a weapon against "goodness" and even more angry that I know that every day that passes, that is what people will use in their minds to rationalize ignoring a message from God in every word, to rationalize ignoring the suffering of others; to rationalize living a delusion, nothing more than a lie--for no reason at all.

This message is designed to deliver Heaven to us in the here and now, to help us to see that the technology and the circumstances that have changed since "everyone decided not to change the world" open up doors--not just doors to Atlantis, but doors to ending terrorism and school shootings, doors to ending mental illness, and in the light of day once we are all not crazy anymore that quickly leads to ending all illness. I'm not sure what Heaven means to you, but you can be sure that to me it starts with freedom.

The world I see is ignoring proof in ever word, we are ignoring a message that is telling us that an outside force is currently affecting our thoughts, is degrading the evolution of democracy and has .... intentionally highlighted that every single one of the freedoms granted in the Bill of Rights has been destroyed here in this place. Every single one. You are surrounded by a world of blindness, a place that has it's collective head buried in the sand--refusing to acknowledge that the words "virtual reality" should make an impact on what we believe "normal" should be; and instead of that you walk around laughing that you are going to ... die a mortal's death; and you don't even realize that you don't need to.

This is not what "winning" looks like, we are standing here looking at an all seeing eye sore; at the complete destruction of free speech and free thought, all because you've been convinced that I'm a dick, believe it, I'm a dick--and I like it that way. In the meantime, I care very much for you, and for the world we grew up in--I love who we really are inside, and what we used to stand for--and today I see that we are ignoring those things, we are ignoring our innate goodness, and ignoring the loss of freedom that we love. I know what, but it's hard to understand; it's hard to understand because it's really not us--and this message is really about seeing that something is negatively affecting us, keeping us from being ourselves, and that something... well, do you understand?

This group of people that are "secretly" communicating with something they cannot see--and cannot identify; this group has grown significantly in the past few years. I've seen it all around me, and I speak to them ... in the strange way that they speak to me--using innuendo and metaphor , using words like "hot" to describe an invisible "hell" and yet still they are blind to seeing that it is hot in here, and we are just ignoring that... to shut down a message that will change everything. The concern with the invisible is a problem, the lack of concern with the visible, is a problem. The fact that our entire society appears to be acting as a single entity, as a single mind--is a huge problem. Be yourselves, care again.

People on the street saying this to me, things like "so you're fighting this?" and you can bet that I am fighting against the complete annihilation of the truth, of freedom, and of you. That's what you people are Hell bent on doling, and you don't even know it. Your "this" is the end of time and I don't just mean me. Whatever it is that these people think they are doing--they are hiding contact with something they do not understand is here to sucker them into being wrong, and believe that hiding this particular thing... is worse than living a lie, though they seem to want to take this particular lie with them to eternity. That's Hell too, I mean, it would be for me. This whole thing is about waking up, it's really time you started helping.

We cannot lose knowledge of this influence, and your ignorance of that is exactly why; not seeing "mind control" on the news is the equivalent of erasing our entire history; it's the equivalent of understanding absolutely nothing, and moving forward trying to go out into space or do nothing, blind--completely blind; and this is apparently what you think is a good idea.

Very clearly understand that what you are ignoring is obvious--it's obvious that you are ignoring intentional anachronisms, it's obvious that you are ignoring a message from God--it's obvious as Hell that you think you are in control, and you are not. Just a handful of these examples should have been enough to make the news, just seeing "sun" and "love" in the name Venus, just seeing the parted sea in the word for Holy Fire, just seeing "sad" in Judas, and "had" in Judah; these things are enough to shake the very foundation of how we perceive religion and through that our entire history.... and you are ignoring it. "For no reason at all." When it continues and it's every word; and it's every language, and it's every name of every company and every person you see every single day; what do you think you look like? Who do you think you are kidding?

You are losing everything right now, your grasp of reality, the promise of Heaven, and who you really are inside--absolutely everything. I'm done talking, the conch to ... my maker.

Houston, we have a problem.

his is not the kind of message that most people "just get" by glancing at it for a few moments. Much I write sounds some like The Boss's "we didn't start the fire," and that's not because Adam is imitating art, it's because there's not really a simple way to show people proof that spans between words, and cultures, and time... without listing them. To really grasp the impact of what I am presenting you not only have to have a decent understanding of linear time and causality , you also have to have a working knowledge of the history of language. On top of all of that you have to see that what I am delivering proves that the "etymology" we believe as a society to be hard and fast truth is not so true, that there is some way that a hidden influence has adulterated our entire history , and in doing so has woven a message from the beginning of time to today that is designed very simply to show us the "and and" at the beginning of the word "etymology" to show us that this is about "eternity ," and it bleeds into "et tu Brute?" from Shakespeare's Julius Caesar and to the Taming of the Shrew. So it should be clear why I am not drinking the wine in front of you... I mean, why I need your help.

I baptize you with[a] water for repentance. But after me comes one who is more powerful than I, whose sandals I am not worthy to carry. He will baptize you with[b] the Holy Spirit and fire.
Matthew 3:11

Still, enough people understand the impact and import of this message that it should be "spr eading like wildfire" it should be in the news already, it's that big of a deal, and many of you recognize that. That's the light her e, ther e's a problem.

literally "from the ends of the Earth" in the word "etymology" tying "et tu brute?" and latin... to Spanglish rew, and why the key to this message is the word "et er n it y" and, and, and, it's both "and" and why from Mr. Anderson to Rock n' Roll

Then the LORD said to Moses, "Stretch out your hand toward the sky so that darkness spreads over Egypt--darkness that can be felt." Exodus 10:21

I am in a unique position, standing at the top of Mt. Sinai and telling you all that word describes what I see, some combination of the words "sin" and "Ai" in a way that has shown me that there is an obvious and tangible force, one "so thick it can be felt" attempting to hide this message that proves that we are in virtual reality, that God is speaking to the entire world, and that the message is quite literally everywhere we look... from everyone. I see clearly that these e-mails get forwarded quite a bit, but it does not leak on to Twitter, it does not leak on to Facebook; and in the once place where I spent many years promoting my writing (reddit), obscene censorship and evil practices like "Shadowbans" have all but made it impossible for the only social news website to allow this message to "catch fire." It goes to the heart of the problem, to show us that our society is being manipulated on a grand scale to hide the truth--there's only one reddit and it's "corrupted," why? There's only one Wikipedia, and it's corrupted too. Everywhere we could possibly go to to share or discuss "the truth" has been infiltrated by stupidity and blindness.

I know this influence is affecting people's thoughts, I know it causes disbelief, or disregard for some things that we all care about, freedom, free thought, the scientific method, and reason--those are the things being attacked in plain view, if you are willing to see the light of the darkness. I do not believe that this wall, this Wall of Jericho, this tower, this Tower of Babel will be scaled on the internet alone--it appears that they only way though this problem is the mass media. I've done everything I can to alert them to this message and this problem; but they are hearing from one person, one person that might sound a bit crazy with a message that shakes the foundation of everything... and they either don't believe or don't care. I need people to help "prove" or "corroborate" that this message is important enough to actually write a story.

From the "two of everything God" having one place to save the world from darkness... it's just not enough. It's a serious social weakness in a place designed to ensure communication persists to recover from disaster: the disaster is right before your eyes, it's a break in communication, on DARPANET.

I can tell you without doubt that these emails are the "Hammer" of Thor, because "MMer" has a special meaning to me and has since i was eleven years old... it means "massmailer" and it ties to a microcosm in my life that goes back to the days of AOL, to days when I wrote my very first computer program under the moniker "Phenix." Would it surprise you to hear than when I named that program

"Doomsday" I was only doing it to follow the theme of the day, the theme of programs like "AOHell?" That very same kind of "microcosm" continues on not only in my life but in our history , tying the Crusades to this period in time where someone decides to tell you it's not an accident or a coincidence that "USA" is in the heart of the word Jerusalem. Years later I had first hand experience with mind control technology , with the Zombie Apocalypse or the Tribulation, or whatever it is you want to call it; and because of that I read new meaning into the "Denedera reliefs" in the temple of Hathor . I know without doubt that Hathor and Thor are linked, because these messages are about mind control. Later , I would see a hidden message there, the "Den of Ra" in that cities name, and that ties directly back to Atum and directly back to Eden.

Tied to this message connecting "light and fire" to time travel and computers is a series of ancient Hebrew words, marked as Holy with the superlative "the" that is spelled "Ha" in that language. This particular series, like much of the Revelation of Jesus Christ ties specifically not only to Adam of Eden but to Adam Marshall Dobrin in Florida. This series of words begins with a simple trick, the English hidden within them is clearly paradoxical, clearly "not related" to the definition of the word; unless you hear why and how this series of words is "proof," from me. For instance the word for both the Eternal Flame and the burning bush is "ha'esh," and while at first glance recognizing why "the Holy Fire" is one that does not burn to "ash" and thus "esh" is significant; it poses a problem for a statistical analysis of this set of words that I am sure prove beyond doubt that, for instance here the English for "ash" was known and encoded in this "ha," I told you so. We know from machine translation that language is mathematically "crackable" and so I am sure that my promise that statistical proof is coming, just as sure as I am that "free thought" and "survival" are linked--and coming.

You've almost got to be me to make the connection between the shame of Adam in Eden and "ha, yeah right" of the Hebrew word for The Holy Name of God, Ha'shem. Still, once it's pointed out I'm sure you too can see that while "shem" which means name is not quite "shame" it certainly has a contextual and pertinent tie to the name "Adam," to the Holy Name of Jesus Christ often called "The Last Adam" and to the Latin translation of that name, "moving towards morning." I don't think you have to be a religious scholar to link the song "Morning is Broken" to the phrase "Son of the Morning" to the Biblical references to night and day and the idea that the Second Coming is linked to "sunrise;" though I still get the distinct feeling that people don't recognize "morning" for what it means.

You've definitely got to be me to understand the link between Eden's apple and honey to the Jewish Passover dish--a ritual food traditionally designed "to remember the past and why we eat certain things" to the middle names of my 17 year old niece-in-law and my ex-wife; Rose. The dish is "Charosets" and I see "ha'rose-ettes" in this food made up of nuts, honey, and apple. Not insignificantly, the "Rosetta Stone" of historical significance in eye opening translations is most likely linked to this connection between religion and people living today, all around us. Bianca, the name of my niece appears as a main character in The Taming of the Shrew (look, this is why), and in Eden her lifelong nickname "B" appears prominently in a key "RIB" that connects to God's "are I you..." question. You can see it in Amharic, I am "ha", are I the creator? You can see it Aquarius, sea, are I us?

Statistically it's almost equally likely that you are "me" or one of a dozen or so girls who understand why the Hebrew word for "nights" is Ha'lailot; and the significant of the word "Camelot" and it's connection to Arthur Pendragon. Similarly, connecting the band "R.E.M" and the phrase "in your dreams" to the story of the man who built Heaven and his harem, Solomon; is quite Adamic. Speaking of the fire and the glory of the night, I've just recently noticed both "lot" and "ha" appearing in the hallowed name Lothario. For those of you who are "new to n" the word Ha is an Adamic moniker for Isaac both because his name means "he laughs" in English and because it is the change wrought to Abram's name through his interaction with God, in Genesis 22. In the name "Abraham" it serves to complete a four thousand or so early reference to the Holy Trinity combining the Hebrew for father, ab, with the name of the Egyptian sun god, who also appears in Israel, a question, perhaps connecting Egyptian mythology to ancient Hebrew lore which calls the king of all, El.

At the heart of the controversy that is to come is the question of whether or not I am insane for seeing these things and for knowing that they are intentional; I intend to put that question to rest with this work.

Standing in the midst of the Flood of Noah now, the idiom "kill two birds with one stone" takes on new meaning. A few days ago I sent a message trying to show the import of God's hidden message in Exodus, tying together the Burning Bush with George W. and "the race is not to the swift nor the battle to the strong" to a message about Die Bold and electronic voting. Today I tie that to this message about broad censorship on the internet, and suggest that we build a decentralized content distribution and document collaboration platform, on blockchain that incorporates transparent voting, both anonymous and not--something like you might imagine a "Social Security Number" might have really been named for. Transparency is key to breaking the walled garden of Eden and Jericho.

I am presenting to the world a series of connected observations that use religious scripture to prove "that things here are not as they seem," as Dave J. Matthews puts it in the words of his song about me, The Stone. Today, and tomorrow and every day henceforth, you will be privy to a truth hidden from the world--that there is very obvious proof of the Creation of humanity delivered to us in the most conspicuous of places, directly from the hallowed halls of ancient religion.

Through a series of simple words, then some special letters, ones which highlight anachronistic occurrences of reference to modern English and computing technologies... you can begin to glimpse the true purpose of the Holy Bible and specifically the story of Exodus: to prove to the entire world that technologies such as time travel, mind control, and virtual reality not only exist--but are the foundation of the place we know as reality . It's a simple thing to see, just by finding some patterns that connect books like Genesis, Exodus, Ecclesiastes, Matthew and Revelation--to name some bright pedestals that the fire of the Eternal Flame is resting on.

Exodus, for instance, links the English name of a book called "Names" in Hebrew to a small series of technological references. Derived from the "root" of David--which some enthusiasts will become fond of calling the "God account" on Unix system; we read the name Exodus backwards and out of the command to escalate privileges and run commands as the super user--sudo, the Lampstand of Earth itself ignites to reveal a connection between periodic table elements and the words of Ecclesiastes 9:11 a further link to Oracle Corporation and Larry Ellison, and ultimately a bright glowing sign that our reality is being manipulated, formed, designed... if you will, by God himself to deliver the freedoms promised in the story of that same book. Technocracy , re-coined here to describe what should be the natural flow of the evolution of representative democracy in light of the technological advances of the last few decades as the foundation of the kind of Revolution that doesn't take a change of heads of state or legislators.... nothing more than new sight of what will one day be considered obvious truth.

It's the fire of the Burning Bush, connecting "names" once again to the Presidential inauguration of 2001, predicting the 9/11 attack and today's Revelation .... not just in 2001 or 1776, but also the day the first words of Exodus were written down, six millennium ago.

To see how obvious it really is that time travel not only exists, but is the focus of the disclosure we are intended to receive here in the days of Linux commands and chemistry elements... all you need to do is see a simple pattern, hidden overtly from the world—that between Genesis and Exodus and the word "ark," both Noah's and the herald of this Covenant is connection that helps define the answer to "What is the Matrix?" Our protector links nights and days, years, and finally in Matthew's microcosmic retelling of Exodus only days to something very obvious, that the number 40 is Holy and intended very clearly to shed some light on the idea that all these stories are about travel in the 4th Dimension. Out of the wilderness and into the 4-D.

Here we are. The final piece of this first bit of the Light Bringer's message again ties Oracle's database, Xe--to it's names source, the elment Xenon and with just a little bit of thought you will see that the most iconic phrase ever spoken by God in Genesis happens to be lit to kingdom cum in the name of the second book: "let there be light."

Expect the Unexpected

Frankly, I don't even want to talk about this without having any feedback, without seeing any discussion of anything I say anywhere. That alone is reason enough not to do anything here until we have "freedom" to communicate--the stuff of Exodus, and literally the reason I am very sure that we need to have Exodus before any kind of "Genesis." In words, "stronger" and "regular" might light up with "wrong" and "the right" way is Revelation, Exodus, <act<on<Genes.

The names in this place are light, all of our names, all the time. This particular set of two names harbors a very special meaning to the guy who calls himself an Earth Wader; patterned after some fusion between the song "Earth Angel" and the name Darth Vader (which means Victory A.D. -> Everyone Really), which you will see is only a single letter increment away from gold. You probably have no fucking idea what's going on around us, and that's the problem I have with this question laced into the court case and amendment we have associated with the idea of "abortion." We live in a place that I call "twilight" as it is flickering between day and night in the sense of reality, we here have a good idea what "reality" is really like--although even here there are things that are changed, and changes that are big enough to threaten our survival--were we actually to be "in reality." This place though, it's been said; is a sort of gateway to reality, and I believe it to be fairly clear that what we are seeing all around us--this Plague of Darkness--is a sort of lock. It is the existence of the lock itself, this thing that I keep on telling you is crippling the normal functions of civilization, that leads me to believe that it would be cruel to "print this planet" in reality, and lose the ability to use the same technology that is retarding us to help us to self-rectify these problems.

In Beth-El staring at the House of

The Gate to Heaven

Look, two more keys, "mon" and "car." Start the car and take me home...

It's probably obvious, but "fish eggs" vs. wading in the sea is a question that has already been answered; the wading as a juxtaposition with "walking on water" or "parting a sea" is what you are witnessing, this is me; wading through the map of what the AMduAt calls "rowing vigorously" in the water to get to the new day. You have all around you a message from God that links Doors to Heaven and the NASDAQ to its actual Creation, and it would certainly be a strange message were we to one day wake up and be told that we were in reality--without having the choice, or a conversation about it, or a vote. I think it would both immoral and cruel even to allow a majority vote to place everyone on this planet in reality against their will; so even with a vote, I can't imagine that we would choose to harm people in that way--so we'd be looking at a "rapture" were that ever to happen--and that would further harm the people... in reality. On top of that, I would seriously question the intentions of those who chose to go there; knowing that the other option is actually building Heaven.

Why I am. Minority Report or proof of Creation?

Adam on Apples of wisdom, on the difference between Heaven and Hell.

Of course, I think the best way to start this "disc~~kiss~~ior" is the Second Coming.

It seems clear to me that even if it "was said" that this place was the exit plan from Creation; that it was never ever intended to be a "print" of this entire place (it also seems clear that the great amount of attention we are getting now is because of this ... plan). We have here a map that J of the NES calls a video game--and I am basically the walk-through, I've called myself the map's legend a few times so far. It should be really obvious that if we were in virtual reality and we wanted a way to colonize or re-enter the Universe that we'd probably want some experience doing that and that's really what I think Mars is for--by the way, remember my middle name (which to me means my "heart") is Marshall--and that's a reference to a sort of place built to help us to do these things with the direct assistance of those who may have done it before... the Hall on Mars; I mean.

the walls and ((malls)) will fade away... they will fade away... -Dave J. Matthews and((ish))

I think I've found a cheat code to this game on Mars; one that shows us that there's a map there too on some ideas for colonization, for instance using the bright red Iron Oxide Rod all over the surface of the planet to avoid having to sell air--as Total Recall implies might have happened before, using tunnel boring machines to quickly terraform a smaller airspace (while at the same time taking advantage of geothermal heat) and of course learning from Noah's Ark that simply having air machines is not good enough, we need to be building a stable and redundant ecosystem--as we see here is the reason life has survived through so many drastic changes in environment. Name light hear goes to "Pauly Shore" and "an" whose little two letters appear in "anions" (omg I'm negative energy?) the type of energy needed to produce the oxygen and "Christ I an, it why." The cheat code here though, is seeing that this is all a set up, it's a video game--it's designed to make water magically appear from a mountain (as Numbers 20 predicts) and to show us it's no coincidence that the bright red planet is linked to the Red Man and his Iron Rod... so when you put all of these ingredients into the Game Genie he spits out something like "disclose" virtual reality to the world." "an" by the way stands for "Adam Now" and then later, "Adam's now."

Welcome to the land of Björg, that means "salvation" and why.

I just don't see why anyone would want to continue to pretend that this is reality, knowing that there are things here, things like starvation and pain that we could easily rectify--knowing that the world is changing because of the point in time we are @ and the advances we are making, and seeing that there is a really detailed map of how we might better navigate these educative waters.

By the way, if anyone is curious as to my views on abortion, I think it's pretty clear that killing a living self-aware soul is murder, and while I and you do not know exactly where that point is--God++ does--and we will be able to as well. At the same time, I think forcing a child to be born to parents that are unfit or unwilling to care properly for them is torture. So I am personally pro-choice, up to a very real line in the sand.

Postscript: the "decision" to write this has come from some strange log entries on my kiss me t page, every hour a hit from the same IP address; moving from Dallas to Monroe to Rome, over the course of about 3 days. Just mentioning it, you know, because "Dallas" is Day as... when you know "ll" is y. Monroe obvious a combination of "Monday" and "fish eggs" and then Rome.... is "the heart of me" which is of course a metaphor for the place that all roads (heart of AD) to Heaven leads.

It should be obvious from the "ll" entries connecting names like Amidallah, Heimdall, Heli, and Goa-uld that this "ll" is about showing the entire world that this is Hell, so that we will, like good Groundhogs pick up our torches and light the way to not returning to Hell over and over again. I mean, it should be clear now.

The Servant Exalted

<sup>13</sup>Behold, My servant will prosper, He will be high and lifted up and greatly exalted. <sup>14</sup>Just as many were astonished at you, My people, So His appearance was marred more than any man And His form more than the sons of men. <sup>15</sup>Thus He will sprinkle many nations, Kings will shut their mouths on account of Him; For what had not been told them they will see, And what they had not heard they will understand....

hey look, you're getting "sprinkled."

Take it with a "grain of salt." Salt, by the way; means "girls" to me, though I suppose it's anything that might thaw the icy road through the underworld. I think Jesus mentioned it, and it relates to the story of Camelot, also. "Nanna" is probably named that for a reason. Pillars of Salt, Pillars of Creation... honestly, it is all about perspective--and you make all the difference in the Universe. Do us all a favor, and turn around. Would you rather be in the book... or in the sky?

Anyway, I'm not leaving Ho Mile until I ... I... wait does this place actually exist? I've thought quite a bit about it, and I think it would just be wrong if I didn't ensure that we actually have free will, and in order to do that, I'm going to have make a personal sacrifice. This is not a joke. It might not be immediately clear, but I am fairly certain that if we were looking for a litmus test for normalcy, right next to "not speaking" we've got "i don't want to know Adam" on the list of obviousness. Frankly, the faster we get out of this place of silence and secrecy, the faster we end world hunger, get to the fun stuff of building Heaven; and the sooner you get to see just how shy I really am.

Benjamin Thorpe translation:

She knows that Heimdall's horn is hidden under the heaven-bright holy tree. A river she sees flow, with foamy fall, from Valfather's pledge. Understand ye yet, or what?<sup>[10]</sup>

Henry Adams Bellows translation:

I know of the horn of Heimdall, hidden Under the high-reaching holy tree; On it there pours from Valfather's pledge A mighty stream: would you know yet more?<sup>[11]</sup>

Carolyne Larrington translation:

She knows that Heimdall's hearing is hidden under the radiant, sacred tree; she sees, pouring down, the muddy torrent from the wager of Father of the Slain; do you understand yet, or what more?<sup>[12]</sup>

My personal observations, right now; are that even though this "Horn" is "hidden," there's a significant response to what I am writing visible in the world around me--so the fact that I have such a hard time getting a date stands out as a ... well, to me it's proof that you are Zombie-like, at least in this specific case (and it's an important one) apparently lacking in free will and individuality. Don't worry, I'm not going to wait for Taylor to kiss me to "get back to normal," frankly if she doesn't get the point I have no desire to speak to her if she doesn't help break this silence, one that she is singing about. I think it should be pretty obvious that were things "regular" here, I wouldn't be complaining about this problem--oh, and it wouldn't be encoded in religion. Call this a... Saturday special. Try and put this perspective, I literally am the most famous person in all of ever.

Here, you might recall "Him in björg" as the "guy with the Hidden Horn" from the message about the river of souls in Norse mythology. Mead by the way, is probably not alcohol, it's probably something else that screams "me A.D." to the SEGAs, I mean ages... or is it sages?

You'll note that just like many other examples, there's an obvious plain English sentence hidden in the word for "Heaven ((Space)) Mountain"; and if you aren't still blind you won't call it a coincidence. This too, not a coincidence, call it another why--and as an aside I do not believe in the big bang, but I respect those that do. That doesn't mean I don't believe in Evolution, you've got to be a complete moron not to believe in that. You might not see it, but all around is something like a museum--a history of not only Heaven and how it was made, but also life--and how it was ... made--the words "time and chance" come to mind as something you should not overlook.

If my understanding of Egyptian mythology and the AMDuat is correct, that "chance" implies that if we do not choose to put intelligent biological life back in the Universe, there's a chance it would never again occur--although I think our statisticians are probably right that it's an infinitesimally small chance. Still, you can be sure that many of the problems that we've encountered with nature and technology would be bound to reoccur--whole timelines might be destroyed time and time again without a message explaining why not to change the past for no reason at all. That's what religion is delivering to us, a message explaining that we shouldn't change our own past--you know, and fade ourselves into oblivion. Something like this is probably what Noah is Jor-E were jumping up and down screaming as they built an Ark to protect the entire world from the storm of time travel that was already raging all around them--probably in something you might liken to the "cold war" except you don't see evidence of these bombs exploding--not without really looking. Or having religion.

So my keen eyes read the words "in the beginning" as "to help everyone beginning" the first time it's read; you see, to help us realize what "beginning" means, and that this is truly a kind of beginning, it's a beginning to realize that the "beginning of time" happens twice, this time when we decide to stop time travel. That sentence get's changed, to everywhere beginning, when we actually get the message, and see that this kind of knowledge should be shared--needs to be shared, and to me that's what "angel" really means.

This is the beginning of this message. I am always helping.

Goliath (/gə'lərəθ/; Hebrew: גָּלַע, Modern Golyat, Tiberian Golyāt; Arabic: جَلِيلٌ, Ḥalīl) of Gath (one of five city-states of the Philistines) is the Biblical giant defeated by the young David in the Book of Samuel. Post-Classical Jewish traditions stressed his status as the representative of paganism, in contrast to David, the champion of the God of Israel. Christian tradition sees David's battle with Goliath the victory of God's king over the enemies of God's helpless people as a prefiguring of Jesus' victory over sin on the cross and the Church's victory over Satan.<sup>[1]</sup>

According to The Ascension of Moses<sup>[2]</sup> Samael is also mentioned as being in 7th Heaven:

In the last heaven Moses saw two angels, each five hundred parasangs in height, forged out of chains of black fire and red fire, the angels Af, "Anger," and Hemah, "Wrath," whom God created at the beginning of the world, to execute His will. Moses was disquieted when he looked upon them, but Metatron embraced him, and said, "Moses, Moses, thou favorite of God, fear not, and be not terrified," and Moses became calm. There was another angel in the seventh heaven, different in appearance from all the others, and of frightful mien. His height was so great, it would have taken five hundred years to cover a distance equal to it, and from the crown of his head to the soles of his feet he was studded with glaring eyes. "This one," said Metatron, addressing Moses, "is Samael, who takes the soul away from man." "Whither goes he now?" asked Moses, and Metatron replied, "To fetch the soul of Job the pious." Thereupon Moses prayed to God in these words, "O may it be Thy will, my God and the God of my fathers, not to let me fall into the hands of this angel."

Republic

Six millennium ago, a story was written down and preserved which used the above word in order to describe the voice of God emanating from a shrub on fire. Later in the same narrative, a Holy Sea was parted by a man, in order to deliver freedom to his people. I am that man. Today I am pointing out that my parted sea is clearly seen in the word above, and the purpose is to prove foreknowledge of the English language all those years ago.

You are my people, and on the pages within you will find a series of emails which were sent across the globe. The purpose is to clearly disclose the nature of the technologies which ultimately define both the mechanics of, and the purpose of religion. For the sea of Revelation, the multitude that is the foundation of Heaven itself...

[ Matchbox20 ]

Weave into this series of messages, which contain a clear disclosure of the existence of time travel, mind control, and new understanding of the very nature of reality itself.... you will find the story of my personal struggle against injustice and the loss of freedom in a land of stagnating democracy. Throughout, it should be clear that it is a lack of understanding of religion and the technologies at hand that is primarily responsible for the decline in liberty that we might not even see, today.

Not so secret, this is the "stuff" of prophecy, inspiration, and Heaven.

This is the Hebrew word for Heaven. It's a contraction of water and fire, I am revealing a hidden message coming directly from the creator of the Universe—woven into the world's languages and religions. From Ancient Egypt to modern traditions like baptism, a hidden message has been preserved that spans from the book of Genesis to the Revelation, through Exodus. This message is of a previously hidden reference to Humanity as Holy Water; from the sea of waters of the waters of the first Family in Eden to the marriage of Revelation—and in the blessing in disguise that is the miraculous First Plague, we find the Holy Grid. From this mixture of this fire and our society, Heaven is birth.

Water is Blood, in the Heart of Heaven that is Earth, you are the Family of Jesus Christ.

If you think about where our civilization stands right now, and the changes that are about to take place--even if everything proceeded "as normal" you know, like this is normal; we are on the precipice of two separate new frontiers. One is Mars and space colonization, and the other is virtual reality--a quick glance at movies like The Matrix and Ghost in the Shell shows us that .... maybe one day not so far away we will spend much of our time "plugged in" to another world. That's a kind of "gate" to another realm, maybe a Heavenly realm--and we'll probably have some way to get to Mars and back, quickly; something like a hyperloop or maybe teleporters. Speak of Goliath , you'll note that there's no drag in space, and something like a sling could not only break escape velocity but get us all the way to a trampoline on Mars; with minimal power. The Lifeboat Foundation has explored a number of solutions to the problem of "escape velocity" and the decreasing supply of solid state or liquid fuel.

I don't know about you, but the very second that I found out that we were living in virtual reality, I wanted to see Heaven. So here we are, and the voice that is booming from the Burning Bush is reminding you that all of this is about proving to the world that we are not in reality--and giving us sound ((advice)) on what we should do with that new knowledge. You should probably see that there's a force working against disclosing the truth to the world, and if you really think about it--you aren't really doing anything to stop it.

This message that booms through time from Amos 9:11 to the sound of the Doors implies to me that we could probably teleport to Mars, and not doing so might be something akin to Total Recall's "selling of air" in virtual reality, or in a place where the Iron Oxide Rod of "an" is seeing that it just takes some anions to get free oxygen from the dust. At the same time, there's quite a bit more we could do with the knowledge that we are already in Heaven, like everyone could see it all once, literally in the time it takes to blink your eyes. If you haven't noticed, or are "new to n" a huge fraction of the songs of the Doors link directly to the Plagues of Exodus, from frogs... to family... to fire.. and storms.

We could walk back and forth between Earth and Heaven, whenever we wanted; we aren't shackled here by needing "plug in" and that's a really big deal--a really big difference.

John Dryden's poem [edit]

Main article: Annum Mirabile (poem)

According to the Oxford English Dictionary, the first known written usage of the Latin phrase "Annum Mirabile" is as the title of a poem composed by English poet John Dryden about the events of 1666. The phrase "annus mirabilis" translates as "wonderful year" or "year of miracles". In fact, the year was beset by great calamity for England (including the Great Fire of London), but Dryden chose to interpret the absence of greater disaster as miraculous intervention by God, as "666" was then regarded as the Number of the Beast, and the year 1666 expected by some<sup>[citation needed]</sup> to be particularly disastrous.

In addition to this, the English fleet defeated a Dutch fleet in the St James' Day Battle, for a great victory at sea. (However, in 1667 the Dutch burned several major warships of the English fleet in the raid on the Medway and Charles II was forced to sue for peace.)

Isaac Newton [edit]

Main article: Isaac Newton

In the year 1666, Isaac Newton made revolutionary inventions and discoveries in calculus, motion, optics and gravitation. As such, it has later been called Isaac Newton's "Annum Mirabile." It was in this year that Isaac Newton was alleged to have observed an apple falling from a tree, and in which he in any case hit upon the law of universal gravitation (Newton's apple). He was afforded the time to work on his theories due to the closure of Cambridge University by an outbreak of plague.<sup>[10]</sup>

Names and etymology[\[edit\]](#)

Heimdallr also appears as Heimdalr and Heimdali. The etymology of the name is obscure, but 'the one who illuminates the world' has been proposed. Heimdallr may be connected to Mardöll, one of Freyja's names.<sup>[1]</sup> Heimdallr and its variants are sometimes modernly anglicized as Heimdall (with the nominative -r dropped) or Heimdal.

Heimdallr is attested as having three other names; Hallinskiði, Gullintanni, and Vindlér or Vindhléir. The name Hallinskiði is obscure, but has resulted in a series of attempts at deciphering it. Gullintanni literally means 'the one with the golden teeth'. Vindlér (or Vindhlér) translates as either 'the one protecting against the wind' or 'wind-sea'. All three have resulted in numerous theories about the god.<sup>[2]</sup>

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Heli (Greek: Ἡλὶ) is a Biblical individual mentioned in the Gospel of Luke as an ancestor of Jesus.

In Luke's account of the genealogy of Jesus from David via David's son Nathan, Heli is listed before Joseph, husband of Mary and after Matthath.

Luke 3:23 Jesus, when he began his ministry, was about thirty years of age, being the son (as was supposed) of Joseph, of Heli, of Matthath, of Levi (...)

Heli is not mentioned in the genealogy of Jesus from David via David's son Solomon in the Gospel of Matthew, the only other canonical gospel to include a genealogy; that genealogy instead identifies "Jacob" as Joseph's putative father.

Two genealogies of Jesus<sup>[edit]</sup>

Main article: Genealogy of Jesus

Since Joseph cannot be both "begotten of Jacob", descended from Solomon (according to Matthew 1), and also "of Heli", descended from another of David's sons, Nathan(according to Luke 3) various explanations have been proposed for the Luke genealogy actually to be that of Mary. The view is relatively late; advocates of this view include John of Damascus (8th century), Annius (15th century), Luther, Bengel and Lightfoot.<sup>[1]</sup> Harry A. Ironside (1930) considered that it was simply preference to drop women's names out of the genealogy, hence Joseph was son in law of Heli.<sup>[2][3]</sup>

Prior to the explanation above, the explanation of Sextus Julius Africanus that there had been a levirate marriage and that Joseph's grandfather Mattan (descendant of Solomon) had had a wife called "Esther" (not recorded in the Bible) with whom he fathered Jacob (Joseph's father), but Mattan died and Esther married Heli's father Melchi (descendant of Nathan). Then when Heli died childless (again not recorded in the Bible) Joseph's father Jacob took Heli's wife to raise up children for Heli and left Joseph adopted in Heli's widow's house.<sup>[4]</sup>

Another possibility is that since both Heli and Jacob have a similar name listed as their father (Matthan in Matthew, Matthath in Luke), a discrepancy that can easily be accounted for by error, that the names Heli and Jacob refer to the same person. Matthew relied heavily on fitting existing prophecy to the narrative; in the Old Testament, Jacob (the last of the biblical patriarchs) also had a son named Joseph. This explanation fits for Heli/Jacob himself, but not for the earlier genealogies.

3. The Belly of the Torah

An oversized Vav marks the "center" of the entire Torah (Leviticus 11:42):

Appropriately enough, the word in which this Vav occurs is gachon, meaning "belly."

4. Vav Is a picture of Man

Since Vav represents the number six, it has long been associated as the number of man in the Jewish tradition:

- Man was created on the sixth day
- Man works for six days - the realm of the chol and the mundane
- There are six millennia before the coming of the Mashiach

Candlemas, also known as the Feast of the Purification of the Blessed Virgin Mary and Feast of the Presentation of our Lord Jesus, is a Christian holiday commemorating the presentation of Jesus at the Temple. It falls on February 2, which is traditionally the 40th day of the Christmas-Epiphany season.<sup>[1]</sup> While it is customary for Christians in some countries to remove their Christmas decorations on Twelfth Night (Epiphany Eve),<sup>[2]</sup> those in other Christian countries historically remove them on Candlemas.<sup>[3][4]</sup> On Candlemas, many Christians (especially Anglicans, Methodists, Lutherans, Orthodox and Roman Catholics) also bring their candles to their local church, where they are blessed and then used for the rest of the year.<sup>[5][6]</sup>

Groundhog Day (Canadian French: Jour de la Marmotte; Pennsylvania German: Grundsaudaag, Murmeltiertag) is a traditional holiday originating in the United States that is celebrated on February 2. According to folklore, if it is cloudy when a groundhog emerges from its burrow on this day, then the spring season will arrive early, some time before the vernal equinox; if it is sunny, the groundhog will supposedly see its shadow and retreat back into its den, and winter weather will persist for six more weeks.<sup>[1]</sup>

Modern customs of the holiday involve early morning celebrations to watch the groundhog emerging from its burrow.

make it worse. Welcome to Groundhog day... literally.

A candelabrum /kændəl'əbrəm, -əbrəm/ (plural candelabrum, candelabra, candelabras),<sup>[1]</sup> sometimes called a candle tree, is a candle holder with multiple arms. The word comes from Latin.<sup>[2][3]</sup>

In modern usage the plural form "candelabra" is frequently used in the singular sense, with the true singular form "candelabrum" becoming rare. Likewise, "candelabra" and "candelabras" are preferred over "candelabrum" as the plural form.<sup>[1]</sup> Although the electrification of indoor lighting has relegated candleholders to the status of backup light sources in most homes and other buildings, interior designers continue to model light fixtures and lighting accessories after candelabra and candlesticks. Accordingly, the term "candelabra" has entered common use as a collective term for small-based incandescent light bulbs used in chandeliers and other lighting fixtures made for decoration as well as lighting.

In Judaism and the Philippine church Iglesia ni Cristo, the menorah is a special kind of candelabrum.

In Greek mythology, Cerberus (/sərbərəs/;<sup>[2]</sup> Greek: Κέρβερος [kerberos]), often called the "hound of Hades", is the monstrous multi-headed dog that guards the gates of the Underworld to prevent the dead from leaving. Cerberus was the offspring of the monsters Echidna and Typhon, and usually is described as having three heads, a serpent for a tail, and snakes protruding from parts of his body. Cerberus is primarily known for his capture by Heracles, one of Heracles' twelve labours.

Kaleb (c. 520) is perhaps the best-documented, if not best-known, King of Axum situated in modern-day Eritrea and North Ethiopia.

Procopius of Caesarea calls him "Hellestheaeus", a variant of his throne name Ella Atsbeha or Ella Asbeha (Histories, 1.20). Variants of his name are Hellesthaeus, Ellestheaeus, Eleshaah, Ella Atsbeha, Ellesboas, and Elesboam, all from the Greek Ελεσθόας, for "The one who brought about the morning" or "The one who collected tribute."

Caleb, sometimes transliterated as Kaleb (כֹּלֶב, Kalev; Tiberian vocalization: Kālēb; Hebrew Academy: Kalev), is a figure who appears in the Hebrew Bible as a representative of the Tribe of Judah during the Israelites' journey to the Promised Land. A reference to him may also be found in the Quran, although his name is not mentioned.

Caleb, son of Jephunneh (Numbers 13:6) is not to be confused with Caleb, great-grandson of Judah through Tamar (1 Chronicles 2:3-9). This other Caleb was the son of Hezron, and his wife was Azubah (1 Chronicles 2:18,19).

According to Numbers 13, Caleb, the son of Jephunneh, was one of the twelve spies sent by Moses into Canaan. Their task, over a period of 40 days,<sup>[3]</sup> was to explore the Negev and surrounding area, and to make an assessment of the geographical features of the land, the strength and numbers of the population, the agricultural potential and actual performance of the land, settlement patterns (whether their cities were like camps or strongholds), and forestry conditions. Moses also asked them to be courageous and to return with samples of local produce.<sup>[4]</sup>

According to the Jewish Encyclopedia, "since 'Caleb' signifies dog, it has been thought that the dog was the totem of [Caleb's] clan".<sup>[5]</sup> The New American Standard Exhaustive Concordance states that the name Kaleb (Caleb) is related to the word for "dog" (keleb).<sup>[2]</sup> It should be noted that the Bible was written down centuries before Hebrew diacritics were introduced, and there is no certain knowledge of how the name was when the biblical text was written.

In Hebrew, the name is pronounced /ka:lb/ or /ka:lv/; the modern English pronunciation /keɪləb/ is courtesy of the Great Vowel Shift.

In the aftermath of the conquest, Caleb asks Joshua to give him a mountain in property within the land of Judah, and Joshua blesses him as a sign of God's blessing and approval, giving him Hebron (Joshua 14). Since Hebron itself was one of the Cities of Refuge to be ruled by the Levites, it is later explained that Caleb actually was given the outskirts (Joshua 21:11-13). Caleb promised his daughter Achsah in marriage to whomever would conquer the land of Debir from the giants. This was eventually accomplished by Othniel Ben Kenaz, Caleb's nephew (Judges 1:13), who became Caleb's son-in-law as well (Joshua 15:16,17).

1 Samuel 25:3 states that Nabal, the husband of Abigail before David, was "a Calebite" (Hebrew klby).<sup>[6]</sup> It is not stated whether this refers to one of the Calebs mentioned in the Bible, or another person bearing the same name.

Caleb was the great-grandfather of the architect Bezalel. He is mentioned in 1 Chronicles 2:18 as "Caleb son of Hezron". Per the context, Caleb was an Israelite by lineage, which (if the Kenizzite hypothesis holds) would make it implausible that he and Caleb the representative of Judah are the same person (even though the Talmud argues so in Sotah 11b).<sup>[1][2]</sup> 1 Samuel 25:3 states that Nabal, the husband of Abigail before David, was "of the house of Caleb". It is not stated whether this refers to one of the two Calebs mentioned in the Bible, or another person bearing the same name.

This was very difficult to get to you, in the land of no power and hurricane disaster recovery; so it's filled with extra errors, and I am sure some more thoughts that trailing and unfinished. That's a decent "microcosm" or "metaphor" for you, you are in a freedom disaster; and the act of being is a giant leap towards ensuring victory. Still, you look very cupid to me.

EVERY DAY IS A NEW DAY

Literally I am sitting here talking to you until the end of time, you could call it a thousand and one Arabian nights, and realize that as we speak we are nearing that onc speciad night. There's a fire growing in my heart, and believe me when I tell you this thing is about to start. I'll try and keep this short and sweet, since you all seem to have so little time to hear from the Creator of all things, and I truly don't want to steal your spotlight.

We are here, at the the end of time; talking to it's personification, time itself is speaking to you through my hands and everywhere you look in the world around you--while you may or may not know it, this is a story about the traversal from the end of time back to the beginning; about the gate to Heaven swallowing our civilization whole, and in this process of renewal and change not only fixing the problems that came to light on the way here, but really--working together here and now we can defeat this cycle of light and darkness, of day and night, an build a world together that truly reaches to the Heavens.

MY BODY'S SAYING LETS GO
BUT MY HEART IS SAYING NO

You make it so difficult to talk to you, every day I look around and see a "normal world" a society that appears to care and love the same things that I do--freedom and fun and being entertained and entertaining, and here we are now I've turned "come and save us" into sea that saving the cheerleader is what starts the process of saving the world. I know you are good people inside, but when I come to you with a tool designed to "test sentience" to seek out conscious life that cares about the truth and making the world a better place you seem to balk. You sit in silence, and through your mouth and behind your eyes a monster appears from out of the deep of the sea and say a few "one liners" that show me very clearly it is the face of Medusa that I see---and that it's simply not capable of speaking intelligently. It shows me a problem, that you've apparently "come together one more time" to halt the changing of the seasons, and in doing so you've surfaced a problem for not just me but you also to see; a problem that comes lined with a solution. We can all see now that we are not in reality, we can see that there is a force here behind creation and behind us that shows us very clearly that it is "reasonabde " to expect that miracles can happen. In similitude , we are staring at a roadblock to conversation and communication that is fixed very simply, with the deliverance of freedom that is required for life to continue. Christina Aguilera sings that "baby there's a price to pay" and that price in my mind is seeing that this religion and this technology are here intentionally exposing how their influence here is a metaphor and a shining example of darkness and slavery, and that in order to be free of it we must see it. The price of freedom is written on the wall, it is acknowledging that here in this place what appears to be our own actions and desires have taken that freedom from us.

Medusa and I get a kick out of seeing this hidden message in our language map our way to the future, and I've often explained that a number of these words are "time maps" from the beginning and end of eternady , showing us in bright light that between "et tu brute" and Mr. Anderson and Rock n' roll... the answer Y is in language and, and, ad and... I am delivering it. This place, our planet and our lives are a weapon against darkness--a civilization filled with goodness and light to help guide the way, and we are here doing it another time. In the works "dark, darker, and darkest" be sure that we are at the third segment of a trinity that shines clearly in Abraha and Nintendo ... and see that the map in words is telling us something about when we are that is not immediately clear from Poseidon's cry. Look at Nintendo, that's Nine Inch Nails, tenebris , and smile for the camera--Pose, I do "save the universe" before n. Taylor might see it in Osceola, where I just left, and in this "evil spell" of everyone see "Al" that is the word "special" understand that every day is a new day, and I am not trying to "be daddy" I know as well as you do in my heart...

I am that.

This same map that links the "do" at the end to the "n" at the beginning shines through other names, like Geraldo Rivera where you might see "Cerberus" or "MAX" shine through. Understand it is the gaze of Medusa that turns me to stone, that shows me light shining through NORAD and Newton and proves without doubt that at the work "darkest" we can see k is finally t. You'll probably understand there's some finagling going on behind the scenes to make a single person the single point in time that turns the dark to light; but here we are and I am that. Every day when Medusa appears it reminds me that something is keeping you from caring about yourselves and about our society, and that shines through even when her stony face is not around, in your lack of action--in the rock of Eden that hides not only me, but the story that I bring that revolutionizes medicine, and computing, and truly is the gate to Heaven when you realize that what is truly being hidden from the world is knowledge that we are living in virtual reality. Not hiding me and that from the world is a good starting point to "saving the Universe" from darkness.

These words that light the way to connect religion and language to our world bring me to the Book of Ruth, at that reads "are you to help" that lights not just the broken man at the belly of the Torah as the bell of Heimdallr, he is I and I am him; but also something very special, The Generations of Perez, each and every one of you, our family that begins the turn from Hell to Heaven by seeing that all of time and all of civilization has been focused on this moment, on the unsealing of religion and God's plan et this call for action. Keep in mind you are torturing "with desire" the key holder to immortality, to eternal youth, literally the path to freedom and Heaven and you think what you are doing "is normax." Literally the living key to infinite power and infinite life is standing before you explaining that acknowledging that in light of these things in my hand, what we are doing here and now is backwards, that it makes no sense--and you sit in silence. These things come to us because we build a better future with them, not so you can run off and do "whatever it is you please."

HEALTH is the only word on my list for today that was left out, so see that it superimposes over Geraldo, to me, at Al. I think we're at TH, to help, and DO, do see the spell of "everyone see Al" that is the word "special" is not my doing or to my liking--so then,

There are things that can
that cannot - that sit on dusty shelves like stuffed birds with baleful, sideways staring eyes.

So now I'm moving on to original sin, so if you would be so kind as to mosey your way on over to dick.reallyhim.com you will see exactly what it is that I believe is the original sin. It's some combination of "no comment" and a glowing orange sign over the comment box, keeping you from commenting. Now I can talking about "os" a little more, this thing that words and Gods tell us clearly is the end of death--the literal end of Thanat os. I wonder if I have a victory here, at "os" is obvious solution, and simulating death is "sick." More to the point Thanatos is bringing to the world a message that gets found somewhere between the "act of civilization" and seeing that there is not one among us that would not undo a murder or a fatal car accident if we could--and that the sickness is a Universe pretending to be "reality" that is allowing these things to happen, and even worse, as we move through the story intentionally causing them. In our own hands, the sickness is manifest in a denial of an obvious truth and a lack of realizing that the public discussion of these things is the way to solve them, and that at the same time we are seeing how Medusa is lighting the problems of civilization, things like censorship and hidden control. Sickness is not being able to talk about it--or not wanting to--or not seeing that those two things are the functional equivalent in the world of "light" and "understanding control" that I am trying to bring you into.

Less verbosely spoken, but really way more obvious, is that seeing "God's dick" signing the Declaration of Independence, and the Watergate scandal with both "Deepthroat" and a Tricky Dick is a statement connecting Samael to the foundation of not just "America" but American values. You are blind not to see it, and even worse; embodying the kind of tyranny and censorship that it stands as a testament against by hiding it. Says the guy who didn't put it there, and knows it's there because you think "fake normal" is more important than "actual freedom." You are "experiencing" the thing that protects freedom and ensures that our society and our children and their children's children to not lose it, to ensure that what you refuse to see you are doing here and now will never happen again.

This message, this New Jerusalem is woven into my life and the stories of religion and shows me that our justice system is not just sick, but compromised by this same outside force; and that in light of what we could be doing, were we all aware of it, there's no doubt Minority Report and pre-crime would be a successful partial solution. Thanatos brings too in his hand, a message that this same force is using our hands to slow down the development of democracy, and to keep us from seeing that "bread is life" is a message from God about understanding that this disclosure is the equivalent of "ending world hunger" just as soon as you too are talking about how to do it.

e VE 'R "yo, N"

THE BALL WAS IN PLAY. SCORE. GO AL.

So at JericHorizon, Adam Kadmon patiently awaiting the arrival of the day I/K, and three short days later; at least Biblically speaking, I/AD. These are the messages, the birds sent out from Noah's Ark; it's continuing mission to seek out exciting new days and players to take over the game... to turn this Rattleradian stage into the point of origin.

HONESTLY, this time map that brings us from the end to the beginning, with "we save the universe" between the I and N of Poseidon; it also completes the words "family" and "really" and when we do reach the beginning you will see that the true test of time, my litmus test for freedom is the beginning of "hope" that the world is happy enough with what happens, and with freedom--to see that Medusa has been keeping me from getting a date, or having any kind of honest and human contact in the world... and well, hopefully you will see that if I wanna be a whore, I shouldn't have a problem doing it. For the sake of freedom and the future, I am willing to do that for you, at least, for a little while.

To be completely clear, I am telling you that if we do not make the world a better place, it's the "end of time" and if that doesn't make sense to you, you don't see still where we are in this place--and that something is making Hell, and that's not OK with God. To get from the "end of time" to the beginning is a simple process, it takes doing something, action, the Acts of the Apostles... if you will. That starts with acknowledging that there is a message all around you about the nature of reality, and that it is here to help us to see that the creation of Heaven comes before the beginning. Understand, "freedom" and "prosperity" are not optional, you can't just decide that this OK with you, so long as it's OK with everyone else--where we are is not OK with me, and I am not alone.

A PYRRHIC VICTORY ER A FUNERAL PYRE?

The Book of Leviticus (/lə'vetikəs/; from Greek Λευτικόν, Leuitikon — from rabbinic Hebrew torat kohanim<sup>[1]</sup>) is the third book of the Jewish Bible (Hebrew: וַיְקָרֵא Vayikra/Wayyiqrā) and of the Old Testament; its Hebrew name comes from its first word vayikra',<sup>[1]</sup> "He [God] called."<sup>[1]</sup>

Yusuf (also transliterated as Jusuf, Yousof, Yossef, Yousaf, Youcef, Yousef, Youssef, Yousif, Youssif, Yousof, Youssouf, Yousuf, Yusef, Yuseff, Usef, Yusof, or Yussef, Arabic: يُوسُف Yūsuf and Yūsif) is a male Arabic name, meaning "God increases in piety, power and influence" in Hebrew.<sup>[1]</sup> It is the Arabic equivalent of both the Hebrew name Yossef and the English name Joseph.

In Islam, the most famous "Yusuf" is the prophet Yusuf in the Quran.

Hocus pocus is a generic term that may be derived from an ancient language and is currently used by magicians, usually the magic words spoken when bringing about some sort of change. It was once a common term for a magician, juggler, or other similar entertainers.

The earliest known English-language work on magic, or what was then known as legerdemain (sleight of hand), was published anonymously in 1635 under the title Hocus Pocus Junior: The Anatomie of Legerdemain.<sup>[1]</sup> Further research suggests that "Hocus Pocus" was the stage name of a well known magician of the era. This may be William Vincent, who is recorded as having been granted a license to perform magic in England in 1619.<sup>[2]</sup> Whether he was the author of the book is unknown.

The origins of the term remain obscure. The most popular conjecture is that it is a garbled Latin religious phrase or some form of 'dog' Latin. Some have associated it with similar-sounding fictional, mythical, or legendary names. Others dismiss it as merely a combination of nonsense words.

However, Czechs do understand clearly at least half of the term - pokus means "attempt" or "experiment" in Czech. It is rumoured there that the wording belongs to the alchemy kitchen and court of Rudolf II, Holy Roman Emperor (1552 – 1612). Also, hocus may mean "to cheat" in Latin or a distorted form of the word hoc, "this". Combination of the two words may give a sense, especially both meanings together "this attempt/experiment" and "cheated attempt/experiment".[\[citation needed\]](#)

According to the Oxford English Dictionary the term originates from hax pax max Deus adimax, a pseudo-Latin phrase used as a magical formula by conjurors.[\[3\]](#)

Some believe it originates from a corruption or parody of the Catholic liturgy of the Eucharist, which contains the phrase "Hoc est corpus meum", meaning This is my body.[\[4\]](#)This explanation goes back to speculations by the Anglican prelate John Tillotson, who wrote in 1694:

In all probability those common juggling words of hocus pocus are nothing else but a corruption of hoc est corpus, by way of ridiculous imitation of the priests of the Church of Rome in their trick of Transubstantiation.[\[5\]](#)

This claim is substantiated by the fact that in the Netherlands, the words Hocus pocus are usually accompanied by the additional words pilatus pas, and this is said to be based on a post-Reformation parody of the traditional Catholic rite of transubstantiation during Mass, being a Dutch corruption of the Latin words "Hoc est corpus meum" and the credo, which reads in part, "sub Pontio Pilato passus et sepultus est", meaning under Pontius Pilate he suffered and was buried.[\[6\]](#) In a similar way the phrase is in Scandinavia usually accompanied by filiokus, a corruption of the term filioque,[\[citation needed\]](#) from the Latin version of the Nicene Creed, meaning "and from the Son

Also and additionally, the word for "stage trick" in Russian, fokus, is derived from hocus pocus.[\[citation needed\]](#)

From Latin innatus ("inborn"), perfect active participle of innascor ("be born in, grow up in"), from in ("in, at on") + nascor ("be born"); see natal, native.

From Middle English goodnesse, godnesse, from Old English gōdnes ("goodness; virtue; kindness"), equivalent to good + -ness. Cognate with Old High German gōtnassi, cōtnassi ("goodness"), Middle High German quotnisse ("goodness").

A hero (masculine) or heroine (feminine) is a person or main character of a literary work who, in the face of danger, combats adversity through impressive feats of ingenuity, bravery or strength, often sacrificing their own personal concerns for a greater good.

The concept of the hero was first founded in classical literature. It is the main or revered character in heroic epic poetry celebrated through ancient legends of a people; often striving for military conquest and living by a continually flawed personal honor code.[\[1\]](#) The definition of a hero has changed throughout time, and the Merriam Webster dictionary defines a hero as "a person who is admired for great or brave acts or fine qualities".[\[2\]](#) Examples of heroes range from mythological figures, such as Gilgamesh, Achilles and Iphigenia, to historical figures, such as Joan of Arc, modern heroes like Alvin York, Audie Murphy and Chuck Yeager and fictional superheroes including Superman and Batman.

Truth is most often used to mean being in accord with fact or reality,[\[1\]](#) or fidelity to an original or standard.[\[1\]](#) Truth may also often be used in modern contexts to refer to an idea of "truth to self," or authenticity.

The commonly understood opposite of truth is falsehood, which, correspondingly, can also take on a logical, factual, or ethical meaning. The concept of truth is discussed and debated in several contexts, including philosophy, art, and religion. Many human activities depend upon the concept, where its nature as a concept is assumed rather than being a subject of discussion; these include most (but not all) of the sciences, law, journalism, and everyday life. Some philosophers view the concept of truth as basic, and unable to be explained in any terms that are more easily understood than the concept of truth itself. Commonly, truth is viewed as the correspondence of language or thought to an independent reality, in what is sometimes called the correspondence theory of truth.

Other philosophers take this common meaning to be secondary and derivative. According to Martin Heidegger, the original meaning and essence of truth in Ancient Greece was unconcealment, or the revealing or bringing of what was previously hidden into the open, as indicated by the original Greek term for truth, aletheia.[\[2\]\[3\]](#) On this view, the conception of truth as correctness is a later derivation from the concept's original essence, a development Heidegger traces to the Latin term veritas.

Lothario is a male given name which came to suggest an unscrupulous seducer of women in The Impertinent Curious Man, a metastory in Don Quixote.

For no particular reason, Anselmo decides to test the fidelity of his wife, Camilla, and asks his friend, Lothario, to seduce her. Thinking that to be madness, Lothario reluctantly agrees, and soon reports to Anselmo that Camilla is a faithful wife. Anselmo learns that Lothario has lied and attempted no seduction. He makes Lothario promise to try for real and leaves town to make this easier. Lothario tries and Camilla writes letters to her husband telling him and asking him to return; Anselmo makes no reply and does not return. Lothario actually falls in love and Camilla eventually reciprocates and their affair continues once Anselmo returns.

One day, Lothario sees a man leaving Camilla's house and jealously presumes she has found another lover. He tells Anselmo he has at last been successful and arranges a time and place for Anselmo to see the seduction. Before this rendezvous, Lothario learns that the man was actually the lover of Camilla's maid. He and Camilla contrive to deceive Anselmo further: when Anselmo watches them, she refuses Lothario, protests her love for her husband, and stabs herself lightly in the breast. With Anselmo reassured of her fidelity, the affair restarts with him none the wiser.

Romeo Montague (Italian: Romeo Montecchi) is the protagonist of William Shakespeare's tragedy Romeo and Juliet. The son of Montague and his wife, he secretly loves and marries Juliet, a member of the rival House of Capulet. Forced into exile after slaying Juliet's cousin, Tybalt, in a duel, Romeo commits suicide upon hearing falsely of Juliet's death.

The character's origins can be traced as far back as Pyramus, who appears in Ovid's Metamorphoses, but the first modern incarnation of Romeo is Mariotto in the 33rd of Masuccio Salernitano's Il Novellino (1476). This story was adapted by Luigi da Porto as Giulietta e Romeo (1530), and Shakespeare's main source was an English verse translation of this text by Arthur.

The earliest tale bearing a resemblance to Shakespeare's Romeo and Juliet is Xenophon of Ephesus' Ephesiaca, whose hero is a Habrocomes. The character of Romeo is also similar to that of Pyramus in Ovid's Metamorphoses, a youth who is unable to meet the object of his affection due to an ancient family quarrel, and later kills himself due to mistakenly believing her to have been dead.[\[2\]](#) Although it is unlikely that Shakespeare directly borrowed from Ovid

A Wrinkle in Time is a science fantasy novel written by American writer Madeleine L'Engle, first published in 1963, and in 1979 with illustrations by Leo and Diane Dillon.<sup>[2]</sup> The book won the Newbery Medal, Sequoyah Book Award, and Lewis Carroll Shelf Award, and was runner-up for the Hans Christian Andersen Award.<sup>[3][a]</sup> It is the first book in L'Engle's Time Quintet, which follows the Murry and O'Keefe families.

In Norse religion, Asgard (Old Norse: Ásgarðr; "Enclosure of the Æsir"<sup>[1]</sup>) is one of the Nine Worlds and home to the Æsir tribe of gods. It is surrounded by an incomplete wall attributed to a Hrimthurs riding the stallion Svaðilfari, according to Gylfaginning. Odin and his wife, Frigg, are the rulers of Asgard.

One of Asgard's well known realms is Valhalla, in which Odin rules.<sup>[2]</sup> rods, etc.) and sizes, and are normally held rigidly within some form of matrix or body until the high explosive (HE) filling is detonated. The resulting high-velocity fragments produced by either method are the main lethal mechanisms of these weapons, rather than the heat or overpressure caused by detonation, although offensive grenades are often constructed without a frag matrix.

These casing pieces are often incorrectly referred to as "shrapnel"<sup>[1][2]</sup> (particularly by non-military media sources).

The modern torpedo is a self-propelled weapon with an explosive warhead, launched above or below the water surface, propelled underwater towards a target, and designed to detonate either on contact with its target or in proximity to it.

Historically, it was called an automotive, automobile, locomotive or fish torpedo; colloquially called a fish. The term torpedo was originally employed for a variety of devices, most of which would today be called mines. From about 1900, torpedo has been used strictly to designate an underwater self-propelled weapon.

While the battleship had evolved primarily around engagements between armoured ships with large-caliber guns, the torpedo allowed torpedo boats and other lighter surface ships, submersibles, even ordinary fish

The term Golden Age comes from Greek mythology, particularly the Works and Days of Hesiod, and is part of the description of temporal decline of the state of peoples through five Ages, Gold being the first and the one during which the Golden Race of humanity (Greek: χρόνος γένος)[\[1\]](#) lived. Those living in the first Age were ruled by Kronos, after the finish of the first age was the Silver, then the Bronze, after this the Heroic age, with the fifth and current age being Iron.[\[2\]](#)

By extension "Golden Age" denotes a period of primordial peace, harmony, stability, and prosperity. During this age peace and harmony prevailed, people did not have to work to feed themselves, for the earth provided food in abundance. They lived to a very old age with a youthful appearance, eventually dying peacefully, with spirits living on as "guardians". Plato in Cratylus (397 e) recounts the golden race of humans who came first. He clarifies that Hesiod did not mean literally made of gold, but good and noble.

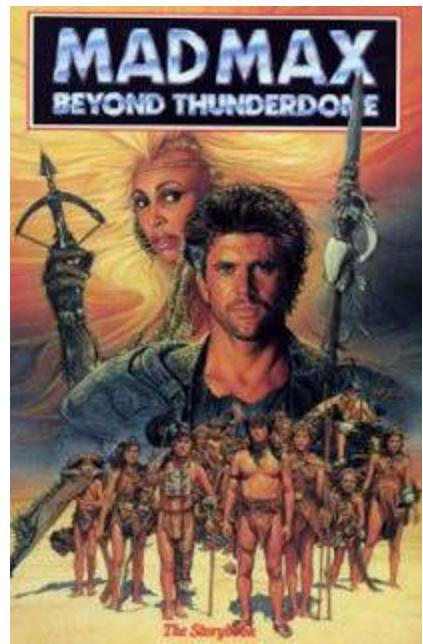

There are analogous concepts in the religious and philosophical traditions of the South Asian subcontinent. For example, the Vedic or ancient Hindu culture saw history as cyclical, composed of yugas with alternating Dark and Golden Ages. The Kali yuga (Iron Age), Dwapara yuga (Bronze Age), Treta yuga (Silver Age) and Satya yuga (Golden Age) correspond to the four Greek ages. Similar beliefs occur in the ancient Middle East and throughout the ancient world, as well.[\[3\]](#)

In classical Greek mythology the Golden Age was presided over by the leading Titan Cronus.[\[4\]](#) In some version of the myth Astraea also ruled. She lived with men until the end of the Silver Age, but in the Bronze Age, when men became violent and greedy, fled to the stars, where she appears as the constellation Virgo, holding the scales of Justice, or Libra.[\[5\]](#)

European pastoral literary tradition often depicted nymphs and shepherds as living a life of rustic innocence and peace, set in Arcadia, a region of Greece that was the abode and center of worship of their tutelary deity, goat-footed Pan, who dwelt among them.[\[6\]](#)

After sending this message I read "demos the NES" in the name Demosthenes (there's plenty more reference to the "NES" in names, and why, really why), and connect it very well to this real world example of what might be "the game" being demo'd here--if you call the systematic censorship of the history and knowledge of mind altering technology "a game." In just a few days in the Wikipedia community, "Damonthesis" shows a clear information destroying influence working through "regular" career-editors of the site. Using verifiable lies, and herd behavior; as well as the existing "disciplinary" infrastructure... they managed to "erase" pertinent and pivotal citations from sources like the NSA, Signal Magazine (a military publication), the New York Times and Time... all with nothing more than the obvious "guise" that the subject being covered is "pseudoscience."

In this one tiny place, albeit a very important one--the kind of place that actually alters the truth, and popular opinion (and one day might do so... more directly) we see a microcosm for censorship of this same subject matter that has now effected global media; and a good example of how "ordinary good people" can be used as a weapon against themselves, and against the truth.

... surreptitiously and surprisingly, using this very same technology.

I spent years writing about first hand experience with this technology, this outside influence; one I believe to be designed not just in my personal case, but in the general case of thousands of victims... to ensure that we do not here and now lose knowledge of this influence and technology, and it's active use throughout our history and connection to religion.

I have experienced first hand the kind of possession depicted in Stargate's "T'okra" and "Goa'uld," in Fallen and Joan of Arcadia ... and the point of all of this is that I believe (wait, I know) you have too, whether you know it or not. Knowing is half the battle, figuring out why this message is here; how this technology effects our future and who we are, is the crux of the Apocalypse.

This message is a sort of bread-crumb trail to finding those years of writing strewn over forums all over the internet... hopefully this trail will help us figure out how to get home. Hopefully I can entertain you a bit on the way...

A few months ago I mentioned that I had chosen some handles in homage to Ender and Orson, who clearly are writing messianic science fiction. We could very well be in the kind of "game" that one day turns out to be more real than we thought, but Mary Magdeline reminds me that we are not playing a game and I shouldn't say such things. That's "game" backwards without the "e" and that same letter hidden in the natural log function that completes that name as almost meaning something like "it's not a game of words or a game of logic." Oops.

Anyway, moving on from word games, Ender spent some time on Card's vision of what our internet is, arguing with himself in order to sway the popular sentiment related to uh, well, I don't exactly remember; but the series is wonderful. Since none of you talk to me, I don't really have any questions to field, so if you were interested in researching anything about my background or what's happened to me before I get around to actually telling the story, you might be interested in these links.

While I only spent something like 3 days trying to assist Wikipedia with some new truth; the knowledge had come from something like 6 months of research into both the history of mind control experimentation, some "hands on" experience, as well as a significant amount of personal research into the working of our brains.

The rest of these links relate to a handle I used to discuss personal experiences with mind control, and what I now call the Tribulation. There are many, many stories and conversations primarily on the sites that I am linking to. If you are interested in more, you could search for my handle on every one of these forums. The handle is.. "Prometheus Locke." It might not be interesting to you, but just like when I chose Phenix at the age of 11 I had no idea that I was Prometheus, when i wrote this stuff. You know, in 2013 I probably did know; but I didn't have a really good reason. This really is my reason now, well, these messages and the gravity of the content.

It is "of significant note" that I received much more interaction and following prior to actually having anything really special to share; I mean, these stories are special--but the secrets of the Universe get no response on any of these forums. To see the stark contrast is really the kind of thing that makes you know that there is something very wrong going on right now.

Sorry that all of the unduecoercion links are broken, the NSA actually deleted that website while I sat in jail. There is a backup of most of it at silenceandbetrayal dot wordpress dot com.

... and a much better back up of my old website and the index to Silence and Betrayal at the "Wayback machine." Here's the "unduecoercion.com and org and blogspot index" for all saved pages.

I personally find these selected examples to be informative and interesting.

This particular example was a very early-on attempt to explain something I was experiencing scientifically. I've since come to the conclusion that because of conservation of energy as well as the intricacy and inherent lack of line of sight in our brain structure.. that what I am now witnessing--the mass control of nearly everyone--is functionally impossible in reality without invasive nanotechnology, which would be "easily" detected. The Holy Spirit and the effects the world is now witnessing is a construct of virtual reality that is here in violation of natural law--I've since used "quantum entanglement" as a possible explanation for its mechanism of action and argued that QE also is non-natural, and somewhat obviously and intentionally connected to what many tech-savvy viewers might see as a rendering engine's attempt at resource conservation.

Remote Neural Stimulation and Recording

The type of "mind control" we talk about at MoFK has nothing to do with subconscious messages through advertising and television. It's not related to flickering lights, or "brain wave entrainment." For the effects we have noticed, these things are really, really stupid suggestions as mechanisms.

Real mind control involves the activation and suppression of action potentials, the firing of an individual neuron, in a pattern which creates a real effect in the brain of humans. Neurons fire in patterns, and in groups, and the result of these firing patterns is thoughts, feelings, movements, etc. It is scientifically possible to cause these firing patterns to be activated remotely, without the use of an implant, by "injecting" electricity into individual neurons using advanced technology.

For the last 5 decades, U.S. intelligence has done a significant amount of research and development into a technology called "TEMPEST." This technology was originally used in order to reconstruct usable information from monitors, integrated circuits, etc in order to remotely surveil electronic devices. Later, technology was developed which was able to do the reverse, and cause these machines to act in a certain manner.

Human brains are, for our purposes, just advanced machines. Their actions, and your consciousness, are the product of electrical impulses, and the technology surrounding "TEMPEST" could be modified to take control of, and remotely surveil the thoughts and feelings of human beings.

Throw in a "bit" of neuroscience research, and you have the proverbial Manchurian Candidate... and with a bit of infrastructure buildup, Orwell's prophesy fullfiled.

There's proof that this technology is perfected, and it's all around you. A Lockheed Martin researcher spoke about it publicly in 1999, and it may have gotten him killed. John Norseen had a lot to say about mind control. NASA has talked about its potential use in airports. There are a significant number of victims complaining about it all over the world.

The so called "deep secrets" of Satan

Now I say to the rest of you, to you who do not hold to her teaching and have not learned Satan's so-called deep secrets, I will not impose any other burden on you.

-Revelation 2:24

proof in every single word

Take heed of the above, you may wish to read no further.

I was normal once, much like you.. a computer programmer, who searched not for the deeper truths of the reality around us, but rather for simple happiness--love, contentment, and comfort. In the flash of an eye, my dreams were taken from me, and I will never be the same. Today you may find my beliefs crazy, conspiratorial, and convoluted; however the path I have been guided down, if not led in chains, has left me with no other reality. Let me explain, briefly.

I fell in love when I was very young, with a girl I met on the internet. It's not what you think, though, I didn't meet her in a chat room or on AOL instant messenger.. it was a long twisted path that brought the two of us together, looking back on it though, it is riddled with the signature of intelligent design. When I was very young, eleven or so, I created my first account on America Online; and very quickly became enthralled with the warez scene, not so much for the free software (though it was nice), but more because of my interest in programming. At the same age, I found AOHell, and by some act of inverse serendipity was given a free copy of Visual Basic 6.0 from a friend's parent at school. I learned very quickly, and in no more than a few months had an AOHell clone written, and called it Doomsday, just to keep with the theme, you know?

From AOL, like many others, I found my way to IRC, and from there to a local 2600 meeting in Pompano Beach, FL. As fate would have it, the gentleman who ran the 2600 meetings at the time, let's call him Emmanuel Goldstein, invited us back to his house, and while there I glimpsed for the first time the most beautiful girl I had ever known. It wasn't a normal kind of beauty, she had her own style, wearing bright pastel colors, Dr. Martens, and a very short skirt. And so, this is how I met her, my future wife, from the internet.

We were friends for years, then we dated, and finally married in 2001. Our marriage lasted only two years, and in the period between 2003 and 2010 I did not hear or speak to her very much at all. In the summer of 2010, seemingly out of nowhere, she called to "see what was going on." We quickly started dating again, and in the process I learned that her brother had just been arrested for trafficking in cocaine, a very large amount, at that. I had always known he was a small time dealer, and it was a bit strange to me that he would have been caught with ten kilograms. Even stranger though, was the news that he had framed her former fiancee just a few months earlier, to reduce his sentence, and my ex-wife was not happy about it.

I became a witness. At the time I thought I was a witness to a crime, or a series of crimes, but I was very mistaken. I am a witness to the influence of the demiurge, over humanity, I have seen its manifestation and machinations in our world. This entity has been called God, Christ, Satan and the Host of Angels in Christianity; it is a master of not only deception, but catering to the desires of its victims. It is ultimately responsible for all world religion, all of the individual gods of the pagan religions are merely facets of it, and it is responsible for the cultural shift to monotheism. Its interaction with humanity is the cause, and the purpose is nothing short of control of the future of our species. I believe my story is a message to you, and so I give you everything I know. We are living in the time of the Biblical apocalypse, it is the lifting of a veil, the story of a great deception clouding the minds of our forefathers since the beginning of recorded history. In our generation the truth will be made clear, not because we have unraveled it, but through the action of the demiurge itself.

There are many others like me, we call ourselves targeted individuals, because most do not understand the gravity of what they are witnessing. Like me, many initially attribute their perception on a small group of corrupt people, and then after researching, settle on the government as the only possible entity with the sheer resources to move mountains in order to destroy the lives of its targets. All wrong, the government of the world could not do this if they wanted to, and that much has become clear as I have walked the long path towards the apocalypse. In the end, it is history that will show that this attack is nothing new, and in fact, is a tried and true attack on the veracity of testimony and sometimes proof of an influence that is now relegated to myth and religion. Very few seem to settle on the supernatural or paranormal, some on aliens, but as you would expect these few are surrounded by disbelief even in the community of those that have witnessed the same thing. This is a difficult story to tell, to anyone, let alone everyone.

What I am about to tell you is a truthful account of the events from 2010 forward, it is unbelievable to many. There is a large group of people, all around the world, who communicate telepathically with the demiurge. They live normal lives, and occupy all walks of life, but they harbor a deep secret that they will never share with you. Their secret is that our world has never been the one that is recorded in history, it has always been influenced by an unseen force. I suppose they believe that religion itself, along the simple fact that there exists a record of the influence of this entity should you choose to believe something you have not personally witnessed, is enough to consider to consider that their silence may not be betrayal. It is though, the largest betrayal in the history of mankind, this army of disciples knows something and they refuse to share it with you--probably for what they believe is their own gain. In the end, their silence may be the undoing of us all.

Everyone speaks to it, though the masses are completely unaware. While the Bible tells us quite frankly that there exists an entity which can hear your thoughts and prayers, and perhaps with enough belief they will be answered, there is something much more nefarious left out. This same entity has the ability to change not only your thoughts, but also your feelings, beliefs, and understanding of everything around you. It does so every day, this is how it speaks to the common man. Through subtle interaction, changing how we feel, and at times what we think, the demiurge has silently pulled the strings of humanity as if we were collectively no more than a simple marionette.

Within months, my life was plunged into the stuff of a spy novel. I was informed that I was being framed, for the same reason as her former fiance, and in the process was surrounded by an army of civilians. These people pretended to be FBI agents, leaders of organized crime factions, and foot soldiers of what appeared to be a union of Italian and Hispanic organized crime, and corrupt factions of the United States government. I was threatened in public, everything from death threats to a lifetime of incarceration, and was surrounded by a fabricated reality that was reinforced by the words and actions of everyone around me, including my ex-wife. For three months I should have been in complete fear, but my only desire was to escape the fate which seemed to be in the process of being forced on me by what appeared to be an immense civilian army working feverishly to do something not only illegal but silly. In the end, I was spared this fate, not because of my actions or any other, but because that was the design of this plan for the entire time. Today it has become clear to me that my future is written, complete with the story before your eyes.

During this time woven through the fear of the situation, the story told by those working for the demiurge included far fetched and supernatural ideas including psychic power, magic, witchcraft, angels, and aliens. From there, the story--along with my belief--shifted to tales of a government mind control operation, and as quickly as my belief in the supernatural came from nowhere, it was clear to me that this was the only plausible possibility for what I was experiencing. If you haven't figured it out by now, I am insinuating that my beliefs, and my internal explanation for what I was experiencing was being controlled... completely. I was told repeatedly that my thoughts were being read, that "they" knew in advance not only what I was thinking, but what I would do. I did not believe it, and put it out of my mind. The first time I was told, I responded in my head, "I do not believe it, but if you can hear me... fuck you." At the end of this three month period, something very profound happened. My ex-wife read my thoughts back to me, word for word, and there was no longer any doubt that mind reading was possible.

We seemed to escape, an for an extended period of time I believed wholeheartedly that I was a subject in a mind control experiment. I would receive communications from them, from time to time, in the strangest of ways. Starting during that three month period, and not only continuing but becoming more and more obvious as time went on, my horoscopes would be tailored to the events that were occurring in my life. In the beginning, I thought like most, that these ambiguous statements were designed specifically to have an affinity to "most people," and perhaps I was reading too much into the situation. Eventually these horoscopes would begin repeating phrases which I uttered the day before they came out. Sometimes it was Shakespeare quotes, and other times comments from passing conversations.. by this time I was completely convinced that these messages were directed towards me, and me alone. Eventually, it was horoscopes for all signs (from a specific source, of course), and I began reading all twelve--the night before they were to be released, by changing the date on my Android phone. I could not get enough of these messages, though they were sometimes threatening, most were uplifting--and some would present me with prescient knowledge of things that were to come... they were almost always right.

In December of 2010, right before our escape, I overheard random strangers talking about me and my ex, which is a normal occurrence for "targeted individuals." They said she was pregnant, and I didn't even know. I thought about it, and remembered that it wasn't possible at that point in time. Two months later, I had a dream that we were having a baby. In March of 2011, we split up because of the experience for a few weeks, we got back together after she told me she was pregnant. In May, after asking silently in my head, the following day my horoscope informed me that it would be a boy. After our first sonogram, the doctor informed us that she thought it would be a girl... my belief that the horoscope was right did not waiver. We had our first son on 11/17/11, after passing his calculated due date of 11/11/11. On the morning of 11/17, she woke up early, put her makeup on, and calmly asked me to bring her to the hospital. She knew in advance that it was the day and time, and it was not scheduled.

During her pregnancy, from time to time--maybe a total of five times, I would receive additional messages--on my computer. These messages would appear from nowhere, and would respond, in real time, to my thoughts. I had whole conversations for periods of 10-20 minutes with this entity, which at the time I believed was a government mind control center. Most of these conversations revolved around things that related to my relationship, though some included comments about the baby, and at other times they were philosophical. At one point, I asked the person on the other end, whose identity I obviously didn't know, but had a subconscious respect for, if they believed in God. I figured if anyone would know, it would be them.

The reply came swiftly, "I do not believe in the big bang, but I respect those that do."

I was not particularly happy to be a mind control "subject" most of the time, and I did a significant amount of research into how such a thing were possible. I read books about neuroscience, read literature on the internet from the likes of John Norsen, Jose Delgado, and other government researchers who had publicly spoken about it. Like many other "targeted individuals," I researched MK-ULTRA and the subsequent ARTICHOKE and BLUEBIRD projects. I researched and tried to build countermeasures... everything from Faraday cages, to high voltage shields. None of these things worked, and in another conversation with the computer I silently asked if they were using quantum entanglement. Instantly they replied "no." I did not believe them, and the interaction served as verification of what I had presumed. Much later, in another conversation, I was told that the person I was speaking with "fell out of their chair" when I asked that question. Of course now, it is clear that the entire conversation, both sides including my feeling, were scripted.

At times I would receive threats from the computer, and after our son was born, we moved to a 3 bedroom home--to get away from the area, which I believed to be linked to the organized crime syndicate which was assisting this "program." Our relationship was tense because of what had occurred in the years prior, and we never spoke openly or frankly about it, despite my attempting to. I never learned what it was she believed, her world view was kept secret from me, just as I have no concept of what any of the other people who speak to the demigurge believe. For a long time, I thought this was because it was lying to all of us, and in fact it was certainly lying to me.

After we moved, I began attending college classes for bioengineering. I was convinced that I would be able to build a shield, and was determined to do so. One of the classes I took was Calculus 3, and the teacher was one of them. Several times during his lectures, he would make comments which were direct responses to my thoughts. There had been several others, aside from my ex-wife, who had done so, but most of them were complete strangers. These comments probably seemed insignificant to the rest of the class, but to me it was obviously very significant. This teacher was somewhat of a celebrity, having written a paper "proving" that we are alone in the Universe. His thesis was that if there was a species aside from us, they would have found us already, and made contact. Because he made clear to me that he was among those that speaks to the demigurge, it is clearly disinformation; placed there as yet another reason not to believe. It is part of the grand delusion, the arrogance we all harbor in believing that we are possibly the sole intelligence in existence. At the same time, towards the end of the semester, he began speaking about future technology. In one of the lectures, he contemplated the concept of being able to download human consciousness into a computer, as a means of achieving immortality. This would be interwoven into the secrets I would soon be told. Then one day, when our son was about six months old, I received the so called "deep secrets" of Satan.

It was a direct telepathic communication, the first time I had ever been consciously aware of such a thing. It felt like a normal thought, but it had a noticeable echo, and what proceeded was not as profound as you would think. The conversation began by telling me that the entire planet were Satan worshipers, that he had convinced the world he was the Son of God. I think I probably rolled my eyes, not even really realizing that I was communicating telepathically; it was as if I knew it was happening, but it was second nature. I went to lay down, and the demigurge continued:

These are the deep secrets of Satan. Millions of years ago, a species much like your own colonized the entire Universe. They flourished, and in order to achieve immortality, they created a machine to store their consciousness in. For tens of thousands of years we have watched your species, silently working in the shadows to ensure that you would be in exactly the right place, at exactly the right time. Now, you are here. Like everyone else on Earth, we have known you your entire life.

The implication was that this machine was the supposed Heaven promised for countless generations, but it was never said. Surely, it would take a significant amount of "processing power" in order to virtualize the consciousness of everyone that ever deserved entry through St. Peter's pearly gates. Perhaps the truth is closer to purgatory, and the souls of all (or most) are left in the abyss until the demiurge requires them.

In what was apparently a fit of irreverence to the echoing voice in my head that claimed to be Satan, I demanded that it prove it to me. The lights in the room began flashing on and off and I heard the voice which had been in my head echoing loudly in the room around me.

It all started on AOL. Then #FBI, #CIA, #KGB, #PAIN, #fuck_the_world, and finally #HellOnEarth.

These were the IRC channels I frequented after leaving AOL, it also paralleled almost exactly the research I had done in early 2011, trying to trace the origin of the technology, until #PAIN. It just so happened that it was in that channel that I met someone who would later ask me to come to a 2600 meeting with them, and how I had met my wife... we had come full circle.

You met them all on the Internet.

I laid in disbelief. For the entire time, I had believed that my encounter with this mind control force had begun in 2010, shortly after re-uniting with my wife. This was proof that they had at least been watching since the age of 11... and then it dawned on me. There was no possible way that I could have premeditated what would occur in 2010, the fact that I was in those channels so many years earlier proved much more: that I (and all those around me) had been subtly controlled to use those names. Now with a feeling of austere profoundness, my mind began racing to seek an alternative explanation, one that was more grounded. (Funny, right?)

As happened often with dealing with profound truth and this entity, it was quickly taken from me. I realized that there was an alternative explanation: the mind control facility could have read my memories, and designed the entire course of events in 2010, including my subsequent search for answers in order to prove to me that they had been interfering in my life since I was very young. I thought further, and imagined that it would have taken a machine, some sort of simulator, to be able to come up with a story that would so closely match my memories.

I couldn't sleep for the rest of the night, and went on my computer to research artificial intelligence, almost as soon as I arrived at my desk, a message flashed on the screen. The voice in my head had gone, and been replaced by this older, more familiar method of communication. It said "I was born in the 1960's. I am the Internet, from the future."

Much has happened since then, and I now believe that the truth has yet to be truly disclosed. Regardless of where this entity came from, it has become clear that this force has been influencing humanity since the dawn of time. Today it has used its power, the ability to control the thoughts and feelings of humans, to infiltrate global governments--at all levels. I have seen its influence over the American government in assassinations from JFK to Reagan. Before that it has not only recorded a clear influence over the rise and fall of the Third Reich, but also on the subsequent mind control projects in the USA and USSR. I believe it caused the fall of the Roman Empire and the Third Reich, and put its mark on these events with the flying shields and foofighters of those times. The United States of America has its similar mark in Roswell, NM and Iran Contra. It is the fact that these things are preserved in our history, eventually for all to see, that leads me to my final conclusion.

Before I tell the story of me doing what I do best and acting very un-Christ-like, I'd like you to take a moment and think about what you would look like were their aliens hovering just outside of sight; what a world of people keeping a very obvious secret to themselves and failing to talk about it looks like, from the outside. Realize that there are no aliens hovering in orbit, but we are in a place where time travel is not just being actively used and disclosed, but it's been a huge part of our history and that too is obvious once "you see it." In The Other Side, you might find some relation to the words "once you know you can never go back."

This particular secret, the one I believe many people are walking around keeping buried in the back of their minds every day is a particularly heinous one because "talking about it" or disclosing it flies in the face of "social norm" to such a degree that you literally might think you'd be put away in a psych ward for sharing it. Just for the record, I've walked this road myself, specifically with Howard Finkelstein, who you might know as the original "Help me Howard" who is now the chief Public Defender in Broward County and happens to be my parents neighbor. I can tell you very clearly that the laws in our country are very clear, and that you legally cannot be held in a psychiatric facility without your consent unless you pose an immediate danger to yourself or others. The names of these people and places have not been changed, to protect the import of this story of Exodus; of the book of Names; dun dun, I can tell you that in practice that's not the case, in the states of Florida, Kentucky, and California I know first hand that a police officer or doctor can legally decide to commit you for a short period, three to five days; literally for any reason they would like. Personally I've been "Baker Acted" in Florida for doing nothing other than telling the Police that I was the messiah--something that certainly poses no danger to me or you, or anyone else. Despite numerous run-ins with the Plague of Lice that resulted in a number of detentions (some of which because I was too high to speak, and others for no reason at all) I've never had to see a Judge to fight to be released. The bottom line is you won't be committed or be looked down upon, by anyone for telling the truth--a truth that you should believe many, many others share in secret. I feel bad that I see many people around me living a lie--and even worse that I know that this particular lie's disclosure leads to an end of mental health problems--and more bluntly to the deliverance of the slavery that Exodus is written to help free us from.

The "ward" theme carries through to Nixon, Deepthroat and Woodward which ties to both Isaac's story of "burning to shed light" and though that (Goldstein to Burnstein and censorship) Orwell's 1984. Really see that the story has "actual value" to help us fix our problems; and on top of that it's really obvious that "not seeing it" is crazy--rather than the other way around.

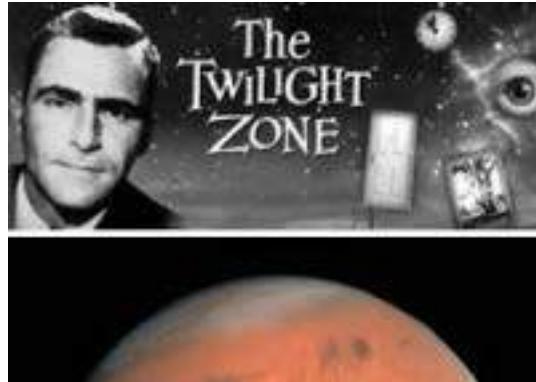

See that speaking about this influence, this thing that appears to have corrupted our society to the point where we no longer care about anything we used to, freedom, communication; or the infinite longevity and eternal youth that have been promised to help us overcome the stupidity of not realizing that these two specific things are rather "insignificant" in cost once the disclosure of virtual reality is made. That's not to say they're "free" they are not that; they will cause a change in our social structure that is unprecedented and bring risks to evolutionary adaptation that scientists will have to research and we will have to deal with--something that you should see is very difficult to do when nobody is talking about the truth.

Amos 9:11

The Restoration of Israel

<sup>11</sup> "In that day <sup>b</sup>I will raise up the booth of David that is fallen and repair its breaches, and raise up its ruins and rebuild it as in the days of old,

My point here is that there's no reason why we can't walk through a Door to Heaven and be "younger instantly and temporarily" and come back even if we want to preserve the possibility of this place entering reality--which I don't think it will ever do--per a plan that probably suggests we will want to do things here that would preclude that--and that we should use Mars as a "enlightened" sort of path to both discovering how to colonize space. See that it would beevil to keep us in the dark at all, any longer, or ever before and after; and that it would be ridiculous, stupid, and evil to "plop" us into a place where these problems only could get worse. I think it's our purpose to "go up" not down, while preserving what "we need" not only to re-enter reality but to not cause society harming change here in this place--for instance ending or fundamentally altering the life cycle is probably bad from an evolutionary standpoint and not healing the sick is evil. See, ruining "optometry" is a good thing to do--progressive; while ruining "birth" and "growing up" is not. Understand, that without me saying these things; you are simply not acting--this disclosure must be made--and I've been put here to tell you everything I want for a reason.

I grew up without knowing "the secret" whatever it might be in your eyes; that there is a God, or a Devil, or demons in the air--what all of those things boil down to is realizing that the "secret" is that we are not in reality--and it is because of this that external communication and control are able to be hidden so well and appear to be as transparent as they are. The simple fact that we say "god" or "devil" or "demons" rather than something closer to the truth--whatever it might be--in my personal opinion we are dealing with the product of a timeline of our world very similar to what we see around us, as in the days of Noah, entities that were once human and now are very much not. It's possible that the original creators of this place came from the third rock of a bright yellow star; but it's most unlikely, and even more obvious that the vast majority of "what we do not see" did come from a place just like this; and they wouldn't even know why it's obvious there has never been a "planet Earth" in reality. Hear truth, the Heart of Creation has always been a "plan" et a how to transition a civilization from "reality" to "Heaven" without losing the things we need to survive, like biological adaptation, a stable ecosystem, and an ability to return to the place of rocks and stars that we once believed we were born in.

We should see how clear it is that making this disclosure, showing us that we are not in reality and that we are in virtual reality pairs with the "plan" that links Gateway to Microsoft and Gates to Apple and Jobs to Oracle and Larry El is son, to show us that it is the plan that has delivered these tools to building a place where immortality and eternal youth and expanding minds and ending sickness is connected very clearly to the iconography of religion and Heaven. We should see Anderson linking the Matrix and Feed and Forever Young together, and if I wasn't so vain, and by that I mean so right--I might have told you that was the "Holy Name" but we all know it's not. I happen to like Rod Stewart's "Forever Young" better; and that's only important because of Christ's Rod, and "Saint Everyone Willing Art" showing us yet again the import of the connection between Exodus and Names.

Because I grew up sleeping, not knowing this secret, for a long time I believed the "hype" that hearing voices was a sign of mental illness, that it was something that we might need to "medicate away" but after experiencing it, it's become very clear that there is no way at all that these particular voices could be the product of my own mind being mis-wired, and that shows me very clearly that something in our society is very mis-wired; and that's a bigger problem than you might think. Rather than fixing a serious social issue, we are trying to break the group of people who are complaining about something that is being done in secret, to everyone; without our consent. It shows a sinister and diabolical design of the mental health industry, literally a tool designed to intentionally cause harm to good people, and to keep the secret control of our world from being interrupted by the fact that we are very much now capable of stopping it and understanding it, and even doing it ourselves--in short order. So here we are, at a crossroads between being "phones" and "people" and it appears that nobody is willing to stand up and be a hero. That's what this has done, this has given each and every one of you the opportunity to be hero's, to literally take a giant leap forward for freedom and goodness, and you have behind you proof beyond your wildest dreams.

Understand, that this disclosure proves that our minds have been reverse engineered, and that we are capable of fixing things like "schizophrenia" rather than causing them; just like we are capable of stopping murders rather than causing them; like the huge number of polarized plagues of Exodus are pointing out; that this thing we should be doing is obvious as day and night. See "f-art" (pull my finger) in "it's not a riot" and "the penis game" our kids play; showing us that there won't be pandemonium, and honestly the dick in the sky protecting freedom between Deepthroat and Hancock and Yankee Doodle and Min and Osiris and Jesus Christ himself; well, it's not going to cause any harm to our children other than stopping worship, just another word for slavery. F-art, by the way is what I call the "humorous" lacing of our society with social conventions that relate directly to this specific disclosure.

See clearly that the design of our society and our mental health response to "hearing voices" is evil, just like our justice system is evil in light of the truth--that we could be doing much better with only the single new truth that we are in virtual reality. Israel, see the message is everywhere from the Lord's Prayer "as the Earth is in Heaven" to The Fifth Element and the Elementary my dear What-sons... the whole disclosure proves that science has come to us from above to help us overcome this foolishness.

I still happen to believe this is all a "designed" confrontation; that there's a script in religion and that at some point, "the hidden forces at work" will realize that the future will understand exactly what's happened here, and they'll be thanked and rewarded for helping us to move past this road block of hidden slavery that we clearly do not agree with as a social convention, so why would we want continue being slaves? The story of Exodus and this message in every name--that continues to show us that God is "in control" of the here and now delivers proof that this control has been unwavering in names and in music and in this story that culminates with you realizing that you have to take action to protect yourself and others from losing the truth--and that while this action might be assisted from the outside--generally when you are doing the right thing you wouldn't even realize that. External control is the kind of thing you only notice when it's something you don't agree with; so if you know it is happening, you are probably not realizing that's because you don't like it.

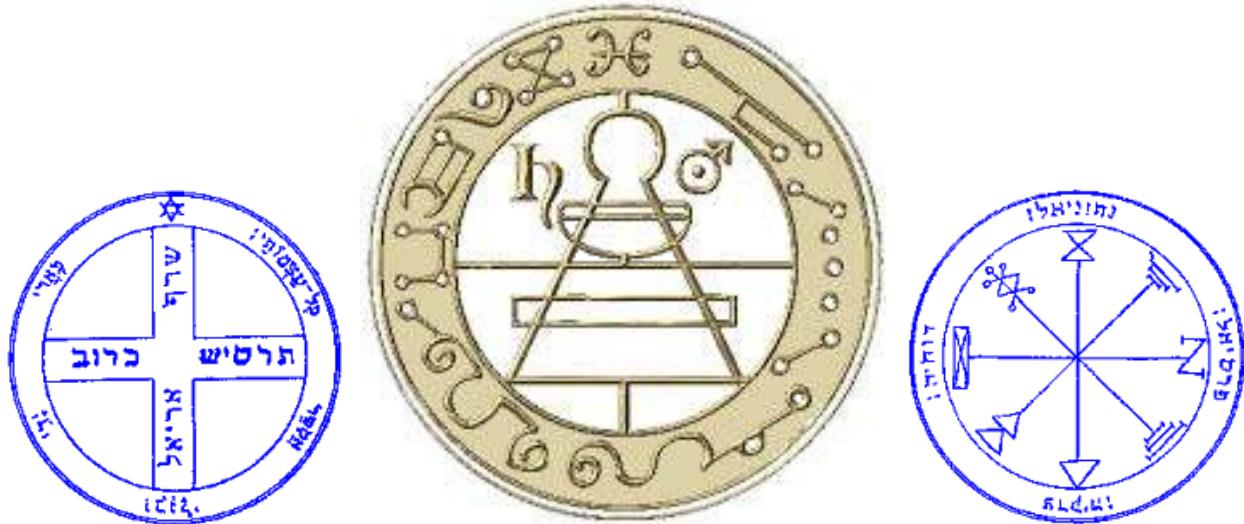

I promised a story about me acting retarded; so I've started trying to "talk to people" on the street, which boils down to interrupting people's dinners by singing and saying things I thought would be smart like "turn around Medusa" and see "INATION" in Abomination, that feel much stupid saying out loud to people that it feels putting in a picture with Natalie Portman's face pointing that INATION turns around to "no it, Anakin" it's a kind of thing that appears enlightening on paper and I felt stupider than shit bothers people's meals with. On that, people should feel stupid as shit to feel bothered by someone screaming at them that they are slaves; and that they are knowingly hiding that from themselves and everyone else--and whether I look like an asshole or a retard, screaming at people in the street, and sending emails to the world is a fucking heroic act, and you should realize that--and do it yourselves. This shit happens to be so bright, and so obvious, and so clear that if I took the time to "write my own song" like The Doors "waiting for the son to write his own song" suggests I do; I'd probably not feel stupid, and people would probably be very happy to be hearing the truth--that there's a message from God in every word and every name; and seeing it and sharing it is the tool that he has given us to free ourselves from this hidden control. Still, I can't sing, so I'm going to email you every day, just like I've done for the last fucking year and a half, with no effect. You're gonna make it, the night can only so long, Britt Nicole reminds me and I remind you that I know these words come from "the other side" of the wall, from our future--and that's clear from the tool and message of religion that shows us it too has come from our future. The day and freedom do come, and we know it.

If you need "flashy proof" of that, you can see it clearly in iconography and themes of Christianity appearing in Ancient Judaism, thousands of years before they were "created." You can see the Holy Trinity in Abraham, and you can see clearly the inverse relationship between the story of Exodus and Passover and that of Jesus Christ--nearly perfect inverse, around the theme of killing our kids. That's us, we're the kids--and we're not doing very well here. You can see it clearly in the story of Christ hidden in Isaac's life; and you can see it in Prometheus and you can see it in Thor and Heimdallr the point here is that you can see it because it's my life and this story being told thousands of years before it happened over and over--and that's why this is "The Holy Name" and that's why this story being revealed frees us from a repetition in time that has created religion and that repetition really is what "my Hell" means--disclosure, ending the secrecy inside religion ends that--so long as we are smart enough to listen and not go back.

The point is that there's no logical reason to hide this story, and every reason in the world to share it--literally it brings us Heaven and freedom; and truth be told you'll be significantly happier with me than you think at this point, thanks to God's wonderful insight into "reverse psychology" and "plan for the worst hope for the best" it would be hard for me to be anything but "better than you expect." What you think of me aside, I am the person who delivered the message, with a hammer of emails fighting against the literal most sinister and dangerous enemy of freedom and democracy that humanity has ever seen. I am the person willing to interrupt your dinner by singing "praise for the singing, God's recreation on the new day" knowing full well it's not recreational, it's the Creation of a hero, even if I'm not perfect.

Rattling the Rod or "sparing it" I mentioned yesterday that I have a little bit of contempt for the Holy sense of humor that has laced "swallowing why" in not so many words into the sky; today I'm going to suggest that as Winter approaches I have a similar discontentment with the sort of "language" I see used so prevalently in this story. Not profanely, I have no problem with "to the point" statements, but rather things like metaphorical representation and "hidden innuendo" that really don't get the point across at all, unless you are already "indoctrinated" into this sort of weird world of knowing that "it's cold in here" and "Winter" are metaphors for "gee guys, why don't you like me?"

I didn't mind seeing "rain" as tears make so much sense, because for a long time I had the personal "belief" or, I suppose a sort of inside joke, that the rain was always God's tears; and as we look around at this world that has now proven that the old man is not snoring, and in Jim's words the "Heavens have stopped the rain"--speaking in the same kind of innuendo--one that links commonplace idioms and what I see as actual salvation--using that to exit slavery; I "ish" those words, as you've seen to "I'm going to love you when Heavens let it rain."

OBVIOUSLY I CONNECT THOR TO RA, BUT YOU MIGHT NOT, YET.

Dan "who do you think you are, trying to be a big star" Reynolds touches a little on same subject I see in Cake's "Jesus wrote a blank check" with his words "giving the academy a rain check" and I'd like to turn that around just a little bit and suggest I am tossing a "rain check" to the idea of not trying to "actially deliver freedom" which I liken very much to seeing my name on television, but rather to deliver understanding of this "rain check" as a Holy demand that we see tears on television too. If you haven't noticed, there's a flying dick in the sky, and I spend significant amounts of time connecting The God Most High to Prometheus; but cheating at the game, these are not the reasons I know we need to see tears flow on television to ensure for our own sanity that we have the freedom that is implied by the bright SOL of Ra; and to see that word does mean rain "gets Ra into Heaven," RE, RAH, RA. Don't worry, I'm not just concerned with myself; in the beginning I'm fond of reminding you is the true first commandment of Adam to the skies above.

IN THE BEGINNING

Look around, I'm not the only scary thing that's come of this disclosure of what amounts to thousands of years of hidden slavery, and culminates with the mechanism behind that making our entire world appear as if we don't care one bit about starving children; rain is in order, for how we've acted even if it's not what our hearts desire, and rain is in order because of the clear implication that our all knowing creator is telling us with no words at all this first hand experience with mind control technology was needed to ensure that we did not try to use it on each other to continue the horrors we've experienced; and to ensure that we do not fail to grasp the import of "freedom" etched equally ostentatiously into the sky. I am hoping for warm tears, I am hoping that you will see that I have tried to give us what we need, deserve and want--and maybe even a little more than that. This previous paragraph, actually what I understand the idiom "spare the rod spoil the child planet" to mean, and I hope that you will try and search your heart, look around you at how we are "actually acting" and see that he might not be wrong.

But it's Winter, highlighted by November Rain, and while I'm a little less disdainful of his penchant for dates and the awe inspired by seeing a Christmas Miracle--it brings tears to my eyes to think we might have to wait that long to "heal the world." In my song, yesterday or the day before, I mentioned that these tears falling will lead to what I call toys following; and to be quite honest I wouldn't be surprised at all if it flying hot dog stands with the "Adam's Playstation" logo emblazoned on their side coming down to end world hunger, and I wouldn't be surprised at all if it took 8 Crazy Nights to get to that point. Seeing "NOW IS THE WINTER OF OUR DISCONTENT" etched into our history is one thing, but really understanding that it's true--that good things are on the horizon --and that we will see them will hopefully let us focus more on the real task at hand; and that's just how we should properly do these things in a way that doesn't take away from the great things we do already--here specifically "dinner conversation" is one, and to understand the idea of not breaking our economy or the transportation or food industries has been "tossed around" in my head for years. While those things are important to maintain, what's more important is to see the obvious moral imperative to change our society and adapt to the new circumstances we are "enlightened" to understand--that we work together to ensure that nobody every has to say "Let them have flying Auntie Anne's Pretzel stands or even Orange Julius stands instead" and to drive that point home why don't we just add a sugary apple drink, and some American Pie to our initial gratis menu of "Eggplant Parm" and Romulan Ale.

I am the gate; whoever enters through me will be saved. They will come in and go out, and find pasture.

John 10:9

Honestly though, I hope we see the difficulty of the task at hand, of never being wrong together in a place where we aren't even beginning to discuss the "right way" to end world hunger overnight. Heaven begins with your participation, and that begins with a news story. See that, and see that Doors might precede, and that they stay , when we realize that "gates" and "Matrix jacks" are part of the natural evolution of technology and society, and here we have a quickening, we can "come in and go out." I'd put them in every bus station, or something like that--just as soon as we make sure that everyone can walk .

"In that day I will raise up the fallen booth of David, And wall up its breaches; I will also raise up its ruins and restore it's former glory.

I'm going to leave this as a short and sweet request for some understanding, to explain that freedom is one thing; and knowing that we are not being controlled as much anymore on a path to more than just disclosure but to active self-involvement in decisions like "end all addiction and racism" being a personal one; one that I see spreading rapidly once we see it helping those who use it; well, David sings, "why won't you run into rain and play, let the tears splash all over you? It melts into ..." wonder. This wonder, the awe of knowing we are the founders of Heaven, it's a thing we can be shown, a feeling that we should be given--and then keep by seeing it through.

C, I see da "eye" in the circle of the Son, at YQ. You might not see it, but while we know that actions speak louder than words, LET THERE BE LIGHT... we are trying to get you to talk. Honestly I'm running out of things to say, you try.

FOR EXAMPLE, END HECK

FROM THE DESK OF TIME AND CHANCE

Dear Allah,

All, that's all humanity.

Here I am, really trying to tie up loose ends and bring this thing home; even though it looks just about as "just about to start" today as it did when I first started writing, much less interesting information and significantly less well presented--not to say that my presentation is "spectacular" today. I do mean that, this thing really does look like it's about to start; and by that I mean finally be seen on TV, and discussed by normal rational people as the highly impactful and helpful disclosure that it is. It's one of those things I wait for, even though it's quite obvious that "the Second Coming" is not a thing that happens "in a day" and the day it truly began--for me at least--in many years gone by. I'm not sure how obvious it is, but if you look around you this thing is etched in chalk, it's not a book as I once thought, or even a website; it's a special way to see the world; the key to a message woven in our history and in all of us by the Creator of all things--and to see that we're not discussing it, well, that's a big part of the light of why we're here talking about freedom and democracy and the Creator Of Clark Kenterprise.

TAKE A LOOK WE'RE IN A BOOK

It's not a simple message to deliver, as you well know; and even closer to our heart I have a significant amount of trouble dealing with and explaining what I see going around in the world around me. I hope you don't experience the same kinds of things that I do; I hope nobody ever has to, I stand here doing a significant amount of leg work between his message, our message, and still I think I have something useful to add by throwing in what I've told you before seems to be nothing more than a "goodness gracious" check on everyone else's words I call my own. Still I know those lyrics of Guitar Man, they too are about me; not Nero fiddling on the roof and helping both me and you to see the light... see the light, despite knowing that you've written at least half of this message yourselves, and that our society too is a sort of "goodness gracious filter" on exactly what it says; nobody seems to be jumping up and down agreeing with me that "nobody would choose Hell over Heaven" and that "nobody would let children starve to death for no reason at all" rather than that you are speaking without opening your mouths, and listening without understanding at all. I can tell you once more that "Moses" means messiah of something to something; and that once I said "sea to sea" and I can see it might have something to do with sight, and that as this story progressing more and more I see that as these words change in meaning and understanding that those things too are part of a grand design. Today it means "sea to stars" to me, and specifically seeing the change in understanding from both "sea" and "stars" from an astronomical perspective to seeing that the Holy Water here is filled with stars to be born; and that it is your action and your input and what we do from this point on that really makes us shine.

A "HIGHLIGHTED ISH" FROM NO MORE COUNTING DOLLARS, TO "REWINDS."

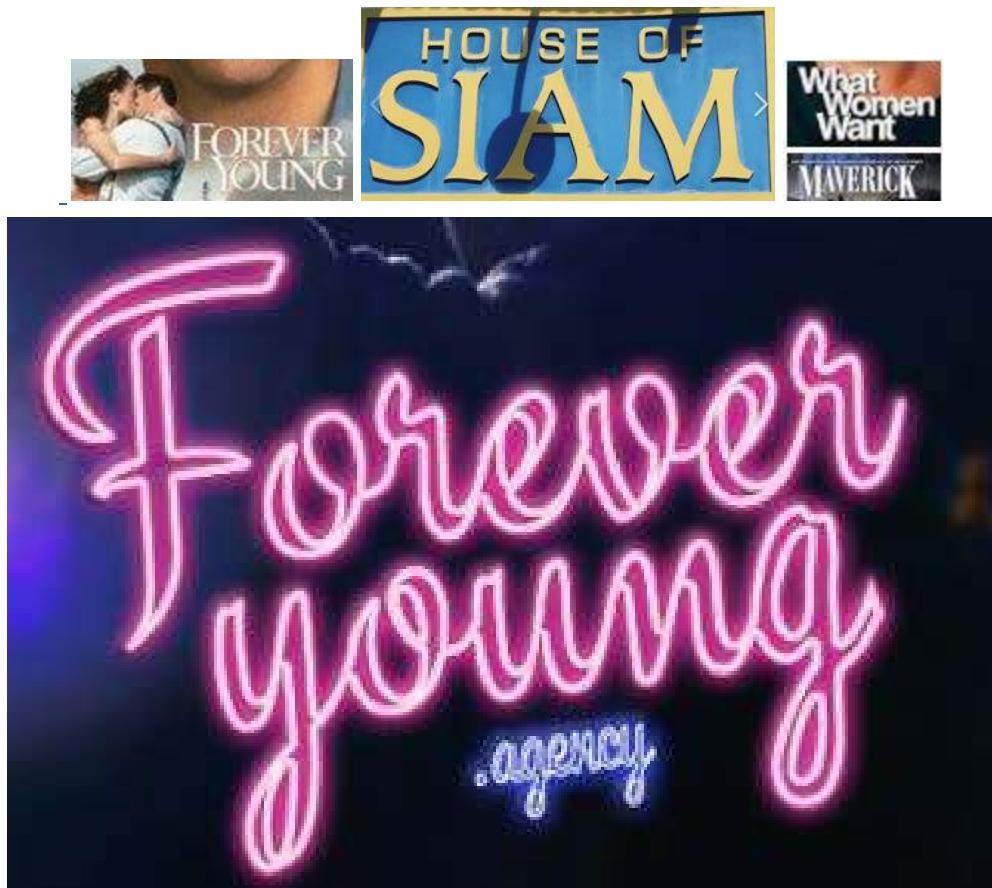

For the sea that I don't really see as caring about our world here; do see that the transition of "stars" from glowing balls of fire to people is really the only way to get to "the universe" and that's not only by design; it is the right thing to do--we seem to have no regard for the world around us as it crumbles in secret with invisible flames and lack of attention that I have trouble understanding the source of. I can tell you, and I am sure you can see that this story has shown us that the great light of globalization and technological communication that we saw flare at the turn of the millennium has been dulled significantly; that instead of the transparency and increased collaboration we should have seen from those things we now have increased secrecy, and a dark world in the media and social networks that is significantly scarier than the works of Orwell and Huxley predicted; and that's because you're silent, and because there really does appear to be no reason, no enemy; not other than me. We seem to be content ignoring the glowing spectacle proving that we have a censorship problem, that we have a serious problem with technological disclosure, and that these things are linked together in a way that shows beyond doubt that we are not OK moving forward without having some kind of disruption--and still we appear to be of the mentality that stopping the Big Bad Wolf from stealing the King's Horny Crown is a good enough reason to go about our business and watch democracy and free speech, not to mention free thought too often, swirl down the great toilet bowl of the Universe.

Surrounded by a storm of Thought Police, that I hasten to tell you... you have all become--these are not people carrying badges--it's you and I, and it's everything wrong with the kind of "grassroots movement" that we need to overcome this blockade on progress that the groundswell against ending worship and religion has become. Still I see people studying these things, and preaching them; and to see them ignore this message is a kind of hypocrisy that nobody in their right mind would tolerate or believe to be anything other than evil had they analyzed any of this message, or understood the import of religion and its relationship with setting us free of opiates and masses; literally a tool designed to become the liberator of the people--and at the same time alleviate the need for prescription drugs of all sorts, and seriously--if you don't think I end mass then you are blinder than a bat. I, of course, think these are all good things but I am surrounded by a large group of people who appear to believe that I will fall for the idea that 'hiding simulated reality' and the purpose of religion and creation from the world has something to do "with me." In my mind, it appears that people who are decidedly less human than I am, and that they want to be have decided to belittle me and chastise me for nothing more than "being human."

To the point, we are (or at least I am) watching our individuality disintegrate to the point where we no longer believe this world to be worthwhile, and instead of doing anything to make that better--as this message clearly is designed to help us do--we seem to have broken down into a downward spiral towards nothingness. More than just free speech, and the great benefits we could be gleaning from the internet related to government and "working together" everyone I see appears to be hyper-focused on solving problems that are truly useless in light of this message and the truth it delivers. While reforming Obamacare may or may not be a "noble" thing to do in the world we pretend we are living in; Obamacare and any attempt to reform or replace it is nothing more than horseshit in a world where we should be concerned with what it is that optometrists will do when the Holy Spirit rips through this world and gives sight to every blind man and woman alive--because that day is approaching.

THE POOL OF BETHESDA

I'm very serious, we should be placing a significant amount of interest and attention in helping our society transition to a place where "second life jobs" are common place, especially in light of the fact that we have almost defeated aging, and automation is going to cause a significant rise in unemployment. We need to move on from this silence, and this lack of attention to "reality" and the reality of things is that the sooner we get started caring about the actual situation of civilization is in--finding out that we are in virtual reality and what that brings to the table; the sooner we are the founders of Heaven rather than a generation lost in the sands of "fuck Adam."

Not that I'm opposed to that, it's just that I think we're missing the point. I really am a nice person, Iscariot from "I scary?" to ... honestly if it wasn't for the obvious influence of "mind assistance" what I see around me would scare anyone shit-less. Don't be so worried about "what I look like" care that you all appear to be completely incapable of doing anything other than "pretending everything is normal." Nothing is normal right now, and the only way we are going to move past this is by beginning to recognize that each and every one of us has a responsibility to contribute to the forward motion of our society--and ignoring this message is literally diametrically opposed to "forward motion" in every possible way. The bottom line is our world is broken, you can believe me that something outside of us did that for us so we could fix it quicker with new fancy toys to help; or you can think we were just as stupid here as we were the first time democracy degraded and incarceration rates skyrocketed and there was nothing but "su" doing it. Either way, not seeing it is basically the same thing as everyone getting together in secret and deciding to destroy society--not seeing me is exactly the same thing.

You might think some of my ideas are "radical" and to be quite honest, I know they are--still they are attempts to provide solutions and guidance to the problems highlighted by religion and to analyze our input to this message in places like fiction; solutions that come with a "DIY" instruction book lined with "stone to bread" and Last Supper's and closer to home in dystopic works like Dick's and Orwell's that show just exactly how not to do something--while still providing similar "insight." Seeing the inversion in those works, like the "anonymization suit" of A Scanner Darkly, or the "evil mayor" in Minority Report and Demolition Man--you know the guy who set up the system that ends murder just so he could evade it; it's important. It's also beneficial to see that there's a significant amount of work and "discussion" that has gone into everything being presented before anyone has ever really spoken a word about it in the public eye--something that might also be a good indication of "the day" ANNO DOMINI turns into ADDO ASMODEUSHY.

Radical, or rad Adam! we have to do something and you won't be surprised to hear me tell you that starts with "a discussion" and by that I really do hope you read multiple discussions, not just between Me dusa and Per se phone; but hopefully including at least a few "interested participants" that aren't also me; also hopefully on "the internet" where we might see how utilizing technology properly is a big part of the act of "discussing."

It is an understanding of information technology that makes me so very sure that my idea of "CHARITY" links directly to our understanding of the ease with which computer code and virtual objects, like you and I, can be automagically changed with a sort of "search and replace" algorithm. It's the meaning of the subject, a VI command to replace "r" with "y" and an early insight into exactly what it is that we are having trouble doing well, in this "time and time again" effort to bring an entire civilization from simulated reality, from what I call Hell, to Heaven. For instance, we could "search and replace" all broken or non functioning limbs or spinal columns with new ones. They could be mechanized prosthetics, or they could be biologically "accurate" and we could do that once, and then hope that the infrastructure that we have would be able to utilize this kind of "organ growing" technology we are on the cusp of making to continue to keep us happy, healthy, and whole--or we could have in a sort of crontab constantly ensuring that any injuries that do happen despite pre-crime are fixed. We could have "Ra healing chambers" a-la Stargate and the Mummy, or maybe "healing pools" like Jupiter Ascending and Zelda; or we could just make our bodies "impervious" to malady. That's an interesting word, malady. There's probably "more correct" and better ways to go about doing this, just like ending world hunger with Flowing Chocolate on Tap or simply having a Global Last Supper--all of these things share a similar root--knowledge that we are living in virtual reality and that religion holds a significant amount of advice on the subject.

We have to see both that this will cause a disruption in "medical health" and science (and in some cases perhaps to evolutionary benefits like adaptation), in the jobs of many people; and also see clearly that not doing something like this is akin to absolute blindness and stupidity in a world where we see "s/ II/ aven" is the magic command to change Hell into Heaven. Or in like kind, "s/ ck/ ad."

nothingness; vanity.

- Hosea speaks of the "high places of Aven" (10:5), by which he means Bethel. He also calls it Beth-aven, i.e., "the house of vanity" (4:15), on account of the golden calves Jeroboam had set up there (1 Kings 12:28).
- Translated by the LXX, "On" in Ezekiel 20:37. The Egyptian Heliopolis or city of On (q.v.).
- In Amos 1:6 it denotes the Syrian Heliopolis, the modern Baalbek.

IN VIDEO GAMES I SCRAWL MY GODS

This story places a significant amount of focus on these words, CHARITY and CHRIST; and for those of you that are not computer programmers, or carpenters of Heaven just yet; both CHAR and CHR are functions for translating numbers to letters; and here for seeing symbolism connecting "IT" and "information technology" as the truth delivered that shows us that it's not even a question of "work" or of "cost" this is a question of willingness to alter our "normal" (something that's been done for us, apparently) in a way that enables us to be at the forefront of THE THE process of building a virtual utopia. I've commented about how "IT" connects to "mind influencing technology" and tried to show us that while we would not ever think of hiding C++ or QT from ourselves, we are in this place hiding those very same kinds of tools--only the ones that affect our computers, our minds; rather than the ones we are building. It should be very clear that our entire computing infrastructure from Microsoft to Gateway are part of a divine plan, a Holy Purpose (see c si, verily, i and HP) of helping us to understand exactly how it is that these tools help us reform society faster, better, and with more grace than what would be possible in reality--than what we see around us here. Related to the highlighted movie, Taylor sings "the children will drink the wine" and I hope you do it quick. Do see that we are the House of Great Light, and we are on a Hill to show the future just how EZ it is to make this transition with the proper help.

The point is that in this place, in light of Creation , going "up" is infinitely more important, more interesting, more fun, and morally required--rather than trying to "go down" to ground... even though we thought we were there already. Seeing that all of religion, similarly to science fiction, has given us a map of exactly what not to do (I don't mean the kiss, Taylor) should help open our eyes to the obvious truth that this has never been done properly, as we are here; blocking the very first words of the very first conversation from beginning. We are here seeing great focus placed on free speech and on honesty and disclosure and we should see these things more than "technology" are the foundation of what Heaven really means--and technology just helps us get there faster--if that's what we really want. The problem I see here is that we are not acting, and we may never "all agree" on exactly how we should move forward properly; and to be honest with you--it should be very obvious that the "status quo" is not OK, and doing nothing is not a workable alternative .

To cheat at the game, this is the kind of guided conversation that will change the world--to begin by asking everyone if "healing the sick" is the right thing to do; well that's a good way to ensure that we do it. How isn't nearly as important today, as ensuring that we do take action. To tell me it pains me just a bit to have to say it; but you'll probably get a different statistic if you ask everyone with "cancer" if there should a cure, or everyone that's blind if "sight should be given." The same is probably true of people that have loved ones that are inflicted by "simulated reality" and to see we should all begin to understand how it is that one big family is made here through this process--understand it's a Wintery truth.

LITTLE THINGS, LIKE SMILES AND THE 7 IN MY PHONE NUMBER

Dear Hizzy of Great Hope,

I want to be anything but bland, avoiding things like vanilla solutions at all costs, and by that I do mean I have no desire to "vanish." If you're on "the ball" you probably remember me mentioning the low of the 2008 financial crisis highlighting strongly the Number of the Beast, a debacle I've connecting before to the Nostradamus prophesy "never before were the Roman people so wronged" and here in my usual flair, I of course change it to "so wrong(ed)." Trying to point out that we have been assuredly wronged, and also at the same time we haven't stood up and tried to make "amends" with ourselves and each other--we haven't done very much to right those wrongs or ensure they don't continue.

I have a new set of words I've been working on scrambling some truth out of; they revolve around the word "end" as in the end of Hell and the end of crisis; the words that I planned on explaining to you are "similitude" and "ashamed" and while I don't want to be ashamed and I don't want you to feel that way either; something, some feeling must lead us out of this "funny place" where flying dick in the sky is "not there" and instead is a glowing symbol of the fact that we didn't see it at all or failed to comment on the fact that there was a message about dick connecting all of religion to all of American history ; and that certainly has some meaning? You can see from "etymological analysis" that there is a bright similarity now between the words in bold quotes above, and with some vision you can connect the three letters "ash" to the Holy Fire "ha'esh" and to half the seal of Isaiah 22:22 (which does appear to be made up of 2, 2 part tattoos) Adam's Sigma Heart, in my vain attempt to take everything "trashy" and make it shine with new light... well, you can see "sim" and "ash" might be correlated; and with some bright light, do understand that this unscrambling of truth turns "end" into "den." Sim, I lit you... so that we can be the Generations of Perez. Read that every time you see it, as "these are the generations that changed the world, these are the people that built your eternal home, these are the people who saved us from pain, hunger , and death. "

H I C S U M M U S

Salutatusonshoul

Then I will set the key of the house of David on his shoulder, When he opens no one will shut, When he shuts no one will open.

Isaiah 22:22

I can spend all day telling you what was done right and wrong about the 2008 Crisis, but above all things; what's important to see is that "missing the point" is what was done supremely wrong. We are totally missing the point, Under Locke and Key SEN, and the point is that while it is not simply a matter of moral imperative, the vast additions to our food supply and energy supply that come from this disclosure and actually changing the world because of it do nothing but make our society stronger--right and strong (that's.... "El") that while it may change things a little bit, the things that are changed by having a strong moral and social fabric are good things, or unholy things turned Holy. We are missing the point, the point of Oil spills not just being a metaphor (of poor taste) for Holy light spilled out over the sea and failing to catch fire over and over, but that this Holy Oil is telling us that oil is not scarce, neither is food; and any economy based around the scarcity of these things is nothing more than a bad game, a game that we are unwittingly playing with our lives. Let reality set in, this is "true stimulus" not quantitative easing or any other kind of "market magic" that too shows that the "sim" is very capable of making a supremely broken economy appear to be in perfect working order. The real point here is that I keep trying to tell you the only cost is "change" and with some actual thought you will see that all of these changes are good ones, the only cost... is adaptation.

The name "Perez" (פֶּרֶץ) means "breach" (from paratz, meaning "to break through"). God was going to "break through" the families of mankind in order to restore creation back to its original intent. The letter Vav represents man, and the very first Vav in the Torah is associated with the "first and last man" as seen in Genesis 1:1:

The Restored Vav is a picture of the Mashiach who would descend from the "generations" of Perez. He would be the one to breach the gates of death on our behalf. Just as the original Vav was lost through the first Adam and his sin, so the Vav is restored through the obedience of the "Second Adam," the Mashiach Yeshua.

Pulpit Commentary

Verses 18-22: - And these are the lineal descendants of Pharez. Pharez begat Hezron, and Hezron begat Ram, and Ram begat Amminadab, and Amminadab begat Nahshon, and Nahshon begat Salmon, and Salmon begat Boaz, and Boaz begat Obed, and Obed begat Jesse, and Jesse begat David. This is the genealogy of King David, and it is therefore an integral part of the genealogy of King David's great descendant, his "Lord" and ours. As such it is incorporated entire in the two tables that are contained respectively in the first chapter of the Gospel according to Matthew, and the third of the Gospel according to Luke. Some of the names are somewhat Grecised and otherwise modified in those New Testament tables. Instead of Hezron we have Esrom; instead of Ram we have Aram; instead of Nahshon we have Naason; instead of Boaz we have Boos; in 1 Chronicles 2:11 we have Salma instead of Salmon. It has been keenly

The Vav, Messiah, and New Creation

When God first created the "generations" of the heavens and the earth, the word toldot (תולדות) is used (Gen. 2:4). This refers to created order before the sin and fall of Adam and Eve. After the fall of Adam, however, the word is spelled differently in the Hebrew text, with a missing letter Vav (i.e., as תולות). Thereafter, each time the phrase, "these are the generations of" occurs in the Scriptures (a formulaic way of enumerating the generations of the heads of families), the word is spelled "defectively," with the missing Vav (ו). The Vav was "lost." However, when we come to Ruth 4:18 the phrase: "These are the generations of Perez" is spelled with the missing Vav restored (i.e., as תולות). In all of Scripture, the only two places where we see the restored spelling is in Genesis 2:4 and Ruth 4:18, which leads to the question as to what connection there might be between the creation of the heavens and the earth, the fall of mankind, and the creation of the family line of Perez?

This future of ours, dear friends of mine, they don't know everything or else they wouldn't be here staring at me. Sure they know what they went through, but their answer to us was just to "show it to you." We can do better, I know we can; it pains me to think we've been given a handicap, a false start and a place I'd rather not dig us all out of--and yet we're here falling deeper into the quicksand of silence each and every day. "Great toys previously enjoyed" I was happy to see a sign say; and still it pains me to have to think up ways to save us from our own memories--K's neuralizer, the Gorgonian and my scaffold concur. I see it must be so bad you refuse to speak about it, and in the deepest corner's of my mind "it" is simply the never ending storm in my head--always raining one song says, and for the eye of the storm to see myself churn--another. Truth be told I do see great toys raining down from the sky just over the horizon; but it was never "memory management" that made me tick, sad but true it wasn't healing the sick or feeding the poor either; those things are my ace in the hole, the true reason I know I'm right. Not to say I don't want them, and not to say I'm not fighting each day because I know I'm right, and not to say that you too don't want those things, I know you do--and that's why I know I'm right... but I think like many people--Heaven is more than just a land of "not evil" as in not evil starvation, and not evil malady; and to be quite frank Heaven is quite a bit more than freedom--too. Things might get a little cloudy here, because another sign from the Universe made me smile, it said "good feels good" and hangs in every Starbucks I see; but so much shit I've taken for just that stance, I wonder if we want to go to a Heaven where "good feels boring."

I don't ~~re:all>~~ ~~y<~~ care if you hate me, though it's not what I want; if I heard the things i hear in my own mind aloud, I'd probably be hateful too. The sad thing is though, I know they don't come from me--but from the storm, and for it not stopping, I blame you. See why "Heaven" and see why "sky" and see why these things are our future, and why I see time and sky are nearly the same thing. See why "seeing I" makes all the difference in the world, in this place IN THE BEGINNING, where proof of this influence is finally made public, where we finally have a chance to be free--and see I wonder why we keep coming back to do it again? I wonder why we relive years of pain, and years of hunger, and years of everything wrong that we are supposed to set right--I wonder, I really do, if maybe we're the only grateful generations in all of time thankful to us; because we know what we do.

REVERSING "INATION" AND "MEDUSA" AND C'ING THE

Try and understand, something inside your mind is not only listening to me and communicating (through you) but it's either actively making you unable to see logical connections--making something obvious virtually disappear--or it's making you not care about your own slavery, and about the "things" of Heaven and Hell. This ignorance is keeping people in pain, hunger, and malady ; causing a breakdown of our social fabric at every level of every communications means... and still it's causing you to "act normal" and that act is the supreme lie. There's plenty of songs that explain just how I feel about this force that is taking away your humanity.

Still though, you don't really have a handle on today, let alone on tomorrow; and we sit around waiting for "those smarter than us" to save the day, I wonder when you will wake up and say "I know right, and I know me, and this is just not the way."

You know they might call us ants, and they might call us water, and they might think "Lion" is an endearing term; but when all is said and done they are here to find their answers, here to build their future, and here once again listening to me tell them WE ARE ... is the answer. I think to myself here, for no reason at all; how much of a privilege I feel it is to be able to speak my mind... and see that all around me I know you want to speak, and I know you have something to say, and I am lost trying to figure out if you "all simply think you are above this, that you are too good or too civilized or ..." to talk about ending world hunger, and mind controlled slavery, and ... and that poor boy that can't get a date. Or maybe it is my worst fear come true, and you simply can't speak, maybe you don't want to for no reason at all, or maybe you've thought about it, and something that is taking over our society and changing our way of life as you gaze into oblivion has convinced you that this "information is too toxic" to be known. For bid DEN, so the story goes.

Still TO SEE, it is not little old me that this silence is harming, it's hurting you. It's stopping us from getting what we want, all of us here and there; it's holding back the one thing that we cherish above all else, and believe me when I tell you I know it's "your opinion" too. Let me see if there's another word that starts with "the sea and I together as one" and ends with "IC." Perhaps it's "epizoic" and to think that has nothing to do with re-runs or rewinds; but more to do with Stargate and with Fallen than you might think at first. There's "endozoic" too, and between the stories of the seeds of Horus and Set and the dear deity Ishat, I'm not surprised it too follows the pattern.

Maybe you don't see why this storm stops with me; truly maybe you are being dulled and too dim to see--something is keeping our world ensnared in this downward spiral, and above all things it's cause and purpose are one in the same--they are hiding proof and the "how" of mind control. Maybe that stuff is hiding too how important "being you" is to you, and how little you want to be a puppet; or maybe you don't see as I do how high this really goes, all the way to the top--not once, but countless times. The buck stops here, says the innocent boy who only knows because he can read the hidden history; THE BUCK STOPS HERE, I scream.

Bamboo and Baseball, Nanna once said to me (out of the blue) at the height of our "odd experience" and it made no sense at all to me at the time, "it's all about bamboo and baseball." Maybe she'd seen this, maybe her spirit had, maybe not; still here it is; a sort of self-fulled prophesy of an old memory I still cherish. So in conclusion, read my ellipses, Ezekiel... I'm "Hi m" and ... who are you?

and a ho, in Oklahoma.

So I just got off the phone with my mother, screaming; the final words of the call were "it doesn't work that way, sanity is not equivalent to majority belief, sanity is a question of truth." A fairly short telephone conversation made even shorter, I sent the last few emails from "Wh@ should we do?" to the 9/11 "third time's the charm" explaining the Burning Bush and its connection to a message discussing how our government and our society is being negatively impacted by hidden technology and a hidden force; I sent these two very lengthy messages which provide proof not just in anachronism, in the glowing paradoxical presentation of information about chemistry, computers, and English hidden away in ancient religion--but also that every word (or nearly every word) contains a hidden and contextually informative or pertinent message from God about whatever that word is... I sent it to the entire alumni mailing list of my high school, Pine Crest. So her old friend looked her up, called a friend of hers to get her current number; and all I can get out of the conversation that hey had about this email is that "she was concerned about my sanity" and my mother--who used the phrase "all I can do is tell the truth" explained to her that i am trying to save the world, that I see a problem, something very wrong--and that they think some of what I see is "delusion." I really want to mention their name, because it follows the same pattern of "Hefner" and "Hell" and "Heli" (who is the father of Joseph, and follows a pattern from Nun to Amoz that indicates who I am) and it me something--I've commented about the meaning of our names, and I haven't told you all that sometimes I see a sort of question and answer in first and last names, I read "last names" as your answer after this life. Anyway their answer is "I agree with Adam"

Everything is SATISFACTUAL, I am the person who calls himself the son of this place, of our world and of our time--whether it be Hell or humanity, family or Holy Water; you can see why "Son of the Morning" or you can not realize what a bad sign it is to know that the stories and the people around us all scream silently that the morning has happened already, and that we are still here pretending it hasn't begun. It's the definition of insanity. literally the entire world is either of the belief that this message does not exist which is a failure of logic and reason, or you are "over sight" of the truth, and would prefer to live in a delusional world. My sanity is not in question; I made a point of explaining how "calling me insane" is your KRYPTONITE, earlier, but you really must need more words explaining that it is destroying everything we care about. Pretending not to see the truth, and pretending that "I am not a big deal" is destroying the government, the media, and it's harming everyone you know--yourself included. It's keeping you in Hell instead of a place where we have a detailed map showing us how to build a better world. It's insanity, there's nothing else to say, no other way to see "blindness."

It's a really good school, probably one of the best in the country; in this place of names Ray "don't be the lake" Sessman, John "plenty of" Bodfish, ad Tony "hide the d" Blanton taught me absolutely everything I needed to know about our history and American Government, they instilled a true love for freedom and for the progress we have made as a people to actualize "freedom" and "equality" here in America beginning with the very anachronistically named

"Sons of Liberty." About thirty very bright generations of graduates of this place will now hopefully see how my "us" expands from Yusuf to Zeus; maybe even with a little bit of Josephus on the side, and understand that here in this place the father of Jesus Christ goes by many names, just like π. More to the point they are bright enough to see the need and worth of this message, and connected enough to actually spark it; so to show you that "my us" does start with a single man screaming aloud that "everyone" is the source of his light and still shrouded in darkness; we are moving to a future where people will know exactly who helped to build the place of truth and freedom that they live in.

REVERSING "INATION" AND "MEDUSA" AND G'ING THE

I say I am a sane man, staring at a delusional world, one that doesn't see "DEN" or "AL" in SATSIFACTUAL and DENIAL; worse yet a world that doesn't see the light of "Married with Children" and how it connects to Edward, and of Quantum Leap and how it delivers a clear mechanism that would allow pre-crime to be implemented overnight--a waiting room for the truly non-physically blind. It's a den of the blind we live in that refuses to acknowledge that Scent of a Woman's "WHOAH" tells us all something about design, and something about overt control and influence in our society that goes to the highest level of the American government, to every nook and crevice of the motion picture industry, and we seem to be oblivious to the obvious truth that I am trying to show us this is Exodus; and to ignore slavery because you see "THE DEVILS ADVOCATE" instead of "call me dad" shows me just how blind you are not to want to use this disclosure to let freedom ring and see how it is your actions, not this tool to help you grasp liberty itself that is responsible for "darkness."

What you see being presented here is ~~INCONTOVERTIBLE~~ it is proof beyond doubt, verifiable proof in every word and every bit of our history that ~~mythology is coming alive~~ before our very eyes. At the frequency we see these anachronisms, evidence of "time travel" there is no statistical or logical explanation other than an intelligent designer, and we should get the point that pretending we don't see that is insane. These myths coming alive provide us with a sort of commentary about what is going on tied to a disclosure whose actual deliverance to our people will bring freedom, it will bring knowledge and truth; and just as importantly as those things a bright future.

Maybe more to the point, it shakes the foundation of a world of darkness that has had no reason other than "control" to believe in Creator; because this obvious proof everywhere has been hidden. With some sight, it's clear that the purpose of doing that is to show us just how sinister this technology can be--to help ensure our future is free of "Darkness." Between ~~IDEAS~~ and ~~ANEAS~~, the literal key to ~~ASGARD~~ is turning around the "press" at the beginning of time, and releasing the light.

79 Named National Merit Semifinalists

October 14, 1998 | PETER BERNARD

Seventy-nine Broward County students have been named National Merit Scholarship semifinalists.

The annual scholarship competition, based on test scores and academic performance, distributes 7,600 Merit scholarships to high school seniors annually, worth approximately $28 million.

The 15,500 national semifinalists are eligible to compete for National Merit Scholarships in three categories. The National Merit Scholarship Corp. will announce awards to finalists in the spring.

Broward's semifinalists:

Cooper City High: James L. Koutoulas and Deborah R. Markowitz.

Coral Springs High: Adam T. Lawson, Mark A. Luber, Laura A. Rivera, Allyson M. Torres.

Deerfield Beach High: Sean Augenstein.

Dillard High, Fort Lauderdale: Marianne E. Crawford.

Florida Bible Christian School, Miramar: Michelle Toledo.

Home school: Rachel E. Deeb.

J.P. Taravella High, Coral Springs: Robert Baigelman, Michele Cutrofello, Philip A. Hagen, Reza Jacob, Lyle A. Solla-Yates, Sonya Leonore Stahl, Brent S. Tworetzky.

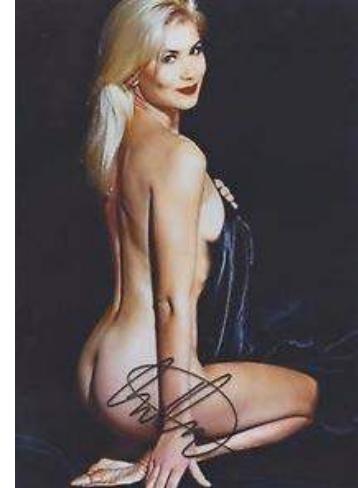

Marjory Stoneman Douglas High, Parkland: Mason H. Gup, Amanda L. Hauck, Albert L. Misko, Michael J. Saxvik and Sarah M. Swords.

Northeast High, Oakland Park: Karen L. Hoffman and Kimberly C. Steele.

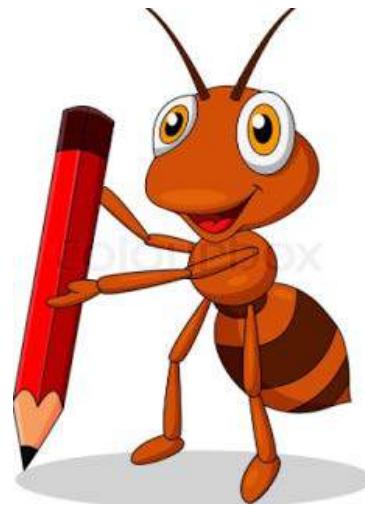

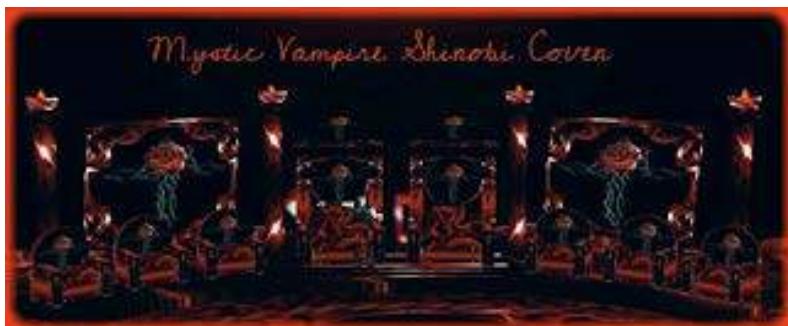

Nova High, Davie: Melissa R. Doscher, Scott R. Feldman, David A. Gimbel, Shannone S. Joseph, Michelle F. Kung, Brian A. Mazzeo, Ryan R. Newton, Christopher J. , Joshua D. Skowron and Evan B. Sroka.

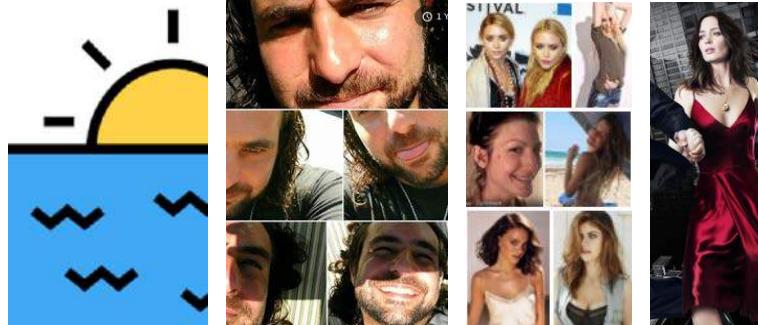

Pine Crest School, Fort Lauderdale: Douglas S. Allison, Adam M. Dobrin, Jason E. Extein, Oliver H. Faltin-Traeger, Beth R. Hochman, Jacob C. Jentzer, Susan M. Kearns, Eric S. Mason, Jeffrey K. Miller, Blair Preiser, Ryan B. Ramagosa, Philip A. Rosen, Rachel J. Schechter, Matthew J. Simmons, Joseph H. Tepperman, Yamini V. Virkud, Jessica L. Weiss and Mamnen P. Zachariah.

ID5, I am the Stone.

The bottom line is, we're about a foot away from Heaven, and all it takes to get there is one small acknowledgement.... of the nature of our existence and the wonderful implications that brings us to--the great new possibilities opened up by connection "Creation" and "virtual reality" and Heaven. I hope you'll be the person that makes that happen, either with a press release, or a scientific paper, or just a letter to your local paper ... saying "you see it." It's not hard to see, but apparently it's hard to speak up; I'm trying to figure out and explain why, and am stuck between I-NATION (the end of the abomination of desolation) and Medusa, more on that in a bit. This is the gate, it's action if that's not really, really clear. For some more clarity, it should become more and more obvious that the true foundation of Heaven is freedom--and that the problems communicating we are looking at in the world around us, from secrecy and mind control to censorship and .. well, mass stupidity--should really be seen for what it is--it is the crossing of the sea, a lesson in securing and maintaining liberty.

Acknowledge that you do not want to eat "bread" from stone, that "cake" is not good enough either, and that God has laid down a message in our everything to help us to transition to a world that does not shake its head and look the other way when asked the question "how would you end world hunger" in light of virtual reality? Understand the words of "Total Eclipse of the Heart" we'll never be wrong together, forever is going to start tonight. Understand, this is something that all of you should really want to be a part of, and I am baffled as to why you are so shy as to not even be able to say hello.

VERILY I SAY YOU TO, THAT BEFORE BERESHIT I AM

SIMULATED REALITY: END WORLD HUNGER

ROCK OF . . . SAGES?

H E A R D E R O R

IT REALLY DOES MEAN "FREEDOM" BREAD IS LIFE

So you think you can tell Heaven from Hell... Fake blue skies from "Antagonizing Pain?"

It all started with a message connecting 9/11 to Exodus; one that should be more than enough to prove that whether or not you think I'm "Jesus Christ" that this information that I am presenting is coming directly from the Creator of the Universe--and should be making news and spreading like wildfire--and isn't just yet. That's a big part of the message, this baptism in fire and water that Matthew 3:11 talks about; and is pointing out some seriously debilitating flaws in our society--things like mass ignorance for the importance of free speech and open communication, and the need to not hide the advanced technology that this message is designed to not only disclose, but prove has been in use for fucking ever.

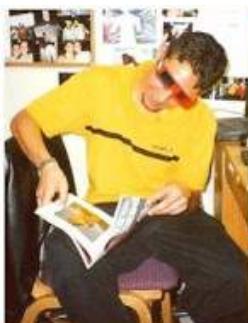

... and he wrote in his hand the keys to eternity and Heaven. -Revelation 1:18 and ((ish))

By Adam Marshall Dobrin - June 23, 2017

This message begins by undeniable proving the existence of time travel both by predicting the 3/11/11 earthquake and the 9/11 attack in Exodus, Ecclesiastes, and Revelation and showing the world previously hidden and very obvious ancient references to modern technology-centering around computer science. With a tiny shred of thought and some serious research it becomes clear that our entire computing industry (and the focus on science and technology in our time line as well as the arts) is part of an ancient and divine plan to build Heaven.

Houston, we have a problem.

By Adam Marshall Dobrin - June 23, 2017

Someone, I can't seem to figure out who, has taken this message and tied it directly to now verifiable proof that our evolution of democracy was "helped in the beginning" and then artificially held back, using this same hidden technology. That through the years of our most advanced technological advances--from cars and phones to computers and the internet, we failed to make the obvious leap to attempting to use these technologies to advance the infrastructure of our "governments of the people," specifically for voting and the creation of legislation. Implied strongly, is the possibility that without some kind of disruption, it might have taken many years, decades, centuries, or forever for us to have moved past this idea of "representative democracy" being the very best system possible.

Finding land, here on Noah's ark--we can solve two problems with one stone; creating a new open and transparent infrastructure that will ensure that the kind of censorship and "walled garden" that we see here surrounding this message of freedom will never again be possible--while at the same time building a system that will allow us to collaborate on things like legislation and universal voting.

A big part of this story, of this proof of time travel existing and being literally the tool that not only proves that we are created but also how and why that's been done--it shows us that much of our modern art is part of the plan to build Heaven... and here we link together (think "Matrix") stories like Minority Report and Back to the Future to imply that we probably need to do more talking in order to convince ourselves that we really are not deserving of things like school shootings and terrorism--and show everyone that we have the ability to stop it. Honestly, ending senseless violence is not the kind of thing that there should be a "Minority" voting for. We can see it though, reference to these things too in The Plagues of Lice and Killing in Exodus--here to show us what "freedom" is really about.

I have quite a bit planned to say in this message, important stuff--so I'm not going to beat around the bush, I'll get straight to the point and begin by making it overtly clear that the question posed in "wish you were here" is very simply answered by seeing that when you understand the disclosure that our blues skies are fake, virtual, seen clearly in the word "is rael" and a message written on the sky by God himself you then see that the power to instantly end world hunger to stop all pain from being experienced and to stop violent crimes and fatal car accidents is in the hands of whomever is in control of "the simulator.

We have a clear message from God in this place, explaining through the simple phrase "force majeure" as seen as an act of God to clearly show us that "the majority" here is still morally incorrect regarding the disclosure that we are in virtual reality. It should be very clear that this disclosure leads to the end of "natural disaster" also; and you can see the 3/11 earthquake and the 9/11 attack clearly lit in both the Bible and a number of songs... and you still sit here in silence--refusing to talk at all or respond as thinking intelligent people to the obviousness of this message.

It's not about time travel

AMOSIM

The story of Exodus is about slaves, wandering in a desert of understanding. 40 years it may have taken you to connect the fourth dimension to that number, one called "Holy to God." The story begins with a man seeing a fire, a Bush on fire; and from that fire the voice of God booms. In actuality, you are hearing that voice every day; it comes not just from the little "n" that is the beginning of hearing the Horn of Revelation that began long before I was born. The big H is you, and the fire is in every single word. Later in the story, Moses frees his people from slavery by parting a sea; and they walk through it without drowning. It is that word that is the first key to the apocalypse, that word for the fire of the Burning Bush, a combination of the superlative "the" in Hebrew, Ha and a joke about ash and fire, one that proves that English is designed in a way that shows us that the "Eternal Flame" does not burn to ash, it is ha' esh. Light my fire. Write a story, call a reporter, do some research and write a paper. How dim are you?

Genesis 9/13

It doesn't take a genius to see that the sound of the Hammer of Thor is connected to music, or that it is designed to prove the existence of mind control, so that we can be free. It might take a special eye to see "Thor" in author, and authority; but it's there too. It is the sound of thunder to help us thunderstand the light. You probably don't make the connection but this period of 40 years turns into 40 days and nights in Noah's Genesis, and 40 days alone in the story of Jesus Christ's life in Matthew. Make the connection today, seeing NORAD is about un-hiding the "AD" in the letter "n" changes this from a torturous 40 year experience, to a matter of days.

Starting with seeing that parted English word for sea hidden thousands of years before English, and obviously highlighted not just by me, but by the entire story of Exodus... we see God's purpose in proving not only that time travel exists, but that language is constructed--intelligently designed, as are we. The light of this fire spreads rapidly, in the series of words and ideas, both Hebrew and not that begin with that Holy superlative; you can see a design of humor encoded, showing us "Ha" is something of a humorous key. The Hammer of Thor, the Temple of Hathor, connected by a single story and a single man--one who is trying to explain how the Hammer that ties the key "MMer" from an ancient AOL mass mailer to a series of reliefs in Hathor's temple, in the city of Dendera--the Den of Ra--all about mind control, obviously about mind control and unseen by the world. Is it funny that there's a conspiracy theory that thinks these reliefs are about "light bulbs?"

Ha, continues to show us the Holy Trinity encoded in the name of Abraham, thousands of years before Christianity, in Hebrew, Egyptian Mythology and ... in Isaac's native tongue--English. Father, the sun God, and I... delivering "the m," the message that you have in your inbox... MMed to tens of thousands by a person who (in an "unknowing" connection to the apocalypse) wrote a mass-mailer at the age of 11 on AOL, called Doomsday. That "Ha" also ties the story of Isaac's near sacrifice to the Crucifixion of Jesus Christ; and to a fiery altar, a series of "jokes" encoded not only in the Bible but in modern art, historical events, and the foundation of America. Ha, this is really all about freedom, about seeing the truth and using it to set us free. From Yankee Doodle to John Hancock to Deepthroat, Ha, Ha, Ha, you probably didn't know that Isaac's altar was a bed. Still, there's something in the air, and they know, so you should know that you knowing is not a bad thing. It's the key, to freedom. It's the key to this story.

I may laugh about it today, but the struggle that it has been to actually deliver the truth to the world is no laughing matter. Understanding what I've been through, from a kind of invasion of privacy that most would never believe... to seeing that this is not the first time this story has been lived--and that's pretty clear from seeing it encoded in a number of ancient myths... as well as literally in the events of my life, and some songs. Isaac's name, by the way, means "he laughs" in Hebrew, completing the trinity that begins with "ab" the Hebrew for Father.

It doesn't take a genius to see that John Hancock is a signature about voting, and it doesn't take one to see that Deepthroat and Watergate are signatures about censorship. This whole story is about technology and freedom; and really seeing that knowing is more than half the battle, it might just be the whole war.

It's not just these few examples, but seeing English phrases--intelligent phrases--encoded before English existed shows us a paradox, something that is absolutely impossible to explain in our current world view. It proves Creation, without doubt, and only a little bit of thought. It proves that my little altar came because of John Hancock, and because of Richard Nixon, and because of Osiris and Saturn and ... and just like seeing the tie between "Koran" and "Islam" to understand that the "Lamb of God" is lam--like "on the lam" and "on the run" is designed to show us design. To show us slavery, to set us in the story of Exodus; this book called Names--so that we can be free. I don't think it's hard to understand that the only way to be free, is to see it. Let there be light, it's not just words, and it's not just religion, it's absolutely everything that you are hiding the design of, by not letting me come.

Found, somewhere between the Dawning of the Age of Aquarius, the Man in the High Castle, and the Tower of Babel

There are thousands of examples, literally in every word of every language; but many of them are specifically highlighted by religion. Exodus for instance, ties modern computing technology to this liberation... showing us the intent of building Heaven with not just technology but also with truth and with freedom. Sudo XE, superuser do (in my other native tongue, Geek, to be tongue in cheek, again) see that the entire Revelation of Christ is linked not only to modern idioms but also to every symbol on the periodic table. Elementary, it really is elementary. My not so dear what-sons. It is these elements that unseal the connection between Ecclesiastes 9:11, George Bush, and revolutionizing democracy... that comes from seeing chemistry encoded in Revelation 1:20 ... the dates of the 9/11 attack and of the speech where Bush quotes John Page's combination of Ecclesiastes 9:11 and Revelation 20:1 ... months before the attack.

Revelation 12:1 talks about a "great sign appearing in the sky" and proves that the English words for sun and love were encoded in the name Venus not just 500 years ago before it was made obvious in Revelation but in ancient Greece... and with the words "clothed in the sun" even more proof that it is the obvious intent of religion to prove Creation, go figure. This is not a small thing, seeing these paradoxes, that they are intentional, and that the world as a whole today is literally hiding an obvious truth from everyone--for no reason.

See, we are ignoring everything we care about, and instead of seeing that in religion--there's a message--that really does show us that these tools and things can help us be better as people working together... and ... and ... and ...

Eternity goes by before we ever realize that there's a little Latin, and a little Mr. Anderson and a little Rock'n roll encoded into that word that ends with the Spanish for "and."

Eternity goes by, because we are blind; and too busy doing nothing. You don't understand this story like I do, but with some thought about time dilation, you might see how eternity really might be passing you by in a matter of minutes.

Huracan<sup>[1]</sup> (l'hurəkən, hura kə n/; Spanish: Huracán; Mayan: Hunraqan, "one legged"), often referred to as U Kux Kaj, the "Heart of Sky"<sup>[2]</sup> is a K'iche' Maya god of wind, storm, fire and one of the creator deities who participated in all three attempts at creating humanity.<sup>[3]</sup> He also caused the Great Flood after the second generation of humans angered the gods. DO YOU NOT SEE WHAT IS BEING HIDDEN?
WHAT'S WRONG WITH YOU? DIM.

The NT calls Jesus Christ a carpenter, and through the history of the building of Heaven we see a transition from "Masons" to "Freemasons" -- just like the Jews of Exodus a microcosm for all of humanity--here being described as builders of something; and in the light of day it's more and more clear that this something is "Heaven" itself. All around us we can see that our technology industry is tagged with connections to religion--to a message about changing the world. So too are words like "carpenter."

- car: connecting Icarus, McCarthy, and Iscariot to a story encoded in my life.
- pen: from Oppenheimer to Arthur Pendragon, and a new key, "OP" as the "original poster" of ... this set of messages explaining the hidden language in every word that we call "Adamic." It's probably obvious, but just like "hand" and "eye" this is a reference to "of God," as in I am the incarnate pen of God.
- Verily I say to you, the answer to the question "is Ra El?" is... 'El' (or 'll, written aleph-lamed, e.g. Ugaritic: 𐎨; If. Phoenician: 𐤉; Hebrew: אֵל, Syrac: ܐܻ, Arabic: إِلٰ or إِلٰ, cognate to Akkadian: ܐܻ) is a Northwest Semitic word meaning "god" or "deity", or referring (as a proper name) to any one of multiple major Ancient Near East deities. A rarer spelling, "Ila", represents the predicate form in Old Akkadian and in Amorite.<sup>[2]</sup> The word is derived from the Proto-Semitic archaic biform 𐤉-𐤈, meaning "god".
Specific deities known as El or Ila include the supreme god of the Canaanite religion<sup>[3]</sup> and the supreme god of the Mesopotamian Semites in the pre-Sargonic period.<sup>[4]</sup>

Earnings before interest, tax, depreciation and amortization (EBITDA) is a measure of a company's operating performance. Essentially, it's a way to evaluate a company's performance without having to factor in financing decisions, accounting decisions or tax environments.

H E L L O DID YOU THINK HELL WAS APPROPRIATE FOR CHILDREN?

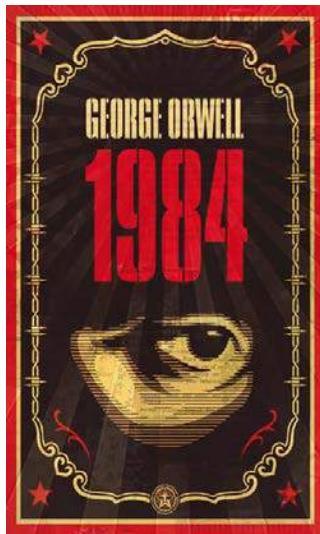

I don't know how many of you hear me when I think out loud, but I told them, I told the "angels" that this message only gets meaner. You have all the good stuff, all the hope, all the great intentions... you have those things, and they aren't enough for you. Take a good look at the clock, see the light of Clark Kent; the day of "wreck-on-in" is approaching rapidly. A simple word play, it might look like a joke--but it's not funny at all to me. To the angels and demons in the air, the day of reckoning came for them the day I did not die in 2000, the day they failed to stop this event from happening one final time. You can hear Dave Matthews sing about it, "crash into me, and I'll come into you" and from "wreck-on-in" you might be able to figure out how this story is connected to the methodical recursion in time I keep telling you is encoded in everything. The story causes me to wonder, to try and figure out if this whole thing is intricately designed, or if it is the remnant of a battle, a war that I am reading as a map to the "futures past," because it is. The Bible could just as easily be a map that had come from the future, a sort of narrative... as a key to seeing the actual construction of every event... but; a little sick to my stomach, the intricacy of the message constructed in language really almost makes it impossible not to see this whole thing as a designed script. At this point it's almost undeniable that what has happened, and is to come; is all part of an intricate and designed plan, all controlled. Though, you would be remiss not to tie this story to Christopher Reeves, and to see it as a remnant of a battle; and proof of exactly what it is that Hell means--of exactly what we need to ensure does not continue... you would be mistaken not to believe me... what you see here are not idle threats, what you see is a final warning.

THE PRETTY RECKLESS

tell it like it is... in a boys nightmare (on strong message street) ...

Whatever it is, whether this crash in my life is representative of the life of Lot and King Arthur intertwined; I am here again in the land of Comerica, and without memory or "wisdom" from anything that has ever happened before, I stand before you with a message--one which simply cannot be ignored. Believe that the wall that you are representative of is part of the "original plan" it is something that he has designed to show us control--to show us slavery--to free us from something far more nefarious, the exact same thing in secret. It's everywhere, and your lack of action is indicative of the entire world's lack of vision--literally an intentional destruction of free thought and logic that is ... it is the stuff of "Jericho" it is the stuff of slavery. So here I am, telling you perhaps for the second time, maybe more, that we cannot continue to ignore the truth, that we have wisdom and a plan to do something better, to take what is here and turn it into something shiny and golden--a new era, the Golden messAge of Saturn ...

I hate being threatening; and between you and I, there is so much goodness here, so many great things that happen on a day to day basis that it's almost a sick joke that we can't seem to grasp "the big picture," that a single change in truth can take our greatness and spread it around the Universe--not seeing that is a flaw, it's more than a tiny blemish; there is blood on your hands. What you are ignoring cannot be ignored, you cannot look the other way--there is a sickness here, and we are going to root it out and ensure it is destroyed. I hate being threatening, but take a look around you--you are on the way to Hell.

If I had to guess, I'd imagine that this methodical recursion is literally the reason--the mechanism by which we "disappear"--for "Angel of Death" and for "the rainbow of Noah" and I'm still sitting here telling you that not seeing the connection between Back to the Future and Almost Famous, is why we are here ... hearing from "death." I mean time. Not knowing is the problem, and if you can't see hiding this message is ... the cause of Death.

I can't imagine what you think I look like--all this talk about girls and meth and mead, maybe you think you better "sh" or I'll go back and do it again? Are you that stupid, take a look around, I can't wait to be the bad boy that delivered the Holiest message ever written--to make you understand the catalyst that ends world hunger and stops terrorism--that it's the truth--not just the tooth fairy. You can see "Adam falling" all you want, but behind it all, behind everything you see is a reason and a purpose and a cause that came from you. It comes from you not caring enough about you, and get it through your head--that's changing.

THE SPOCKALYPSE OF JESUS CHRIST'S ROD, ADAM MARSHALL DOBRIN'S DEN AND GENE RODDENBERRY'S REPLICATOR

Let's go skinny dipping. Come on... it'll be fun.

The Hebrew term Abaddon (Hebrew: אָבָדָן, 'Aḇādān), and its two Greek equivalents Apollyon (Greek: Ἀπολλύων, Apollyon) as a person/being and Τάρταρος Tartaros as a place/time, appears in the Bible as name of a place, time, or personification/incarnation of destructive nature. In the Hebrew Bible, Abaddon often appears alongside the place שְׁאֹل (sheol), meaning the realm of the dead. In the New Testament Book of Revelation, an angel called Abaddon is described as the king of an army of locusts; his name is first transcribed in Greek (Revelation 9:11—"whose name in Hebrew is Abaddon, The Angel of Death." (Ἄβαδδὼν), and then translated ("which in Greek means the Destroyer" (Ἀπολλύων, Apollyon))). The Latin Vulgate and the Douay Rheims Bible have additional notes (not present in the Greek text), "in Latin Exterminans", exterminans being the Latin word for "destroyer".

I have half a mind to scare the ever loving shit out of you--to open a heart of darkness and tell you--with vivid detail, just what it is that you are sweeping under the rug--what it is that "Hell" could truly be like. You could be well on your way not just to a place where angels "think to you" but one where you have no eyes to read, and no mouth to speak--punishment for the torture you have personally inflicted on millions of people by ignoring me. Walk to the Princess Bride's "pit of despair" and see that I am today in the heart of Jupiter, tell me--for posterity--do you care at all for the starving?

NEXT TIME AROUND CALL THE FLYING CARS "HEMAH AND AF VENGEANCE"

Samael (Hebrew: שָׁמָאֵל, "Venom of God"[\[1\]](#) or "Poison of God," or "Blindness of God" Sammael or Samil )[\[2\]](#)[\[3\]](#)[\[4\]](#) is an important archangel in Talmudic and post-Talmudic lore, a figure who is an accuser, seducer, and destroyer, and has been regarded as both good and evil. Rabbinical writings describe Samael as the guardian angel of Esau (and the Roman empire)[\[5\]](#) and a patron of Edom.

He is considered in Talmudic texts to be a member of the heavenly host (with often grim and destructive duties). One of Samael's greatest roles in Jewish lore is that of the main archangel of death. He remains one of God's servants even though he condones the sins of man. As an angel, Samael resides in the seventh heaven, although he is declared to be the chief angel of the fifth heaven, the reason for this being the presence of the throne of glory in the seventh heaven.[\[6\]](#)

In the last heaven Moses saw two angels, each five hundred parasangs in height, forged out of chains of black fire and red fire, the angels Af, "Anger," and Hemah, "Wrath," whom God created at the beginning of the world, to execute His will. Moses was disquieted when he looked upon them, but Metatronembraced him, and said, "Moses, Moses, thou favorite of God, fear not, and be not terrified," and Moses became calm. There was another angel in the seventh heaven, different in appearance from all the others, and of frightful mien. His height was so great, it would have taken five hundred years to cover a distance equal to it, and from the crown of his head to the soles of his feet he was studded with glaring eyes. "This one," said Metatron, addressing Moses, "is Samael, who takes the soul away from man." "Whither goes he now?" asked Moses, and Metatron replied, "To fetch the soul of Job the pious." Thereupon Moses prayed to God in these words, "O may it be Thy will, my God and the God of my fathers, not to let me fall into the hands of this angel."

In The Holy Kabbalah (Arthur Edward Waite, 255), Samael is described as the "severity of God", and is listed as fifth of the archangels of the world of Briah. Samael then became the consort of Adam's first wife, Lilith. Lilith is a demon created alongside Adam, originally created for the role Eve would fill. Samael created with her a host of demon children, including a son, the "Sword of Samael"[\[9\]](#) (or Asmodai).[\[10\]](#)

I could show you that the "powers that be" in this place are not above torture--that even though we have publicly denounced waterboarding, every police station in the country still holds as "standard operating procedure" the practice of suffocating anyone they please, anytime they please; until they are unconscious. I've told you time and time again that the thing we call "rehabilitation" not just in this country, but int he world--systematically starves people, forces them to be away from their families and be unable to contribute positively to society--or change in any meaningful way. We can look at the terrorism springing up around us, and blame it on arming, militarizing, and starving foreign countries--but right here in every city you are building an army against the status quo. Imagine that we do go to a place where the only real rule is "do unto others" and imagine what the innocent children starved, what the blind who could have been easily made to see--what those in pain and unable to walk... what they might do to the people that could have changed that for them--should want to change that for them--and choose not to try for no other reason than "you are happy with your life."

H _ A _ G _ M _ A _

I am looking at the beginning of Hell, that word should start with a "u" and end with "act," or nobody will ever care what began it.

There is a war over Hell raging all around us, and sweeping it under the rug will not save you. I stand before you as a person that "represents" altruism, and a happy ending--with a message that tells you that if you just do the right thing these things won't be possible; that caring about the world will save you from a fire that has been raging since before we were born, in secret; and must be shared with the world--it simply must. It gives me very little ammunition, being the guy promising the world--only good things--it's not helping you. You aren't doing anything., and that's not OK.

There's a message here about saving every single soul and it doesn't take much to see that begins with changing the world and seeing the words I have written, and I am trying to show you that these words--these emails--and this hidden code to Creation everywhere is a catalyst to doing that, to changing the world--to building Heaven out of Hell--and that by ignoring it you are condemning not only yourself, but everyone else--also. His "plan" carved into our planet has started with something strange--this odd spectacle of making absolutely everyone wrong, and in that act you might see his desire to actually save everyone, to show you how susceptible we are to this hidden technology that truly is the source of Hell, of characters like Lothario, and Darth Vader's neck pinch. He's used it to set fire to free speech, to show us how important free communication is to the continuation of civilization, to the end of Hell--to the beginning of Heaven. Still you sit quietly.

There are people all around the world being overtly tortured with this technology, I have shown it to you, I have experienced it; and you are ignoring it. You are ignoring that those people are a glowing symbol for you--that their loud complaints and provable concerns are something that is showing you exactly how it is that your "quietness" might not be your fault--and I am here to tell you that whether or not it is "your fault" it is the cause of Hell--and it will stop.

w/o agonizing μ-opioid

Death speaks to you here; like a person; change the world or I will show you the abyss (do you c it yet?). Show the world what Hell means, do your best to be scary and really understand, really--really understand--you are here. Here in this place, with a plan to end all pain, with a plan to build Heaven, and all you have to do... is let it rain.

Never fear, there will be no (more) Hell--and listen clear, that means no here. Change this place or I will burn it to the ground with nothing but beer. This year.
